BURRARD OF WALHAMPTON.

BURRARD, SIR HARRY-PAUL, Bart. of Walhampton, Hants, late Lieut. 60th royal rifles, J. P. Hants, b. 5 Sept. 1846; s. his father as 6th baronet, 15 April, 1871; m. at St. John, New Brunswick, 28 March, 1872, Margaret, 2nd dau. of John Anderson, Esq. J.P. of Rothesay and St. John, N.B.

Lineage.

The name of this family is of purely Saxon compound. The family statement gives the following narrative:—In Domesday Book, William Borard and his brother are recorded as holding lands at Clifton, Bucks, under Robert de Todeni, afterwards called Albini, Lord of Belvoir (a follower of WILLIAM the CONQUEROR, to whom the CONQUEROR made extensive grants of land). Simon Borrarde, a grandson of one of the above brothers, m. Juliana de Bellis, whose son, Sir Simon de Borard, in right of his wife, Hawisia de Wroxhalle, possessed the estate of Rustehalle Wilts about A.D. 1165. His son and successor, SIR SIMON DE BORARD, high sheriff of the co. of Bucks and Leicester, held the lordships of Stratherne, co. Leicester, of Clifton, co. Bucks, and of Oakley, co. Bedford (which lordships were granted to him by HENRY III, A.D. 1216. These lands, which had belonged to the Albinis, escheated to the crown upon the treason of William de Albini, the 3rd, about the end of the reign of King JOHN). He m. Margareta, dau. of Sir Astelini de Sydenham, of Tythmersh, Northampton (by which marriage he acquired other landed estates), and had four sons, who d. s. p. before 1300, and one dau., JOANNA (heir to her brothers), who m. 1275, Thomas Reynes (who obtained thereby the lordships of Clifton, Strathern, Oakley, &c., and, in consequence of this marriage, the parish of Clifton, in the hundred of Newport, Bucks, took the name of Clifton-Reynes). [See Lipscomb's HISTORY OF BUCKS, and Nichol's HISTORY OF LEICESTERSHIRE].

For many centuries this family have been landed proprietors in the south-west of Hampshire. One of the most eminent priors of the monastery of Christchurch, Twynham, Hants, was John Borard, a man of considerable scholastic learning, elected prior by the community, in Oct. 1397. His election received the royal assent, by letters patent, under the great seal, on the 25th of that month. He d. about 1412, and his remains lie entombed in that splendid priory church, with the following inscription to his memory, "Tumba Johannis Borard, magistri Theologie, prioris decimi noni hujus Ecclesiæ."

JOHN BURRARD, Esq., who d. 1502, and was buried in the priory church of Christ-church aforesaid (his will is dated Aug. 5, 1502); left issue, two sons, I. Robert, who d. unm., 1508, and was buried at Lymington; and II. a SON, heir to his brother, buried at Lymington before 1542, leaving three sons, Ralph, Edmund, and John. The eldest son, Ralph Burrard, Esq. (will dated 12 April, 1549), left issue, three daus. and one son, George Burrard, Esq. of Walhampton, mayor of Lymington, 1574, 1584. He d. Dec. 1585 (will proved 19 Feb. 1586); he left three daus. and one son, RALPH ("to whom and his heirs for ever, he bequeathed all his free lands, &c.") His only son and successor,

RALPH BURRARD, Esq. of Walhampton, mayor of Lymington, 1599 (will proved 3 Oct. 1619), left issue, five sons, viz., I. Thomas, II. John, III. William, IV. Daniel, V. Edmund. The eldest son,

THOMAS BURRARD, Esq., b. 1585; d. intestate in his father's lifetime. (Joyce, his widow, took out letters of administration in Sept. 1619, and was sole executrix of her father-in-law, Ralph Burrard, Esq.) He left a son,

THOMAS BURRARD, Esq. (cousin to George Burrard, Esq., M.P. for Lymington from 1698 to 1700) of Walhampton, and of Old Palace Yard, Westminster, b. 1611; m. Elizabeth, dau. of Gregory Isham, Esq. of Barby Manor, Northamptonshire; d. 1661, leaving issue two sons,

I. John, (heir, through his mother, to the estate of Barby Manor, which he sold in 1683), lieut.-col. of infantry, vice-admiral of the seas, D.L. for Hants, appointed ranger or riding forester of the New Forest June, 1689, represented Lymington in parliament for 19 years (from 1679 till 1698), m. 1st, 1666, Elizabeth, dau. and co-heir of John Button, Esq., M.P. for Lymington (from 1658 till 1679); she d. 1676: m. 2ndly, Alicia, dau. of Richard, 2nd Lord Herbert, of Cherbury, but d. 1698, aged 52, without surviving male issue.

II. PAUL.

The younger son,

PAUL BURRARD, Esq. of Walhampton, and of Old Palace Yard, Westminster, b. 1651; represented Lymington in parliament from 1700 till 1706; m. 1676, Anne, another dau. and co-heir of John Button, Esq., M.P. for Lymington (whose father, John Button, Esq., of Buckland, Hants, was likewise M.P. for Lymington, 1625 and 1640, descended from Sir Walter de Bitton, Knt., who d. in the 12th year of HENRY III), by whom, who d. 1680, he had an only surviving son, PAUL. He d. about 1706, and was s. by his son,

PAUL BURRARD, Esq. of Walhampton, and of Old Palace Yard, Westminster, b. 1678, D.L. for Hants, one of the rangers in the New Forest; represented Lymington in parliament for 15 years (from 1706 till 1713, and from 1719 till 1727); represented Yarmouth, Isle of Wight, in Parliament, for 8 years (from 1727 till 1735); m. 17 Oct. 1704, Lucy, dau. (by his 1st wife, Lucy, dau. of Thomas Webb, Esq.) of Sir William Dutton-Colt, master of the horse to Prince Rupert, and envoy-extraordinary to the courts of Dresden, Lunenburg, Zelle, and Hanover (brother of Sir Harry Dutton-Colt, Bart.); d. 1735, leaving issue,

I. HARRY, his successor.

II. William, b. 1712, governor of Yarmouth Castle, Isle of Wight, lieut.-col., commanding for seven years Col. Trelawny's regiment. Col. Burrard obtained permission from the king to join the Russian army as a volunteer, and served in the campaign of 1738 against the Turks, in Poland and on the river Dniester. He afterwards served in the Anglo-Spanish war in America, where he was severely wounded at the attack on Fort St. Lazare, Cartagena, South America, 1741, in consequence of which he lost his sight (Burrard Inlet, in British Columbia, was so named in memory of this officer); m. 1st, Elizabeth, dau. and co-heir of Mons. de la Rosa, minister from the court of Spain to Great Britain, by whom he had (with three other daus., who d. unm.), Eliza-Jacintha, m. to Capt. N. Farnall, and had issue (see "FARNALL," BURKE's Landed Gentry). Col. Burrard m. 2ndly, Mary, dau. of Dr. Joseph Pearce, and d. 1780, leaving, by his 2nd wife,

1 HARRY, who inherited as 2nd baronet.

BURROWS.

Burrows, Sir George, Baronet, M.D., D.C.L., F.R.S., late President of the Royal College of Physicians, member of the Senate of University of London, Physician in Ordinary to the Queen, b. 28 Nov. 1801; m. 18 Sept. 1834, Elinor, youngest dau. of the late celebrated surgeon, John Abernethy, F.R.S., President of the Royal College of Surgeons, by whom he has issue,

I. Frederic-Abernethy, b. 30 Dec. 1846.
II. Ernest-Pennington, 11 July, 1851.
I. Rose-Ellen, b. 15 Aug. 1845; m. 23 July, 1867, Alfred Willett, Esq. of 36, Wimpole Street.

Lineage.

Sir George Burrows is descended from an ancient family in Kent, his ancestors having for two centuries, if not for a longer period, been landowners at Chalk, "by Milton, next Gravesend," a small parish adjoining the celebrated "Gads Hill," on the high road from London to Rochester. The obituary notices of the Burrows family of Chalk are to be found on the walls and floor of the chancel of its ancient ivy-covered church, and bear dates ranging from 1693 to 1846, the period of the decease of the father of the present baronet. Although sprung from the Kentish yeomanry Sir George Burrows' immediate progenitors for three generations, viz. from 1746 to 1846 pursued the liberal professions of medicine and law, and in the ranks of the former, his father, the late

George Mann Burrows, M.D., F.R.C.P., attained considerable celebrity, both by his medical publications and extensive practice in the treatment of mental disease. He m. 16 March, 1797, Sophia, dau. of Thomas Druce, Esq., the head of a well-known legal family in the city of London, and had issue,

George (Sir), created a Baronet, 1874.
John, b. 31 Dec. 1802, capt. in H.M. Bombay army; d. unm. in India.
Charles, b. 5 Nov. 1807; m. 1st, Mary, dau. of James Simpson, Esq. of Edinburgh, by whom he had two sons, Hubert-Charles and Harry. He m. 2ndly, Mary, dau. of Henry Reid, Esq., but by her has no issue.
Henry-Nicholson, b. Sept. 1809; m. Frances, dau. of S. Broadley, Esq.
Arthur, b. Aug. 1812; m. Frances, dau. of Major Bromley, Bombay army, and has had issue, one son and seven daus.
Sophia, m. to William-Warren Hastings, Esq.
Caroline, m. to John Nelson, Esq.
Emma, m. to Gen. Sir David Capon, K.C.B.
Ellen, m. to Rev. Canon Charles Arnold.

The professional career of the eldest son (the present baronet) has been yet more distinguished, and may most fitly be summed up in the expressive words of the late prime minister of the crown (Mr. Gladstone) in intimating to Sir George Her Majesty's intention to confer a baronetcy upon him "as president of the College of Physicians, and on the ground of his high position, and the eminent services he has rendered to his great profession."

Sir George received his university education at Gonville and Caius College, Cambridge, where he graduated B.A. as tenth wrangler in the Mathematical Tripos of 1825, and proceeded to his M.D. degree in 1831.

He was fellow and mathematical tutor (for a short period) of his college, but entering on the practice of the medical profession, he quitted Cambridge; he held for thirty years the offices of physician and lecturer on the principles and practice of medicine at St. Bartholomew's Hospital, London, and upon retiring from those arduous duties in the year 1863, was appointed consulting physician to that celebrated hospital and school of medicine.

Sir George was in 1864 appointed president to the "General Medical Council of Education," and has held also the honorable position of president of the "British Medical Association," and the "Royal Medical and Chirurgical" and other scientific societies, and has likewise filled the chairs of Gulstonian, Croonian, and Lumleian lecturer at the Royal College of Physicians, of which body he for five years was elected to the presidential chair. He is also a fellow of the Royal Society and member of the Senate of the University of London.

Creation—19 March, 1874.

Arms—Per fess az. and sa.; a caduceus arg., between three fleurs-de-lis, ermine. Crest—An eagle, with wings expanded or, collared, az., holding in the beak a spear-head, and resting the paw on a fleur-de-lis, both of the last. Motto—Et vi et virtute.

BUTE.

BUTE, MARQUESS OF (Sir John-Patrick Crichton-Stuart, K.T.), Earl of Windsor; Viscount Mountjoy, of the Isle of Wight; Baron Mountstuart, of Wortley, co. York; Baron Cardiff, of Castle Cardiff, all in the peerage of Great Britain; EARL OF DUMFRIES, Viscount Air, and Lord Crichton of Sanquhar and Cumnoch; EARL OF BUTE, Viscount Kingarth, Lord Mountstuart, Cumra, and Inchmarnock, in the peerage of Scotland; a Baronet of Nova Scotia; Knight Grand Cross of the Order of St. Gregory the Great; hereditary sheriff and coroner of the co. Bute, and hereditary keeper of Rothesay Castle; b. 12 Sept. 1847; s. his father as 3rd Marquess of Bute, 18 March, 1848; m. 16 April, 1872, the Hon. Gwendoline-Mary-Anne FitzAlan-Howard, eldest dau. of Lord Howard of Glossop, and has issue, a dau., MARGARET, b. 24 Dec. 1875, heiress presumptive to the Earldom of Dumfries.

Lineage.

JOHN STEUART, the founder of this family, was a son of King ROBERT II. There is a tradition that his mother's name was Leitch. About the year 1385, the king erected the islands of Bute, Arane, and Cumbrae, with their pertinents, into a county, and conferred the office of hereditary sheriff thereof on John Steuart, his son, with a considerable grant of land. This grant was subsequently confirmed by King ROBERT III., by charter, dated 11 Nov. 1400. He m. Jean, dau. of Sir John Semple, of Eliotstoun, and had issue, JAMES, his heir; William, ancestor of the Stewarts of Fennock; Robert; John; and Andrew, ancestor of the Stewarts of Rosland. The eldest son,

JAMES STEUART, sheriff of Bute, appears to have been born in 1399, and s. his father in 1449. He m. and had issue, 1 NINIAN, his heir; 2 James, of Kilcattan; 3 David, of Achavolik; and 4 John. The eldest son,

NINIAN STEUART, sheriff of Bute, b. in 1469, s. at his father's death, in 1477. He rebuilt the Donjon, or great tower of Rothesay Castle, by order of JAMES IV. He m. 1st, a dau. of the house of Campbell, and had by her, 1 JAMES, his heir; 2 Robert, ancestor of the Stewarts of Ambrismore; 3 William, who appears to have d. s. p.; and 4 Janet, m. to Ninian Bannatyne, of Kames, in Bute. Ninian Steuart, m. 2ndly, Janet, dau. of Constantine Dunlop, of that ilk, and by her had a son Archibald, ancestor of the Stewarts of Largilzane. He m. 3rdly, Elizabeth, dau. of John Blair, of Blair, and by her had, Alexander, who d. s. p.; Ninian, of Nether Kilmory, Kildavanan, and Kilcattan, ancestor of the second family of Stewart of Kilcattan, of the Stewarts of Ascog, the Stewarts of Ballintoy, Antrim, and (probably) the Castlereagh family. The sheriff appears to have d. before 5 April, 1538, and was s. by his son,

JAMES STEUART, sheriff and chamberlain of Bute, who suffered much during the struggle between the Earl of Lennox and the regent, Earl of Arran. He m. 1st, Lady Grissell Campbell, by whom he does not appear to have had any issue; and 2ndly, Marion, dau. of John Fairlie, of that ilk, and relict of Thomas Boyd, of Linn, brother of Thomas, Lord Boyd. By her he had two sons, JOHN, his heir; and Robert, who d. s. p.; and one dau., m to Alexander Stewart, of Kelspokes and Ballochmerton. James Steuart d. in 1570, and was s. by his son,

JOHN STEUART, of Ardmoleish, sheriff of Bute, who attended the parliament at Edinburgh, 20 Oct. 1579, as commissioner for Buteshire. He m. 1st, Mary, dau. of John Campbell, of Skipnish, and had by her a son, JOHN, his successor. He m. 2ndly, Fynewald, dau of Sir James M'Donald, of Duniveg, Isla, and Glenns, but by her (who was widow of Dugal Campbell, of Achnabreck) he had no child. He m. 3rdly, Jean, dau of John Blair, of that ilk, and by her had a son, James, of Ardinho; and a dau., Grissell, m. to Ninian Stewart, of Kilcattan. The sheriff d. in 1612, and was s. by his son,

SIR JOHN STUART, Knt. of Ardmoleish, sheriff of Bute, who m. Elizabeth, dau. and co-heir of Robert Hepburn, of Fuird, by whom (who m. 2ndly, Sir Alexander Foulis, of Collington) he acquired the estate of Fuird, with several other lands in the co. Haddington, and was s. by his son,

SIR JAMES STUART, of Ardmoleish, sheriff of Bute, who was created a Baronet of Nova Scotia in 1627; and adhering to the Royal cause during the civil wars, suffered considerably both by fines and sequestrations. Sir James m. in 1631, Grissell, dau. of Sir James Campbell, of Auchinbreck, and had, with other issue,

DUGALD, his successor.
Robert, of Tillicoultry, co. Clackmannan, one of the lords of session, who was created a Baronet, 29 April, 1707. Sir Robert represented the co. Bute in parliament, and was one of the commissioners for the treaty of Union, which he steadily supported. He resigned his gown in favour of his nephew, Dugald Stuart, of Blair Hall, in 1709.

Sir James d. in 1662, and was s. by his eldest son,

SIR DUGALD, who m. Elizabeth, dau. of Sir Thomas Ruthven, of Dunglass, and granddau., maternally, of Alexander, 1st Earl of Leven, by whom he had (besides daus.) two sons,

JAMES, his successor.
Dugald, of Blairhall, who having applied himself to the study of the law, became soon so celebrated that he was appointed successor to his uncle, Lord Tillicoultry, as a lord of session and justiciary, in 1709. Dugald Stuart, d. in 1712, leaving a high character for honour, integrity, and ability. He m. Mary, dau. and heiress of John Bruce, of Blairhall, co. Perth, and had a numerous family.

Sir Dugald d. in 1672, and was s. by his elder son

SIR JAMES, who being of the privy council of ANNE, and one of the commissioners appointed to treat of a union with England, in 1702, which did not then take effect, was elevated to the peerage of Scotland, 14 April, in the following year, by the titles of Earl of Bute, Viscount Kingarth, and Lord Mountstuart, Cumra, and Inchmarnock, to himself and to his heirs male whatever. In 1706, his lordship opposed the Union with all his might; and when he discovered that a majority of parliament was in favour of the measure, withdrew from the House, and retired to his country seat. He m. 1st, Agnes, eldest dau of Sir George Mackenzie, of Rosehaugh, lord advocate temp. JAMES VII.; and 2ndly, Christian, dau. of William Dundas, Esq. of Kincavel, and dying in 1710, was s. by the only son of his first marriage,

JAMES, 2nd earl; who, after the death of his maternal uncle, and much litigation, s. to the estate of Rosehaugh. His lordship m. Anne, dau. of Archibald, 1st Duke of Argyll; and had (besides daus.) two sons, viz.,

JOHN, his successor.

James, who s. to his great-grandfather, Sir George Mackenzie's landed property, and assumed the additional surname of MACKENZIE. This gentleman, the representative of different Scottish shires in parliament, from 1742 to 1784, was constituted keeper of the privy seal of Scotland, 1763, and sworn of the privy council. He m. his cousin, Lady Elizabeth Campbell, 4th dau. of John, 2nd Duke of Argyll and Greenwich, but had no surviving issue. Her ladyship d. in 1799, and Mr. Steuart-Mackenzie d. within nine months afterwards, of grief. Leaving no male issue, the succession to the extensive estate of the right hon. gentleman in Scotland fell to be regulated by an entail executed by Sir George Mackenzie, 1689. Notwithstanding that he was the first lawyer of the age, Sir George's settlements were so ambiguously worded, that his estates were claimed by the Hon. James-Archibald Stuart-Wortley, next brother of the Marquess of Bute, and Lord Herbert-Windsor Stuart, second son of the marquess. The judgment of the Court of Session in Scotland in favour of Mr. Wortley was appealed to, and affirmed by, the House of Lords, 4 March, 1803.

James, 2nd Earl of Bute, d. 28 Jan. 1723, and was s. by his elder son,

JOHN, 3rd earl, K.G.; b. in 1713; m. Mary, only dau. of Edward Wortley-Montagu, Esq. of Wortley, co. York, and great-granddau. of Edward, 1st Earl of Sandwich. Her ladyship was created, 4 April, 1761, Baroness Mountstuart, of Wortley, Yorkshire, with remainder to her male issue by the Earl of Bute. They had issue to survive,

I. JOHN, 1st Marquess of Bute.

II. JAMES-ARCHIBALD, who, on inheriting the Wortley estates, at the decease of his mother, assumed the surname of WORTLEY. He m. Margaret, dau. of Sir David Conyngham, Bart., and had, with other issue,

JAMES-ARCHIBALD STUART-WORTLEY, created Baron Wharncliffe. (See that title.)

III. Frederck, b. in Sept. 1751; d. 17 May, 1802.

IV. CHARLES (Sir), K.B.; b. in Jan. 1753, an officer of celebrity in the army, who attained the rank of lieut.-general, and was governor of the island of Minorca, which, amongst his other military services, he had reduced in 1798. He m. 19 April, 1788, Louisa, 2nd dau. and co-heiress (with her sister Albinia, Countess of Buckinghamshire) of Lord Vere Bertie, 3rd son of Robert, 1st Duke of Ancaster, and d. 25 May, 1801, leaving issue,

1 CHARLES (Sir), G.C.B., ambassador at the court of France, b. in 1779, who was created BARON STUART DE ROTHESAY, in Jan. 1828. He m. 6 Feb. 1816, Elizabeth-Margaret, 3rd dau. of Philip, 3rd Earl of Hardwicke, and d. 6 Nov. 1845, leaving by her (who d. 23 June, 1867) two daus., his coheirs, viz.,

CHARLOTTE, m. 5 Sept. 1835, to Charles-John, Viscount Canning, and d. at Calcutta 18 Nov. 1861.

I. Maud-Isabel.
II. Sybil-Mary, b. 2 Jan, 1869.

Sir Robert is a deputy-lieut. for the co. Norfolk.

Lineage.

The first authenticated ancestor of the family was

JOHN BUXTON, of Tibenham, co. Norfolk, whose son,

JOHN BUXTON, gave to the church of Tibenham, in 1478, the 4th bell, and, in 1497, a vest and cope of purple velvet. From him descended

ROBERT BUXTON, whose son,

JOHN BUXTON, Esq. of Tibenham and Dickleborough, co. Norfolk, m. Margaret, dau. of Warner, of Wynfarding, and was father of

ROBERT BUXTON, who was, in 1558, member for Bramber, co. Sussex, and 1563 for Horsham, in the same co. He was counsellor, by patent, to the Duke of Norfolk, and, on suspicion of being concerned in that nobleman's conspiracies, was sumrhoned before the Privy Council, by a warrant signed Pembroke, Leicester, Cecil. He was, in consequence, committed to the Fleet prison, where he remained two years, until liberated by petition. In compensation for this imprisonment, Queen ELIZABETH granted him a lease of the dissolved college of Rushford, with the adjacent lands, on which estate the present family seat, Shadwell Court, is situated. He m. Joan, dau. and co-heiress of Robert Heron, of Tibenham, a descendant from the ancient family of Heron, of Chipchase, co. Northumberland. His son,

JOHN BUXTON, Esq. of Tibenham, m. Elizabeth, dau. of Robert Kemp, of Gissing, co. Norfolk, a lineal descendant from Norman Kemp, living in 1306, and was father of

ROBERT BUXTON, Esq., who m. Elizabeth, dau. of Edmund d'Oyley, a descendant from King EDWARD III., through the Nevilles, Earls of Westmorland. Their son,

JOHN BUXTON, Esq., was member for Norfolk, in the 8th of CHARLES I., and also one of the secluded members in that parliament. He was appointed high sheriff for Norfolk in 1638, as appears from a letter from the Privy Council, dated 24 May, 1638; this letter states, that his majesty's patent, appointing him high sheriff, is sent down to him, and that he is required, in his majesty's name, to employ his best diligence for the levying and collecting of the ship money. As a compensation for the great losses sustained by this gentleman, in the cause of the unfortunate king in the civil wars, CHARLES II. granted to the family a second coat of arms, viz., sa., two bars, arg.; on a canton of the second a buck of the first, attired, or; and also a gold Restoration medal. John Buxton d. 29 April, 1660, having m. Margaret, dau. of William Pert, of Arnolds, co. Essex. His eldest son,

ROBERT BUXTON, Esq., was of Channonz, or Chaneux Hall, co. Norfolk, a fine old Elizabethan red brick mansion; he m. in 1654, Hannah, dau. of Thomas Wilton, and dying in 1662, was s. by his son,

ROBERT BUXTON, Esq., who m. Elizabeth, dau. and coheiress of Leonard Gooch, of Ersham, co. Norfolk, and d. 1691. His son,

JOHN BUXTON, Esq. of Channonz Hall, m. Anne, dau. and heiress of Clement Gooch, Esq., by whom he had issue, seven sons and two daus. He d. 1731. The eldest son,

JOHN BUXTON, Esq. of Channonz Hall and Shadwell, m. in 1717, Elizabeth, dau. and heiress of John Jacob, Esq. of Norton, co. Wiltshire, by whom he had issue two sons, ROBERT-JOHN, and John; he d. in 1782. This gentleman removed from the ancient family seat, Channonz Hall, to Shadwell Court, the residence of the present baronet. His elder son,

I ROBERT-JOHN BUXTON, Esq. of Shadwell Court, b. 27 Oct. 1753, was the active supporter and warm personal friend of the late William Pitt; he represented Thetford and Great Bedwin, Wilts, in parliament, and was created a Baronet, 25 Nov. 1800. BYRON.

BYRON, BARON (George-Frederick-William Byron), of Rochdale, co. Lancaster, lieut. West Suffolk militia, b. 27 Dec. 1855; educated at Harrow and Ch. Ch. Oxford; s. his uncle as 9th baron, 28 Nov. 1870.

Lineage.

RALPH DE BURON, at the time of the Survey, held divers manors in Nottinghamshire and Derbyshire. Amongst those in the latter county was Horseley, in the park of which stood Horestan Castle, which became the chief seat of the early Byrons.

SIR JOHN BYRON, K.B., of Newstead, Notts., m. Alice, dau. of Sir Nicholas Strelley, Knt., who was father of

SIR JOHN BYRON, K.B., of Newstead, living 1614, at Visitation of Notts, who m. Anne, eldest dau. of Sir Richard Molyneux, Bart., and had,

JOHN, his successor.
RICHARD, of whom hereafter.
Robert (Sir), col. of foot, on the royal side, and governor of Liverpool, m. Lucy, dau. of Thomas West, Lord Delawarr, and left (with other children, who d. s. p.) a dau., CICELY, who m. 1665, Charles Balfour, Esq. of Castle Balfour, co. Fermanagh, and had a dau., Lucy, m. 1st, Hugh McGill, Esq., and 2ndly, to Blayney Townley, Esq. By her 2nd husband she had a son, Blayney Townley-Balfour, Esq. of Townley Hall, co. Louth, grandfather of the present BLAYNEY TOWNLEY-BALFOUR, Esq. of Townley Hall.
Philip (Sir), who after many signal services in Yorkshire, was killed at the head of his regiment, in the general storm of York by the parliamentary army, in 1644.
Thomas (Sir), who commanded the Prince of Wales's regiment, under the Earl of Northampton, at the battle of Hopton Heath, 19 March, 1642-3, and received a wound in the thigh, by which he was put hors de combat. He d. at Oxford 9 Dec. 1643.

There were five other sons, and a dau., Mary, m. to Sir Thomas Lucas. Sir John was s. by his eldest son,

SIR JOHN BYRON, K.B., M.P. for the town of Nottingham, in the reign of JAMES I., and for the co. Nottingham in that of CHARLES I., a faithful adherent of, and gallant officer under, the latter unfortunate prince. Sir John commanded the corps of reserve at the Battle of Edge Hill; and the victory of Roundaway Down, 5 July, 1643, wherein Sir William Waller was routed, was chiefly owing to his skill and valour, having, at the head of his regiment, charged Sir Arthur Hasilrigg's cuirassiers, and after a sharp conflict, in which Sir Arthur received many wounds, compelled that impenetrable regiment (as Lord Clarendon writes) to fly. Sir John Byron, having given such proofs of his courage, and his six valiant brothers at that time following his loyal example, he was, in consideration thereof, advanced, 24 Oct. 1643, to the dignity of a Baron of the realm, by the title of LORD BYRON, of Rochdale, in the co. palatine of Lancaster, with limitation, in default of his own male issue, to each of his brothers. His lordship m. twice; but dying in 1652, issueless, the barony devolved upon his brother,

RICHARD, 2nd baron. This nobleman received the honour of knighthood from CHARLES I. He was one of the valiant colonels at the battle of Edge Hill, and subsequently governor of Appulty castle, co. Westmoreland. Lloyd, who wrote the lives of the loyalists, says, he deserves to be chronicled for his government of Newark and many surprises of the enemy. His lordship m. Elizabeth, dau. of George Rossell, Esq. of Ratcliffe, in Nottinghamshire; and dying in 1679, was s. by his only surviving son,

WILLIAM, 3rd baron. This nobleman m. Elizabeth, dau. of John, Viscount Chaworth. He d. 13 Nov. 1695, and was s. by his son,

WILLIAM, 4th baron; who m. 1st, Mary, dau. of John, 3rd Earl of Bridgewater, but by that lady (who d. 11 April, 1703) had no issue. He m. 2ndly (in 1706), Frances-Williamina, 3rd dau. of William, 1st Earl of Portland, by whom he had three sons and one dau., all of whom d. unm.; and 3rdly, in 1720, Frances, 2nd dau. of William, Lord Berkeley of Stratton, and by her (who m. 2ndly, in 1740, Sir Thomas Hay, Bart.) had (with three younger sons),

I. WILLIAM, his successor.
II. John, admiral R.N., b. 8 Nov. 1723. This gentleman, when a midshipman on board the "Wager," one of Lord Anson's circumnavigating squadron, was cast away upon a desolate island in the South Seas, and after enduring five years of great hardships there (of which he published, 1768, a well-known Narrative), returned to England, 1748, and attained high rank in his gallant profession. He m. Sophia, dau. of John Trevannion, Esq. of Carhays, co. Cornwall; and dying 1786, left,

1 John, an officer in the army; who m. 1st, 1779, Amelia D'Arcy, Baroness Conyers, dau. and heir of Robert, 4th Earl of Holdernesse (whose previous marriage with the Duke of Leeds had been dissolved by act of parliament), and by her ladyship, who d. 26 Jan. 1784, had,

Augusta, m. in 1807 to Lieut.-Col. Leigh, 10th drags., and had issue. She d. Nov. 1851, aged 67.

Captain Byron m. 2ndly, Catherine Gordon (lineally descended from the Earl of Huntly, and the PRINCESS JANE, dau. of JAMES II. of Scotland), and by her left an only son,

GEORGE-GORDON, who s. as 6th lord.

2 George-Anson, capt. R.N.; b. in 1758; m. Charlotte-Henrietta, dau. of Robert Dallas, Esq. of Dallas Castle, in Jamaica, and by her (who d. 1793) left at his decease, in 1793,

Lineage.

The name of SINCLAIR, the ST. CLARE of France, has for several centuries been distinguished in Scotland.

WILLIAM DE SANCTO CLARO acquired the manor of Roslin, in the reign of DAVID I., and had a confirmation thereof from that monarch. His great-great-grandson,

SIR WILLIAM SINCLAIR, of Roslin, was appointed sheriff of the co. Edinburgh for life, in 1271, and had a confirmation from ALEXANDER III. of the lands and barony of Roslin, &c., for half a knight's service. He sat in the parliament at Scone, 5 Feb. 1283-4, when the succession to the crown of Scotland was settled in the event of the demise of ALEXANDER III. Sir William was one of the nominees on the part of Baliol, in the competition for the crown of Scotland, 1292. He swore fealty to EDWARD I. in the same year, and was present when Baliol did homage to the English monarch, a few months after. He died about the year 1300, leaving three sons,

HENRY, his successor.
William, Bishop of Dunkeld.
Gregory, ancestor of the Sinclairs, of Longformacus, Barts.

The eldest son,

SIR HENRY SINCLAIR, of Roslin, swore fealty to EDWARD I. in 1292. His grandson,

SIR WILLIAM SINCLAIR, of Roslin, m. Isabel, one of the daus. and co-heirs of Maliso, Earl of Strathern, Caithness, and Orkney, by Matilda, only dau. and heiress of Magnus, Earl of Orkney and Zetland, and was s. by his eldest son,

SIR HENRY SINCLAIR, of Roslin, who had his claim to the EARLDOM OF ORKNEY admitted by HAKON, the 6th King of Norway, in 1379, but burthened with severe conditions—that of serving the king in all emergencies with a hundred men, &c., &c., of paying the king 1000 gold nobles, &c. He m. Jane, dau. of Sir John Haleburton, of Dirletoun; and dying in 1400, was s. by his eldest son,

HENRY, 2nd Earl of Orkney, admiral of Scotland. His lordship, who was appointed chief attendant on Prince James, in his voyage to France, in 1405, was captured with the prince in their passage by the English, and sent to the Tower of London. He m. Lady Egidia Douglas, dau. and sole heiress of William, Lord of Niddesdale, by Lady Egidia Stuart, dau. of ROBERT II.; and dying before 1418, was s. by his only son,

WILLIAM, 3rd Earl of Orkney. This nobleman, who was lord-high-chancellor of Scotland, obtained a grant from JAMES II., dated 28 Aug. 1455, of the EARLDOM OF CAITHNESS, which title he assumed, in addition to that of Orkney, and was styled Earl of Orkney and Caithness, until the year 1471, when JAMES III., having acquired the islands of Orkney in marriage with Margaret of Denmark, 1469, his lordship surrendered to that monarch the Earldom of Orkney, and it was annexed to the crown by act of parliament. In part recompense for which the king granted to him the castle of Ravenscraig, in Fife. His lordship m. 1st, Lady Margaret Douglas, eldest dau. of Archibald, 4th Earl of Douglas, by whom he had a son, William, of Newburgh, ancestor of the Lords Sinclair.

He m. 2ndly, Marjory, dau. of Alexander Sutherland, of Dunbeath, and having passed over his son by his 1st marriage, was s. by the eldest of the 2nd,

WILLIAM, as 2nd Earl of Caithness. This nobleman was slain at Flodden, 9 Sept. 1513, and was s. by his son,

JOHN, 3rd earl. His lordship, who m. Elizabeth, dau. of Sir William Sutherland, of Duffus, was slain in attempting to take possession of the Orkneys, to which he asserted he had a right, in 1529. He was s. by his son,

GEORGE, 4th earl; who sat first as a peer of parliament in 1541. His lordship m. Elizabeth, dau. of William, 2nd Earl of Montrose; and dying 1582, was s. by his grandson,

GEORGE, 5th earl, who m. Jean, dau. of George, Earl of Huntly, and had issue,

I. WILLIAM, Lord Berriedale, who m Mary, dau. of Henry, 3rd Lord Sinclair, and dying before his father, left a son,

GEORGE, who inherited as 6th Earl of Caithness.

II. Francis, of Keiss, whose son,

GEORGE, s. as 7th Earl of Caithness.

His lordship d. in 1643, and was s. by his great-grandson,

GEORGE, 6th earl; who dying childless in 1676, and being deeply indebted to Sir John Campbell, of Glenurchy, alienated his estates and honours to that gentleman, who was, in consequence, created Earl of Caithness, but was obliged, in 1681, to relinquish both to the rightful heir (being himself created Earl of Breadalbane and Holland),

GEORGE 7th earl (refer to sons of the 5th earl). This nobleman dying unm., the family honours devolved, in 1698, upon his heir male,

JOHN SINCLAIR, of Murchil, as 8th earl (the lineal descendant of Sir James Sinclair, of Murchil, brother of the 5th lord). His lordship d. 1705, and was s. by his eldest son,

ALEXANDER, 9th earl; who enjoyed the honours for sixty years. He m. in 1738, Lady Margaret Primrose, 2nd dau. of Archibald, 1st Earl of Rosebery, and had an only dau.,

Dorothea, m. to James, 2nd Earl of Fife.

He d. in 1765, and was s. by

WILLIAM SINCLAIR, Esq. of Ratter, as 10th earl (descended from Sir John Sinclair, of Greenland, son of John, master of Caithness, and grandson of George, 4th earl). His lordship d. in 1779, and was s. by his son,

JOHN, 11th earl; at whose decease, without issue, 8 April, 1789, the honours devolved upon

SIR JAMES SINCLAIR, Bart. of Mey, as 12th earl; who was directly descended from George, youngest son of the 4th earl. His lordship, b. in 1766, m. 2 Jan. 1784, Jane, 2nd dau. of Gen. Alexander Campbell, of Barcaldine, co. Argyll, and by her (who d. 2 April, 1853) had issue,

CAMDEN.

CAMDEN, MARQUESS (John-Charles Pratt), Earl Camden; Earl of Brecknock, Viscount Bayham, of Bayham Abbey, co. Sussex, and Baron Camden, of Camden Place, co. Kent; b. 8 Jan. 1872; s. his father as 4th marquess, 4 May, 1872.

Lineage.

The Pratts have been of consideration in different parts of England, as well as in Ireland, from a very remote period, some of them of knightly degree; and those of Berkshire were baronets. The family of which we are now treating was settled at Careswell Priory, co. Devon, about the middle of ELIZABETH's reign, (Brydges's Collins, vol. 5, p. 264), but the estate was lost by

RICHARD PRATT, during the civil wars, who was compelled, by the difficulties in which those disastrous times had involved him, to dispose of his paternal inheritance. This Richard Pratt was grandfather of LORD-CHIEF-JUSTICE SIR JOHN PRATT, Knt., who represented the borough of Midhurst in parliament, from 1700 until his elevation to the chiefship of the court of Kings Bench, 26 Oct. 1714. His lordship was summoned to parliament, 14 Sept. 1839, being senior co-heir to the Barony of Camoys.*

Lineage.

The name of CAMOYS was derived from the Manor of Camoys, in Cambridgeshire, of which manor HUMPHREY was seized in the reigns of HENRY I. and STEPHEN. His son, ROBERT FITZ HUMPHREY, m. Matilda de Diva, a dau. and co-heir of Pagan de Peverell. Their grandson, RALPH DE CAMOYS, in the 13th of JOHN, recovered the presentation to the church of Tanesore as the heir of Humphrey. Ralph Camoys m. Ascelina, the dau. and heir of Roger de Torpell, by whom he acquired very large estates. He d. in the 3rd of HENRY III., leaving RALPH DE CAMOYS his son and heir. As his son bore the same name of Ralph, he was called Ralph Camoys, senior, and the son Ralph Camoys, junior; and they both appear to have been considered Peers of England. Ralph, the father, d. in the 43rd of HENRY III. Ralph, the son, was summoned as a Peer to the Parliament called in the 49th of HENRY III No subsequent enrolment of summonses to Parliament is extant until the 23rd of EDWARD I. Ralph, Lord Camoys, d. in the 5th of EDWARD I., leaving JOHN DE CAMOYS his son and heir. The year of his death has not been ascertained, but he d. before the 25th of EDWARD I. Ralph, Lord Camoys, the son and heir of John, was summoned to Parliament from the 7th of EDWARD II. to the 9th of EDWARD III. He m. Margaret, the dau. of Wilheim de Braose, and had three sons, Hugh de Camoys, who d. without issue; THOMAS, afterwards LORD CAMOYS; and Sir John Camoys, who m. Margaret, dau. and co-heir of Richard, Lord Foliot, and d. in the lifetime of his brother, leaving a son, THOMAS CAMOYS, who s. his uncle, Thomas, Lord Camoys Ralph, Lord Camoys, was s. by his son, THOMAS, LORD CAMOYS, who was constantly engaged in the French wars from the time of his succession to the period of his decease, and in consequence was not included in the summonses to parliament. He m. and had two sons, Hugh and Ralph, who both d. without issue in the lifetime of their father. Thomas, Lord Camoys, d. without surviving issue, 45 EDWARD III., having settled all his estates on his nephew and heir,

SIR THOMAS DE CAMOYS, of Broadwater, in the co. Surrey, knight-banneret, an eminent warrior in the times of RICHARD II., HENRY IV., and HENRY V., who commanded the left wing of the English army at Agincourt; and for his services on that occasion was made a knight

Lineage.

SIR JOHN CAMPBELL, of Lawers, co. Perth, grandson of John Campbell, of Lawers, younger son of Sir Colin Campbell, first of Glenorchy, m. his cousin Beatrix, dau. of Sir Colin Campbell, of Glenorchy, and has three sons,

I. Sir James Campbell, of Lawers, father of John, Earl of Loudoun, Lord High Chancellor of Scotland; he is represented as heir general by the Earl of Loudoun and as heir male by Sir James Campbell, of Aberuchill, Bart.
II. COLIN CAMPBELL, of Aberuchill.
III. Archibald Campbell, Prior of Strathfillan.

In 1594, Sir John acquired Aberuchill, and other lands, from the family of Murray, of Abercairny, and the following year resigned them in favour of his second son,

COLIN CAMPBELL, of Aberuchill, who had a crown charter of confirmation in that estate, 12 July, 1596, and acquired Craiginch, Leonards, and other lands. In 1612, Archibald, Earl of Argyll, justice general of Scotland, granted a commission to "my lovit Colin Campbell, of Aberuchill," to apprehend or pursue to the death all persons of "that most unhappie and barbarous raice of the name of M'Gregor," His Majesty's rebels. An Act of parliament, 1617, against the clan Gregor, mentions depredations committed by them on the estate of Aberuchill. Colin Campbell had issue by his wife, who appears to have been a dau. of the family of Colville,

I. JAMES.
II. John of Foordie, a member of the committee of war, 1647, d. in or before 1683, leaving issue, Mary, m. Henry Stewart, advocate, 4th son of Sir William Stewart, of Grandtally; from this marriage descends Sir Archibald-D. Stewart, Bart.

He was s. in 1618 by his eldest son,

I. COLIN CAMPBELL, of Aberuchill, then a minor, who became a lawyer and politician of note, and held the various high appointments of sheriff depute of Argyllshire 1668; senator of the college of justice under the title of Lord Aberuchill 1689; lord of justiciary and privy councillor 1690. He represented the co. of Perth in parliament from 1690 to 1702. In 1669 Sir Colin acquired the barony of Kilbryde, with its fine old castle, the seat of the earls of Monteith, still the property of his representative. A crown charter a few months later erected all his lands into one free barony, holding direct of the king, to be called Aberuchill, and made Inneruchill into a burgh of barony Lord Aberuchill suffered losses amounting to £17,201 Scots from the Highland army, under Lord Dundee, and had an Act of parliament granting him compensation, which he appears never to have received. The precise date at which the baronetcy was conferred cannot now be ascertained, as the patent is lost, and was, like many others, in favour of gentlemen on whom the baronetcy of Nova Scotia was conferred about this period, never registered: it appears, however, to have been between 23 Jan. 1667, and 16 May, 1668, and the baronet's arms appear no less than four times from

Lineage.

The family of Evans claims descent from Elystan Glodrydd, Prince of Fferlys. In the 16th century, two of the family settled in Ireland: JOHN EVANS, ancestor of the LORDS CARBERY; and ROBERT EVANS, from whom derives the family of EVANS, of Baymount, co. Dublin and Robinstown, co. Westmeath. The former, JOHN EVANS, settled in the city of Limerick, where he was living in 1628. His grandson,

THE RIGHT HON. GEORGE EVANS, of Bulgaden Hall, in the co. Limerick, barrister-at-law, having zealously promoted the Revolution, was sworn of the privy council after the accession of WILLIAM, and returned to parliament for Charleville, co. Cork. He m. in 1679, Mary, dau. of John Eyre, Esq. of Eyre Court, co. Galway, and had issue,

CARDEN, SIR JOHN-CRAVEN, of Templemore, co. Tipperary, Lieut. Queen's County Militia, b. 30 Jan. 1854; s. his father as 5th bart., 23 March, 1879.

Lineage.

The name of Carden is local, being derived from the township of Cawarden, Carwarden, or Carden, which lies about eleven miles S.S.E. from Chester. The elder branch of the family terminating in co-heiresses, the manor of Over-Carden was carried by marriage into the family of Felton. A branch had been settled in Kent, where it appears it was for several generations possessed of the manor of Hodiford; but that estate was alienated temp. ELIZABETH, by John Carden, to the Cobbes, when there is reason to believe that the Cardens of Kent removed into Lincolnshire, and that from them diverged the Irish branch.

CAREW.

CAREW, SIR HENRY-PALK, of Haccombe, co. Devon; .26 Feb. 1870; s. as 9th baronet at the decease of his uncle, 27 Jan. 1874.

Lineage.

The Carews are one of the few families now remaining which can trace their descent, without interruption, from the Anglo-Saxon period of English history.

OTHO, a powerful English baron, in the time of EDWARD THE CONFESSOR, was s. by his son,

WALTER FITZ-OTHO, castellan of Windsor, who had two sons; from William, the younger, the Lords Windsor descended; from the elder,

GERALD, sprung the Carews and Fitzgeralds: he was castellan of Pembroke Castle, and in great favour with HENRY I., from whom he received the lordship of Mulsford, in Berks. By Nesta, his wife, dau. of Rhys ap Tudor Mawr, King of South Wales, whos dower was the castle of Carew, he had three sons, MAURICE, WILLIAM, and DAVID; from Maurice, the eldest, descended the FITZGERALDS, Dukes of Leinster. The second son,

WILLIAM, of the Castle Kerrin, co. Carmarthen, d. in 1173, leaving, with two other sons (RAYMOND, ancestor of the Marquesses of Lansdowne, and WILLIAM, ancestor of the Gerards).

OTHO, from whom the 5th in lineal descent was

SIR NICHOLAS CAREW, Baron of Carew and Mulsford, a person of eminence, temp. EDWARD I., who was s. by his son

SIR JOHN CAREW, father of

SIR JOHN CAREW, who was constituted lord deputy or Ireland, and served EDWARD III. at the battle of Cresy. He m. Margaret, dau. of John, Lord Mohun, of Dunster, and was s. by his son,

SIR LEONARD CAREW, Knt., whose son,

SIR JOHN CAREW, attained high distinction in the wars of Henry V., and was s. by his son,

SIR NICHOLAS CAREW, Knt., Lord of Carew; who m. Joan, dau. of Sir Hugh Courtenay, of Haccombe, co. Devon, by Philippa, dau. and co.-heir of Sir William Arcedecan, and had five sons and three daus. Sir Thomas, the eldest son, happening to disoblige his mother, that lady settled seventeen manors upon her younger sons, which proved the foundation of three great families, which have flourished ever since, namely, that before us, the CAREWS of Stodeleigh and the CAREWS of Antony. (See BURKE'S Landed Gentry.)

SIR NICHOLAS CAREW, the 2nd son, succeeded at Haccombe, and from him directly descended, in the 6th degree,

I. THOMAS CAREW, Esq. of Haccombe, who was created a baronet 2 Aug. 1661. He m. 1st, Elizabeth, eldest dau. and co-heir of Sir Henry Carew, Knt. of Brickleigh, and thus united two branches of the family. He m. 2ndly, the dau. and co-heir of Arthur Duck, LL.D., and widow of William Duck, Esq. Sir Thomas was s. by his only surviving son,

II. SIR HENRY, who m. thrice, but had issue only by his 3rd wife, Gratiana, dau. of Thomas Darrell, Esq. of Treworson, in Cornwall. He was s. by his elder son,

III. SIR HENRY-DARRELL, at whose decease, unm., the title devolved upon his brother,

IV. SIR THOMAS, who m. Dorothy, dau. and co-heir of Peter West, Esq. of Tiverton Castle, and was s. by his elder son,

V. SIR JOHN, who m Elizabeth, only dau. of the Rev. Henry Holdsworth, of Dartmouth, and by her (who d. in 1817) had issue,

THOMAS, his successor.
John-West, in holy orders; m. Lydson, dau. of the Rev. Charles Smallwood, and had issue.
Henry, capt. R.N.; m. Maria, dau. of the Rev. Henry Fownes, and had issue.
Dorothy-Christiana.

Sir John was s. by his eldest son,

VI. SIR THOMAS. This gentleman m. in June, 1777, Jane, dau. of the Rev. Charles Smallwood, by whom he had issue,

HENRY, his successor.
Charles, deceased.
Thomas, in holy orders; m. in 1820, Holway, only dau. of Robert Baker, Esq. of Collumpton, co. Devon, and d. 5 Sept. 1876, having had issue.
Elizabeth, m. in 1808, to Sir John Duntze, Bart.
Dorothea.
Marcella-Cowell, m. in 1805, to the Rev. James Coles.
Frances, m. in 1810, to John-Were Clarke, Esq. of Bridwell and Burrington, co. Devon.
Jane, m. in 1816, to the Rev. William Rayer.

Sir Thomas d. in April, 1805, and was s. by his eldest son,

VII. SIR HENRY b. 10 Jan. 1779; who m. 3 Oct. 1806, Elizabeth, only dau. of Walter Palk, Esq. of Marley, co. Devon, and had issue,

I. WALTER-PALK, late baronet.
II. Henry, b. 24 Oct. 1808; m. Miss Susan Symes, and d. 24 Oct. 1871, leaving issue,

CARMICHAEL.

GIBSON-CARMICHAEL, THE REV. SIR WILLIAM-HENRY, Bart. of Skirling, co. Peebles, M.A., b 9 Oct. 1827; s. his brother as 13th baronet, 30 Dec. 1855; m. 12 May, 1858, Eleanora-Anne, dau. of David Anderson, Esq. of St. Germains, by Charlotte, his wife, dau. of Sir John Naesmyth, Bart. of Posso, and by her (who d. 6 Jan. 1861) has had,

I. THOMAS-DAVID, b. 18 March, 1859.
II. George-Henry, b. 24 Jan. 1860.
III. John-Murray, b. 27 Dec. 1860.

Lineage.

Fifth in direct descent from

THOMAS GIBSON, who flourished under JAMES IV., and is particularly named amongst the barons of the co. Fife, was

I. SIR ALEXANDER GIBSON, one of the most eminent lawyers of his time, whom JAMES VI. presented personally to the court as principal clerk of Session, and remained to witness his inauguration. In 1621, he was constituted senator of the College of Justice, and in a few years afterwards advance to the lord-presidency of the Court of Session, which office he enjoyed during the remainder of his life. In Feb. 1628, his lordship was created a Baronet of Nova Scotia, and obtained with the dignity, a grant of land, six miles in length, and three in breadth, in Nova Scotia. Sir Alexander m. Margaret, dau. of Sir Thomas Craig, of Riccarton, lord-advocate of Scotland, by whom he had, with other children,

I. ALEXANDER, his successor.
II. John, of Pentland, a distinguished royalist, who was made a knight banneret, under the royal standard, at the battle of Worcester, in 1651. Sir John m. 1st, Margaret Hay, of the noble family of Kinnoul, and had (with a younger son, Sir John),

1 SIR ALEXANDER GIBSON, one of the principal clerks of Session, and clerk of the privy council in Scotland; m. Helen, dau. of Sir James Fleming, of Rathobyers, co. Mid-Lothian, by whom he had, with five daus. (of whom the eldest, Elizabeth, m. 1st, Thomas Craig, Esq. of Riccarton, and 2ndly, Sir William Baird, Bart.),

JOHN, who s. as 5th baronet.
Alexander, of Durie, one of the principal clerks of Session; m. twice, and left by his first wife, Elizabeth, dau. of Sir John Foulis, an eldest son and heir, JOHN GIBSON, of Durie, who m. Helen, dau. of the Hon. William Carmichael, of Skirling, 2nd son of John, 1st Earl of Hyndford, and had issue, 1 ALEXANDER, who m. Margaret, dau. of Thomas Dundas, of Fingask, and had a son, JOHN, who s. as 9th baronet; 2 William, of Edinburgh (see GIBSON-CRAIG, Bart.); 3 Thomas, col. in the army; 1 Margaret, m. to Alexander-Gibson Wright, of Clifton Hall; and 2 Elizabeth, m. to David Hunter, of Balskelly.
Thomas, of Clifton Hall.
James, of the Austrian service.

Sir John, of Pentland, m. 2ndly, the widow of Sir James Fleming; and 3rdly, Elizabeth, youngest dau. of Sir Thomas Thomson, Bart.; by the latter he had a son, THOMAS, of Keir Hill, who was created a Baronet in 1702, and m. Jean, only child of Edward Majoribanks, Esq. of Hallyards.

The lord-president was s. at his decease by his eldest son,

II. SIR ALEXANDER, of Durie. This gentleman took an active part in the religious dissensions which agitated Scotland at the commencement of the reign of CHARLES I., and was zealous on the side of the covenanters. When matters, however, were in some measure compromised, he received the honour of knighthood, and was appointed lord-clerk registrar, A.D. 1641. He was constituted, 1646, one of the senators of the College of Justice, when he assumed the titulary designation of Lord Durie. While in the discharge of the duties of this high office, an outrage was committed upon his lordship, which strongly marked the era in which he lived. An important cause existing between two noblemen, Lord Durie, when taking an airing on Leith sands, was forcibly carried off by one of them, to prevent his voting at the decision of the suit in the Court of Session. His lordship was deprived of his judicial employments by CROMWELL. He m. 1st, in 1649, Margery, dau. of Andrew Murray, Lord Balvaird, by whom he had an only dau. Anne, who m. John Murray, Esq., of Polmaise and Touchadam. He m. 2ndly, Cecilia, dau. of Thomas Fotheringham, Esq., of Powrie, by whom he had an only son, his successor,

III. SIR JOHN, who was s. by his only son,

IV. SIR ALEXANDER, at whose decease, without male issue, the title reverted to the grandson of his grand-uncle, Sir John Gibson, of Pentland,

V. SIR JOHN, of Pentland, who m. Elizabeth, dau. of Lewis Craig, of Riccarton, and had (with two daus.) two sons; ALEXANDER, his heir; and John, a merchant in London. Sir John was s. at his decease by his eldest son,

VI. SIR ALEXANDER, at whose decease, without male issue, the baronetcy and estate of Pentland, co. Edinburgh, descended to his nephew,

VII. SIR JOHN, of Pentland, (son of John Gibson, Esq. of London), who m. Henrietta, dau. of James Watson, Esq. of Saughton, co. Edinburgh, by whom he had an only dau. and heir,

Helen, who m. Major Gen. David Anderson Gibsone, and d. in 1843, leaving an only son,

JOHN-CHARLES HOPE-GIBSONE, Esq. of Pentland, co. Edinburgh, lieut.-gen., formerly lieut.-col. 7th dragoon guards, and 17th lancers, b. 21 May, 1810; m. 3 Nov. 1835, Jane-Louisa, only dau. of H.-S. Bringloe, Esq. of Edinburgh, and has issue, 1 John, late capt. 17th lancers, m. 1860, Mary-Anne, dau. of Rev. J.-Hughes Hallett, and has issue; 2 Hugh-Francis-Hacket, capt. 73rd regt.; 1 Helen, m. 5 June, 1855, to George Ashby Ashby, Esq. of Naseby, Northamptonshire; 2 Jane-Louisa-Hope; 3 Henrietta-Anderson.

Sir John dying in 1781, without male issue, the estate of Pentland went to his dau., Mrs. Gibsone, and the baronetcy passed to his brother,

VIII. SIR ROBERT, at whose decease, in America, the title devolved upon the descendant of Alexander Gibson, of Durie, 2nd son of Sir Alexander Gibson, clerk of the privy council, mentioned above, which descendant was,

IX. SIR JOHN GIBSON-CARMICHAEL, of Skirling, grandson of John Gibson, of Durie, and Helen his wife, dau. of the Hon. William Carmichael, advocate, son of John, 1st Earl of Hyndford, and father of John, 4th earl; at the decease of which 4th earl, this gentleman (then Mr. Gibson, his lordship's grand-nephew) assumed, in conformity to an entail, the surname and arms of CARMICHAEL. He m. Janet, dau. of Cornelius Elliott, Esq., clerk to the Signet, by whom he had an only daughter. The title and estates passed, in consequence, to his brother,

X. SIR THOMAS, who m. 1st, 1805, Janet-Maitland, dau. of the late Major-Gen Dundas, of Fingask, and granddau. of Alexander, Earl of Home, and by her (who d. 1814) had issue,

I. ALEXANDER-GIBSON (Sir), 11th bart.
I. Eleanor-Hyndford, m. 5 June, 1829, to Sir David Kinloch, 9th bart., and d. 15 Oct. 1849.
II. Margaret-Anne, d. 1842.
III. Janet-Maitland, d.

He m. 2ndly, 13 June, 1816, the Hon. Anne, dau. of Francis, 7th Lord Napier, and by her (who d. Dec. 1862) had,

I. THOMAS, 12th bart.
II. Francis-Napier, b. 1820; d. 1852.
III. Charles-John, b. 1823; capt. 69th regt. d. 1852.

CARMICHAEL.

CARMICHAEL, SIR JAMES-ROBERT, of Nutwood, Surrey, b. 11 June, 1817; s. his father, 4 March, 1838; was formerly an officer in the army, appointed a Deputy-Lieutenant of Kent in 1855; m. 18 Feb. 1841, Louisa-Charlotte, dau. of Sir Thomas Butler, Bart. of Garryhundon, co. Carlow, and has issue,

I. JAMES-MORSE, b. 20 July, 1844.
I. May.
II. Louisa, d. 15 Nov. 1874.

Sir James re-assumed, by royal licence, 25 Feb. 1841, the surname of CARMICHAEL only, in lieu of his patronymic CARMICHAEL-SMYTH. The present baronet, as heir male of the house of Carmichael, claims the dormant titles of Earl of Hyndford, Viscount Inglisberry and Nemphlar, and Lord Carmichael of Carmichael (see BURKE'S Extinct and Dormant Peerages).

Lineage.

This ancient surname is local, and was originally assumed by the proprietors of the lands and Barony of Carmichael, in the Upper Ward of Lanarkshire.

SIR JOHN DE CARMYCHELL had a charter in 1385, from his cousin, Sir James Sandilands, of Calder (son-in-law of King Robert II.), of a portion of the Barony of Wiston. He m. a dau. of Sir Andrew Wardlaw, of Torrie (sister of Henry Wardlaw, Bishop of St. Andrews), and by her had two sons,

WILLIAM, who s. his father in the lands of Carmichael and Wiston. He carried on the direct male line of the Carmichaels, which failed on the death of Sir John Carmichael, of that ilk, about 1630; and was progenitor of the Carmichaels, of Hyndford, which family also became extinct in the male line, on the demise, in 1817, of Andrew, 6th and last Earl of Hyndford.
JOHN.

The 2nd son,

JOHN CARMICHAEL, was constable of St. Andrews, and obtained the lands of Greenhill and Meadowflat (in the co. of Lanark), under charters from Sir James Sandilands, of Calder, and Sir John Lindsay, of Covington. He had two sons,

WILLIAM, who became heritable captain of the Royal Castle of Crawford, and was ancestor of the Carmichaels of Meadowflat, Greenhill, and Castle Crawford, extinct in the male line in 1627.
John.

The 2nd son,

JOHN CARMICHAEL, m. (circa 1477) Elizabeth, dau. of Sir John Sibbald, of Balgonie, and widow of Archibald, 4th Earl of Angus. Elizabeth Sibbald, by her first husband, was mother of the celebrated Archibald, 5th Earl of Angus (called Bell the Cat), whose great grand-dau., Lady Margaret Douglas, by her marriage with Matthew, Earl of Lennox, was mother of Lord Darnley, from whom the present Royal Family of Great Britain are descended. By this alliance, JOHN CARMICHAEL acquired the lands of Balmedie, Craigpottie, and Dron, in the cos. of Fife and Perth, together with the office of heritable baillie of the regality of Abernethy, which was held by the Carmichaels of Balmedie, until the abolishment of heritable jurisdictions by Act of Parliament in 1748. He was s. by his son,

JAMES CARMICHAEL, of Balmedie, who was sheriff of Lanark in 1498. He m. Elizabeth, dau. and co-heir of Folkhart, of Folkhartoun, co. Lanark, and had

JAMES CARMICHAEL, who m. Margaret, dau. of David Kincraigie of that ilk, and had two sons,

PETER CARMICHAEL, who was implicated with Norman Leslie in the capture of the Castle of St. Andrews, and slaughter of Cardinal Beaton. He was afterwards imprisoned in the Castle of St. Michael, in Normandy, and died without issue.
David.

The 2nd son,

DAVID CARMICHAEL, of Balmedie, m. Isabel, dau. of David Barclay, of Collairnie. He d. in 1552, and was s. by his son,

JAMES CARMICHAEL, who m. Jean, dau. of David Carnegie, of Coluthie, sister of David, 1st Earl of Southesk, and John 1st Earl of Northesk, and had a son,

DAVID CARMICHAEL, who m. 1st, Margaret, dau. of Sir William Oliphaunt, of Newton, by whom he had no issue; and 2ndly, Margaret, dau. of Myrton, of Cambo, by whom he had a son.

SIR DAVID CARMICHAEL, of Balmedie, who m. 1st, Anne, dau. of James, 1st Lord Carmichael, by whom he had two daus.; and 2ndly, Cecilia, dau. and co-heir of Thomas Fotheringhame, of Powrie, and had a son,

DAVID CARMICHAEL, who m. Euphemia, dau. of Dempster, of Balbougie, and was father of

DAVID CARMICHAEL, of Balmedie, who m. Anne, dau. of Thomas Graham, of Balgowan descended from Lord William Graham of Kincardine by his 2nd marriage with Mary, 2nd dau. of King Robert III., (ancestor of the late Lord Lynedoch), and had three sons,

DAVID, of Balmedie, who, becoming involved in the rising in support of Prince Charles Edward, was heavily fined, and obliged to alienate his estates in Scotland. He m. Janet, dau. of Peter Coutts, a merchant in Edinburgh, and had an only son, DAVID, who m. Mary, dau. of the Rev. William Tatham, of Wormingford, and d. without issue.
THOMAS, of whom presently.

The 2nd son,

THOMAS CARMICHAEL, m. Margaret, eldest dau. and co-heir of James Smyth, of Aithernie, in Fife (a cadet of the house of Methven), who obtained Aithernie by his marriage with Anne, dau. of Alexander Watson, of Aithernie, by his wife Margaret, dau. of David Lindsay, of Edzell (de jure Lord Lindsay), and sister of David, the last Baron of Edzell. Thomas Carmichael was s. by his only son,

JAMES CARMICHAEL-SMYTH, M.D., who inherited Aithernie, and through his great grandmother, Margaret Lindsay, became heir general of the Lindsays of Edzell. In compliance with the will of his grandfather, he assumed the surname of Smyth in addition to that of Carmichael, and eventually settled in England, and disposed of Aithernie. He adopted the medical profession, in which he became very eminent, and was appointed Physician Extraordinary to George III., and also received the thanks of Parliament, with a grant of money, for valuable public services. He m. Mary, dau. of Thomas Holyland, of Bromley, by his wife Mary, dau. of George Elton, of the Nether Hall, Ledbury, and d. in 1821, having had issue,

JAMES, who was created a baronet.
Henry, major in the Bengal engineers; d. 9 Sept. 1861.
William, late paymaster of Exchequer bills, d. 1846.
Charles-Montauban, C.B., gen. Indian army, and a Knt. of the 3rd class of the Dooranee empire, or kingdom of Caubul, col. of the 20th hussars, a distinguished officer in the Afghan war, who m. in March, 1841, Mary-Eliot, dau. of the late Capt. Allan Graham, Bengal artillery, and d. 21 Nov. 1870, having had by her (who d. 29 April, 1871), Charles-Henry-Edward, of Trin. Coll. Oxford, b. 1842; Rose-Gordon; and Florence-Graham, d. 6 April, 1873.
David, judge of the Sudder Dewany, Calcutta; m. in 1819, Anne, dau. and co-heir of Maj.-Gen. J.-D. Sherwood, Bengal art., and d. 1841, having had issue, 1 James-Doddington, C.B., col. late 32nd regt.; 2 Charles-Paget, Bengal C.S.; 3 David-Fremantle, Madras C.S.; 4 George-Lynedoch, major 95th regt.; 1 Louisa-Maria, m. to Edward Wylly, judge of the Sudden Court, Agra.
Robert, late major 93rd highlanders.
Mark, capt. in the Madras cavalry.
George-Monro, major-gen. Bengal army; he was col. of the 3rd Bengal light cavalry at the outbreak of the Indian mutiny, and subsequently commanded a newly raised corps of European cavalry on the Bengal establishment.
Maria, m. to Alexander Monro, of Craiglockhart, M.D., F.R.S.E., President of the Royal College of Physicians, Edinburgh, and professor of Anatomy in the university of that city.
Georgiana, m. to Lieut.-Col. William Forrest, Bengal army.

The eldest son,

MAJOR-GENERAL SIR JAMES CARMICHAEL-SMYTH, Bart., C.B., K.C.H., K.M.T., and K.S.W., was b. 22 Feb. 1780, and entered the royal engineers at an early age. He served with distinction under Sir David Baird at the Cape of Good Hope and Corunna, and afterwards commanded the corps of royal engineers attached to the army in the Low Countries under Lord Lynedoch, and planned the memorable attack on Bergen-op-Zoom. He was Commanding Engineer with the Allied Army in 1815, and served on the

II. Edith-Isabella, m. 31 July, 1875, to Capt. Edward-Stanley Adeane, R.N., a younger son of Henry-John Adeane, Esq. of Babraham.

Lineage.

This family was originally of Clydesdale, whence it removed into Dumfriesshire, and there settled. Tradition details the origin of its surname and arms thus:—

In the reign of KENNETH II., a kinsman and favourite of that monarch having been hung by the Picts, it so exceedingly grieved the king, that he offered a considerable reward to any person who would rescue the corpse; but none were disposed to undertake so dangerous a duty, until a gentleman cried out Dal-zel (Scotch, I dare), and performing his task to KENNETH's entire satisfaction, himself and his family bore ever afterwards the name of DALZEL.

In the Remarks on the Ragman Roll, it is said that the surname of DALZELL is ancient and local, derived from the Barony of Dalzell, in the county of Lanark, which estate it is supposed the family lost by forfeiture, as it was given by King DAVID II. to Sir Malcolm Fleming, 20 June, 1343.

THOMAS DE DALZELL was one of the great barons who swore fealty to King EDWARD I. in 1296, and one of the worthy patriots that joined ROBERT BRUCE.

SIR ROBERT DE DALZELL, Knt, obtained from King DAVID II. grants of the serjeantship of Lanark, on the resignation of Andrew Starheved, and of the lands of Croykstoune, co. Peebles. He had from the same monarch a charter, "dilecto et fideli nostro Roberto de Dalzell militi, pro homagio et servicio suo, omnes terras nostras de Selkyrk, cum pertinenciis, exceptis annuis redditibus nostris et firmis nostris de burgo nostro de Selkyrk," to him and the legitimate heirs male of his body, 15 May, 1365. He was one of the Scottish barons who were surety to HACO, King of Norway, that Henry Sinclair, Earl of Orkney, should faithfully govern the islands of Orkney. In 1380, he was sent over to Norway by the said earl, and d. the same year, immediately after his return.

SIR WILLIAM DE DALZELL, a gallant knight, obtained from King DAVID II., 13 Aug. 1364, a grant of the fee of five pounds sterling per annum as serjeant of Lanark, either out of Sheriff Court or the Justice-air held there. In 1388, Sir William de Dalzell lost an eye at the battle of Otterburn, and, in 1390, accompanied Sir David Lindsay, of Glenesk (afterwards Earl of Crawford) to the famous tournament at London. He recovered the estate of his ancestors, as "William de Dalzell, dominus ejusdem," and is witness to a charter of Johanna de Keith, Lady of Gallystoun, to her son, Andrew de Hamyltoun, 11 Dec. 1406. His elder son,

GEORGE DE DALZELL, obtained, on the resignation of James Sandilands, brother-in-law of King ROBERT III., a charter of the barony of Dalzell, in the county of Lanark, to him and the heirs male of his body, which failing, to the heirs male of his father Sir William de Dalzell, 5 July, 1395. He d. s. p. before 1400, and was s. by his brother,

SIR JOHN DE DALZELL, who had a letter of safe-conduct to pass into England, with four other knights, and sixty horse in their train, to treat about national business, 24 July, 1392. He had a charter of the lands of Kinmouth, Bouchtains, and half of Clune, in the county of Banff, from King ROBERT III., on the resignation of Alexander Keith. The same monarch granted to him St. Leonard's Hospital, near Lanark, with the whole lands and revenues thereto belonging, upon condition that he and his heirs should provide a qualified person to celebrate three masses once in every seven years, for the salvation of the souls of his Majesty, Annabella his queen, and all their children for ever. The charter is dated 3 June, 1400, with remainder to Walter, Adam, and Robert de Dalzell, his sons, and the heirs male of their bodies respectively; and is confirmed by King JAMES II., 19 Feb. 1449-50, by which time Sir John Dalzell was dead, he being designed "quondam" in the confirmation.

WALTER DE DALZELL, the eldest son, was designed "of Carlourie."

ADAM DE DALZELL, the 2nd son, is designed "of Eliotstoun," in a charter of 1426

ROBERT DE DALZELL is designed "of Dalzell," in a charter to Walter Graham, of Walaystoun, 31 Dec. 1450.

PETER DE DALZELL made a resignation of St. Leonard's Hospital, near Lanark, in favour of John Stewart, of Craigie, who obtained a charter thereof 21 April, 1465.

WILLIAM DE DALZELL, son and heir of "umquhile" Robert de Dalzell, of that ilk, occurs in civil suits in the records of parliament, 14 Oct. 1495.

ROBERT DALZELL, of that ilk, who had a charter of apprising of the lands of Dompillholm, 18 Jan. 1504-5, was killed by Lord Maxwell, in 1508. His grandson,

SIR ROBERT DALZELL, of Dalzell, attached himself to the fortunes of the unhappy MARY of Scotland, and fought under her banner at Langside He was s. by his son,

ROBERT DALZELL, of Dalzell, who was s. by his son,

SIR ROBERT DALZELL, of Dalzell, who was elevated to the peerage of Scotland, 18 Sept. 1628, by the title of Baron Dalzell, to himself and his heirs male bearing the name and arms of Dalzell; and was created, in 1639, EARL OF CARNWATH, with limitation to the heirs male of his body. His lordship m. Margaret, dau. of Sir Robert Crichton, of Cluny, and had two sons and a dau.,

David, merchant of Glasgow.
John, captain in the army, joined the rising of 1715; he m. a dau. of William Tildesly, Esq. of Lodge, and had a son, settled in the island of St. Christopher.
Mary, m. to William, 7th Viscount Kenmure.

1 Agnes, m. to Sir John Johnston of Westerhall.

1. Mary, m. to Sir James Muirhead, of Lachop.

The earl was s. by his elder son,

ROBERT, 2nd earl, who had, in his father's lifetime, two charters of the Barony and Lordship of Carnwath, &c., to Robert, master of Dalzell, 14 June, 1634, and 11 July, 1635. He s. to the title in 1639, and was, with five other earls, accused of having written a letter to the queen from Derby, informing her of the design of the Scots to arm against the king; for which they were summoned before the Convention of Estates, June, 1643. The whole obeyed the summons, with the exception of the Earl of Carnwath, who retired into England. He was decreed 24 June, 1643, to have incurred the penalty of £10,000 Scots, for his contumacy in not entering his person in prison, upon some words spoken by him to his majesty, wherewith the Estates were dissatisfied; and decreet of forfeiture was passed against him, 25 Feb. 1645. He was at the battle of Naseby, 14 June, 1645; and to him Lord Clarendon imputes the loss of that action, saying: "The king was on the point of charging at the head of his guards, when Carnwath (a man never suspected of infidelity, nor yet one from whom his majesty would have taken counsel in such a case), laid his hand suddenly on the bridle of the king's horse, and swearing two or three full-mouthed Scottish oaths, said, 'Will you go upon your death in an instant?' and before his majesty understood what he would have, turned his horse round, upon which the word run through the troops that they should march to the right, which led them both from charging the enemy, and assisting their own men; upon which they all turned their horses and rode upon the spur, as if they were every man to shift for himself." This nobleman m. Christian, dau. of Sir William Douglas, of Drumlanrig, by whom he had two sons,

GAVIN, his successor.
William, d. unm. in 1647.

He d. soon after, and was s. by his elder son,

CARRICK.

CARRICK, EARL OF (Somerset-Arthur Butler), and Viscount Ikerrin, of Ikerrin, co. Tipperary, in the peerage of Ireland; late of the grenadier guards; b. 30 Jan. 1835; s. his brother as 5th earl, 16 April, 1846.

Lineage.

This family claims a common ancestor with the house of Ormonde, namely,

THEOBALD WALTER, who accompanied HENRY II. into Ireland, and settled there, having acquired large possessions, and being appointed, in 1177, chief butler of Ireland, the duty of which office consisted in the butler for the time being attending the kings of England at their coronation, and presenting them with the first cup of wine, for which service he was to receive certain pieces of the king's plate. From Theobald descended lineally,

EDMOND, who sat in parliament, in 1302, as a baron, by the name of Edmond le Botiller, and was created by EDWARD II., for his services against the Scots, 1 Sept. 1315, EARL OF CARRICK MAC GRIFFYNE, co. Tipperary. From the younger son of this nobleman,

JOHN BUTLER, of Clonamelchon, lineally descended,

SIR PIERCE BUTLER, Knt. of Lismallon, who was elevated to the peerage of Ireland, 12 May, 1629, as Viscount Ikerrin. His lordship m. Ellen, dau. of Walter, 11th Earl of Ormonde, and was s. by (the son of his deceased eldest son, James, and his wife, Ellen, eldest dau. of Edmond, 3rd Lord Dunboyne) his grandson,

JAMES, 3rd viscount, who held the commission of capt. of grenadiers in King JAMES's army. He m. Eleanor, eldest dau. and co-heir of Col. Daniel Redman, of Ballylinch; and dying 26 Oct. 1688, was s. by his eldest son,

PIERCE, 4th viscount. His lordship m. 1st, Alicia, eldest dau. of Murrough, Viscount Blesinton, by whom he had a son, JAMES, his successor. He m. 2ndly, in 1703, Olivia, only dau. of Sir Oliver St. George, Bart., and widow of Sir Robert Colvil, Knt., but had no other issue. He d. 4 Jan. 1710, and was s. by his son,

JAMES, 5th viscount; at whose decease, in minority and unm., 13 July, 1712, the title reverted to his uncle,

THOMAS, 6th viscount; in holy orders, and chaplain-general to the army in Flanders, under the command of James, Duke of Ormonde. His lordship m. Margaret, dau. and co-heir of James Hamilton, Esq. of Bangor, co. Down; and dying 7 March, 1719, was s. by his eldest son,

JAMES, 7th viscount; at whose decease, in 1721, in his 8th year, the title devolved upon his brother,

SOMERSET-HAMILTON, 8th viscount. This nobleman m. 18 May, 1745, Juliana, eldest dau. of Henry, Earl of Shannon, and had,

HENRY-THOMAS, his successor.

Pierce, b. 15 Aug. 1750; m. 24 Dec. 1774, Catherine, eldest dau. of Richard Roth, Esq. Mr. Pierce Butler assumed the additional surname of COOPER, and d. 5 May, 1826.

Henrietta, twin with her brother Pierce, m. Oct. 1768, to Edmund Butler, 11th Viscount Mountgarret.

Margaret, m. 1772, to Armar-Lowry Corry, afterwards Earl Belmore.

Lineage.

ROBERT STUART, 3rd son of King ROBERT II., acquired the Earldom of Menteith by his marriage with Margaret, Countess of Menteith; and afterwards succeeding to the Earldom of Fife, became Earl of Fife and Menteith. This nobleman, subsequently Regent of Scotland, was one of the first persons honoured with a DUKEDOM (that of Albany) in the Scottish peerage.

MURDOCH, 2nd Duke of Albany, who m. Isold, dau. and heiress of Duncan, Earl of Lennox, was, with his eldest and youngest sons, Walter and Alexander, beheaded, and his estates were forfeited to the Crown (see BURKE'S Dormant and Extinct Peerage).

ANDREW STUART (eldest son of Walter, just mentioned, and grandson of Murdoch, Duke of Albany, was, by JAMES II., created, in 1459, Lord Avandale; he was afterwards chancellor of Scotland, and dying s. p. in 1488, was s. by his nephew,

ALEXANDER STUART, father of

ANDREW STUART, Lord Avandale, who was s. by his son,

ANDREW, 3rd Lord Avandale; who having exchanged his barony with Sir James Hamilton, for that of OCHILTRIE, was ordained to be called LORD STUART OF OCHILTRIE, in time to come, by Act of Parliament, 15 March, 1542-3. His lordship was s. at his decease by his son,

ANDREW, 2nd Lord Stuart of Ochiltrie, commonly called The good Lord Ochiltrie. This nobleman was s. at his decease, in 1592, by his grandson,

ANDREW STUART, 3rd Lord Ochiltrie, a lord of the bedchamber to JAMES I. of England, who having sold, through pecuniary embarrassment, the barony of Ochiltrie to his cousin, Sir James Stewart of Killeith, and relinquished his title to that gentleman, was created, 7 Nov. 1619, Lord Stewart, Baron of Castle-Stewart, co. Tyrone, in the peerage of Ireland. His lordship m. Margaret, dau. of Sir John Kennedy, of Blairquhan, and dying in 1632, left three sons,

Lineage.

The antiquity of this family in Scotland is attested by the fact that

REINALDUS DE KETHCART appears a subscribing witness to a grant by Alan, the son of Walter Dapifer Regis, of the patronage of the church of Cathcart to the monastery of Paisley, in the year 1178. (DOUGLAS'S Peerage of Scotland).

SIR ALAN CATHCART, Knt., was at the battle of Loudoun Hill in 1307, and is thus recorded:—

"A knight that then was in his rout,
Worthy and witht, stalward and stout,
Courteous and fair, and of good fame,
Sir Alan Cathcart was his name."

Lord Hailes observes, in reference to these lines, that it is pleasant to trace a family likeness in an ancient picture. Sir Alan m. a sister of Sir Duncan Wallace, of Sundrum, and was s. by his son,

ALAN DE KATHKERT, whose great-grandson,

SIR ALAN CATHCART, Knt. was created Baron Cathcart, by JAMES II. of Scotland, in 1447. His lordship, who was warden of the West Marches, m. Janet Maxwell, and was s. some time before 12 Aug. 1499, by his grandson,

Lineage.

Most of the names which have been of note and nobility in this country, says Camden, are derived from localities situate in Normandy; as instances of which he mentions D'Arcy, Devereux, Gournay, Cayley, D'Aubigny, &c. The place, Cailly (Cailleium), from which this family takes its name, is in the arrondissement of Rouen, a few miles to the north-east of that town, and in the "Ballivium Caleti," or bailiwick of Caux. Here there was a fortress called "Castellum Cailleii," which was held by a baronial tenure, as the "Honour [or barony] de Cailly."

GUILLAUME DE CAILLI (stated, in Domesday, to be tenant-in-chief of certain manors in Berkshire), appears to have died without issue, and it is from Humphrey de Cailli, his brother, that the Cayleys of Norfolk and Yorkshire claim descent. To Humphrey, according to Domesday, were allotted, at the Conquest, the lands of Massingham, and the hundred of Brodercross, &c.

SIMON DE CAILLY, Lord of Massingham, Cranwich, Brodercross, Hiburgh, &c., in Norfolk, son of Humphrey de Cailly, m. Alice, and had two sons, ROGER.

Jordanus (Sir), who held a knight's fee in Norfolk under Hugh Bigod, Earl of Norfolk, and another fee in Warwickshire, under Robert Marmion.

The eldest son,

ROGER DE CAILLY, temp. HENRY II., was one of the most wealthy and influential barons of the time. His name appears, temp. HENRY II., as a witness to a deed, along with the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Constable de Humez, and other distinguished nobles of the same date. His son,

JOHN DE CAILLY, as appears by a trial, was Lord of Cranwich, temp. RICHARD I. He was also lord of Massingham, Bradenham, Oxburgh, Denver, Hillington, Hecham, Hildeburgh, &c. His dau. Beatrix, m. William de Butery. His son,

JOHN DE CAILLY, was lord of these manors. 4 JOHN (1202). He m. Margery, who, after his death, m. Michael de Poynings. His son was,

ADAM DE CAILLY. In 17 JOHN there is a mandate to Hervey Belet, "that he do not receive into the king's peace, Hugh de Plaiz, Michael de Poynings, William de Stuteville, William de Mortimer, Adam de Cayly, and Robert de Clere, until the king otherwise commands. Witness the king at Stamford, 28 Feb." Adam de Cailly paid £5 to plead before the king, in the case of waste in Bradenham forest, during the dower of Margerie, his mother, who was married to Michael de Poynings, she being to have only reasonable estovers of house-bote, hedge-bote, and wood to burn, by view of the forester of Adam de Kayly. By Mabel, his wife, he had, besides other sons,

I. Osbert (Sir), who m. Emma*, eldest dau. and co-heiress of Robert, Lord Tatshall, of Bokenham, and had by her, Buckenham Castle and its large estates. He had (with a dau., Margerie, wife of Roger de Clifton and mother of

II. HUGO (Sir), of whose line we treat.

The 2nd son,

SIR HUGO DE CAYLY, Knt. of Owby, m. Agnes, dau. and heir of Hamo de Hempstede. In the 53rd HENRY III., he, with Agnes, his wife, conveyed to Alan, prior of Walsingham, 2½ acres of meadow; and in 14 EDWARD I. (1285), the year after his death, Agnes was found to have view of frankpledge and assize of bread and beer here [Walsingham] and in Geistweyk. Sir Hugh de Cayly held, in the reign of HENRY III., a quarter of a fee in the honour of Richmond, Yorkshire; and in the 14th EDWARD I. (1284), a fine was levied between John, son of Hugh de Cayly, querent, William de Ormesby, and his wife Agnes, tenants of land in Suffield Gunton, Antringham, and Falmingham, co. Norfolk, granted to John de Cayly, for the life of the said Agnes, late wife of Sir Hugh de Cayly. Sir Hugh's son,

JOHN CAYLY, Esq. of Owby, was s. by his son,

SIR WILLIAM CAYLEY, Knt. of Owby. In the 10th EDWARD III. (1316), he conveyed the manor of Hecham to Simon Kenyng, of Kenyngham. This manor of Hecham was in the possession of John de Cayly, about the year 1190. Sir William had two sons.

CHARLEMONT.

Charlemont, Earl of (Sir James-Molyneux Caulfeild, K.P.), Viscount Charlemont, and Baron Caulfeild, of Charlemont, in the peerage of Ireland; and Baron Charlemont, of Charlemont, in the co. of Armagh, in that of the United Kingdom; lord-lieut. of the co. of Tyrone, and lieut.-col. of the Armagh militia; b. 6 Oct. 1820; s. his uncle as 3rd earl, 26 Dec. 1863; m. 18 Dec. 1856, Elizabeth-Jane, only dau. of Wm.-Meredyth, Lord Athlumney, by Lady Maria-Harriett, his 1st wife, dau. of Henry, 1st Marquess Conyngham.

Lineage.

This noble family springs from the co. of Oxford. Their descendant, in the reign of Elizabeth,

Sir Toby Caulfeild (bapt. at Great Milton, near Oxford, 2 Dec. 1565, the son of Alexander Caulfeild, of Great Milton), a distinguished and gallant soldier, was employed by her majesty in Ireland, against the formidable O'Neill, Earl of Tyrone. In 1615, Sir Toby was appointed one of the council for the province of Munster; and, the next year, joined in commission with the Lord Deputy St. John and others, for parcelling out the escheated lands in Ulster, to such British undertakers as were named in the several tables of assignation. In these employments, the King (James I.) found him so faithful, diligent, and prudent, that his majesty deemed him highly deserving the peerage of Ireland, and accordingly (by patent, which stated that he was "generosâ et per antiquâ stirpe oriundus") created him, 22 Dec. 1620, Lord Caulfeild, Baron Charlemont, with limitation of the honour to his nephew, Sir William Caulfeild, Knt., son of George Caulfeild, Esq., M.P., recorder of Oxford, by Martha his wife, dau. of Richard Taverner, of Wood Eaton. His lordship d. a bachelor, 17 Aug. 1627, and was s. by the said

Sir William Caulfeild, as 2nd baron Charlemont. This nobleman took his seat in parliament, 4 Nov. 1634, after the lord chancellor had moved to know the pleasure of the House, whether he should be admitted to this place, having brought neither writ of summons nor patent; whereupon it was resolved that his lordship should be admitted, inasmuch as they were all satisfied that he was a lord of parliament. His lordship m. Mary, dau. of Sir John King, Knt. (ancestor of the Earls of Kingston), by whom he had seven sons and three daus. Lord Charlemont was s. at his decease, in 1640, by his eldest son,

Toby, 3rd baron, who also s. the late lord as governor of the fort of Charlemont, and there resided, with his company of foot, in garrison. This fort was a place of considerable strength and importance during the rebellion of 1641; but his lordship suffered himself to be surprised, 22 Oct. in that year; and being made prisoner, with his whole family, was subsequently put to death by the orders, it is said, of Sir Phelim O'Neile. This unfortunate nobleman dying unm., was s. by his brother,

Robert, 4th baron; who d. a few months afterwards, from the effects of an over-dose of opium, when the barony devolved upon his brother,

William, 5th baron. This nobleman apprehended Sir Phelim O'Neile, and had him executed for the murder of his brother. His lordship having filled, after the Restoration, several high and confidential situations, was advanced to a viscounty, as Viscount Charlemont, 8 Oct. 1665. He m. Sarah, 2nd dau. of Charles, Viscount Drogheda, by whom he had four sons and three daus., of whom,

I. William (the 2nd, but eldest surviving son), s. as 2nd viscount.
II. Toby, of Clone, in the co. Kilkenny (3rd son), had, with a dau., Edith, m. to William, Lord Castle Durrow, several sons, who all d. s. p., save

Colonel William Caulfeild, of Raheenduff, in the Queen's Co., lieut.-governor of Fort George N.B., whose only sons to leave issue were,

1 Wade-Toby Caulfeild, Esq. of Raheenduff, and Catcombe, Wilts, captain 3rd dragoon-guards, b. in 1732; m. 1st, in 1765, Jessie, dau. of James, 3rd Lord Ruthven; and 2ndly, in 1786, Anne, dau. of Jonathan Cope, Esq., only son of Sir Jonathan Cope, 1st bart. of Brewerne, Oxfordshire, and sister of the whole blood of Sir Jonathan Cope the 4th bart.—(see Burke's Extinct Baronetage), by the latter of whom (who survives, the widow of Monsieur François le Chartier de Bolleville) he left at his decease, in Aug. 1800,

Edwin-Toby, his heir.
Edward-Warren, in holy orders, M.A., m. 1st, Anne dau. of the late John Pybus, Esq., by whom he had, Edward-Wade, b. 1829, m. 1856, Margaret-Elizabeth (she m. 2ndly, 19 Nov. 1872, Count-Henry-Victor De Chapelaine, dau. of Rev. Lineage.

Camden, in his account of Nottinghamshire, mentions "Shelford, the seat of the famous family of Stanhope, Knts., whose state and grandeur in those parts is eminent and their names renowned."

SIR RICHARD STANHOPE, living in the times of HENRY III. and EDWARD I. had large possessions in the north, and received the honour of knighthood. His son and heir,

SIR RICHARD STANHOPE, Lord of Eltswick, co. Northumberland, was father of (24th of EDWARD III.)

SIR JOHN DE STANHOPE, M.P. for Newcastle, anno 1359, m. Elizabeth, dau. and heir of Stephen Manlovel, of Rampton, co. Nottingham; and was s. by his eldest surviving son,

SIR RICHARD STANHOPE, Knt. of Rampton, who was created a knight of the Bath at the coronation of HENRY IV. and served for the county of Nottingham in parliament repeatedly in the reigns of HENRY IV., HENRY V., and HENRY VI. Sir Richard m. Elizabeth, dau. of Robert and sister of Ralph de Staveley, and dying in 1436, was s. by (the son of his son Richard) his grandson,

JOHN STANHOPE, Esq., of Rampton, who m. Elizabeth, dau. of Sir Thomas Talbot, Knt. of Bashall, co. York, and had a son and heir,

THOMAS STANHOPE, Esq. of Rampton, 4th EDWARD IV., who m. Mary, dau. of John, and sister of Edward Jerningham, Esq. of Somer-Layton, co. Suffolk, and had two sons, EDWARD (Sir), his heir.

John, ancestor of the SPENCER-STANHOPES, of Cannon Hall, Yorkshire (see BURKE'S Landed Gentry).

His elder son,

SIR EDWARD STANHOPE, who received the honour of knighthood upon the field of battle, from HENRY VII., for his distinguished conduct against the Cornish rebels under Lord Audley, m. 1st, Avelina, dau. of Sir Gervase Clifton, K.B., and had two sons, Richard and Michael. He m. 2ndly, Elizabeth, dau. of Foulk Bourchier, Lord Fitz-Warine, and by that lady had an only dau., Anne, 2nd wife of the Protector SOMERSET. Richard Stanhope, the elder son of Sir Edward, leaving at his decease, in 1523, a dau. only, named Saunchia,* the family was continued by the younger son,

SIR MICHAEL STANHOPE, of Shelford, in Nottinghamshire. Sir Michael, sharing in the ruin of his brother-in-law, the Duke of Somerset, was found guilty of conspiring the death of Dudley, Duke of Northumberland, a privy councillor, and beheaded, with Sir Thomas Arundel, on

Lineage.

The CHETWYNDS, a family of great antiquity, assumed their surname from their place of abode, in the co. Salop. In the 37th of HENRY III.,

SIR JOHN CHETWYND, Knt., son of Adam de Chetwynd, by Agnes, dau. of John, LORD LOVEL, Baron of Dorkinges, and Lord of Munster Lovel, co. Oxford, had a charter of free-warren throughout all his demesne lands in the cos. of Stafford, Salop, and Warwick; and about the beginning of the reign of EDWARD I. the same Sir John received a grant of the manor of Baxterley, co. Warwick, from John, son of his kinsman, William Lovell. He m. Isabel, dau. and heir of Philip de Mutton, by whom he acquired Ingestrie, and other lordships in the co. Stafford, and was s. by his son,

WILLIAM DE CHETWYND, of Oddeston, co. Leicester, whose son and heir.

SIR ROGER CHETWYND, m. Joan, eldest dau. of Sir Ralph de Grendon, and with her acquired the lordship of Grendon, co. Warwick. The great-grandson of this marriage,

SIR PHILIP CHETWYND, Knt., served the office of sheriff of the co. of Stafford in the 7th and 15th of HENRY IV., and in the reign of HENRY VI. was governor of Baion, in Normandy. He m. Elene, widow of Edward, Lord Ferrers, of Chartley, dau., and at length heir, of Thomas de la Roche; and dying 24th of HENRY VI., was s. by his grandson,

WILLIAM CHETWYND, of Ingestrie, gentleman-usher of the chamber to HENRY VII. Some cause of ill-will subsisting between this William and Sir Humphrey Stafford, Knt. of Pipe, co. Stafford, who held likewise a place at court, the latter inveigled Chetwynd, by a forged letter, to repair to Stafford at an early hour in the morning, when he was assailed by a body of armed men at Tixall Heath, and put to death, Sir Humphrey at the instant passing by with at least 24 persons on horseback, under pretence of hunting a deer. He was s. by his son,

WILLIAM CHETWYND, of Ingestrie, from whom we pass to

JOHN CHETWYND, Esq. of Ingestrie, who was sheriff of Staffordshire, the 20th ELIZABETH. He m. 1st, Mary, dau. and heir of Lewis Meverett, Esq. of Bold Hall, co. Stafford, by whom he had one son, Sir William Chetwynd, of Grendon. He m. 2ndly, Margery, dau. of Robert Middlemore, Esq. of Edgbaston, in Warwickshire, and by that lady had a son,

SIR WALTER CHETWYND, of Ingestrie, who m. 1st, Mary, dau. and heir of John Molyns, Esq., but by her had no issue. He m. 2ndly, Lady Catherine Hastings, eldest dau. of George, 4th Earl of Huntingdon, and widow of Sir Edward Unton, by whom he had two sons,

I WALTER, his successor.
II. John, of Ridge, co. Stafford, M.P., who left at his decease, with other issue,
  1 WALTER, of whom presently, as heir to his cousin, and 1st viscount.
  2 JOHN, 2nd viscount.
  3 WILLIAM-RICHARD, 3rd viscount.
  1 Lucy, m. to Edward Yonge, Esq., Bath King-of-arms.

Sir Walter was s. by his elder son,

WALTER CHETWYND, Esq. of Ingestrie, who m. Frances, dau. of Edward Haslerig, Esq., and was s. by his only son,

WALTER CHETWYND, Esq., who d. s. p. 21 March, 1692, when his estates devolved upon his cousin,

WALTER CHETWYND, Esq. of Ridge, who, having resided as ambassador at the court of Turin, and subsequently filled the office of master of the stag hounds, was elevated to the peerage of Ireland, 29 June, 1717, as Baron Rathdowne, co. Dublin, and VISCOUNT CHETWYND, of Bearhaven, co. Cork, with remainder, in case of failure of issue, to the heirs male of his father. His lordship m. Mary, dau. and co-heir of John Berkeley, Viscount Fitzhardinge and Baron of Rathdowne, treasurer of the chamber and teller of the Exchequer to Queen ANNE; but dying s. p. 21 Feb. 1735, the honours devolved upon his brother,

JOHN CHETWYND (who had been envoy-extraordinary to the court of Madrid in 1717), as 2nd viscount. This nobleman had issue,

WILLIAM-RICHARD, who m. Elizabeth, dau. of William Wollaston, Esq. of Finborough Hall, and d. in the lifetime of his father, in 1765, leaving an only dau., who m. John Parsons, Esq.
CATHERINE, m. to the Hon. John Talbot, son of Lord Chancellor Talbot, who conveyed the Manor of Ingestrie to the Talbot family.
Frances, d. unm.

Viscount Chetwynd's honours devolved at his decease, 21 June, 1767, upon his brother,

WILLIAM-RICHARD, 3rd viscount, master of the mint in 1727, who m. Honora, dau. of William Baker, Esq., consul at Algiers, and had issue,

WILLIAM, 4th viscount.

Lineage.

The surname of Pelham was assumed from a lordship in Herefordshire, where anciently stood a castle. This lordship of Pelham is recorded to be a part of the possessions of WALTER DE PELHAM, in the 21st of EDWARD I., and it is believed that his ancestors held it prior to the Conquest. From the earliest period it is certain that the family enjoyed very high consideration; and its members have, in different reigns, distinguished themselves as warriors and statesmen.

SIR JOHN DE PELHAM, a gallant soldier in the martial reign of EDWARD III., shared in the glory of Poictiers, and had the honour of participating personally in the capture of the French king, JOHN, for which exploit he had as a badge of honour, the Buckle of a Belt, which was sometimes used by his descendants as a seal-manual, and at others, on each side, a cage, being an emblem of the captivity of the French monarch, and was therefore borne for a crest, as in those times customary. Sir John had certain lands and houses in Winchelsea, in marriage with Joan, dau. of Vincent Herbert, alias Finch, and was s. by his son,

SIR JOHN PELHAM, K.B., M.P., constable of Pevensey Castle. This eminent person represented the co. of Sussex in parliament, and enjoyed great influence at the court of HENRY IV. From Sir John, we pass to his lineal descendant,

SIR WILLIAM PELHAM,* who m. 1st, Mary, dau. of Sir Richard Carew, of Beddington, co. Surrey, and by that lady had two sons and a dau. He m. 2ndly, Mary, dau. of William, Lord Sandys of The Vine, lord chamberlain to HENRY VIII., and had by her,

William (Sir), ancestor of the Lords Yarborough.

Edward, lord chief baron of the Exchequer in Ireland.

Sir William was s. by his eldest son,

SIR NICHOLAS PELHAM, M.P. for the co. Sussex. This gentleman m. Anne, dau. of John Sackville, Esq., and had, with other issue,

JOHN, his successor.

Thomas, who s. his nephew in the estates and representation of the family.

Sir Nicholas d. in 1560, and was s. by his eldest son,

SIR JOHN PELHAM, M.P. for the co. of Sussex, who m. Judith, dau. of Oliver, Lord St. John, of Bletshoe; and dying 13 Oct. 1580, was s. by his only child,

OLIVER PELHAM, who d. in four years afterwards, when the estates reverted to his uncle,

I. THOMAS PELHAM, Esq., who represented the co. of Sussex, in the 28th year of ELIZABETH; was sheriff of that shire and Surrey in the 31st year of the same sovereign; and was amongst the first raised to the rank of Baronet, on the institution of the order by JAMES I., 22 May, 1611. Sir Thomas m. Mary, dau. of Sir Thomas Walsingham, of Scadbury, co. Kent, and niece to the celebrated Secretary Walsingham; by her he had one dau., and one son, his successor at his decease, 2 Dec. 1624,

In 1743, he was constituted First Commissioner of the Treasury, and the same year was appointed Chancellor of the Exchequer. He was likewise constituted during the absence of the King beyond the seas, in 1740, 1743, 1745, 1750, and 1752, one of the lords justices. Mr. Pelham m. in 1726, Catherine, dau. of John Manners, Duke of Rutland; and d. in 1754, leaving four surviving daus., the eldest of whom, Catherine, m. Henry Clinton, Earl of Lincoln; and Grace, the third, m. Lewis Monson Watson, 1st Lord Sondes.

His lordship d. 23 Feb. 1711-12, and was s. by his elder son,

Thomas, 2nd baron; who was created, 26 Oct. 1714, Earl of Clare, co. Suffolk, and Viscount Houghton, with remainder, in default of male issue, to his brother, the Hon. Henry Pelham; and advanced, 2 Aug. 1715, with the same limitation, to the Marquessate of Clare and Dukedom of Newcastle. In 1718, his grace was elected a knight of the Garter. The duke having subsequently filled very high ministerial offices (and his brother, Henry, leaving only daus. at his decease), was created, 13 Nov. 1756, Duke of Newcastle-under-Lyme, with remainder to Henry Clinton, Earl of Lincoln, and the heirs male of the said Henry Clinton, by his wife, Catherine, eldest dau. of the deceased Henry Pelham; and 4 May, 1762, his grace obtained, also by creation, the Barony of Pelham of Stanmer, with remainder to Thomas Pelham, Esq. of that place. The duke d. 17 Nov. 1768; when the barony he had inherited, and the honours first conferred upon himself, expired; the Dukedom of Newcastle-under-Lyme passed, as limited, to his nephew-in-law, the Earl of Lincoln; and the Barony of Pelham of Stanmer, with the baronetcy, devolved upon

Thomas Pelham, Esq. of Stanmer, co. Sussex (refer to issue of 3rd baronet), as 6th baronet and 2nd baron. His lordship, who had filled several offices under the crown, was elevated 23 June, 1801, to an earldom, as Earl of Chichester, *co. Lineage.

At the time of the General Survey, the lordship of Calmundelei formed part of the possessions of

Robert, son of Hugh, Baron of Malpas, which Robert dying without issue, the lordship of Calmundelei, &c., devolved on his only dau. and heiress, Lettice, who married,

Richard de Belward, whose son, or grandson,

William de Belward, m. Beatrix, dau. of Ranulph de Meschines, Earl of Chester. This William, who, in right of his mother, was Baron of Malpas, left three sons, viz.,

David, who, from being clerk, or secretary, to the Earl of Chester, was sometimes written Le Clerk, and sometimes de Malpas, having s. his father at Malpas, after the Earldom of Chester was annexed to the crown, served the office of sheriff for the co. of Chester, 36th Henry III., bearing then the name of David de Malpas. The second son of this David, Philip, having seated himself at Egerton, left the surname of Egerton to his descendants, whence the numerous eminent families of Egerton, in Cheshire.

Robert, of whom presently.
Richard.

The 2nd son,

Robert, having, by the gift of his father, the lordship of Cholmondeley, and fixing his residence there, assumed the surname therefrom. He m. Mabel, dau. of Sir Robert Fitz-Nigel, Baron of Halton, and was s. by his son,

Sir Hugh de Cholmundeleih, who lived in the reign of Henry III., and from him we pass to his lineal descendant,

Richard de Cholmondeley, who m. Eleanor, 5th dau. of Sir Thomas Dutton, of Dutton, and sister and co-heir of John Dutton, who d. in minority. The grandson of this feudal lord,

Sir Hugh Cholmondeley, was a military character of eminence in the reign of Henry VIII. He was five times sheriff of Cheshire, as also sheriff of Flintshire for some years, and a long time one of the two only deputy-lieutenants of Cheshire. He m. twice, but had issue only by his first wife, Anne, dau. and co-heir of George Dorman, of Malpas (by Agnes, his wife, dau. and co-heir of John Bird, of Chorlton, by Catherine his wife, aunt and heir of David de Malpas). Sir Hugh d. 6 Jan. 1506-7, and was s. by his son,

Sir Hugh Cholmondeley, of Cholmondeley; who m. Mary, only dau. and heir of Christopher Holford, of Holford. This lady had a long dispute with George Holford, of Newborough, about the lands which had descended to her by her father, which endured about 40 years, but was at length settled by the mediation of friends. Lady Cholmondeley, in her widowhood, resided at Holford, which she rebuilt and enlarged, and was styled by James I., from the spirit she had evinced in the before-mentioned suit, "the bold lady of Cheshire." By Sir Hugh Cholmondeley she had six sons and three daus., of which,

I. Robert (the eldest son), inherited Cholmondeley.

II. Hugh, m. Mary, dau. of Sir John Bodville, of Bodville Castle, co. Carnarvon, and dying in 1655, left, with junior issue, Robert, who s. his uncle.

III. Thomas, of Vale Royal, ancestor of Lord Delamere.

The eldest son,

Robert Cholmondeley, Esq. of Cholmondeley, was created a Baronet, 29 June, 1611, and advanced, in 1628, to the peerage of Ireland, in the dignity of Viscount Cholmondeley, of Kells. His lordship was enrolled amongst the barons of England, in the 21st Charles I., as Lord Cholmondeley, of Wiche Malbank, commonly called Nampwich; and further advanced, the next year, to the Earldom of Leinster. He m. Catherine, dau. of John, Lord Stanhope of Harrington, but d. s. p. 2 Oct. 1659, when his honours became extinct, but his estates passed to his nephew,

Robert Cholmondeley, Esq., who was created Viscount Cholmondeley, of Kells, 29 March, 1661. He m. Elizabeth, dau. and co-heir of George Cradock, Esq. of Caverswell Castle, in Staffordshire; and dying in May, 1681, was s. by his son,

Hugh, 2nd viscount; who, having zealously forwarded the Revolution, was created, on the accession of William and Mary, by letters-patent, dated 10 April, 1689, Lord Cholmondeley, of Nampwich, with remainder to his brother George, and advanced, 27 Dec. 1706, to the dignities of Viscount Malpas and Earl of Cholmondeley, with similar reversion. His lordship d. unm. 18 Jan. 1724, and was s. by his only brother,

George, 2nd earl; who had previously distinguished himself as a military officer (having commanded the horse-grenadier guards of William, at the battle of the Boyne), and had been elevated to the peerage of Ireland, 15 March, 1714-15, as Baron Newburgh, co. Wexford, and 10 July, 1716, created a peer of England, by the title of Baron of Newburgh, in the Isle of Anglesey. His lordship m. Anne-Elizabeth, dau. of Heer Van Baron Huytenburgh, by his wife, Anne-Elizabeth, dau. of Louis de Nassau, Seigneur of Auverquerque, who was father of Henry D'Auverquerque, Earl of Grantham.* Earl Cholmondeley, by this marriage, had, with three daus., three sons, viz.,

I. James, d. young.

II. George, his heir.

III. James, b. 18 April, 1708, had the rank of major on his first entrance into the army, his commission bearing date 12 May, 1725; and on 6 April, 1731, he was constituted second lieutenant-colonel in the 3rd troop of horse-guards, in which post he continued till 17 Jan. 1740-1, when he was appointed colonel of the 48th regiment of foot then ordered to be raised; and on 18 Dec. 1742, was promoted to be colonel of the 34th regiment of foot. In June, 1744, the regiment being ordered into Flanders, he made the campaign that year. In 1745, he was at the battle of Fontenoy, 11 May, and in July after was made brigadier-general of his majesty's forces, in which station he served the remainder of the campaign. On the apprehension of the progress of the rebellion in Scotland, his majesty thinking it proper to recal part of his forces from abroad, he was one of the general officers who came over with ten battalions of foot, which arrived at Gravesend about the time that the news came of Sir John Cope's forces being defeated at Preston Pans on 21 Sept. that year. Soon after he was sent to Chester to take upon him the command of two battalions of foot, newly arrived from Ireland, who marched under his conduct till they joined the army of Marshal Wade, then in Yorkshire, under whom he served as a brigadier-general. And when Lieut.-Gen. Henry Hawley was sent to take upon him the command of Marshal Wade's army, the major part of which was immediately ordered for Scotland, to form with some other forces an army to subdue the rebels; there likewise he was one of the four generals who were intrusted with the command of this army, Lieut.-Gen. Hawley, Major-Gen. Huske, and Brig.-Gen. Mordaunt, being the other three, and greatly signalized himself at the battle of Falkirk, on 17 Jan. 1745-6; but the intense fatigue he underwent in this action, joined with the extreme severity of the weather, unfortunately deprived him of the use of his limbs for some time. He attained eventually the rank of general. He d. 13 Oct. 1775, s. p. His wife, Penelope, was dau. of James Barry, Earl of Barrymore.

The earl d. 7 May, 1733, and was s. by his elder son,

George, 3rd earl, K.B., b. 2 Jan. 1703; m. 14 Sept. 1723 Mary, only dau. of Sir Robert Walpole, 1st Earl of Orford, by whom he had (with two younger sons, Robert, b. 1 Nov. 1727, at first an officer of the guards and afterwards in holy orders, † and Frederick), George, Viscount Malpas (who m.

* The family of Nassau d'Auverquerque, raised to the Earldom of Grantham, affords an instance of an alien being created a British Peer (see Nassau or De Auverquerque Earl of Grantham, Burke's Extinct Peerage).

† The Hon. and Rev. Robert Cholmondeley m. 1746, Miss Mary Woffington (sister of the celebrated actress Margaret Woffington), and left issue,

I. George-James, receiver-gen. of excise, b. 5 March, 1752; m. 1st, in 1790, Marcia, dau. of John Pitt, Esq. of Encombe, Dorset, by whom he had,

1 William.

West of England, on leaving which he was admitted of the Inner Temple, in Feb. 1763, and became a pupil of Sir William Ashurst, at that time a great special pleader, whom he afterwards excelled. His own practice, on becoming a special pleader, was very quickly established, and it increased to a vast amount. After spending some years in that branch of legal business, Buller was called to the bar by the Hon. Society of the Middle Temple, in Easter Term, 1772, and his earnings as a counsel soon equalled those of almost all his brethren of that day. His complete devotion to his profession prevented his ever going into parliament. He was made a king's counsel, 24 Nov. 1777, and three days afterwards second judge of the Chester circuit. His friend, Lord Mansfield, however, who had the highest opinion of his talents, would not be satisfied till he sat by his side, and Buller was appointed, 1 May, 1778, a judge of the Court of King's Bench. The indisposition of Lord Mansfield, not long after, compelling his absence, gave Buller the prominent part in the proceedings of the court, and he conducted the business there with consummate ability. He was a strict and stern judge, but ever acted on the most enlightened views, and on legal principles correct to a nicety. When Mansfield resigned, every one looked to Buller as his successor, but from some political reason of the moment, Sir Lloyd Kenyon was preferred, and became the new chief-justice. Buller disappointed, and his health declining, exchanged the King's Bench for the Common Pleas, and succeeded Mr. Justice Gould as a judge of the latter court in 1794, but his health still continued to decay, and he was about to resign altogether, when he died suddenly at his house in Bedford Square, 4 June, 1800, leaving behind him a name of lasting note in the annals of English jurisprudence. His talents have survived the display and success of his lifetime, for his judgments and his writings are still continually looked upon as among the most valuable and unerring expositions of our common law. His work relative to trials at Nisi Prius is to this day a standard book. Mr. Justice Buller was created a Baronet, 13 Jan. 1790. He m. when only 17 years of age, Susannah, only dau. and heir of Francis Yarde, Esq. of Churston Ferrers and Ottery St. Mary, co. Devon, and dying 4 June, 1800, was s. by his only son,

II. SIR FRANCIS, b. 28 Sept. 1767, who, in pursuance of the will of his maternal uncle, assumed the surname of YARDE, but afterwards, by sign-manual, added to it his patronymic of BULLER. He m. 27 May, 1773, Elizabeth-Lydia, only dau. and heir of John Holliday, Esq. of Lincoln's Inn, and Dilhorne Hall, co. Stafford, and had issue by her, who d. 1 Nov. 1851 quarterly. His lordship, formerly in the Diplomatic Service represented the co. of Galway in Parliament from Sept. 1867, to Feb. 1871.

Lineage.

The family of De Burgh, De Burgo, Burke, or Bourke (as at different times written), Earls and Marquesses of Clanricarde, ranks amongst the most distinguished in the kingdom, and deduces an uninterrupted line of powerful nobles from the Anglo-Norman Conquest of Ireland.

WILLIAM FITZ-ADELM was sent by HENRY II., with Hugh de Lacie, into Ireland, to receive the submission of Roderick O'Connor, King of Connaught, and of the King of Meath, and founded there, according to Sir Richard Cox, "one of the best and noblest families, which has yielded many brave and worthy men, that have proved eminently serviceable to their king and country, whereby the name, estate, and family are preserved, in great honour and reputation, to this day." This William, who was made governor of Wexford, was entrusted, on the king's return to England, with the management of his affairs in Ireland. In 1175, in a synod of the bishops and clergy at Waterford, he published the bull, and the privileges granted by POPE ALEXANDER III., in confirmation of the bull of ADRIAN IV., constituting the king Lord of Ireland. In 1179, he obtained by grant, a great part of the province of Connaught. He d. in 1204, and was s. by his son,

RICHARD DE BURGH, surnamed The great Lord of Connaught, who was lord-lieutenant of Ireland in 1227. This Richard built the castle of Galway in 1232, and that of Loughreah in 1236. He was a man of high authority and power, and d. on his passage to France, in Jan. 1243, in proceeding to meet the King of England at Bordeaux, attended "by his barons and knights." He m. Hodierna, dau. of Robert de Gernon, and granddau., maternally, of Cahill Crovderg, or The Red Hand, King of Connaught, and had two sons, viz.,

I. WALTER, Lord of Connaught, who, marrying MAUD, dau. and heir of Hugh de Lacie, the younger, became in her right, EARL OF ULSTER, on the death of his father-in-law. He was s. by his eldest son,

RICHARD, 2nd Earl of Ulster, usually called The Red Earl, whose great-granddau., LADY ELIZABETH DE BURGH, only child and heiress of William, 3rd Earl of Ulster, m. LIONEL, of Antwerp, Duke of Clarence, 3rd son of EDWARD III., who became, in consequence, 4th Earl of Ulster, and Lord of Connaught, and had, by the heiress of De Burgh, an only dau., Philippa, wife of EDWARD MORTIMER, 3rd Earl of March, and jure uxoris, 5th Earl of Ulster, ancestor, through his granddau., the LADY ANNE MORTIMER, wife of Richard Plantagenet, Earl of Cambridge, of EDWARD IV., King of England.

II. WILLIAM.

The 2nd son of Richard de Burgh, Lord of Connaught,

WILLIAM DE BURGH, is known by the surname of Athankip, from being put to death at that place by the King of Connaught. He was s. by his son,

SIR WILLIAM DE BURGH, who, having m. a dau. of the family of Mac-Jordan, left, with other issue, at his decease, in 1324, ULICK, of whom presently.

Edmond (Sir), from whom the (extinct) Viscounts Bourke of Mayo, and the extant Earls of Mayo.
Richard.
Redmond, from whom several eminent families of BURKE, in the county of Galway, have descended.
Thomas (Sir), appointed lord-treasurer of Ireland in 1331.
John, father of John de Burgo, archbishop of Tuam, who d. in 1450.
Henry.

From the eldest son,

SIR ULICK DE BURGH, Lord of Clanricarde, a person of great power, and distinguished, like his progenitors, in arms, descended,

ULICK DE BURGH, who was s. by his son,

ULICK DE BURGH, who was created, by HENRY VIII., at Greenwich, 1 July, 1543, Baron of Dunkellin and EARL OF CLANRICARDE; and obtained, at the same time, from the king, a grant of the monastery of Devia Nova, in the diocese of Clonfert, with the advowsons and donations of all the rectories, &c., in Clanricarde and Dunkellin, belonging to the crown. His lordship did not, however, long enjoy his honours; but dying in the following year, 1544, was s. by his only son,

RICHARD, 2nd earl, who, while lord-lieut. of Ireland, overthrew, in conjunction with Sir Richard Bingham, the Scotch, at the river Moye, in 1553. His lordship m. 1st, Margaret, dau. of Morough, 1st Earl of Thomond, and dying* in 1582, was s. by his son,

ULICK, 3rd earl. This nobleman m. Honora, dau. of John Bourke, Esq. of Tullyra, and had issue,

I. RICHARD, Lord Dunkellin. II. Thomas (Sir), d. s. p.
III. WILLIAM (Sir), who left two sons,
1 RICHARD, 2 WILLIAM, } who s. as 6th and 7th Earls of Clanricarde.
IV. JOHN, created, 20 April, 1629, VISCOUNT BURKE, of Clanmorris, co. Mayo, with remainder, in default of his own male issue, to the issue male of his father. His lordship d 1635 s. p., but the limitation in the patent conveyed the dignity to the house of Clanricarde.
V. Edmund, of Kilcornan, co. Galway, from whom derived the BURKES OF KILCORNAN, represented by SIR THOMAS-N. REDINGTON, K.C.B., and the BURKES OF GREENFIELD, co. Galway, whose representative, the late THOMAS-GISBORNE BURKE, Esq. of Greenfield, was at one time presumptive heir to the earldom of Clanricarde.

His lordship d. 20 May, 1601, and was s. by his eldest son,

RICHARD, 4th earl, surnamed of Kinsale, from the valour he had displayed against the rebels there. This nobleman was created an English peer, 3 April, 1624, by the titles of Baron Somerhill and Viscount Tunbridge, co. Kent, and 23 Aug. 1628, advanced to the Earldom of St. Albans. His lordship m. Frances, dau. and heir of Sir Francis Walsingham, and widow of Sir Philip Sydney, and of ELIZABETH's unfortunate favourite, the Earl of Essex, by whom he had one son, ULICK, his successor, and two daus., Mary, wife of Edmund, son of James, Earl of Ormonde; and Honora, m. to John Paulet, Marquess of Winchester. He d. in 1635, and was s. by his only son,

ULICK, 5th Earl of Clanricarde, and 2nd of St. Albans. This nobleman was advanced to the Marquessate of Clanricarde, in Ireland, 21 Feb. 1644. He m. Anne, dau. of William, Earl of Northampton, and had

MARY, who m. 1st, Charles M'Carty, Viscount Muskerry, and by him was mother of Charles, Earl of Clancarty. She m. 2ndly, Robert Villiers, commonly called Viscount Purbeck; and 3rdly, Robert Fielding, Esq.

The marquess dying thus without male issue, the Marquessate of Clanricarde and his English honours expired; while the Irish earldom reverted to his cousin,

RICHARD, 6th earl, who m. Elizabeth, dau. of Walter, 11th Earl of Ormonde, and had two daus., his co-heirs, Mary, wife of Sir John Burke, of Derrymacloghny; and Margaret, wife of Col. Garret O'Moore. The earl, leaving no male issue, was s. by his brother,

WILLIAM, 7th earl. This nobleman m. 1st, Lettice, only dau. of Sir Henry Shirley, of Astwell, by Dorothy his wife, dau. of Robert, Earl of Essex, and had issue,

JOHN, created by JAMES II., after his abdication, Lord Bophin, s. as 9th Earl of Clanricarde.
Thomas, killed at Buda.

His lordship m. 2ndly, Ellen, dau. of Donough, Earl of Clancarty, and had,

ULICK, created Baron Tyaquin and Viscount Galway, killed at Aughrim.
Margaret, m. 1st, to Bryan Magennis, Viscount Iveagh; and 2ndly, to Col. Butler, of Kilcash.
Honor, m. 1st, to Patrick Sarsfield, Earl of Lucan; and 2ndly, to James Fitz-James, Duke of Berwick.

The earl was s. at his decease, in 1687, by his eldest son,

RICHARD, 8th earl, who m. Miss Bagnell, and had one only dau., Dorothy, m. to Alexander Pendarves, Esq. of Roscrow, in Cornwall. He was s. by his brother,

JOHN, 9th earl. This nobleman was col. of a regiment of foot in the army of JAMES, and being taken prisoner at the head of his regiment at the battle of Aughrim, was conveyed to the castle of Dublin, and thence removed into England. His lordship being outlawed and attainted, his estates were forfeited; but his children claiming their several remainders before the trustees for the sale of forfeitures, recovered the same; and an act of parliament passed (1st of Queen ANNE) for making provision for the protestant children of the Earl of Clanricarde, whereby his lordship was acquitted of all treasons and attainders, and restored to his estates. He m. Bridget, dau of James Talbot, Esq.; and dying in 1722, left, with three sons, four daus., Letitia, m. to Sir Festus Burke, of Glinsk;

* This nobleman, by his 2nd wife, Catherine, dau. of Donough, 2nd Earl of Thomond, and by his 3rd wife, Honora, dau. of O'Brien of Duharras, left other children: on the only son of the 2nd wife, John Burke, created 6 May, 1583, Lord Leitrim, he settled the castle of Meelick. Lord Leitrim d. s. p. the same year; and from his lordship's collateral descendants, the Burkes of Meelick, derived the late Peter Burke, Esq., J.P., of Elm Hall, co. Tipperary.

Bridget, m. to Richard, Viscount Dillon; Honora, m. to John Kelly, Esq. of Clonlyon; and Mary, m. to Garrett Moore, Esq. The eldest son,

MICHAEL, 10th earl, m. Anne, widow of Hugh Parker, Esq., and eldest dau. and co-heir of John Smith, Esq., speaker of the House of Commons by whom (who d. 1732, and was buried in Westminster Abbey) he had,

JOHN-SMITH, his heir.
Anne, m. to Denis Daly, Esq. of Raford, co. Galway.
Mary, m. to George Jennings, Esq., and had an only dau. and heir, Hester, wife of James, Lord Selsey.

His lordship d. 29 Nov. 1726, and was s. by his son,

JOHN-SMITH, 11th earl,* who m. Hester, youngest dau. of Sir Henry Vincent, Bart., and dying 21 April, 1782, left (with two daus., Hester-Amelia, wife of William Trenchard, Esq.; and Margaret-Augusta, wife of Luke Dillon, Esq.) two sons, of whom the elder,

HENRY, 12th earl, b. in Jan. 1742, was a privy councillor in Ireland, a knight of St. Patrick, and governor of the co. Galway. He was created MARQUESS OF CLANRICARDE, 18 Aug. 1785. He m. Urania-Anne, dau. of George, 12th Marquess of Winchester (her ladyship, who m. 2ndly, in 1799, Col. Peter Kington, killed at Buenos Ayres in 1807, and 3rdly, in 1813, the Hon. Sir Joseph-Sidney Yorke, K.C.B., d. 27 Dec. 1843), but dying s. p. 8 Dec. 1797, the marquessate expired, while his lordship's other honours devolved upon his brother,

JOHN-THOMAS, 13th earl, a general officer in the army, and col. 66th foot. His lordship, b. in 1744, m. 17 March, 1799, Elizabeth, dau. of Sir Thomas Burke, 1st Bart. of Marble Hill, co. Galway, and by her (who d. 26 March, 1854) had,

ULICK-JOHN, late marquess.
Hester-Catherine, m. 4 March, 1816, to Howe-Peter, 2nd Marquess of Sligo, and d. 17 Feb. 1878.
Emily, m. 9 Jan. 1826, to Thomas, 3rd Earl of Howth; and d. 5 Dec. 1842.

His lordship obtained letters-patent, dated 29 Dec. 1800, conferring the dignity of countess upon his daus., in succession, and the EARLDOM OF CLANRICARDE on their male heir, according to priority of birth, in the event of the extinction of his own male descendants. He d. 27 July, 1808, and was s. by his son,

SIR ULICK-JOHN, 14th earl, K.P., P.C., lord-lieut. co. Galway, hon. col. of the Galway militia, and vice-admiral of the coast of Connaught, b. 20 Dec. 1802; s. his father, as 14th earl, in the Irish earldom and barony, 27 July, 1808; and obtained the Irish marquessate and barony of the United Kingdom, by patents of creation, the former, 6 Oct. 1825; the latter, June, 1826. He m. 4 April, 1825, Harriet, only dau. of Viscountess Canning and the Right Hon. George Canning, and by her (who d. 8 Jan. 1876) he had issue,

* This title, first enjoyed by Sir Edward Hyde, was derived from a spacious park near Salisbury, formerly the site of a royal palace, but more noted as the place where HENRY II. summoned, in 1164, the great council of peers and prelates, from which emanated the celebrated regulations, so well known in history as The Constitutions of Clarendon. By those the clergy were declared amenable to the civil power, and hence arose the contest between that monarch and Thomas à Becket.

† The Queen granted in Feb. 1839, to this gentleman and his younger brothers and sister the title and precedency of an earl's sons and dau.

Lineage.

This family derives from the Claytons of Northamptonshire.

Sir Robert Clayton, Knt., filled, in 1679, the civic chair of London, represented the metropolis for nearly 30 years in parliament, and was father of the city at his decease. He was appointed a commissioner of Customs by King William, which post he held till the decline of life made a quiet retreat more desirable than public employment. Sir Robert was a princely benefactor to Christ's Hospital, which suffered materially in the dreadful conflagration of 1666, and erected the south front, at an expense of £5000. Over the gateway, which is the entrance from Christ's Church passage, is a statue of King Edward, with the following inscription:—"Edward the Sixth, of famous memory, King of England, was the founder of Christ's Hospital; and Sir Robert Clayton, Knt. and alderman, sometime lord mayor of this city of London, erected this statue of King Edward, and built the most part of this fabric, Anno Dom. 1682." SIR HENRY (who resumed the original surname of his ancestors) VANE, of Raby Castle, co. Durham, his chief place of abode, and which continues to be used by his descendants. This gentleman (b. 18 Feb. 1586, knighted 28 Mar. 1611) was a distinguished politician, and stood high in the favour of JAMES I. and CHARLES I.; in the former reign he was appointed cofferer to the Prince of Wales; and in the latter, after enjoying many elevated offices (amongst others, that of Ambassador in Sweden to Gustavus Adolphus, and one of the commissioners of the Admiralty), was constituted principal secretary of state for life, and sworn of the privy council. His subsequent dismissal from office was attributed to his having offended the king by the active part he took in the prosecution of the Earl of Strafford, against whom, it is said, he was influenced by private pique, arising from that nobleman's having, when elevated to the peerage, taken the title of Baron Raby of Raby Castle, which Sir Henry Vane deemed more properly to belong to himself as owner of the castle. Sir Henry Vane m. Frances, dau. and co-heir of Thomas D'Arcy, Esq. of Tolleshunt Darcy, co. Essex (descended from Guicciardini, the noble Florentine historian), and by her (who d. 2 Aug. 1663, and whose sister m. Sir Christopher Nevill, ancestor of George, 11th Earl of Abergavenny) had, besides daus., two surviving sons.

HENRY (3rd son), his successor.
George (Sir), of Long Newton, co. Durham, whose great-grandson, Rev. HENRY VANE, D.D., created a Baronet 1782; d. 1794, and was s. by his son, SIR HENRY, who, in right of his mother, assumed the additional surname of TEMPEST. Sir Henry Vane-Tempest m. in 1799, ANNE-CATHERINE, COUNTESS OF ANTRIM; and dying in 1813, left an only dau. and heiress, LADY FRANCES-ANNE-EMILY VANE-TEMPEST, who m. 1819, Charles, 3rd Marquess of Londonderry, K.G., G.C.B. Sir George was also ancestor of the present Sir Henry-Ralph Vane, Bart., of Hutton Hall, co. Cumberland.

Sir Henry Vane d. in 1654 (will dated 12 Jan. 1654), and was s. by his elder surviving son, the famous

SIR HENRY VANE, Knt. of Raby Castle, co. Durham, and of Fairlawn, co. Kent, b. about 1612, knighted 23 June, 1640—whom Clarendon characterizes as a person of "great natural parts, a quick conception and very ready, sharp, and weighty expression," and Milton celebrates inverse as "Vane, young in years, but in sage counsel old." He was educated at Westminster and Oxford, and on returning from Geneva, where he imbibed those strong prejudices which influenced his future career, emigrated with some dissatisfied spirits to America, where the colonists, in admiration of his talents, made him, notwithstanding his youth, governor of Massachusetts, which office he did not long retain, but returned privately to England, where through the interest of his father he was appointed joint treasurer of the navy with Sir William Russell, and outliving his associate, enjoyed the office alone, in which he displayed a rare example of honour and integrity. The fees of the office were at that time four pence in the pound, which, by reason of the war, fairly amounted to upwards of £30,000 per annum, but Sir Henry Vane looked upon it as too much for a subject, and nobly relinquished his patent, which had been granted by King CHARLES I. for life, to the then parliament, desiring but £2000 a-year for an agent he had brought up to the office, the remainder to go to the public. The part which this distinguished personage afterwards took against the Court is well known. He aided in procuring the condemnation of Strafford, and led the impeachment against Laud. He was twice a parliamentary commissioner, and opposed the terms of peace. After the King's death, in which he had no share, he became one of the supreme governing council. He was a strenuous adversary to CROMWELL throughout the Protectorate, and endeavoured to establish a republican constitution after the Protector's death. At the Restoration, Vane was arrested, but a promise was given to parliament that his life should be spared; in violation of this he was, 2 June, 1662, arraigned for high treason, was found guilty, and receiving sentence of death, was beheaded on Tower Hill, 14 June, 1662. Sir Henry m. 1 July, 1640, Frances, dau. of Sir Christopher Wray, Bart. of Glentworth and Ashby, co. Lincoln, and had issue,

I. Henry d. 2 Nov. 1660, aged 18.
II. Edward, d. 1648.
III. Cecil, d. 1646. IV. Cecil, d. 1647.
V. Thomas, of Raby Castle, M.P. for Durham, m. Frances, dau. of Sir Thomas Liddell, of Ravensworth, co. Durham, and d. s. p. 1675. His widow m. 2ndly, Sir John Bright, Bart. of Badsworth, co. York, and d. s. p.
VI. Ralph, d. 1656.
VII. CHRISTOPHER (Sir), of whom we treat.
I. Albinia, or Benina, m. Henry Forth, alderman of London.
II. Katherine, d. 24 March, 1678, and three other daus.

CLIFTON, BARON see DARNLEY, EARL OF.

CLINTON.

CLINTON, BARON (Charles-Henry-Rolle Hepburn-Stuart-Forbes-Trefusis), of Maxtock, co. Warwick, lieut.-col. R. N. Devon Hussars, and capt. 25th Aberdeenshire R.V.C., Under Secretary of State for India 1867-8, b. 2 March, 1834; m. 1st, 29 July, 1858, Harriet-Williamina, only dau. of Sir John-Stuart Forbes, Bart., and by her (who d. 4 July, 1869) has

I. CHARLES-JOHN-ROBERT, b. 18 Jan. 1863.
II. Henry-Walter, b. 8 Dec. 1864.
I. Ada-Harriet.
II. Mary-Elizabeth.
III. Margaret-Adela.

Lord Clinton m. 2ndly, 30th March, 1875, Margaret, 2nd dau. of Sir John-W. Walrond, Bart., formerly M.P. for Tiverton, and by her has issue,

III. A son, b. 14 Jan. 1878.
IV. A son, b. 1 July, 1879.
IV. Edith, b. 12 Feb. 1876.

His lordship, who was M.P. for North Devon, s. his father as 20th Baron Clinton, 10 April, 1866. He is the eldest co-heir of the ancient Barony of Say, which has remained in abeyance for several centuries. When Sir James Fienes obtained the Barony of Say and Sele, by creation, 1447, John, the 5th and then Baron Clinton, great-grandson and representative of Idonea Say, relinquished all claim to the barony and arms of Say; but how far such a cession affects his descendants, has not been determined. According, however, to the celebrated resolution of the House of Lords, 18 June, 1768, "that no fine now levied, nor at any time hereafter to be levied, to the king, can bar such title of honour, or the right of any person claiming such title under him that levied, or shall levy, such fine," it would appear that it did not prejudice their hereditary right. The present Lord Clinton has by royal licence, dated 4 Sept. 1867, taken the surnames of HEPBURN-STUART-FORBES in addition to that of TREFUSIS, and the arms of Stuart and Forbes quarterly with those of Trefusis.

Lineage.

JOHN DE CLINTON, son of Thomas de Clinton, and the descendant of Geoffray de Clinton, lord chamberlain to HENRY I., marrying Ida, eldest of the four sisters and co-heirs of William de Odingsells, Lord of Maxtock Castle, co. Warwick, and thus acquiring that lordship, seated himself there. This John de Clinton was in the wars of Scotland, 26th EDWARD I., and had summons to Parliament, as BARON CLINTON of Maxtock, in Feb. 1299. He had two sons, JOHN, his successor; and WILLIAM, created EARL OF HUNTINGDON, which latter d. s. p. in 1354, when the title expired. John, Lord Clinton, a. in 1315, and was s. by

SIR JOHN DE CLINTON, 2nd Lord Clinton, was summoned to parliament from 1332 to 1335, in which latter year he died, and was s. by his son,

SIR JOHN DE CLINTON, 3rd baron, summoned to parliament from 1357 to 1397. This nobleman inherited the estates of his uncle, William, Earl of Huntingdon. His lordship was engaged in the French wars, with little interruption, from 29th EDWARD III. to 6th RICHARD II. He m. 1st, IDONEA DE SAY, elder sister of William, Lord Say, and aunt and sole heir of Elizabeth, Baroness Say; she was also cousin and heir of William de Say, BARON OF SELE. (Her father was Jeffrey, Lord Say, and her mother, the Lady Maud Beauchamp, dau. of Guy, Earl of Warwick.) By this lady he had issue,

WILLIAM (Sir), who m. Elizabeth, dau. of Sir John Deincourt, Knt., and dying before his father, left a son, WILLIAM.
Thomas (Sir), of Amington, co. Warwick, who left an only dau. and heiress,
ANNE, m. to Sir Robert Fraunceys, of Foremark, co. Derby.

Sir John m. 2ndly, Elizabeth, dau. and heir of William de la Plaunch, of Haversham, co. Buckingham. He was s. at his decease, in 1397, by his grandson,

WILLIAM, 4th baron; who m. Anne, dau. of William, Lord Boteraux, and widow of Sir Fouke Fitzwarine, Knt.; and dying 30 July, 1432, was s. by his son.

JOHN, 5th baron. This nobleman exchanged his manor of Maxtock, in the 16th HENRY VI., with Humphrey, Earl of Stafford, for the manors of Whiston and Woodford, co. Northampton. His lordship, being a stanch Yorkist, was attainted in 1461, but on the subsequent re-establishment of his party, he was restored, and enjoyed the favour of EDWARD IV. He m. Elizabeth, dau. of Richard Fynes, Lord Dacre, of Hurstmonceaux, in Sussex; and dying 24 Sept. 1464, was s. by his son,

JOHN, 6th baron; who m. Anne, dau. of Sir Humphrey Stafford, and dying 29 Feb. 1488, was s. by his son,

JOHN, 7th baron. His lordship m. Elizabeth, dau. of Sir John Morgan, of Tredegar, co. Monmouth, Knt.; and dying 1514, was s. by his son,

EDWARD, 9th baron, b. in 1512. This nobleman, who was one of the most eminent persons of the age in which he lived (see DUKE OF NEWCASTLE), was created EARL OF LINCOLN, in 1571, having previously filled the office of LORD HIGH ADMIRAL. His lordship m. 1st, Elizabeth, dau. of Sir John Blount, and widow of Gilbert, Lord Talboys, by whom he had three daus. He m. 2ndly, Ursula, dau. of William, Lord Stourton, and had, EDWARD, his successor, with other issue. He m. 3rdly, Elizabeth, dau. of Gerald Fitzgerald, 9th Earl of Kildare, and widow of Sir Anthony Browne, Knt., but had no other children. Her ladyship was celebrated by Henry, Earl of Surrey, under the name of "the Fair Geraldine." This great earl d. 16 Jan. 1584-5, and was s. by his eldest son,

HENRY, 10th Baron Clinton and 2nd Earl of Lincoln; who m. 1st, Catherine, dau. of Francis Hastings, Earl of Huntingdon, by whom he had THOMAS, his successor, and HENRY, from whom the extant Dukes of Newcastle derive. His lordship m. 2ndly, Elizabeth, dau. of Sir Richard Morrison, and widow of William, Lord Norreys of Rycote, by whom he had two sons and a dau. The earl d. 29 Sept. 1616, and was s. by his eldest son,

COCKBURN.

COCKBURN, THE RIGHT HON. SIR ALEXANDER-JAMES-EDMUND, Bart. of Langton, co. Berwick, Lord-Chief-Justice of England, and a Privy Councillor; b. 1802; s. his uncle as 10th baronet, 30 April, 1858. Sir Alexander, distinguished alike in the Senate and the Forum for eloquence and great ability, was called to the Bar 6 Feb. 1829, and went the western circuit. He became a Queen's counsel in 1841, and was solicitor-general in 1850 (when he was knighted), and twice attorney-general, once from March, 1851 to Feb. 1852; and again from Dec. 1852 to Nov. 1856. He was M.P. for Southampton 1847 to 1856, and for some years recorder of Bristol. He was appointed chief-justice of the Court of Common Pleas in Nov. 1856, and of the Court of Queen's Bench in 1859.

Lineage.

ALEXANDER DE COCKBURN obtained the Barony of Carriden, co. Linlithgow, from DAVID II., in 1358; which barony had been forfeited to the crown. He m. Mary de Viteri Ponte, whose father fell at Bannockburn, in 1314. The eldest son of this marriage,

SIR ALEXANDER COCKBURN, Knt., was keeper of the great seal between 1389 and 1396; and from him descended

SIR WILLIAM COCKBURN, Knt. who obtained a grant, in 1595, of the lands and barony of Langtoun, with the office of principal usher, and its fees and casualties, to himself and his heirs male whatsoever, bearing the arms and surname of Cockburn. He m. Helen, 5th dau. of Alexander, 4th Lord Elphinstone, and was s. by his son,

I. WILLIAM COCKBURN, Esq., who was created a Baronet of Nova Scotia in 1627. It appears that, during the lifetime of this gentleman, some question concerning the office of usher, which he had inherited from his father, being raised, caused much public agitation. Principal Baillie, in his letters, relates "that while the question of usher was depending in parliament, in 1641, Langton, too rashly, takes a rod and puts himself in possession of the place." The king, who was present, offended at his presumption, ordered him into custody, which gave rise to a motion, on the part of the Marquess of Argyll, that, when any subject of debate occurred, two members of each estate should be deputed to acquaint the king. Accordingly, deputies having obtained an audience of his majesty, in the course of the same day, they remonstrated on a member of the house being committed without advice of parliament, and required the king to enact a law that neither himself nor his successors should do so hereafter, without consulting the legislative body. Sir William subsequently alienated a moiety of the ushership, and became joint-usher with Col. Cunningham. He was s. by his only son,

II. SIR ARCHIBALD, who, in 1657, was returned heir to his father in the office of principal usher, still held jointly with Colonel Cunningham, and also in the barony of Langtoun, and other property. In 1674, Sir Archibald, having purchased Cunningham's life-rent, obtained another grant of the office, with a salary of £250, and other emoluments attached to it, for ever. Sir Archibald d. in 1705, having had issue, a dau., Anne, m. to Sir G. Stewart, of Grandtully, and three sons, viz.:

Lineage.

This family ranked high amongst the old Barons of Scotland, and can be traced to an early period of Scottish history, particularly to the time of the Bruces, when it attained great celebrity. Having stated so much regarding its antiquity under the head of Cockburn of Langton, we proceed to the immediate ancestor of the present baronet,

Sir William Cockburn, Knt., Baron of Langton, fell at the battle of Flodden Field, in 1513, and left, by his wife, Lady Anna Home, dau. of the Earl of Home, two sons (his eldest son, Alexander, having been killed at his side), namely John, and Christopher. The elder,

John Cockburn, Esq., succeeded, and was himself s. by his eldest son,

COLLETON.

COLLETON, SIR ROBERT-AUGUSTUS-WILLIAM, lieut. 23rd regt., b. at King William's Town, Cape of Good Hope, 31 Aug. 1854; s. his father as 9th baronet, 28 Oct. 1866.

Lineage.

According to Wootton, the family of Colleton is of Norman origin, and came to England with the Conqueror; for one of the great-uncles of the 1st baronet went back to Normandy, to recover estates in that duchy, sold them, and d. there s. p. They have been resident for many centuries in Devon and its vicinity; and many places are called after them. By a very ancient grant, from Reginald de Villecore to Thomas Colleton, of an estate, and by subsequent deeds, in the beginning of the reign of EDWARD I., we find the Colletons style themselves gentlemen, and that they then bore the arms which they still continue to use.

The first entry in the pedigree at the Herald's College is that of — Colleton, b. about 1447; who m. the dau. and heiress of — Ridgway, and had a son and heir,

HENRY COLLETON, b. about 1485; who m. Margaret, dau. of William Bury, of Colleton; and dying before 1550, left two daus., one of whom m. Thomas Dyer, Esq. of Shobbrook, and the other, John Brushford, Esq., and three sons,

I. Edmund, b. about 1513, who left, with three daus., one of whom m. — Taunton, Esq., ancestor of Judge Taunton, two sons, William and John, both of whom d. s. p.
II. Peter d. s. p. III. THOMAS, of whom we treat.

The third son,

THOMAS COLLETON, m. Thomazine, dau. of Thomas Kelland, Esq. of Devon, and had three sons, John, m., but left no male issue; PETER, of whom presently; and Roger, who left issue, but nothing is known of them. The second son,

PETER COLLETON, who recorded his pedigree, including three ascents before his time, at the visitation of 1620, was high-sheriff of Exeter in 1618. He m. Ursula, dau. of Henry Hull, of Larkbeare, Exon; and d. in 1622, leaving (with a dau., Elizabeth, m. to Sir Hugh Crocker, Knt.) four sons, all of whom d. s. p., except the second,

I. JOHN COLLETON, b. 1608; capt. of foot, and a most active partisan of royal ty in the beginning of the civil wars. Capt. Colleton had a colonel's commission to raise a regiment from Sir John Berkeley, afterwards Lord Berkeley, signed by the Prince of Wales; which regiment he raised within ten days, and expended for the king's service £40,000, besides losing considerably more than that sum by sequestration. He was obliged eventually to retire to Barbadoes; but returning after the Restoration, Sir John Berkeley presented a memorial in his favour to the king, who, in consequence, conferred upon him the dignity of Baronet, 18 Feb. 1660-1. Sir John, in conjunction with the Duke of Albemarle, and other distinguished personages, had a grant of large dominions in North America. He m. Katherine, dau. of William Amy, Esq. of Exon, and left at his decease, in 1666, a dau. (m. 1st, to Lieut.-Gen. Stewart, and 2ndly, to Humphrey Selwood) and four sons, viz.,

i. PETER, his heir.

COLQUHOUN.

COLQUHOUN, SIR JAMES, of Colquhoun and of Luss, co. Dumbarton; b. 30 March, 1844; s. his father 18 Dec. 1873; m. 8 Dec. 1875, Charlotte-Mary-Douglas, dau. of Major Monro, late 79th Highlanders, and Elizabeth his wife, dau. of Sir Robert Abercromby, Bart., of Birkenbog.

Lineage.

This family have held from a very remote period a large proportion of the territory of Dumbartonshire by charters from the crown, and also acquired, from the Lennox family, the important hereditary office of coroner (coronator) of that county.

The first authentic record we have been able to discover of the family of Luss, is to be found in a charter of Alwyn, 2nd Earl of Lennox, who d. in 1225, containing a grant of the lands of Luss in favour of GILMORE, the son of MALDONENS, who lived in the reign of WILLIAM the Lion.

In the reign of ALEXANDER II., UMPHRIDUS de Kilpatrick obtained a grant of the lands and barony of Colquhoun, in Dumbartonshire, upon which occasion he gave up the name of Kilpatrick, and assumed the name of COLQUHOUN of Colquhoun. The full history of this ancient house is recorded in "The Chiefs of Colquhoun" one of Mr. Fraser's learned and interesting family memoirs. From Umfredus descended.

SIR ROBERT DE COLQUHOUN, who m. the dau. and heiress of Sir Godfrey, of Luss; since which time the family have borne the name and designation of COLQUHOUN, of Colquhoun and of Luss. From this Sir Robert several other families of the name of COLQUHOUN, in Dumbartonshire, are sprung. He was s. by his eldest son,

SIR HUMPHRY COLQUHOUN, of that ilk and of Luss, whose son, SIR ROBERT, was only a year in possession: his brother and heir,

SIR JOHN COLQUHOUN, was governor of the castle of Dumbarton during the minority of JAMES II. His son Malcolm, who was one of the hostages for the ransom of JAMES I., d. before his father, leaving a son, who s. his grandfather,

SIR JOHN COLQUHOUN, the son of Malcolm, a man of the most eminent abilities, held the high official situation of comptroller of the Exchequer, from 1465 until 1469. He was subsequently appointed sheriff-principal of Dumbartonshire, and received a grant of the lands of Rosemeath. In 1474, he was elevated to the rank of great chamberlain of Scotland. He was likewise one of a commission deputed to England, with full powers to negotiate a marriage between the Prince Royal of Scotland and the Princess Cicily, dau. of King EDWARD IV. Sir John acquitted himself so well in this delicate affair, that he was soon afterwards appointed governor of Dumbarton Castle for life, with very extensive powers; and he received various grants of lands in consideration of his important public services. In 1478, he proceeded to the siege of Dunbar, and while performing his military duties there, he was slain by a cannon shot, on the 1st of May, 1478. He m. a dau. of Thomas, Lord Boyd, by whom he had issue,

HUMPHRY, his successor.
Robert, who became Bishop of Argyle.
Margaret, who m. Sir William Murray, Baron of Tullibardine, and bore him seventeen children.

The elder son,

SIR HUMPHRY COLQUHOUN, m. 1st, a dau. of Thomas, Lord Erskine, by whom he had one son and two daus.; and 2ndly, a dau. of John, 3rd Lord Somerville, by whom he left no surviving issue. He d. in 1493, and was s. by his son,

SIR JOHN COLQUHOUN, who received the honours of knighthood from King JAMES IV., and obtained a charter under the great seal, of sundry lands and baronies in Dumbartonshire, dated 4 Dec. 1506. He m. 1st, Margaret Stuart, dau. of John, Earl of LENNOX, ancestor of the Royal Family, by whom he had two sons and four daus.; and 2ndly, Margaret, dau. of William Cunningham of Craigends, by whom he had two sons. He d. in 1535, and was s. by his eldest son,

SIR HUMPHRY COLQUHOUN, who m. Catherine, dau. of William, 1st Earl of Montrose, by whom he had one son and three daus. He d. in 1537, and was s. by his son,

SIR JOHN COLQUHOUN, who obtained a charter under the great seal, of the lands and baronies of Luss, Colquhoun, Dunglass, Garscube, and others, dated 6 Jan. 1541. By Agnes, dau. of Robert, 4th Lord Boyd, ancestor of the Earls of Kilmarnock, he had three sons and three daus. He was s. by his eldest son,

SIR HUMPHRY COLQUHOUN, who acquired the heritable coronorship of the co. of Dumbarton, which was notified to him and his heirs whatsoever, by a charter under the great seal, in the year 1583. He m. 1st, Jean Cunningham, dau. of Alexander, 5th Earl of Glencairn, by whom he had no issue; and 2ndly, Jean, dau. of John, Lord Hamilton, by whom he had one dau. In the year 1595, he was treacherously assaulted in one of his castles (the castle of Banachra) and slain, during a raid of the clan McGregor and their lawless followers. Having left no male issue, he was s. by his brother,

SIR ALEXANDER COLQUHOUN, 3rd son of the last-mentioned Sir John, who obtained a charter, under the great seal, dated 5 February, 1597, of the lands of Waltown, Auchindonnarie, &c., in Dumbartonshire. By his wife, Helen, dau. of Sir George Buchanan, of that ilk, he had five sons and one dau. He was s. by his eldest son,

SIR JOHN COLQUHOUN, who obtained a charter, under the great seal, of the ten-pound land of Dunnerbuck, dated 20 Feb. 1602. In 1625 he was created a Baronet of Nova Scotia, by King CHARLES I. He was a steady loyalist, suffered many hardships during the civil war, and was moreover, fined by OLIVER CROMWELL in the sum of £2000 sterling, a large sum in those days. He m. Lilias Graham, dau. of John, 4th Earl of Montrose, brother to the celebrated first Marquess of that family, by whom he had, with two daus., three sons, viz.,

JOHN, his heir.
JAMES, successor to his brother.
Alexander, of Tillyquhoun, m. Annabella, dau. of George Stewart, Esq. of Scotston, and is now represented by WILLIAM-MACDONALD MACDONALD, Esq. of Ranathan and St. Martin's.

His eldest son and successor,

SIR JOHN COLQUHOUN, m. Margaret, dau. and sole heiress of Sir Gideon Baillie, of Lochend, by whom he had two sons and four daus. The elder son, John, predeceased his father, unm.; and at Sir John's death, 1676, he was s. by his only surviving son, SIR JAMES COLQUHOUN, who was only four years in possession. At his death the title and estate devolved on his uncle, James, then of Balvie. This

SIR JAMES COLQUHOUN m. Penuel, dau. of William Cunningham, of Balleichan, in Ireland, by whom he had one son, his successor,

SIR HUMPHRY COLQUHOUN, who was a member of the Union Parliament. He m. Margaret, dau. of Sir Patrick Houston, of that ilk, by whom he had no male issue. His only dau. and sole heiress, Anne Colquhoun, m. in 1702, James Grant, of Pluscardine, second son of Ludovick Grant, of Grant. Sir Humphry having no hope of male issue, and being determined that his daughter and her husband should succeed him in his whole estate and honours, resigned, in 1704, his lands and baronetcy into the hands of the crown,—a proceeding not uncommon in those days,—with the view of obtaining a new grant to himself, in life-rent, and to his daughter and son-in-law, and their heirs in fee; but providing that the heirs succeeding to that estate and title should be obliged to carry the name and arms of COLQUHOUN of Luss, &c., and that the estates of Luss and Grant should never be conjoined. Sir Humphry d. in 1715, and was s. by his son-in-law,

SIR JAMES COLQUHOUN, of Luss, whose elder brother dying without issue in 1719, he succeeded to the estate of Grant, relinquished the name and title of COLQUHOUN of Luss, and resumed his original family name of GRANT. He was s. in the estate of Luss by his second son,

SIR LUDOVICK, who, upon the death of his elder brother, who d. unm., succeeded to the estate of Grant, when the estate of Luss descended to his immediate younger brother,

SIR JAMES COLQUHOUN, the second surviving son of the heiress of Luss. Some disputes having arisen with regard to the destination of the old patent of baronetcy, Sir James was created a BARONET OF GREAT BRITAIN, in 1786. He m. Lady Helen Sutherland, dau. of William, Lord Strathnaver, son and apparent heir of John, 19th Earl of Sutherland, by whom he had three sons and five daus.,

JAMES, his successor.
William, lieut.-col. in the army; m. and had issue, a son.
Ludovic, lieut.-col. in the army, left five sons and one dau.
Catherine, m. to Sir Roderick M'Kenzie, Bart. of Scatwell.
Mary, m. to Gen. John Campbell, of Barbreck.
Ellen, m. to William Colquhoun, Esq.; and d. s. p. 27 May, 1834.
Margaret, m. to William Baillie, a lord of Session, under the title of Lord Polkemmet, and was mother of Sir William Baillie, Bart.
Janet, m. to Ebenezer-Marshall Gardiner, of Hillcairney, Esq., and had a son and a daughter, both deceased.

Sir James d. in Nov. 1786, and was s. by his eldest son,

SIR JAMES, sheriff-depute of Dumbartonshire, and a principal clerk of session. He m. Jane, dau. and co heir of James Falconer, Esq. of Monktown, and had issue,

JAMES. Patrick-Lodovic, advocate, d. unm.
John-Campbell, sheriff-deputy of the co. Dumbarton.
Sutherland-Morison, commander, R.N., died while on service in the West Indies, in 1828.
Roderick, E.I.C.S., d. in 1831.
Jane-Falconer, m. to David Kemp, Esq. of Balsusney Lodge, only son of the Rev. John Kemp, D.D., of Edinburgh: she d. 1829.
Helen-Sutherland, d. 18 Oct. 1876.
Wilhelmina, m. to John Campbell, Esq. of Stonefield, and is deceased.
Catherine, m. to Alexander Miller, Esq. of Dalnair.

Sir James d. in 1805, and was s. by his son,

SIR JAMES, who represented Dumbartonshire in parliament in 1802. He m. in June, 1799, Janet, dau. of the Right Hon. Sir John Sinclair, Bart., and had issue,

CONROY.

CONROY, SIR JOHN, of Llanbrynmair, co. Montgomery, b. 16 Aug. 1845; s. his father as 3rd bart., 3 Nov. 1869.

Lineage.

This is one of the ancient Milesian families of Ireland, deducing its descent from Maine, son of Nial—Naoigialeck, or Nial, of the 9 Hostages, Monarch of Ireland, A.D. 400—the common ancestor of the O'Neills and O'Donells of the North.

The sept assumed its tribe name from "Conaire," a famous ancestor in the 11th century, according to Irish custom, which also adding the prefixes O, and Maol, the name became "O'Maolconaire," Anglicè "O'Mulconry," and was so written until the 16th century, when the O'Conor Don, O'Conor Roe, and O'Conor Sligo, the dominant Lords of Connaught, having "come in and submitted to Queen ELIZABETH, A.D. 1585 entered into the 'Indentures of Composition'" with Sir John Perrott, lord deputy of Ireland, whereby they covenanted for themselves, and sub-chieftains, to give up their native customs, their tanistic rule, the usages of their Brehon law, and in some cases the national prefixes to their surnames, and instead to adopt English law, and to hold their estates by English tenures.

The name of this family was henceforth written "Conry."

The Sept enjoyed for many generations, by hereditary right, the privilege of supplying the Ollamhs of Connaught, and Seanachies to the kings of that province, in virtue of which office,

"It was the privilege of the O'Mulconry (saith the old chronicles) to stand alone, with the new king, upon the sacred mount of Carn Fraoich, and there to deliver into his hands, the white wand or sceptre, the emblem of sovereignty, to administer the usual oath or admonition to preserve the customs of the country, and finally to record the proceedings."

The early part of the pedigree of the chiefs of this family (of whom the present baronet is the lineal descendant) is to be found in the registry entitled Funeral Entries of the Nobility and Gentry of Ireland for the year 1638, one of the books of record in Ulster's Office, Dublin Castle, from which it appears that the funeral, and lineage of Moylin O'Mulconry, chief of his name, were duly registered, recording him, as 43rd in descent of this ancient family, and received the warranty dated 6 July, 1638, of Thomas Preston, then Ulster King of Arms of all Ireland.

From this "Moylin O'Mulconry," of Tullon, co. Roscommon, [The O'Mulconry] who by his wife Catherine, dau. of Teique O'Flanagan of Ceancloin, had issue, five sons and four daus., and d. 5 Jan. 1637, there descended

THORNA O'MULCONRY, or CONRY, eldest son and heir, who m. a dau. of Ferdorugh Mac Brenan, of Clonicarran, Gent. and dying in 1647, was s. by his only son,

JOHN O'MULCONRY, or CONRY, who, having taken part in the civil war, as a royalist, suffered from the confiscations inflicted upon the native families by CROMWELL, and fled to France, where finally dropping the prefixes to his name, he m. in 1655, Florence, dau. and heir of G. Fitzgerald (of the great family of Desmond), by a French lady, and was killed in the service of LOUIS XIV., at the passage of the Rhine, in June, 1672, leaving one dau. and two sons. The elder,

CHARLES CONRY, Esq., b. in 1657, had a re-grant of land in co. Roscommon from King CHARLES II., dated 16 Aug. 1678. By the adherence of this gentleman to the cause of King JAMES II., he was totally ruined, and fell at the battle of the Boyne, 1 July, 1690. He was s. by his brother as heir male,

FERFEASA CONRY, Esq., of Elphin, b. in 1661, who became the first protestant of this family, to avoid the penalties inflicted upon the Irish catholics by the penal laws of King WILLIAM III. He m. Elizabeth Aylmer, and dying in 1746, was s. by his only son,

JOHN CONRY, Esq., of Bettifield, co. Roscommon, b. in 1704, m. Elizabeth, only dau. of Robert Foulke, Esq. of Currah, co. Cork (descended from the ancient English family of FOULKE of Gunston, in Staffordshire), and dying in 1769, left issue two daus. and one son,

JOHN-PONSONBY, his heir, b. 1759.

Elizabeth, m. 1776, Dr. Robert Longfield, of Cork, cousin to the Viscount Longueville (see Family of LONGFIELD, in BURKE'S Landed Gentry), and d. in 1818

Catherine, m. 1783, Walter Hore, Esq. of Seafield, co. Wexford, 3rd son of Walter Hore, of Harpurstown, co. Wexford, and nephew to the 2nd Earl of Courtown; she d. 1824.

The only son,

JOHN-PONSONBY CONRY, Esq., barrister-at-law, inserted the O in the final syllable of his name; b. in 1759; he m. in 1785, Margaret, dau. of Francis-Vernon Wilson, Esq. of Tully, co. Longford, (descended from an English cadet, who, coming into Ireland as a captain of horse in CROMWELL'S army, obtained large grants of confiscated land); and d. 23 Sept. 1797, leaving issue five sons and one dau.,

Lineage.

The ancient family of Conyngham is originally from Scotland.

ALEXANDER CONYNGHAM, entering into holy orders, and removing into Ireland, was appointed, in 1611, the first protestant minister of Enver and Killymard, co. Donegal, and made dean of Raphoe on the consecration of Dean Adair, as bishop of Killaloe, in May, 1630. Dean Conyngham settled at Mount Charles, co. Donegal, which estate he held by lease from the Earl of Annandale, and m. Marian, dau. of John Murray, Esq. of Broughton, by whom he had twenty-seven children, of which four sons and five daus. survived infancy. He d. 3 Sept. 1660, and was s. by his eldest surviving son,

SIR ALBERT CONYNGHAM, Knt., who was appointed, in 1660, lieut.-gen. of the ordnance in Ireland. This officer fought on the side of WILLIAM at the Boyne, Limerick, &c., and fell in a rencounter with the Rapparees, near Colooney, co. Sligo. He m. Mary, dau. of the Right Rev. Robert Leslie, bishop of Raphoe, and was s. by his only surviving son,

HENRY CONYNGHAM, M.P. for the co. Donegal, captain in Lord Mountjoy's regiment. When JAMES desired his army to shift for itself, Captain Conyngham prevailed upon five hundred of his regiment to remain united, and with them offered his services to WILLIAM. He became subsequently a major-gen., and fell, in 1705-6, at St. Estevans, in Spain. He m. Mary, dau. of Sir John Williams, Bart. of Minster Court, co. Kent, and widow of Charles, Lord Shelburne, by whom he got a very considerable property, and had issue,

I. WILLIAM, his successor. II. Henry.
III. Mary, m. to the Right Hon. Francis Burton, of Buncraggy co. Clare, M.P., son of Francis Burton, Esq. of Buncraggy, M.P., by Alice his wife, dau. of Thomas Tilson, Esq., and grandson of Samuel Burton, Esq., whose youngest son, Benjamin, was ancestor of the Burtons, Baronets. The Buncraggy family is a younger branch of the ancient house seated at Longner, co. Salop. The issue of this marriage was
1 FRANCIS-PIERPONT-BURTON, who s. his uncle.
2 William Burton, M.P., teller of the Exchequer, and a privy-councillor in Ireland, who inheriting, at the decease of his uncle, Henry, Earl Conyngham, the family estates, co. Donegal, and of Slane, co. Meath, assumed the name and arms of CONYNGHAM. He d. unm. 31 May, 1796.
1 Mary, d. unm. 2 Alice, m. to Sir George Gore, Bart.

Gen. Conyngham was s. by his elder son,

WILLIAM CONYNGHAM, Esq. of Slane (an estate forfeited, in 1641, by Lord Slane), who was s. by his brother,

The first settler in Ireland, descended from a very ancient English family, was,

I. Sir Charles Coote, Knt. of Castle Cuffe, Queen's Co., who served in the wars against O'Neile, Earl of Tyrone, at the head, as captain, of 100 foot, with which he was at the siege of Kinsale, and was appointed, by James I., provost-marshal of the province of Connaught for life. In 1620, he was constituted vice-president of the same province; and created 2 April, in the same year, a Baronet of Ireland. Sir Charles distinguished himself, subsequently, by many gallant exploits; but the most celebrated was the relief of Birr, in 1642. The surprising passage through Mountrath woods justly caused the title of Mountrath to be conferred upon his son. Sir Charles m. Dorothea, youngest dau. and co-heir of Hugh Cuffe, Esq. of Cuffe Wood, co. Cork, and had issue.

I. Charles, his heir.

II. Chidley, of Killester, near Dublin, who d. in Nov. 1668, leaving two sons, of whom the younger, Sir Philips Coote, was ancestor of the Cootes of Mount Coote, in the co. of Limerick now represented by Charles-John-Aldwork Coote, Esq., high sheriff co. Limerick 1876 (see Burke's Landed Gentry); The elder son,

Lineage.

In very remote periods this family possessed considerable estates in Northamptonshire, whence the descendants of

JOHN COPE, the first upon record, extended themselves into Oxfordshire, Hampshire, Staffordshire, Gloucestershire, and Ireland. This John Cope was a very important person in the reigns of RICHARD II. and HENRY IV. In the latter, he represented the co. of Northampton, and was twice high sheriff. He d. 1415, and from him lineally descended,

SIR ANTHONY COPE, Knt., vice-chamberlain to CATHERINE PARR, and one of the most learned men of the era in which he lived. He was knighted in the 1st EDWARD VI., and served the office of sheriff for Oxfordshire and Berks the next year. He m. Jane, dau. of Matthew Crews, of Pynne Devon, and had, with a dau., Anne, m. to Kenelm Digby, Esq. of Drystoke, co. Rutland, an only son, his successor, in 1551,

EDWARD COPE, Esq. of Hanwell, who m. Elizabeth, dau. and heiress of Walter Mohun, Esq. of Wollaston, in Northamptonshire, and had, besides daus.,

ANTHONY, of whom presently.

Walter (Sir), of Kensington, master of the court of wards, temp. JAMES I., and one of the chamberlains of the Exchequer. Sir Walter erected Holland House, at Kensington, and left that and his large property to Henry Rich, Earl of Holland, who had married his only dau., Isabel.

Mr. Cope was s. by his elder son,

I. ANTHONY COPE, of Hanwell, who was knighted by Queen ELIZABETH, and created a Baronet, 29 June, 1611. Sir Anthony was high-sheriff of the co. of Oxford, 1581 and 1590; represented Banbury in seven parliaments during Queen Elizabeth's reign; and the co. of Oxford in that of her successor. He m. 1st, Frances, dau. of Rowland Lytton, Esq. of Knebworth, and had

I. WILLIAM (Sir), his successor, who received the honour of knighthood from JAMES I.

II. Anthony, who settled in Ireland; m. Elizabeth, dau. of Capt. Sheffield, of Youghal, and had issue, (besides daus. and a younger son,)

1 Henry Cope, of Loughall, co. Armagh, who left, with a son, Henry, who d. unm., a dau., Elizabeth, who m. her kinsman, Anthony Cope, dean of Elphin.

2 Anthony, who left issue, a son,

William Cope, who m. Honor, dau. and co-heir of Charles Sampy, of Rossmoyle, co. Sligo, Esq., and dying in 1715, left issue,

Henry Cope, of Castlegal, co. Sligo, m. 1738, Alice, dau. of Thomas Jones, of Vessington, co. Meath, Esq., and d. 1775, leaving,

Henry Cope, of Castlegal, M.P., accountant-gen. of the court of Chancery, in Ireland, m. Margaret, dau. of — Knott, Esq., but d. s. p. 1815; William, in the army, d. unm. in America, 1780; Charles, in holy orders, d. unm. 1829.

Elizabeth, m. her cousin, William Cope, Esq.

Katherine-Alice, m. John Sweny, Esq.

Joseph, of Dublin, who m. 1729, Susanna, dau. of — Handcock, Esq., and left at his decease, in 1754, (with a dau., Susanna, m. to Henry-Steevens Reily, Esq.) one son, William Cope, of Dublin, who m. 1st, 1764, Charlotte, dau. of Samuel Hautenville, Esq., and had issue by her (who d. 1774).

Edmund-Reily, of whom presently.

Susanna, m. to William Cooper, of Cooper's Hill, Queen's County, Esq.

Charlotte, d. unm. 1847. Teresa, d. unm. 1850.

Mary, m. to John-Paine Garnett, of Arch Hall, co. Meath, Esq.

He m. 2ndly, 1775, his cousin, Elizabeth, dau. of Henry Cope, of Castlegal, Esq., and by her (who d. 6 April, 1806), had issue,

Alice, m. to Henry Garnett, of Green Park, co. Meath, Esq.

Mr. William Cope d. 7 Nov. 1820; his son,

Edmund-Reily Cope, a lieut.-gen. in the army, m. 14 Aug. 1794, Maria, dau. of James Furber, Esq. of Woolcombe, co. Dorset, and by her (who d. 27 Nov. 1849), had issue,

WILLIAM-HENRY, who, succeeding his kinsman, Sir John, is the present baronet.

Charlotte, m. 8 June, 1848, to Rev. Henry Stretton, rector of Eastville and Chidville, co. Lincoln.

Lieut.-Gen. Cope d. 18 Aug. 1835.

III. Richard, who settled in Ireland. He m. Anne, sister of Sir William Walter, of Wimbledon, Surrey, and had issue, with other children,

1 Walter, of Drummilly, co. Armagh, whose male line failed in his great-grandson, Dr. Walter Cope, Bishop of Ferns, who d. s. p. in 1787. But the estates devolved on his niece, Sarah-Arabella, wife of Nicholas Archdall, Esq., who assumed the name of COPE. She was dau. of Archdeacon Samuel Meade, by Abigail Cope, his wife (see BURKE's Landed Gentry).

2 William, of Icombe, in Gloucestershire, m. Lady Elizabeth Cope, widow of his kinsman, Sir John Cope, the 3rd baronet, and was ancestor of the COPES of Icombe.

3 Anthony, whose only son, Anthony Cope, dean of Elphin, m. Elizabeth, dau. and heir of Henry Cope, of Loughall, co. Armagh, and was ancestor of the family settled there, which became extinct, in the male line, at the death of Arthur Cope, Esq. of Loughall, in 1844. His estates devolved on his cousin, Robert-Wright-Cope Doolan, Esq. (see BURKE's Landed Gentry).

IV. John.

I. Anne, m. to Sir John Leigh, ancestor of the Lords Leigh, of Stoneleigh. II. Elizabeth, m. to Sir Richard Cecil, Knt.

III. Mary, m. to Henry Campernowne, Esq. of Dartington, Devon.

Sir Anthony m. 2ndly, Anne, dau. of Sir William Paston, Knt. of Paston, in Norfolk, (widow, 1st, of Sir George Chaworth, Knt. of Wiverton, Notts; and 2ndly, of Sir Nicholas Lestrange, Knt. of Hunstanton, in Norfolk), and dying in 1614, was s. by his eldest son,

II. SIR WILLIAM, M.P. for Banbury, and for the co. of Oxford in several parliaments, who m. Elizabeth, dau. and heir of Sir George Chaworth, Knt. of Wiverton, and had,

I. JOHN, his successor.

II. Jonathan, of Ranton Abbey, in Staffordshire, ancestor of SIR JONATHAN COPE, of Brewerne, created a Baronet in 1713, which dignity expired in 1821. (See BURKE's Extinct Baronetage.)

I. Frances, m. to Robert Lee, Esq. of Billesley.

He d. in 1637, and was s. by his elder son,

III. SIR JOHN, who m. 1st, Mary, dau. of Sir John Walter, lord-chief baron of the Exchequer; and 2ndly, Lady Elizabeth Fane, dau. of Francis, 1st Earl of Westmorland, by whom (who re-m. William Cope, Esq. of Icombe, in Gloucestershire) he left issue,

ANTHONY and JOHN, successively baronets.

Elizabeth, m. to Thomas Estcourt, Esq., son and heir of Thomas Estcourt, Esq. of Shipton-Estcourt.

He was s. at his decease, in 1638, by his elder son,

IV. SIR ANTHONY, M.P. for Banbury, and afterwards for the co. of Oxford; who m. Mary, dau. of Dutton, 3rd Lord Gerrard, of Gerrard's Bromley; but dying without surviving issue, in 1675, was s. by his brother,

Lineage.

This is one of the few families still existing, who trace, in the male line, an undoubted descent from an ancient race of the same name in Normandy, of whom was Hugh Corbet (or Corbeau), living 1040.

He had issue, four sons, viz., Hugh, Roger, Robert, and Reginald. Of these, Hugh, the eldest son, succeeded to the lands in Normandy, and was ancestor of the Corbets of that country. Reginald, the youngest son, accompanied Hugh, Count de Saint Paul, to the Holy Land, in 1096, and was ancestor of the Corbets of Artois, and of Flanders, Châtelaines de Saint Paul. The two other sons, Roger and Robert, accompanied their father into England, at the Norman Invasion. Robert, the third son, received large estates in Shropshire, and elsewhere, and had issue, one son, Robert Corbet (Lord of Alcester, co. Warwick, who d. without issue), and two daus., 1 Sibil, ancestress of the Earls of Pembroke, and 2 Alice, ancestress of the Earls of Huntingdon.

ROGER, the second son, held, at the general survey, no less than twenty-four lordships in Shropshire, &c. He left a son,

WILLIAM DE CORBET, of Caus Castle, and Wattlesborough, co. Salop, who was father of

SIR ROBERT DE CORBET, from a younger son of whom descended Peter Corbet, of Caus Castle, who was summoned to parliament as a baron, temp. EDWARD I. (See BURKE'S Extinct Peerage.) His eldest son,

THOMAS CORBET, was great-grandfather of

RICHARD CORBET, Esq., who settled at Moreton Corbet, and his direct line continues still to reside there. Thirteenth in descent from this Richard was,

Lineage.

The ancestors of this noble family had, for many generations, their residence in the co. Hereford, where

Lodowick Boyle lived in the reign of Henry III.; and from whom descended

Lodowick Boyle, of Bidney, founder of the Friars in the city of Hereford, who was living in the time of Henry VI., and had two sons,

I. John, who settled in Herefordshire.
II. Roger, who m. and (with a dau., Mary, m. to Sir Richard Smyth, of Rathcogan—see Burke's Landed Gentry, Smyths of Headborough and Ballynatray) left four sons,
1 John, of Hereford.
2 Richard, of whose descendants we are about to treat.
3 Michael, of whose children, Michael was Bishop of Waterford, and d. in 1635; Richard was Archbishop of Tuam, and Jane was m. to Thomas Caldwell, Esq. of Newbury, Berks (see Ventry, A.). The Archbishop of Tuam left a son, Michael, who was Archbishop of Armagh, and lord-chancellor of Ireland, and father of Morrough, created Viscount Blessington.
4 George, d. s. p.

Richard Boyle, 2nd son of Roger, mentioned above, b. in 1566, studied law at the Middle Temple; but despairing, from his scanty means, of being able to pursue his studies, embarked for Ireland as an adventurer; and having obtained, after suffering some persecutions from the local authorities, the favour and protection of Elizabeth, amassed considerable wealth, received the honour of knighthood, was sworn of the privy-council, and elevated to the peerage of that kingdom, 16 Sept. 1616, as Baron Boyle of Youghal, and 16 Oct. 1620, created Viscount Dungarvan and Earl of Cork. His lordship, who was called "The great Earl of Cork," and who left a narrative of his remarkable career, entitled The True Remembrancer, m. 1st, Joan, dau. and co-heir of William Apsley, Esq., with whom he acquired an estate of £500 a year, but by whom (who d. in 1599) he had no issue. He m. 2ndly, Catherine, dau. of Sir Geoffrey Fenton, Knt., principal secretary of state for Ireland, and had (with several daus.) five sons, viz.,

I. Richard, Lord Dungarvan.
II. Lewis, created 28 Feb. 1627, Baron of Bandon Bridge, and Viscount Boyle, of Kinalmeaky, in the peerage of Ireland. His lordship m. Elizabeth, dau. of William, Earl of Denbigh (which lady was created, on the restoration of Charles II., Countess of Guilford), but had no issue. He fell at the battle of Liscarroll, 1642, when his honours passed (agreeably to a special limitation in the patent) to his elder brother, Lord Dungarvan.
III. Roger, b. in 1621, elevated to the peerage of Ireland, as Baron of Broghill, with remainder to the heirs male of his father, 28 Feb. 1627. This nobleman, who made so considerable a figure in the camp, the court, and the literary world, had distinguished commands in Ireland, prior to, and under the rule of Cromwell, and acquired considerable renown in reducing the Irish to submit to the government of the Commonwealth. Contributing eventually, however, after Cromwell's death, to the restoration of the monarchy, his lordship was created, 5 Sept. 1660, Earl of Orrery, and in the same year constituted (5 Sept.), by patent, lord-president of Munster for life. He d. 16 Oct. 1679, and left (by Margaret, his wife, 3rd dau. of Theophilus, 2nd Earl of Suffolk, with five daus.), two sons, viz.,
1 Roger, 2nd Earl of Orrery, who marrying Lady Mary Sackville, dau. of Richard, 5th Earl of Dorset, and dying in 1682, was s. by his eldest son,
Lionel, 3rd Earl of Orrery, at whose decease s. p. 25 Aug. 1703, the honours devolved upon his brother,
Charles, 4th Earl of Orrery, lieut.-gen., envoy-extraordinary to Brabant and Flanders, created a peer of Great Britain, 5 Sept. 1711, as Baron Boyle, of Marston, co. Somerset. His lordship, was known in the world of letters for his literary dispute with the learned Dr. Bentley, and had his designation of "Orrery" given to a new astronomical instrument, by its inventor, George Graham. He m. Lady Elizabeth Cecil, only dau. of John, 5th Earl of Exeter; and dying, 1731, was s. by his only son,
John, 5th Earl of Orrery, who s. in 1753, to the Earldom of Cork.
Henry, father of the 1st Earl of Shannon.
IV. Francis, created Viscount Shannon, 1660, an honour which expired, 1740, with his grandson and successor, Richard, 2nd viscount.

v. ROBERT, of Stalbridge, in Dorsetshire, b. at Lismore, 25 Jan. 1626; the celebrated philosopher, who, ennobled by his own transcendent talents, repeatedly refused the dignities of the state, having been several times offered a peerage. He d. 30 Dec. 1691, and was interred in the chancel of St. Martin's-in-the-Fields, Westminster. His character is given by Dr. Gilbert Burnet, in his Funeral Sermon, preached on him at St. Martin's-in-the-Fields, 7 Jan. 1692; and The present state of Europe for the February of the same year, contains this paragraph:—"The famous Mr. Boyle is dead, and his loss is lamented by all learned men. He was a philosopher under a particular character, for he addicted himself only to the study of natural philosophy, though he did not reject the other parts of that science; and it may be said, that never any man had dived so deep into the knowledge of nature as he had done; he had studied with a prodigious sedulity, and had so many experiments to explain the several phenomena which daily happen upon the concurrence of natural accidents, that there were few at this time of which he did not understand the real causes."

The great Earl of Cork, who was lord-treasurer of Ireland, d. at Youghall, in Sept. 1643, and lies interred in his chapel within the parish church there, where to him is erected a beautiful marble monument, with curiously engraven thereon his figure at full length in armour, having on each side the effigies of his wives, and the names and marriages of his children, with an inscription expressing his own marriages, titles, and employments, which concludes with this distich—

"Sic posui tumulum, Superest intendere Votis: Parce animae, carnem solvito, Christe, veni."

The earl's wife, Lady Cork, d. previously in Dublin, 16 Feb. 1629, and was privately buried in a vault which her husband had purchased from the Dean and chapter of St. Patrick's Cathedral, wherein a fair monument is erected, headed with this motto, "God's providence is our inheritance."

Of the Great Earl, Sir Richard Cox writes thus:—"The noble Earl of Cork, Lord High Treasurer, was one of the most extraordinary persons, either that or any other age hath produced, with respect to the great and just acquisition of estate that he made, and the public works that he began and finished, for the advancement of the English interest and the protestant religion in Ireland, as churches, almshouses, free-schools, bridges, castles, and towns, viz., Lismore, Tallaghe, Cloghnikilty, Innyskeene, Castleton, and Bandon, which last place cost him £14,000; insomuch, that when CROMWELL saw these prodigious improvements, which he little expected to find in Ireland, he declared that if there had been an Earl of Cork in every province, it would have been impossible for the Irish to have raised a rebellion. And whilst he was carrying on these solid works, he lived in his family at a rate of plenty, that exceeded those who consumed great estates in the lavish ways of ill-ordered excess. His motto, 'God's providence is my inheritance,' shews from whence he derived all his blessings, the greatest of which was the numerous and noble posterity he had to leave his estate unto." He was s. by his eldest son,

RICHARD, 2nd earl. This nobleman, having m. in 1635, Elizabeth, dau. and heiress of Henry Clifford, 5th Earl of Cumberland, was made a peer of England, 4 Nov. 1644, as Baron Clifford, of Lanesborough, co. York; and 20 March, 1664, created EARL OF BURLINGTON; in which honours he was s. at his decease, in 1697, by (the eldest surviving son of Charles, Lord Clifford, by Jane, youngest dau. of William, Duke of Somerset, and great granddau. of Edward, Duke of Somerset, uncle of EDWARD VI.) his grandson,

CHARLES, 3rd Earl of Cork and 2nd Earl of Burlington, who m. Juliana, dau. and heiress of the Hon. Henry Noel, of Luffenham, co. Rutland, 2nd son of Baptist, 3rd Viscount Campden; and dying in 1703, was s. by his only son,

RICHARD, 4th Earl of Cork and 3rd of Burlington, K.G., b. 25 April, 1695; m. 21 March, 1720, Dorothy, elder dau. and co-heir of William, Marquess of Halifax, by whom he had three daus. His lordship claimed, in 1737, the Barony of Clifford, as great-grandson of Lady Elizabeth Clifford, dau. and heir of Henry, Lord Clifford; and the House of Peers acknowledged and confirmed his lordship's right thereto. This nobleman was eminent as a munificent encourager of literature and the fine arts, and as the friend of Pope he will be ever remembered. He d. in 1753, and leaving an only surviving dau., CHARLOTTE,* who had m. William, 4th Duke of Devonshire, and inherited the Barony of Clifford, all his lordship's other English honours ceased, while those of Ireland devolved upon his kinsman,

JOHN, 5th Earl of Orrery, in Ireland, and Baron Boyle of Marston, in Great Britain, as 5th Earl of Cork (refer to Roger, 3rd son of the 1st Earl of Cork). His lordship m. 1st, in 1728, Lady Henrietta Hamilton, youngest dau. of George, Earl of Orkney, by whom (who d. 12 Aug. 1732) he had issue

CHARLES, Viscount Dungarvan, b. 1729, who m. Susannah, dau. of Henry Hoare, Esq. of Stourhead, co. Wilts; and dying 1759, in the lifetime of his father, left an only child, HENRIETTA, who m. 18 Oct. 1777, John, 1st Baron O'Neill, of Shanes Castle, co. Antrim.

Elizabeth m. 1749, to Sir Thomas Worsley, Bart.

The earl m. 2ndly, 30 June, 1738, Margaret, dau. and sole heir of John Hamilton, Esq. of Caledon, co. Tyrone, and by her ladyship (who d. in Oct. 1758) had,

Lineage.

This noble family was founded by

John Coventry, who amassed considerable wealth in the city of London, and filled the offices of sheriff and lord-mayor in 1416 and 1425. (He was one of the executors of the celebrated Sir Richard Whittington.) From this opulent citizen lineally descended

Thomas Coventry, an eminent lawyer, who was appointed chief-justice of the court of Common Pleas in 1606. He m. Margaret, dau. and heir of Jeffreys, of Earles Croome, otherwise Croome d'Abitot, by whom he had (with three daus., Joan, wife of Mr. Rogers, of Surrey; Catherine, m. to William Child, Esq.; and Anne, m. to George Frampton, Esq. of Dorsetshire) three sons,

Thomas, his successor.
William, of Ridmarley, Worcestershire.
Walter, whose son,
Walter, m. Anne, dau. of Simon Holcombe, Esq. of the co. Devon, and left, with other issue,
William, of whom hereafter, as 5th Earl of Coventry.

The eldest son,

Thomas Coventry, pursuing the profession of his father, was appointed, in 1621, attorney-general, and advanced, in four years afterwards (1 Nov. 1625), to the high office of Lord Keeper of the great seal. On 10 April, 1628, he was elevated to the peerage, by the title of Baron Coventry, of Aylesborough, co. Worcester. His lordship m. 1st, Sarah, dau. of Sir Edward Sebright, Knt. of Besford, by whom he had a son, Thomas, his successor, and a dau., Elizabeth, m. to Sir John Hare, of Stow Bardolph, in Norfolk. Lord Coventry m. 2ndly, Elizabeth, dau of John Aldersey, Esq. of Spurstow, by whom he had,

I. John, whose son, Sir John Coventry of Pitminster, co. Somerset, K.B., and M.P. for Weymouth, having made some observations in his place in parliament, supposed to reflect upon Charles II., was assailed by a party of courtiers, on 21 Dec. 1670, and, after making a gallant defence, dreadfully wounded in the nose. The circumstance being communicated to parliament, a bill was immediately passed, entitled The Coventry Act, inflicting the penalty of banishment upon the perpetrators of the outrage, should they be discovered, with a clause expressly depriving the king of the power of pardoning the offenders.
II. Francis, who m. thrice, and left an only son and two daus.,
1 Francis, who d. unm. in 1681.
1 Elizabeth, m. to Sir William Keyt, Bart.
2 Ultra-Trajectina, m. to Sir Lacon-William Child, Knt.
III. Henry, ambassador to Sweden, in 1671, and afterwards secretary of state.
IV. William (Sir), secretary to the Admiralty, and afterwards one of the commissioners of the Treasury; d. in 1686.
I. Anne, m. 1st, to William Saville, Esq., by whom she was mother of George, Marquess of Halifax. Her ladyship m. 2ndly, Thomas Chichele, Esq. of Wimpole, co. Cambridge.
II. Joan, m. to Henry-Frederick Thynne, Esq.
III. Margaret, m. to Anthony, 1st Earl of Shaftesbury.
IV. Dorothy, m. to Sir John Packington, Bart.

His lordship d. 14 Jan. 1639-40, and was s. by his eldest son,

Thomas, 2nd lord, who m. Mary, dau. of Sir W. Craven, Kt, by whom he had two sons, George and Thomas, of Snitfield. His lordship d. 27 Oct. 1661, and was s. by his elder son,

George, 3rd lord. This nobleman m. Margaret, dau. of John, Earl of Thanet, by whom he had one surviving son, John, and a dau., Margaret, m. to Charles, Earl of Wiltshire. His lordship d. 15 Dec. 1680, and was s. by his son,

John, 4th lord, at whose decease, unm., 25 July, 1687 the title and estates reverted to his uncle,

Thomas, of Snitfield, in Warwickshire, as 5th lord, who was advanced to a viscounty and earldom by King William, 26 April, 1697, as Viscount Deerhurst and Earl of Coventry, with limitation, in case of failure of his own issue male, to the grandsons of Walter Coventry, next brother to the 1st baron. His lordship d. 15 July, 1699, and was s. by his eldest son,

Thomas, 2nd earl. This nobleman d. 1710, and was s. by his only son (by Anne, dau. of Henry, Duke of Beaufort),

Thomas, 3rd earl, who d. at Eton College, 28 Jan. 1711-12, in his 9th year, when the honours reverted to his uncle,

Gilbert, 4th earl. This nobleman m. 1st, Dorothy, dau. of Sir William Keyt, Bart. of Ebrington, co. Gloucester, and had an only dau., Anne, m. to Sir William Carew, Bart. of Anthony, co. Cornwall. His lordship m. 2ndly, Anne, dau. of Sir Streynsham Master, Knt. of Codnor Castle, co. Derby. The earl d. 27 Oct. 1719, when the barony became extinct, while the other honours, and the greater part of the estates, devolved upon the lineal descendant of Walter Coventry, brother to the 1st lord, according to the limitation of the patent, namely,

William Coventry, Esq. of London, then one of the clerks of the green cloth, and member of parliament for Bridport, who s. as 5th Earl of Coventry. His lordship m. Elizabeth, dau. of John Allen, Esq. of Westminster, by whom he had issue,

John-Bulkeley, who assumed, by act of parliament, the additional name of Bulkeley, and was then denominated John-Bulkeley Coventry-Bulkeley. He d. in 1801.

The earl d. 18 March, 1750-1, and was s. by his elder son,

George-William, 6th earl, who m. 1st, March, 1752, Maria, sister of the Duchess of Hamilton and Argyll, and eldest dau. of John Gunning, Esq. of Castle Coote, co. Roscommon, by Hon. Lineage.

This family, which originally held the extensive barony of the same name in Clydesdale, is of great antiquity in Scotland. The ancient legend as to the foundation of Holyrood Abbey by David in 1128, makes the king owe his life to Sir Gregan Craufurd; and others of his name appear in charters of the same century, about the close of which Reginald de Craufurd acquired Kilbirnie, West Kilbride, and other possessions in Ayrshire by marriage with the heiress of Loudoun, and was ancestor of Reginald, of Crosby, in West Kilbride, who, having distinguished himself at Bannockburn, was rewarded by ROBERT BRUCE in 1320 with the estate of Auchinames, and the addition of two spears in saltier to his arms. His great-grandson, Archibald, of Crosby and Auchinames, m. circa 1440, Margaret, dau. of Sir Wm. Douglas, and grand-dau and heir of Sir John Stewart, of Pierston, and had two sons, Robert, from whom the Auchinames families derive, and Thomas, of Thirdpart, from whom descended

I. Mary, m. to Thomas, Lord Coventry.
II. Elizabeth, m. to Percy Herbert, Lord Powis.

The eldest son,

WILLIAM CRAVEN, having distinguished himself as a military officer on foreign service, on his return to his native country was knighted, 4 March, 1626; and in eight days afterwards (by letters-patent, dated the 12th) was elevated to the peerage, as Baron Craven of Hamsted-Marshall, co. Berks, with remainder, in case of failure of issue, to his brothers, John and Thomas, successively, and their male descendants; but these gentlemen having d. s. p., his lordship, when advanced to the dignities of Viscount Craven, of Uffington, co. Berks, and EARL OF CRAVEN, of Yorkshire, 15 March, 1663, had the reversion of those honours made, with that of the original barony renewed, to his cousins, Sir William Craven, Knt. of Lenchwyke, and his brother, Sir Anthony Craven, Knt., successively, and their male descendants. Sir William dying, however, without a son, the earl obtained, by letters-patent, dated 11 Dec. 1665, an extension of the limitation of the original Barony of Craven to Sir Thomas Craven, Knt., the next brother of the deceased Sir William. His lordship d. unm., at the advanced age of eighty-eight years and ten months, 9 April, 1697, when (Sir Anthony Craven having died without issue, 1690) the earldom and viscounty expired; but the Barony of Craven, of Hamsted-Marshall, devolved, according to the limitation (1665), upon the grandson of Thomas Craven, namely,

WILLIAM CRAVEN, Esq. of Combe Abbey, as 2nd baron, (eldest son of Sir William Craven, Knt., by Mary, dau. of Sir Christopher Clapham, of Beamsley, co. York). His lordship m. Elizabeth, dau. of Humberston Skipwith, Esq., son and heir of Sir Fulwar Skipwith, Bart. of Newbold Hall, co. Warwick; and dying in 1711, was s. by his eldest son,

WILLIAM, 3rd baron, who d. without issue, in 1739, when the barony devolved upon his brother,

FULWAR, 4th baron. This nobleman dying unm. in 1764, the title reverted to his cousin, x Present Earl.

Lineage.

Sir William Dugdale mentions several considerable families of Lindsay in England in the eleventh and twelfth centuries, observing that the surname was first assumed by the proprietors of the lands and manor of Lindsai, co. Essex. It is the opinion of Scotch antiquaries, that one of these Lindsays, coming with King MALCOLM CANMORE into Scotland, and settling there, obtained the lands of Wachopdale, and other possessions, from the crown, and founded the family of Lindsay beyond the Tweed. It is certain that the Lindsays began to be of note in Scotland temp. ALEXANDER I. (the son of MALCOLM), who succeeded to the throne in 1107. From this era our limits compel us to pass to the close of the 14th century, when

SIR DAVID LINDSAY, 7th feudal lord of Crawford and Glenesk, was elevated to the peerage of Scotland, 21 April, 1398, as EARL OF CRAWFORD. "This Sir David Lindsay acted the principal part in the celebrated tournament at London Bridge, in May, 1390. John, Lord Welles, ambassador from RICHARD II. to Scotland, at a solemn banquet where the Scots and English were discoursing of deeds of arms, said, 'Let words have no place: if you know not the chivalry and valiant deeds of Englishmen, appoint me a day and place, where you list, and you shall have experience.' Whereupon, Sir David Lindsay assenting, Lord Welles selected London Bridge as the place for a trial of skill. Lindsay repaired to London with a gallant train of thirty persons; and on the day appointed, appeared in the lists against Lord Welles. At the sound of trumpet they encountered each other, upon their barbed horses, with square grounden spears. In this adventure, Lindsay sat so strong that, notwithstanding Lord Welles' spear was broken upon his helmet and visage, he stirred not, insomuch that the spectators cried out that, contrary to the laws of arms, he was bound to his saddle. Whereupon he dismounted, got on his horse again without assistance, and, in the third course, threw Lord Welles out of his saddle to the ground. Then dismounting, he supported his adversary, and, with great humanity, visited him every day, till he recovered the effects of the fall." His lordship m. Catharine Stuart, 5th dau. of ROBERT II., and was s. in 1412, by his eldest son,

ALEXANDER, 2nd Earl of Crawford (who is said to have m. Mariota, dau. and heiress of David Dunbar, of Cockburn, and grand-daughter of George, Earl of March), d. 1438, and was s. by his son,

DAVID, 3rd Earl of Crawford, who m. Marjory, dau. of Alexander Ogilvie, of Auchterhouse, by whom he had issue,

I. ALEXANDER, his successor.
II. WALTER, of Beaufort and Edzell, ancestor of the EARLS OF BALCARRES.
III. William, of Lekoquhey.
IV. Sir John, of Brechin.
V. James, who founded a house in Austria.

ALEXANDER, 4th Earl of Crawford (called the "Tiger Earl," or "Earl Beardie"), m. Elizabeth Dunbar, of the House of March, and had issue, DAVID, his successor; and ALEXANDER, afterwards 7th Earl.

DAVID, 5th Earl of Crawford (under whom the Lindsays rose to their highest power in Scotland), was created DUKE of MONTROSE, 18 May, 1488. He m. Elizabeth, dau. of James, 1st Lord Hamilton, and d. 1495. Our space compels us to refer the reader, for the remainder of this line of the Earls of Crawford (which terminated with LUDOVIC, 16th Earl, surnamed the "Loyal Earl," who d. about 1660), to the Lives of the Lindsays, and to proceed with the descent of Walter Lindsay, of Beaufort and Edzell, the ancestor of the present Earl of Crawford,

WALTER LINDSAY, styled of Kinblethmont, had charters of the baronies of Arde and Bewfort in 1459, and of the barony of Panbride in 1463. He m. 1st, Sophia, dau of Livington of Saltcoates, but by her had no issue. He m. 2ndly, Isabel, dau. of William, Lord Livingston, and had an only son, his successor,

SIR DAVID LINDSAY, of Edzell and Bewfort, who was s. in 1527, by his grandson,

SIR DAVID LINDSAY, of Edzell and Glenesk (eldest son of Walter Lindsay, who fell at Flodden, 9 Sept. 1513). To this gentleman,* David, 8th Earl of Crawford, made an assignment of his title and estates, with the concurrence of the crown; and, upon the decease of that nobleman in 1542, Sir David became son earl of Crawford. He retained the dignity, however, for life only; and it returned at his death to the grandson of his predecessor. His lordship m. 1st, Janet, dau. of Andrew, 3rd Lord Gray, and relict of Alexander Blair, of Balthyock, and of Thomas, 4th Lord Lovat; but by her had no issue. He m. 2ndly, Catherine, dau. of Sir John Campbell, of Calder, and had,

I. DAVID (Sir), his successor, whose great-great-grandson, and lineal descendant,

JOHN LINDSAY, of Edzell, upon the extinction of the male line of David, 10th Earl of Crawford, by the death of George, Lord Spynie,† in 1672, becoming chief of the Lindsays, and entitled, by the terms upon which his ancestor, David, 8th Earl of Crawford, restored that dignity to David, grandson of the 7th Earl, to the EARLDOM OF CRAWFORD, as well as by the fact that he was next heir male of the original creation, preferred his claim to parliament, but unsuccessfully. (The Earldom of Crawford and the estates of that branch of the Lindsays were conferred by act of parliament, in 1644, after the resignation of Ludovic, 16th earl, upon John, 10th Lord Lindsay, of Byers, afterwards Earl of Crawford and Lindsay, lord high treasurer of Scotland.) John Lindsay of Edzell's male line ceased with his grandson, David Lindsay, in 1744, and the representation of the Lindsays then devolved upon the descendant of John Lindsay, David, 9th Earl of Crawford's 2nd son, of whom we are about more particularly to treat.

II. JOHN, of whom presently. III. Robert, of Balhall.
IV. Walter (Sir), of Kempshill. V. James, in holy orders.
I. Elizabeth, m. to Patrick, Lord Drummond.
II. Margaret, m. to John Innermeath.

The second son,

JOHN LINDSAY, a very eminent Scottish lawyer, was made one of the senators of the College of Justice in 1584, was sworn of the privy council in 1595, and, in the following year, appointed a commissioner of the Treasury, and secretary of state, when he resigned the post of lord of session in favour of his brother, Sir David Lindsay. This eminent person was also one of the eight Magnates Scotiæ, constituted governors of the kingdom, who were designated Octavians. He m. Margaret, dau. of Alexander Guthrie, burgess of Edinburgh, relict of David Bothwick, of Lochhill, king's advocate, and had two sons and three daus. He obtained, by charter, in 1591, the estate of Balcarres, and was s. at his decease in 1598, by his elder son,

JOHN LINDSAY, of Balcarres, who d. in minority, Jan. 1600-1, and was s. by his brother,

SIR DAVID LINDSAY, of Balcarres, who was elevated to the peerage of Scotland, 27 June, 1633, by the title of Lord Lindsay of Balcarres. His lordship m. Sophia, dau. of Alexander, Earl of Dunfermline, and was s. at his decease, in 1641, by his only son,

ALEXANDER, 2nd baron, who for his great loyalty and eminent services, was advanced, 9 Jan. 1651, to the EARLDOM OF BALCARRES. His lordship was made heritable governor of the castle of Edinburgh, secretary of state, and commissioner to the General Assembly. He m. Anne, dau. and co-heir of Colin, 1st Earl of Seaforth, and had issue, CHARLES, and Colin; and three daus., Ann, who d. a nun; Sophia, m. to Hon. Col. Charles Campbell; and Harriet, m. to Sir Duncan Campbell, Bart. of Auchinbreck. The earl d. 30 Aug. 1659, and was s. by his elder son,

CHARLES, 2nd earl. This nobleman dying unm. in 1662, the honours devolved upon his brother,

COLIN, 3rd earl. His lordship, a stanch adherent of the house of Stuart, was obliged, at the Revolution, to retire to the Continent, where he remained in exile for ten years. He obtained, at length, permission to return, but afterwards (in 1715) joining the standard of the CHEVALIER, he owed his safety to his friend the Duke of Marlborough, and the act of indemnity. His lordship m. four times; 1st, Lady Mauritia de Nassau, by whom he had no surviving issue; 2ndly, Jean, eldest dau. of David, Earl of Northesk, by whom he had a dau., Anne, Countess of Kellie; 3rdly, Jean, dau. of William, Earl of Roxburgh, and had a son, who d. unm., and a dau., Margaret, m. John, Earl of Wigton. He m. 4thly, Margaret, dau. of James, Earl of Loudoun, and was s. at his decease by his eldest son by that lady,

ALEXANDER, 4th earl, who d. s. p. 1746 when his brother,

JAMES, inherited as 5th earl. This nobleman b. 4 Nov. 1691, m. 24 Oct. 1749, Anne, dau. of Sir Robert Dalrymple, of Castleton, Knt., and had,

I. ALEXANDER, Lord Lindsay.
II. Robert, b. in 1754; m in 1788, Elizabeth, dau. of the late Sir Alex. Dick, Bart.; and d. in 1836, leaving issue,

---

* Alexander, Master of Crawford, and his brother, John Lindsay, having seized, feittered, and imprisoned their father, DAVID, 8th Earl of Crawford, were disinherited in consequence by his lordship, who assigned by deed, dated 20 Dec. 1541, with the approbation of the crown, his honours and estates to his cousin, and next male heir after these sons, Sir David Lindsay, of Edzell, (mentioned above); and the said David inherited at the earl's decease, in 1542 (the Master of Crawford and his brother having previously died, the latter issueless); but being of a generous disposition, he re-conveyed the titles and estates to David Lindsay, son of the said Master of Crawford, but with the express provision, that failing heirs male of this David's body, the estates and honours of Crawford should descend to the heirs male of Edzell. He likewise reserved to himself the title for life, with sufficient property to maintain his rank. Upon the demise, then, of Ludovic, 16th Earl of Crawford, the honours, &c., should certainly have descended to the ancestor of Lord Balcarres.

† SIR ALEXANDER LINDSAY, 4th son of David, 9th Earl of Crawford, was created by JAMES VI. a peer of parliament, by the title of LORD SPYNIE. His lordship was s. by his son,

ALEXANDER, 2nd Lord Spynie, who d. in 1646, and was s. by his only surviving son,

GEORGE, 3rd Lord Spynie. At the death of Ludovic, 14th Earl of Crawford, the representation of the family of Lindsay devolved upon this nobleman, and upon his decease, in 1672, John Lindsay, of Edzell, ancestor of the Lords Balcarres, became (as in the text) head of the ancient house of Lindsay. On the title of Spynie, the lords of session, in their return to the House of Peers, 1740, observed, that the patent of creation has not been found in the records, nor has any person sat in parliament under that title since 1689, neither has any person claimed a vote in virtue thereof at any election since the Union.

CREWE.

CREWE, BARON (Hungerford Crewe), of Crewe, co. Chester, b. 10 Aug. 1812; s. his father as 3rd lord, 4 Dec. 1835.

Lineage.

"The township of CREWE, in the parish of Barthomley, in Cheshire," says Lysons, "was, from a very early period, the seat and inheritance of the family of CRUE, or CREWE."

SIR RANDOLPH CREWE, b. 1558 (elder brother of Sir Thomas Crewe, king's serjeant, from whom sprung the Barons Crewe, of Stene, extinct in 1721), was lord chief justice of the Court of King's Bench, from 1624 to 1626. He purchased the manor of Crewe of Sir Christopher Hatton's heirs, and built Crewe Hall, which continued with his male descendants until the decease of

JOHN CREWE, Esq. in 1684, when his eldest dau. and eventually sole heir,

ANNE CREWE, succeeded. This lady m. John Offley, Esq., (whose ancestors had been settled at Madeley Manor, in Staffordshire, so far back as the beginning of the 13th century,) and her eldest son, on succeeding to the estates of his grandfather, assuming his maternal name, by act of parliament, in 1708, became

JOHN CREWE, Esq. of Crewe Hall. By Sarah Price, his wife, he left, with other issue,

JOHN, his heir,
Randulph, LL.D., rector of Barthomley and Warmincham, who m. Ann Read, and was grandfather of the present JOHN-OFFLEY CREWE-READ, Esq. of Wern, co. Flint, high-sheriff in 1839 (see BURKE'S Landed Gentry).

The eldest son,

JOHN CREWE, Esq. of Crewe Hall, represented the co. Chester in the parliaments of 1734, 1741, and 1747. He d. in 1752, leaving by his wife, Anne, dau. of Richard Shuttleworth, Esq. of the co. of Lancaster,

I. JOHN, his successor.
II. Richard, a major-gen. in the army; m. Milborough, dau. of Samuel Allpress, Esq.: and d. in 1814, leaving,

II. Elizabeth, m. to Dr. Hinchliffe, bishop of Peterborough.
III. Frances, m. to Gen. Watson, and had issue.
IV. Emma, d. unm.

The eldest son,

JOHN CREWE, Esq. of Crewe Hall, b. in 1742; returned to parliament by the co. Chester, in 1768, sat for the same shire to the year 1806, when he was elevated to the peerage as BARON CREWE, of Crewe, in Cheshire. His lordship m. in 1776, Frances-Anne, only dau. of Fulke Greville, Esq. (envoy-extraordinary, in 1776, to the Elector of Bavaria, and minister to the Diet of Ratisbon, only son of the Rev. Algernon Greville, and grandson of Fulke, 5th Lord Brooke), by whom (who d. in 1818) he had issue,

JOHN, his heir.
Emma, m. 21 April, 1809, to Foster Cunliffe-Offley, Esq., eldest son of Sir Foster Cunliffe, Bart., and became a widow in 1832. She d. 15 Feb. 1850.

Lord Crewe d. 28 April, 1829, and was s. by his son

JOHN, 2nd lord; a general officer in the army; who m. 5 May, 1807, Henrietta-Maria-Anna, only dau. of George Walker-Hungerford, Esq. of Calne, by Henrietta-Maria, his wife, dau. of John-Hungerford Keate, Esq., son of John Keate, Esq., and Frances, his wife, dau. of Sir George Hungerford, and by her (who d. 14 Jan. 1820) he had issue,

Lineage.

The family of Croft, which is of Saxon origin, settled in Herefordshire at a very remote period. Camden, in his description of that county, says "Not far off [from Richard's Castle] stands Croft Castle, belonging to the very ancient and knightly family of the Crofts;" and in Domesday-Book, Bernard de Croft is mentioned as holding the lands of Croft, which his descendants inherited until the close of the 18th century, and served their county and Leominster in Parliament during nearly six centuries, between 1307 and 1874.

From an almost uninterrupted line of knights, distinguished alike in council and in arms, descended

Sir John de Croft, Knt. of Croft Castle, co. Hereford, captain of Merk Castle, near Calais, who was requently employed in negotiations in Flanders, between 1402 and 1404. He m. Janet, dau. and co-heir of Owen ap Griffith Vychan, Lord of Glyndwrdwy, in Merionethshire, the renowned Owen Glendower, representative of the Princes of Powys, and was father of William de Croft, whose son was

Sir Richard Croft, Knt. of Croft Castle, high-sheriff and M.P. of the co. Hereford; the captor of Prince Edward, son of Henry VI., at the battle of Tewkesbury, in 1471. This gallant soldier was appointed treasurer of the household to Henry VII., and had the high honour of knight-bannoret conferred upon him at the battle of Stoke, in 1487. The direct descendant of Sir Richard,

Sir James Croft, Knt., M.P. for co. Hereford was lord-deputy of Ireland in 1552; and, subsequently, privy-councillor and comptroller of the household to Queen Elizabeth, and was s. at his decease by his grandson,

Sir Herbert Croft, Knt., M.P. for the co. Hereford, temp. Elizabeth and James I. This gentleman, espousing the doctrines of the church of Rome, in 1607, became a lay-brother of the Benedictine monastery of Douay, where he d. 10 April, 1622. He had previously married, and left four sons and two daus. Sir William, the eldest son, M.P. for Malmesbury, fell, gallantly fighting under the royal banner, at Stokesay Castle, near Ludlow, 9 June, 1645. Sir James, the 2nd son, was also an officer of rank in the royal army, as was Robert, the 4th son, and all d. without issue. The 3rd son,

Herbert Croft, was advanced, in 1662, to the bishopric of Hereford, and appointed, in 1667, dean of the chapel-royal. His lordship d. 12 May, 1691, and was s by his only son,

I. Sir Herbert Croft, M.P. for co. Hereford, who had been created a Baronet, 18 Nov. 1671. Sir Herbert m. Elizabeth (aunt of the 1st Lord Archer) dau. of Thomas Archer, Esq. of Umberslade, co. Warwick, by whom (who d. in 1709) he had,

I. Archer, his heir.
II. Francis, of London, b. in 1687; who m. Grace, dau. and heir of Thomas Bramston, Esq. of Water House, Essex, and had an only son,

Herbert, b. in 1722; who m. 1st, Elizabeth, dau. of Richard Young, Esq. of Midhurst, Sussex, and had by her, with other issue, Herbert, 5th baronet; and Richard, 6th baronet; and 2ndly, Mary, dau. of Thomas Chawner, Esq. of Sudbury Wood, co. Derby, by whom he had one dau., Elizabeth. He d. in 1785.

I. Elizabeth, m. to A. Moseley, Esq. of Enfield, co Stafford.
II. Margaret, m. to Richard Oakley, Esq. of Oakley.
III. Frances, m. to Robert Dyer, Esq.

He d. in 1720, and was s. by his eldest son,

II. Sir Archer, M.P. for Leominster, b. in 1683; who m. in 1723, Frances, dau. of Brigadier-General Waring; and dying 10 Dec. 1753, was s. by his eldest son,

III. Sir Archer. This gentleman, who disposed of Croft Castle to Thomas Johnes, Esq., m. 24 April, 1759, Elizabeth-Charlotta, 2nd dau. and co-heir of Ashley Cowper, Esq., and grand niece of William, 1st Lord Cowper, and had three daus. Charlotte, wife of James Woodcock, Esq., afterwards Croft; Frances, wife of Harry Mount, Esq., of Wasing; and Harriet, wife of Richard Ryland, Esq. At Sir Archer's decease, without male issue, 30 Nov. 1792, the title devolved upon his brother,

IV. Sir John, who d. without legitimate issue, 4 Dec. 1797, when the title reverted to his kinsman,

V. Sir Herbert, in holy orders, B.D., author of several entertaining and useful works, among them the well-known Love and Madness (grandson of Francis Croft, Esq., 2nd son of the 1st baronet); m. 1st, Sophia, dau. and co-heir of Richard Cleave, Esq., and had three daus., Sophia, who d. 19 June, 1857; Mary-Anne, who d. 17 April, 1859, and Elizabeth, also deceased. He m. 2ndly, Elizabeth, dau. of David Lewis, Esq. of Malvern Hall, co. Warwick, but by her he had no issue; Sir Herbert dying without male issue, 25 April, 1816, the title devolved upon his brother,

VI. Sir Richard, b. in 1762; who m. in 1789, Margaret, dau. of Thomas Denman, M.D., and sister of Thomas, 1st Lord Denman, by whom (who d. 4 Sept. 1847) he had,

Thomas-Elmsley, his successor.

Her Grace was lately mistress of the robes to the Queen.

Lineage of Mackenzie of Cromarty.

ANNE, Duchess of Sutherland, and Countess of Cromartie, in the descendant of the Mackenzies, Earls of Cromarty, a branch of the ancient and historic family of Mackenzie of Kintail.

SIR COLIN MACKENZIE, 11th feudal Baron of Kintail, m. Barbara, dau. of James Grant, of Grant, by whom he had four sons,

Kenneth, created Lord Mackenzie, who carried on the line of the family of Kintail, and whose son was the first of the Earls of Seaforth, an earldom attainted in 1715, again created in 1771, and extinct in 1781. The Barony of Seaforth was given by creation, in 1796, to the heir male of the family, Francis-Humberston Mackenzie, Esq., and became extinct at his death without male issue, in 1815. His eldest daughter's son is the present KEITH-WILLIAM STEWART-MACKENZIE, Esq. (see post GALLOWAY, E.).

SIR RODERICK, of whom presently.

Colin, ancestor of the MacKenzies of Kinnock.

Alexander, ancestor of the Mackenzies of Kilcoy, Barts.

The second son,

SIR RODERICK MACKENZIE, was a man of great prudence, courage, and resolution, and was instrumental in civilizing the northern parts of Scotland, which was of vast service to the nation, and so agreeable to King JAMES VI, that he conferred the honour of knighthood upon him, and gave him a grant of several lands in the north country, then in the crown by forfeiture. Sir Roderick m. Margaret, dau. of Torquill MacLeod, of Lewes, upon which he added to his armorial bearing of MacLeod, viz., or, a mountain, in flames, ppr. By this marriage he had issue,

SIR JOHN, his heir.

Kenneth MacKenzie, first of the family of Scatwell, ancestor of the present Sir James-John-Randall Mackenzie, Bart.

Colin.

Alexander, of Baloon.

Margaret, m. to Sir James MacDonald, Bart of Slate.

Sir Roderick d. 1626, and was s. by his eldest son,

I. SIR JOHN MACKENZIE, of Tarbat, who was created a baronet by CHARLES I., 21 May, 1628. He m. Margaret, dau. and coheiress of Sir George Erskine, of Innerteil, one of the Senators of the College of Justice, and brother of Thomas, Earl of Kellie, by whom he had,

GEORGE, his heir

Roderick MacKenzie, of Prestonhall, one of the Senators of the College of Justice, as Lord Prestonhall, who m. Margaret, dau. of Dr. Alexander Burnet, Archbishop of St. Andrews, by whom he had a son, Alexander MacKenzie of Fraserdale, who changed his name to Fraser, on account of his marrying Æmilia, Baroness of Lovat, by whom he had a numerous issue.

Margaret, m. 1st to Roderick MacLeod, of that ilk; and 2ndly, to Sir James Campbell, of Lawers.

Anne, m. to Hugh, Lord Lovat.

Isabel, m. to Kenneth, Earl of Seaforth.

Barbara, m. to Alexander MacKenzie, of Gairloch.

Catharine, m. to Sir Colin Campbell, of Aberuchil.

Sir John d. in 1654, and was s. by his elder son,

II. SIR GEORGE MACKENZIE, Bart. b. 1630, a man of singular endowments, great learning, well versed in Scottish laws and antiquities, and an able statesman. In 1654 he was joined in commission with General Middleton, by King CHARLES II, to raise forces for his majesty's service, which he did, and maintained a war against the English for above twelve months, but at last being defeated by General Morgan, he was forced to capitulate, which he did upon honourable terms. King CHARLES sensible of Sir George Mackenzie's loyalty and faithful services, made him, soon after the Restoration, one of the Senators of College of Justice, and a privy councillor. In 1678 MacKenzie was constituted Justice General, and in 1681 he was made lord register. Being in no less favour with JAMES II, that monarch, immediately upon his accession to the throne, created him a peer, as Viscount Tarbat, Lord MacLeod, and Lord Castle-Haven, by letters patent, dated 15 April, 1685, and renewed his commission for being lord register, which office he lost at the Revolution; but King WILLIAM being no stranger to his great abilities, was pleased to restore him to the lord register's office in 1692. About this time his lordship published, from authentic documents and records, his learned vindication of King ROBERT III from the imputation of bastardy, and rectified an error which many historians had most unaccountably fallen into. In the beginning of Queen Anne's reign he was constituted Secretary of State, in 1702; and on the 1st of January, 1703, her majesty advanced him to the dignity of Earl of Cromarty, Viscount Tarbat, Lord MacLeod, and Lord Castle-Haven, by patent to his heirs-male, and of tailzie. He was afterwards made Justice-General, which office he resigned in favour of Archibald, Earl of Isla, in 1710. The Earl of Cromartie m. 1st, Anne, dau. of Sir James Sinclair, Bart. of May, by whom he had,

JOHN, his successor.

Sir Kenneth MacKenzie, of Cromarty, created a baronet, 1704.

Sir James MacKenzie, of Royston, created a baronet, 1704, one of the Senators of the College of Justice.

Jean, m. to Sir Thomas Stewart, Bart. of Balcaskie.

Anne, m. to the Hon. Sir John Sinclair, of Muckle, brother to the Earl of Caithness, and one of the senators of the College of Justice.

The earl m. 2ndly, Margaret, Countess Dowager of Wemyss, by whom he had no issue. His lordship d. 17 Aug. 1714, in the 84th year of his age, and was s. by his eldest son,

JOHN, 2nd Earl of Cromarty, who m. 1st, 1685, Lady Elizabeth Gordon, dau. of Charles, Earl of Aboyne, by whom he had no issue; he m. 2ndly, Mary Murray, dau. of Alexander, Lord Elibank, by whom he had,

GEORGE, his successor.

Captain Roderick, who went into the navy, was in the fleet in the Bay of Gibraltar, 1726, and obtained leave of his captain to join the land forces that were thrown into that garrison, where he remained during the siege; he soon got a pair of colours, and some time after a lieutenancy in the royal dragoons; in 1740 he was appointed a captain of foot, and in 1745 was sent, with a detachment from Ireland to join the British army then in Flanders, and always behaved with distinction: but the regiment in which he was eldest captain was reduced at the peace of Aix la Chapelle. He m. and had issue.

William, who likewise adopted a military career, and was first in the service of the states of Holland, in the Scotch brigade, and afterwards accepted of a commission in the East India Company's military service in 1737, and went with a naval armament against Angria, where he and the whole expedition perished in a violent hurricane.

Patrick, who being bred to the sea, acquired a considerable fortune in the mercantile shipping affairs.

Mary, d. young.

Anne.

The earl m. 3rdly, Anne, dau. of Hugh, Lord Lovat, by whom he had,

James, who d. young.
Norman, who was an officer in the Scotch Dutch, and perished at sea, going from Scotland to Holland with recruits.
Hugh, also an officer in the Scotch Dutch; in 1757 he raised a company in Montgomery's battalion of Highlanders, and was the eldest captain in that regiment in America.
Æmilia, m. to Archibald Lawmont, Esq. of that ilk, and has issue.

The earl d. 1731, and was s. by his eldest son,

GEORGE, 3rd Earl of Cromartie, who, joining the rising of 1745, collected about four hundred of his clan, who were with him at the battle of Falkirk, and, after their retreat to the north, he, with his son Lord MacLeod, was surprised and taken by a party of Lord Sutherland's militia at Dunrobin Castle, 15 April, 1746. He and his son were sent prisoners to Inverness, and from thence to London, where the earl was confined in the Tower, tried by his peers, found guilty of high treason, and sentenced to death, and his estates and honours were forfeited to the crown; but he afterwards got a remission for his life. He m. Isabel, dau. of Sir William Gordon, of Ivergordon, Bart., by whom he left, at his decease, 28 Sept. 1766, issue,

JOHN, LORD MACLEOD, who was convicted of high treason, but was pardoned, and went, with leave of the British Government, into the (military) service of Sweden, and was aide-de-camp to his Swedish majesty, and by him created Count Cromarty. He returned in 1777, raised two battalions of Highlanders, and became col. of the 71st foot, with which he served in India with the local rank of major-general. On coming from America in 1784 his forfeited estates were restored to him. He m. Margery, eldest dau. of James, 16th Lord Forbes, and d. s. p. 2 April, 1789. His widow m. John, 4th Duke of Atholl.
George, an officer in the British army, and lieut.-col. 71st foot; d. unm. 4 June, 1787.
ISABELLA, m. to George Murray, 6th Lord Elibank. Her ladyship inherited the estates of the Cromarty family in 1796, and d. 28 Dec. 1801, leaving (with a younger dau., Isabella) a dau.,

MARIA, m. to EDWARD HAY, Esq. (brother of the 7th Marquess of Tweeddale, see post that title) who thereupon assumed the additional surname and arms of MACKENZIE, and of whom presently.

V. Violet-Jessie, b. 11 March, 1876.

Sir William claims the Earldom of GLENCAIRN, as lineal male descendant of William, 2nd earl.

Lineage.

Van Bassen, in his History of the Kings of Scotland, states that this family is descended from one Malcolm, son of Freskin, who, when Prince MALCOLM fled from MACBETH, towards England, after the murder of King DUNCAN, concealed the prince from his pursuers, by forking hay or straw over him; and for this service, King MALCOLM, after his restoration, conferred the thanedom of Cuninghame upon his preserver.

VERNEBALD, the first of this family whose name appears in authentic record, was settled in the west of Scotland about the commencement of the 12th century. His son, ROBERT, designated "Robertus filius Vernebaldi," made a donation of he patronage of the kirk of Kilmaurs, &c., to the abbey of Kelso, about 1153. He m. Richenda, dau. and heiress of Sir Humphry de Barclay, of Gairntully.

ROBERTUS, filius Roberti filii Vernebaldi, previous to 1198, confirmed the grants made by his father.

HERVEY DE CUNYNGHAME, great grandson of the late Robert, represented the family about 1264, in which year he had a charter from ALEXANDER III. He founded a collegiate church at Kilmaurs, and is renowned in tradition for his gallant conduct at the battle of Largs, against the Danes, 1263. He m. the heiress of Riddell of Glengarnock, and was s. by his son,

SIR WILLIAM DE CUNYNGHAME, of Kilmaurs, who d. in 1285, and was s. by his eldest son,

EDWARD DE CUNYNGHAME, of Kilmaurs, who was s. by his eldest son,

GILBERT DE CUNYNGHAME, of Kilmaurs, who was s. in 1292 by his son,

SIR ROBERT DE CUNYNGHAME, of Kilmaurs, who swore fealty to EDWARD I.; but declaring afterwards for ROBERT BRUCE, had a charter from that monarch of the superiority of the lands of Lambrachtoun and Grugere, in Cunninghame, to be holden of the king, as Alan la Suche and William de Fereres held the same. He d. in 1330, and was s. by his eldest son,

SIR WILLIAM DE CUNYNGHAME, of Kilmaurs, on whom DAVID II. conferred the Earldom of Carrick, 1361, as husband of Eleanor Bruce, dau. of Alexander Bruce, Earl of Carrick, son of Edward Bruce, brother of ROBERT I.*

As appears from a charter of the lands of Kincleven, Sir William was married, 2ndly, to a lady, by name Margaret, but of what family is not known. Though generally stated otherwise, it would seem that by Eleanor Bruce, Sir William had five sons,* Robert, the eldest, died young. The second

SIR WILLIAM CUNYNGHAME, succeeded his father about the end of the century. Of date 1400, he resigned his estates for new enfeoffment, and obtained a charter from ROBERT III. to Sir William and his heirs male, failing whom, to his brothers, Thomas, Alexander, and John, in succession, and their heirs male, failing whom, to other near relatives of the name of Cunynghame, &c., of the lands and baronies, Kilmaurs, Lambrachton, Kilbryde, Skelmorlie, and Polquharne, co. Ayr; lands and barony of Redhall, co. Edinburgh; lands of Nevy, in Forfarshire; the barony of Hassingden, in Roxburghshire; and the lands of Ranfurley, in the barony of Renfrew. Sir William m. the eldest dau. and co-heiress of Sir Robert de Danyelston, and with her obtained a large addition to the family property. The division between the co-heiresses took place in 1404, and in Sir William's share were included the baronies of Glencairne and Fynlayston.

SIR ROBERT CUNYNGHAME, of Kilmaurs, son of the preceding, succeeded. He was one of the jury who tried and condemned Murdach, Duke of Albany, in the reign of JAMES I. By his wife, Anne, only dau. of Sir John de Montgomery, of Ardrossan, he had his successor,

ALEXANDER CUNYNGHAME, who about 1450 was created Lord Kilmaurs, and for the strenuous support given to his sovereign against the rebel nobles, headed by the prince, he was raised to the dignity of an earl, with the title of GLENCAIRN, 28 May, 1488. A few days after, a battle took place between the hostile parties near Stirling, where the royal army was defeated, and where the king and newly-created earl were both slain. The rebel party having thus come into power, the parliament was convoked, and an act passed, annulling all grants of peerages or lands conferred by JAMES III. during the late struggle. Amongst these was included the title of Glencairn.

* Edward Bruce, brother of ROBERT I. of Scotland, had a charter of the family earldom of Carrick to himself and heirs male, failing whom, to revert to the crown. By Lady Isabel Ross, daughter of the Earl of Ross, he had three sons, Robert, Thomas, Alexander, generally said to have been illegitimate. The fact, however, that all these in succession inherited the earldom, under the charter alluded to above, is convincing proof that they were legitimate according to Scottish law. As a dispensation from the Pope is on record permitting the marriage—"Edwarde de Brus, comitis de Carryk, et Isabellæ de Ross," &c.—notwithstanding the parties being within the proscribed degree of consanguinity, it is not improbable there had been a marriage between the parents dissolved for a time by the church, as was a common practice in those days, and afterwards rendered valid by the dispensation of the Pope.

Of these three Earls of Carrick, two fell in battle, and the third died a prisoner in England. Only one was married; he espoused Eleanor, sister of the potent Earl of Douglas, and had an only child, named Eleanor (who married Sir William Cunynghame, of Kilmaurs). The heirs male of Edward Bruce having thus failed, the earldom of Carrick ought to have reverted to the crown, in terms of the charter; but exception seems to have been made in favour of his granddaughter, his only existing descendant; and, according to the custom of the time, her husband became Earl of Carrick. The charter in his favour is on record, and singularly incomplete, as if there had been a doubt as to the propriety of the grant:—"David D. G. Rex Scottorum. sciatis nos dedisse concessisse et hac presenti cartâ confirmasse dilecto consanguineo nostro Willielmo de Cuninghame militi totum comitatum de Carryk." Without date; the charters immediately preceding and following on the record are dated at Aberdeen, 12th Sept. 1361. No mention being made of heirs, it was clearly intended the earldom should revert to the elder branch of the Bruce family. Indeed, after Lady Eleanor's death, it was re-assumed by ROBERT II., and soon after conferred on his eldest son, JOHN, during Sir William's lifetime.

* It is a question who was mother of Sir William Cuninghame's successor, and other sons. The fact that the earldom did not descend in his family seems to have led to some misapprehension on this point amongst genealogists, who have generally stated that they were not sons of Lady Eleanor Bruce, but the offspring of a previous marriage. None, however, have attempted to give the name of the lady, nor is there a shadow of evidence to support their statements; on the contrary, the charters alluded to above prove that the second marriage took place after Lady Eleanor's death. The names of the sons alone would seem sufficient to indicate their maternal descent. The eldest was called Robert; the third and fourth, Thomas and Alexander; which were the names of Edward Bruce's sons. The second son was William, not improbably named after the Earl of Douglas, Eleanor Bruce's uncle, and the youngest John, possibly after John Stewart, (afterwards king, as ROBERT III.,) also a near relative. The eldest son, Robert, died young; the second, William, was a knight so early as 1384, and distinguished from his father by the word "filius," in various documents, between that date and 1397, which prove the father was then alive. His death must have taken place after that, and previous to 1400.

ROBERT CUNYNGHAME, 2nd Earl of Glencairn, eldest son of Alexander, by Margaret, dau. of Lord Hales, sat in parliament under the act of forfeiture as Lord Kilmaurs. He m. Christian, dau. of the Lord Lindsay, of Byres. Their son,

CUTHBERT CUNYNGHAME, succeeded about 1492, and sat in parliament as 3rd Lord Kilmaurs, but had sufficient influence at court to obtain a confirmation of the title of Glencairn, which he obtained at the marriage of JAMES IV. with MARGARET, dau. of HENRY VII. of England, 1503. Cuthbert m. Lady Mary Douglas, dau. of Archibald, 5th Earl of Angus, by whom he had a son,

WILLIAM, 2nd Earl of Glencairn (commonly called 4th earl by peerage writers). He was twice m.; 1st to Catherine Borthwick, dau. of Lord Borthwick; and 2ndly, to Elizabeth Campbell, of West London. He had five sons, 1st, Alexander, who succeeded as Earl of Glencairn, and whose male descendants failed in 1796; and 2nd,

ANDREW CUNINGHAME, who was first of the house of Corshill. In the year 1532, his father made the original grant by charter, in his favour, of the lands of Dowera, Potterton, Robertland, Cuttiswray, and Clerkland, which grant, including the two Corshills, was afterwards confirmed to him and his wife, Margaret Cuninghame (of the family of Polmaise), by royal charters, dated 4 May, 1537, and 4 Jan. 1538. Like his elder brother, Alexander, 5th Earl of Glencairn, Andrew was actively engaged in support of the Reformation, and being convicted of heresy before the lords spiritual in 1538, had his estate forfeited. However, he was afterwards pardoned, and his property restored; in confirmation of which he obtained another grant by charter from the king, of the same lands, in favour of himself, his spouse, and their heirs male. Upon the death of Andrew, in 1545, his eldest son,

CUTHBERT CUNINGHAME, succeeded, as appears by an instrument of sasine in his favour, of that date. After his marriage with Mauld Cuninghame (dau. of Cuninghame of Aitket), Cuthbert resigned his estate into the hands of the sovereign, for new enfeoffment, and thereupon obtained a charter from HENRY and MARY, to himself, his spouse, and their heirs. He died 1575, and left two sons, Patrick and ALEXANDER, who were for some time under the guardianship of their grand-uncle, Hugh Cuninghame, of Watterston; and two daus., Joan and Margaret. About this time the long-continued feud between the Cunynghames and Montgomeries appears to have been at its height, in which feud the eldest son, Patrick, was slain.

ALEXANDER CUNINGHAME, successor of his brother, m. Marion Porterfield, dau. of Porterfield of Duchal, by whom he had two sons, ALEXANDER; and David, of Dalbeith, m. Margaret Cuninghame, and had issue; and three daus., Jean, m. to Cuninghame of Aitket; Eleanor, m. to John Craufurd, of Craufurdland; and Janet, m. to Blair of Adamton. The eldest son,

ALEXANDER CUNINGHAME, s. his father in May, 1546. By his wife, Mary Houston (of the family of Houston of that ilk), he had two sons, ALEXANDER and Cuthbert; and two daus., Elizabeth, m. to James Dunlop, of Dunlop; and Margaret, m. to James Stewart, of Torrance. The eldest son, Alexander, predeceased his father, leaving by his wife, Anne Craufurd (of the Kilbirny family), an only son,

I. ALEXANDER CUNINGHAME, on whom, and his affianced wife, his grandfather settled his estate by disposition and charter, reserving to himself the life-rent. Alexander Cuninghame, senior, d. about the year 1667, and his grandson obtained a charter from the crown in favour of himself and spouse and their heirs, in confirmation of the disposition made by his grandfather; and, 26 Feb. 1672, the dignity of a Baronet by diploma was conferred on him and the heirs male of his body. By his wife, Mary Stewart, dau. of John Stewart, younger, of Blackhall, he left a son, ALEXANDER; and two daus., Mary, m. to Craufurd of Dalegle; and Elizabeth. His son,

II. SIR ALEXANDER, s. in March, 1685, and m. in 1686, Margaret Boyle, sister of David, 1st Earl of Glasgow, by whom he had a dau., Jean; and an only son, CUNLIFFE.

CUNLIFFE, SIR ROBERT-ALFRED, Bart. of Liverpool, co. Lancaster, J.P., D.L., and high sheriff of Denbighshire in 1868, and late M.P. for Flint, late captain in Scots fusilier guards, lieut.-col. commanding Denbighshire militia, b. 17 Jan. 1839; s. his grandfather as 5th baronet, 10 Sept. 1859; m. 5 Aug. 1869, Eleanor-Sophia-Egerton, dau. of Col. Egerton Leigh, M.P., of West Hall, High Leigh, and Jodrell Hall, Cheshire, and has issue,

I. FOSTER-HUGH-EGERTON, b. 17 Aug. 1875.
I. Violet-Eleanor, b. 4 July, 1876; d. 15 Feb. 1878.
II. Mary-Evelyn, b. 21 Nov. 1878.

Lineage.

The Cunliffes claim Saxon origin; and it appears from the Rolls of Clitheroe Castle that they were seated in Lancashire from a very early period,

ADAM DE CONLIVE, living 2nd EDWARD I., was in possession of the estate of Cunliffe, near Billington, which was held by his descendants till the Wars of the Roses, but lost during the reign of HENRY VII.

ROBERT CUNLIFFE was seated, 2 ELIZABETH, at Hollins, in Lancashire. His son,

HENRY CUNLIFFE, of Hollins, m. the dau. and heiress of Wood, of Woodhead, and had two sons, NICHOLAS, his heir; and Richard, Knight of Windsor, who d. unm. The eldest son,

NICHOLAS CUNLIFFE, of Hollins, m. a dau. of Hyndle, and was father of

NICHOLAS CUNLIFFE, of Hollins, who, together with his brother, Robert, one of the representatives for Lancashire in 1653, sided with the Parliament during the civil wars. He m. the dau. and heiress of Hartley, of Wycollar Hall, and was s. by his son,

JOHN CUNLIFFE, Esq., of Hollins, who m. 1st, a dau. of Hartley, of Winewall, and 2ndly, Mary, dau. of Ralph Cheatham, of Castleton. Being opposed to CROMWELL's measures, he had his estate sequestered and a garrison placed in his house at Hollins; but having previously been engaged on the Parliamentary side, he afterwards received a pardon under the great seal from CHARLES II. His eldest son and heir, NICHOLAS, m. the dau. and coheiress of Foster of Airton, and from him descended the CUNLIFFES of Wycollar, now extinct.

ELLIS CUNLIFFE, a younger son of Nicholas, became rector of Newmarket and Etwall. He m. the eldest dau. and coheiress of Foster, of Airton, and was father of

FOSTER CUNLIFFE, Esq. (a godson of CHARLES II.), who became a merchant in Liverpool, and was M.P. for that town. He m. Margaret, dau. of Robert Carter, Esq. of Lancashire, and left two sons, the elder of whom,

I. SIR ELLIS CUNLIFFE, Knt., M.P. for Liverpool, was created a Baronet 26 March, 1759, with remainder, in default of his own male issue, to his brother, Robert Cunliffe, Esq. Sir Ellis m. Mary, dau. of Henry Benuet, Esq. of Moston, co. Chester, by whom he had two daus.,

Mary, m. to Sir Drummond Smith, of Tring Park, Hertfordshire; and d. 27 Feb. 1804.
Margaret-Elizabeth, m. to William Gosling, Esq. of Roehampton Grove.

He d. in Oct. 1767, and was s. by his brother,

CUNYNGHAM.

DICK-CUNYNGHAM, SIR ROBERT-KEITH-ALEXANDER, of Prestonfield, co. Edinburgh, and of Lambrughton, co. Ayr, late lieut. 93rd highlanders, in which he served at the siege of Lucknow and in eight other engagements in India in 1857 and 1858; was severely wounded in the action at Khujwah, 1 Nov. 1857, and has received the Indian medal with one clasp; b. 21 Dec. 1836; s. his father 20 Feb. 1871; m. 30 March, 1864, Sarah-Mary, only dau. of the late William Hetherington, Esq. of Birkenhead, Cheshire, and by her has issue,

I. WILLIAM, b. 20 Feb. 1871.
II. Robert-Henry, b. 26 Sept. 1875.
III. James-Keith, b. 28 March, 1877.
I. Georgina-Maud-Mary, b. 6 Feb. 1866.
II. Wilhelmina-Susan, b. 30 March, 1868.
III. Charlotte-Alice, b. 2 Aug. 1873.

Sir Robert is 9th Bart., Dick of Prestonfield; and 7th Bart., Cunyngham of Lambrughton.

Lineage.

The surname of DICK is one of very great antiquity in North Britain, and it is supposed to have had the same origin as VAN DYKE (or Lord of the Dykes) in the Low Countries.

WILLIAM DE DYCK was alderman, or first magistrate, of Edinburgh, 1296, before the institution of the office of lord-provost, and from him descended

JAMES DICK, who was designated in a charter under the great seal, dated Jan. 1539, "Merchant-Burgess of Arbroath;" this James left a son,

ALEXANDER DICK, who resided chiefly upon his landed property in the Orkneys; and after the Reformation, being a person of knowledge and learning, was appointed provost of the cathedral church of Orkney. He d. in 1580, and was s. by his only son,

JOHN DICK, a merchant of great eminence, who m. Margaret, dau. of Sir Lewis Stewart, of Kirkhill, was s. by an only son,

SIR WILLIAM DICK, who m. Elizabeth, dau. of Sir John Morrison, of Preston Grange. This gentleman, adopting from his youth the profession of commerce, became one of the most eminent bankers in Scotland, and acquired considerable wealth, even before the decease of his father, which appears by his advancing to the king £6000 sterling, to defray the household expenses when his majesty held a parliament in Scotland, in 1618. In 1628, he farmed the customs on wine, at £6222 sterling, and the crown rents in Orkney, at £3000 sterling per annum, and afterwards the excise. Mr. Dick, was elected lord-provost of Edinburgh in 1638 and 1639; and after receiving the honour of knighthood in 1646, was created a Baronet of Nova Scotia. Sir William was fined by the parliamentarians, as a malignant, in no less a sum than £64,934; and afterwards coming to London to demand payment of moneys he had previously advanced upon government security, he was thrown into prison by the usurper CROMWELL, and d. at Westminster, 19 Dec. 1655, when the baronetcy passed to his grandson, but was not, we believe, assumed by that gentleman. The 4th son of Sir William,

ALEXANDER DICK, had already received from his father, in patrimony, the lands of Heug, near North Berwick. He m. in 1641, Helen, dau. of Sir James Rocheid, of Inverleith, and was s. at his decease by his elder son,

I. JAMES DICK, b. in Nov. 1643, a merchant of great eminence and wealth in Edinburgh, who, having purchased the lands of Priestfield, or Prestonfield, was created a Baronet of Nova Scotia, 2 March, 1677, under the title of Sir James Dick, of Prestonfield. Sir James came from London, in 1682, with the Duke of York, and was with his royal highness in the "Gloucester" man-of-war, when that vessel struck upon a sand-bank. He was one of the few who took to the long-boat, (the prince and Mr. Churchill, afterwards the Great Duke of Marlborough, effecting their escape in another boat,) and so saved his life, whilst several persons of the first rank who remained in the ship perished. In the same year that he had this miraculous escape, Sir James was elected lord-provost of Edinburgh, and again in 1683. During his provostship the students and mob of Edinburgh burnt the house of Prestonfield, while Sir James was attending the Duke of York at Holyrood. He m. in 1665, Anna, dau. of William Paterson, Esq. of Drumure, co. Fife, by whom (who d. in 1710) he had several children, but none to attain maturity, save one, Janet, who m. Sir William Cunyngham, Bart. of Caprington. Sir James being thus deprived of male issue, made an entail of his estates of Prestonfield and Corstorphine, in 1699, "to himself and the heirs male of his body; which failing, to the second and younger sons successively, of his dau. Janet, by the said Sir William Cunyngham," &c. He also got a Nova Scotia Baronetcy from Queen ANNE, 22 March, 1707, settling the dignity to go according to the entail of his estate. Sir James d. in 1728, and was s. in his estates by his aforesaid dau., and in the baronetcy by her son.

II. SIR WILLIAM, b. 12 June, 1701, who m. Anne, dau. of the Hon. Sir James Mackenzie, and d. s. p. 14 Jan. 1746, when he was s. by his brother,

III. SIR ALEXANDER DICK, (paternally Cunyngham,) of Prestonfield, b. Oct. 1703. This gentleman, previously to the decease his brother, had studied medicine, and practised with great repute in the county of Pembroke, as Doctor Alexander Cunyngham. In the year 1756, he was unanimously chosen president of the royal college of Edinburgh; and for seven years afterwards successively had the same high honour conferred upon him: at his retirement, the fellows, as a testimony of the sense which they had entertained of his eminent services, hung up a portrait of the ex-president in their hall, a mark of distinction never previously bestowed on any member whatsoever. Sir Alexander m. 1st, in 1736, his cousin, Janet, dau. of Alexander Dick, Esq. by whom he had three daus.; and 2ndly, in 1762, Mary, eldest dau. of David Butler, Esq. of co. Pembroke, by whom he had three sons and three daus. viz.,

WILLIAM, his successor.
JOHN, who s. his nephew.
ROBERT-KEITH, who s. his brother.
Elizabeth, m. in 1788, to the Hon. Robert Lindsay, and had issue.
Mary, m. in 1789, to Alexander Pringle, Esq. of Whytbank, Selkirkshire, and had issue.
Margaret, m. in 1793, to James Stark, Esq. of Kingsdale, co. Fife, and d. his widow, 21 July, 1846, having had three daus.

Sir Alexander d. 10 Nov. 1785, and was s. by his eldest son,

IV. SIR WILLIAM, capt. in the guards, b. 1763; who m. Miss Johannah Douglas, heir of Garwaldfoot, co. Peebles, by whom he left one son and four daus.: 1 Mary, m. to the Rev. David Wauchop, 2nd son of John Wauchop, Esq. of Edmondstone, and had an only child, who d. an infant; 2 Anne, m. to John Smith, Esq. W.S. (who took the name of Cuninghame,) and had (with two daus.) THOMAS-SMITH CUNINGHAME, Esq. of Caprington Castle, co. Ayr, who d. unm. 30 June, 1857; and WILLIAM-CATHCART-SMITH CUNINGHAME, now of Caprington Castle, who m. 3 Aug. 1847, Maria, dau. of James Anstruther, Esq. and has John-Anstruther, lieut. 2nd life guards, and other issue; 3 Agnes-Joanna, m. to Alex. Pringle, Esq. of Whytbank; 4 Elizabeth, m. to Lieut.-Gen. Sir Duncan MacGregor, K.C.B., inspector-general of police in Ireland, and d. 9 March, 1858. The baronet d. 19 Nov. 1796, and was s. by his son,

V. SIR ALEXANDER; at whose decease, unm. 2 June, 1808, the titled reverted to his uncle,

VI. SIR JOHN, b. June, 1767, who d. in 1812, and was s. by his brother,

VII. SIR ROBERT-KEITH, b. 14 April, 1773, of the H.E.I.C.S., Bengal, who inherited the Baronetcy of Prestonfield, as 7th baronet, at the decease of his brother, 14 Dec. 1812; and s. to the Baronetcy of Caprington, as 5th baronet, on the demise of his cousin-german, Sir William Cunyngham, in Jan. 1829. Sir Robert m. 15 May, 1807, Harriet, 3rd dau. of Thomas Hanmer, Esq. of Stapleton, co. Gloucester, by whom (who d. 27 Jan. 1858) he had issue,

WILLIAM-HANMER, 8th bart.
Alexander-Thomas, b. 2 July, 1810; in the Hon. East India Company's civil service at Bengal; d. 24 Dec. 1848.
Henry-Lindsay, b. 17 Sept. 1811; formerly in the H.E.I.C.'s civil service at Bengal; m. his cousin, Harriet, 3rd dau. of the late James Stark, Esq. of Kingsdale, co. Fife, and d. 2 Oct. 1875.
Robert-Keith, b. 16 Nov. 1815; d. unm. 9 Oct. 1852.
James-Edward, b. 20 Feb. 1819; d. unm. in Oct. 1853.
Mary-Ann.

Family of Cunningham of Caprington.

This family is of very great antiquity in North Britain. According to Camden, the Cunynghames came originally into Scotland from England, with King MALCOLM CANMORE; and he is probably correct, for we find them settled in the shire of Ayr very soon after the time of that monarch, Frederick Van Bussan, a learned Norwegian, who wrote an account of several Scottish families, says, that one Malcolm, son of Freskin, assisted MALCOLM, prince of Scotland (afterwards King MALCOLM CANMORE), to make his escape from the tyranny of MACBETH, who had murdered his father DUNCAN; and being hotly pursued, he took shelter in a barn, where Malcolm concealed the prince, by forking straw over him. The prince eventually made his escape into England, still attended by his faithful Malcolm. Prince MALCOLM was no sooner in possession of his kingdom, after his victory over MACBETH, than he rewarded his preserver by the thanedom of Cunynghame, from which his posterity assumed their surnames, and took a sheaf-fork for their arms, with "Over fork over," for their motto.

GILBERT CUNINGHAME, of Kilmaurs, who was s. in 1292, by his son,

SIR ROBERT CUNINGHAME, of Kilmaurs, who swore fealty to EDWARD I.; but declaring afterwards for ROBERT BRUCE, had a charter from that monarch of the superiority of the lands of Lambrachtoun and Grugere, in Cunninghame, to be holden of the king, as Alan la Suche and William de Fereres held the same. He d. in 1330, and was s. by his elder son,

SIR WILLIAM CUNINGHAME, of Kilmaurs, who had, by his first wife,

WILLIAM (Sir), continuator of the line of Kilmaurs, and grandfather of ALEXANDER CUNNINGHAM, of Kilmaurs, who was created EARL OF GLENCAIRN, in May, 1488, and fell the next month at Bannockburn.

THOMAS, of whom presently.

Sir William m. 2ndly, ELEANOR BRUCE, Countess of Carrick, and was created, in her right, Earl of Carrick; by this lady he appears to have had no issue; and upon his lordship's decease, the Earldom of Carrick reverted to the crown. His 2nd son,

THOMAS CUNINGHAM, was of Braidhead; and dying in 1385, was s. by his son,

Sir Frederick was appointed Secretary to the Government of India in 1842, and accompanied Lord Hardinge in the campaign of 1845-6. The governor-general, in his dispatch to the Secret Committee, dated Camp, Ferozepore, 31 Dec. 1845, writes—"I owe great obligations to the chief secretary to the Government, Frederick Currie, Esq. who has, during all the various and sometimes conflicting duties in which I have been engaged, given me his sound advice and active aid, sometimes accompanying me in the field, and at all times evincing the coolest judgment, and exhibiting the resources of his experience to the great advantage of the Company's service." Sir Frederick's services are again acknowledged in the general order, in Feb. 1846, and he was afterwards deputed to conduct the Maharajah Dhuleep Singh in state to his palace in the citadel of Lahore, and to arrange the treaty of Umritsir. He was appointed member of the Supreme Council of India in Nov. 1846, and created a Baronet, 17 Dec. following; he was also a member of the Indian Council. DACRE.

DACRE, BARON (Thomas-Crosbie-William Trevor), lord-lieut. of Essex; b. in 1808; m. 12 Jan. 1837, Susan-Sophia, eldest dau. of Charles-Compton, 1st Lord Chesham. He s. his father, 2 June, 1853, as 22nd Baron Dacre, and represents a branch of the eminent house of VAUX (see BURKE'S Extinct Peerage). He is also co-heir to the BARONY OF FITZHUGH. His lordship (then the Hon. T.-C. Brand) was, by royal licence dated 12 April, 1851, authorised to take the surname of TREVOR only, and to bear the arms of Trevor.

Lineage.

The Barony of Dacre was originally in the family of VAUX, whereof three brothers settled in England, at the Conquest, viz., Hubert, Ranulph, and Robert. Of these,

HUBERT had the barony of Gillesland granted to him by his kinsman, Ranulph de Meschines, on whom WILLIAM had conferred the whole co. of Cumberland. This Hubert was s. by his son,

ROBERT DE VALLIBUS, who founded the priory of Pentney, in Normandy, and the abbey of Lanercost, in Cumberland, and was sheriff of Cumberland and governor of Carlisle, temp. HENRY II. This Robert was not only a person of great valour, but also well learned in the laws of the land, and went justice-itinerant into Cumberland in the 24th year of the same monarch. Dying without issue, the feudal barony devolved upon his brother,

RANULPH DE VALLIBUS, or VAUX, whose great-granddau. and heir,

MAUD, m. Thomas de Moulton, temp. HENRY III., and conveyed the barony of Gillesland to the family of her husband. The great-grandson of this marriage,

THOMAS DE MOULTON, was summoned to parliament in the reigns of EDWARD I. and EDWARD II. He left at his decease an only dau. and heir,

MARGARET DE MOULTON, who married

RANULPH DE DACRE, one of the most distinguished persons in those parts, as well on account of his valour as a soldier, as his illustrious birth, being descended from William de Dacre, sheriff of Cumberland and governor of Carlisle, in the reign of HENRY III. He was summoned to parliament, in right of his wife, from 15 May (14 EDW. II.), 1321, to 15 Nov. (12 EDW. III.), 1338, in which latter year he died, and was s. by his eldest son,

WILLIAM, 2nd Baron Dacre, who was s. by his brother,

RANULPH, 3rd Baron Dacre, who was likewise s. by a brother.

HUGH, 4th Baron Dacre. This nobleman m. Ela, dau. of Sir Alexander Maxwell, Lord of Caerlaverock; and dying in the 7th of RICHARD II., was s. by his son,

WILLIAM, 5th baron; who m. Joan, dau. of James, 1st Earl Douglas, and was s. by his son,

THOMAS, 6th baron, summoned to parliament from 1 Dec. (14 HENRY IV.) 1412, to 26 May (33 HENRY VI.), 1455, as Thomas, Lord Dacre, of Gillesland. This nobleman, who was chief forester of Inglewood, in Cumberland, m. Philippa, dau. of Ralph Nevil, Earl of Westmoreland, and had issue, THOMAS, Ranulph, Humphrey, and Joan. Thomas, the eldest son, m. Elizabeth, dau. and heir of Richard Bowes, and dying before his father, left an only dau. and heir, JOANE; which

JOANE DACRE s. her grandfather in 1547; and marrying

SIR RICHARD FIENES, carried the barony into that family. Sir Richard was summoned to parliament from 9 Oct. (38 HENRY VI.) 1459, to 15 Nov. (22 EDWARD IV.) 1482. He was constable of the Tower of London, lord-chamberlain to the queen-consort of EDWARD IV., and a privy-councillor. His lordship and his lady had great contests and disputes with Sir Humphrey Dacre, her ladyship's uncle, and the male heir of the family, concerning the lordships, manors, &c., of the late lord, which litigation was finally adjusted by the arbitration of EDWARD IV. That monarch, after hearing the cause, confirmed to Sir Richard and the Lady Joane, the same place and precedence that her grandfather had and enjoyed; and also decreed to them certain lordships in Lancashire and Lincolnshire; but Gillesland, the ancient and capital seat of the Vauxes, and of all the barons their descendants, was adjudged, together with the best of the estates in Cumberland, to Sir Humphrey Dacre. It was provided, however, in case of failure of heirs male of Sir Humphrey, that the whole estate should go to Lady Joane and her heirs. At the same time, Sir Humphrey Dacre was created LORD DACRE, of Gillesland, with place next beneath Sir Richard Fienes (who was simply styled LORD DACRE) and his lady. Sir Richard's descendants were distinguished as Lords Dacre of the South, and those of Sir Humphrey, Lords Dacre of the North. (For details, see BURKE'S Extinct Peerage.) Sir Richard Fienes, Lord Dacre, d. in 1484, and was s. by his grandson,

THOMAS, 8th Baron Dacre (son of Sir Thomas Fienes and his wife, Alice, eldest dau. and co-heir of Henry, Lord Fitz Hugh). This nobleman was made a knight of the Bath at the creation of Henry, 2nd son of HENRY VII., Duke of York. His lordship m. Anne, dau. of Sir Humphrey Bourchier, son of John Bourchier, Lord Berners; and dying in 1534, was s. by his grandson,

THOMAS, 9th baron (son of Sir Thomas Fienes, by Jane, dau. of Edward Sutton, Lord Dudley). This nobleman was high in favour at the court of HENRY VIII.; but going, with other young men, one night, from Hurstmonceux, to steal a deer out of his neighbour Sir Nicholas Pelham's park (a frolic not unusual in those days), a fray ensued between some of his party and the park-keepers, in which one of the latter received an unlucky blow, that caused his death in a few days afterwards; and although Lord Dacre was not himself present on the spot, but in a distant part of the park, he was nevertheless tried, convicted, and executed for the murder, in 1541, when his honours became forfeited. In 1562, however, those honours were restored to his son and heir (by Mary, dau. of George Nevill, Lord Abergavenny),

GREGORY FIENES, as 10th baron; who was summoned to parliament in 1573. This nobleman d. in 1594, without issue, when his sister,

MARGARET, the wife of Sampson Lennard, Esq., claimed the barony, and was allowed it in 1604. Her ladyship d. in 1611, and was s. by her eldest son,

HENRY LENNARD, as 12th Lord Dacre; who m. Chrisogona, dau. of Sir Richard Baker, of Sissenhurst, in Kent; and dying in 1616, was s. by his only son,

RICHARD LENNARD, 13th Lord Dacre. This nobleman rebuilt his seat at Chevening, after a plan of Inigo Jones. His lordship m. 1st, Elizabeth, dau. and co-heir of Sir Arthur Throckmorton, of Pauler's Perry, co. Northampton, by whom he had (with other issue),

I. FRANCIS, his successor.

He m. 2ndly, Dorothy, dau. of Dudley, Lord North, and by her had a son,

II. RICHARD, who had the manor of Horsford, in Norfolk, settled upon him by his father; and he subsequently assumed the name of BARRETT, in consequence of the bequest of Sir Edward Barrett, Lord Newburgh, to him, of the manor of Belhouse, and other lands in Essex. He m. Anne, dau. and heiress of Sir Robert Loftus, Knt., and granddau. of Adam, Viscount Loftus, of Ely, lord chancellor of Ireland, and was s. at his decease, in 1696, by his son,

DACRE-BARRETT-LENNARD, who m. Lady Jane Chichester, dau. of Arthur, 2nd Earl of Donegal, and had a son,

Richard, 13th Lord Dacre, d. 18 Aug. 1630, and was s. by his eldest son,

FRANCIS, 14th baron. This nobleman, during the civil wars, took the side of the parliament, but opposed the proceedings against the king personally. His lordship m. Elizabeth, dau. and eventually co-heir of Paul, 1st Viscount Bayning, by whom he had three sons and three daus. Lord Dacre, on the decease of Ranulph Dacre, last heir male of the Lords Dacre of the North, without issue, in the reign of CHARLES I., laid claim to Gillesland, and the rest of the ancient estates in Cumberland, and though he at last consented to compromise with the Howard family, then in possession, yet he recovered Dacre and divers other manors in Cumberland and Westmoreland. He d. in 1662 (his widow, Elizabeth, was subsequently created Countess of Sheppy for life, and m. David Walter, lieut.-gen. of the ordnance, and groom of the bedchamber, temp. CHARLES II.), and was s. by his eldest son,

THOMAS, 15th Lord Dacre, who was created, 5 Oct. 1674, EARL OF SUSSEX. This nobleman was obliged, through extravagance, to dispose of his seat at Hurstmonceux, and his lands in Sussex. His lordship m. Lady Anne Palmer, dau. of Barbara, Duchess of Cleveland; but d. in 1715, without male issue, when the earldom ceased, while the Barony of Dacre fell into abeyance between the earl's two daus. and co-heirs, Barbara and Anne; the elder m. Lieut.-Gen. Charles Skelton, but dying without issue, in 1741, the younger,

ANNE, became Baroness Dacre. Her ladyship m. thrice, 1st, Richard Barrett-Lennard, Esq. (revert to Richard, 13th baron), by whom she had an only son, THOMAS; 2ndly, Henry, 8th Lord Teynham, by whom she had, with other children,

Charles, who m. Gertrude, sister and co-heir of John Trevor, Esq. of Glynd, in Sussex, and left at his decease, in 1754,

CHARLES-TREVOR, of whom presently, as 18th lord.
GERTRUDE-TREVOR, who s. her brother as BARONESS DACRE.

Her ladyship m. 3rdly, the Hon. Robert Moore, son of Henry, 3rd Earl of Drogheda, by whom she had one son, HENRY. Lady Dacre, soon after the death of her first husband, in conjunction with her sister, sold Chevening, the ancient seat of the Lennards, to Earl Stanhope, and Dacre Castle, with the lands in Cumberland, to Sir Christopher Musgrave. She d. in 1755, and was s. by her eldest son,

THOMAS BARRETT-LENNARD, as 17th Baron Dacre. This nobleman m. Anne-Maria, dau. of Sir John Pratt, lord-chief-justice of the King's Bench; but d. without issue, 12 Jan. 1786, when the title devolved upon his nephew (refer to Anne, Baroness Dacre),

CHARLES-TREVOR ROPER,* as 18th Lord Dacre; b. 14 June, 1745; m. 2 March, 1773, Mary, only dau. and heir of Sir Thomas Fludyer, Knt., but d. s. p. 4 July, 1794, and was s. by his sister,

THE HON. GERTRUDE ROPER, who m. 20 April, 1771, Thomas Brand, Esq. of The Hoo, co. Herts, and by him (who d. 21 Feb. 1794) had issue,

THOMAS, 20th baron.
HENRY-OTWAY, C.B., 21st baron.
Gertrude.

Her ladyship d. 3 Oct. 1819, and was s. by her eldest son,

THOMAS BRAND, 20th Lord Dacre, b. 25 March, 1774; m. 4 Dec. 1819, Barberina, relict of Valentine Wilmot, Esq. of Farnborough, Hants, and dau. of the late Admiral Sir Chaloner Ogle, Bart.; but d. s. p. 21 March, 1851, when he was s. by his brother,

HENRY-OTWAY, 21st Lord Dacre, lieut.-gen. in the army, col 31st regt., C.B.; distinguished in the Peninsular war; b. 27 July, 1777; m. 24 July, 1806, Pyne, eldest dau. of the late Hon. and Very Rev. Dean Crosbie, and sister of Lord Brandon. By this lady (who d. in Jan. 1844) he had issue,

I. THOMAS-CROSBIE-WILLIAM, present peer.
II. HENRY-BOUVERIE-WILLIAM, (Right Hon.), of Glynde, Sussex, P.C., M.P. for Cambridgeshire, and SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE OF COMMONS, b. 24 Dec. 1814; m. 16 April, 1838, Eliza, dau. of Gen. Robert Ellice, and has issue,

1 Henry-Robert, D.L. for Sussex, capt. late coldstream gds., M.P. for Herts, b. 1841; m. 1st, 21 Jan. 1864, Victoria-Alexandrina-Leopoldine, dau. of his Excellency Silvain Van de Weyer, a Belgian minister of state, and Belgian envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary at the Court of St. James's, which lady d. 20 July 1865; he m.

* The remains of this nobleman were interred at Lee, in Kent, and his widow visited his tomb daily, without interruption, until her decease, in 1808. She usually rode from her mansion in the neighbourhood to the churchyard on a favourite pony, and wore a large, flapping, drab beaver hat, with a cloth habit nearly trailing the ground. At home, her ladyship evinced an eccentric affection for her deceased lord; his chair was placed, as in his lifetime, at the dinner table, and its vacancy seemed to feed his widow's melancholy.

Lineage.

This noble family, which is said to be of German descent, has been of note in North Britain since the time of DAVID I. At that period (A.D. 1140) we find

SIMON DE RAMSAY, of Dalhousie, in Lothian, a subscribing witness to a grant of the church of Livingston, in West Lothian. From this Simon descended

SIR ALEXANDER RAMSAY, Knt. of Dalhousie, the celebrated warden of the Middle Marches, and, in 1332, constable of the castle of Roxburgh, which he had taken by escalade. This gallant soldier acquired so high a reputation in his conflicts with the English, that to be of his band was considered as a branch of military education requisite for all young gentlemen who ambitioned to excel in arms. He perished, A.D. 1342, by famine, in the castle of Hermitage. It is reported, that above the place of Ramsay's confinement, there lay a heap of corn; and that, with some grain which dropped through the crevices in the floor, he sustained a miserable existence for seventeen days. From Sir Alexander we pass to his lineal descendant,

GEORGE.

John (Sir), who, for his loyalty and valour in rescuing JAMES VI. from the Earl of Gowrie and his brother Alexander Ruthven, at Perth, 5 Aug. 1600, was created Lord Ramsay, of Barns, and Viscount Haddington. He was subsequently advanced to the dignity of EARL OF HOLDERNESSE, in the peerage of England. His lordship m. twice, but leaving no issue at his decease, in 1635, his honours expired.

The elder son,

SIR GEORGE RAMSAY, Knt., had the barony of Dalhousie, on his own resignation, and the lordship of Melrose, on the resignation of his brother, Lord Haddington, erected into a free barony, to himself and his heirs male of entail, to be called the Barony of Melrose, with a grant to himself, and his heirs male and successors in the said barony, of the dignity of a peer of parliament, under the title of Lord Ramsay, of Melrose, by charter, dated 25 Aug. 1618. But not liking the title, his lordship obtained a letter from JAMES VI. to change it to Lord Ramsay, of Dalhousie. He m. 1st, Margaret, only dau. and heir of Sir George Douglas, of Helen Hill; and 2ndly, Margaret Ker. He d. in 1629, and was s. by the eldest son of his 1st marriage,

WILLIAM, 2nd baron; who was created, 29 Jan. 1633, Baron Ramsay, of Kerrington, and Earl of the Castle of Dalhousie, in Mid-Lothian. His lordship m. Margaret, eldest dau. of David, 1st Earl of Southesk; and dying 11 Feb. 1674, was s. by his eldest son,

GEORGE, 2nd earl; who m. Anne, 2nd dau. of John, 2nd Earl of Wigton, and widow of Lord Boyd; and dying in 1675, was s. by his eldest son,

WILLIAM, 3rd earl. This nobleman m. Mary, dau. of Henry, 1st Earl of Drogheda, by whom he had three sons and a dau., ELIZABETH, m. to Lord Hawley. He d. in 1682, and was s. by his eldest son,

GEORGE, 4th earl; who d. unm. in 1696 (his lordship was killed in Holland by a Mr. Hamilton), when the honours devolved upon his brother

WILLIAM, 5th earl. This nobleman was a military officer, and commanded the Scots guards, with the rank of brig.-gen., sent to the assistance of Archduke Charles, in his struggle for the crown of Spain, in 1710. His lordship d. unm. in Oct. of the same year, when his personal property went to his sister Elizabeth, Lady Hawley, and the honours devolved upon his kinsman,

WILLIAM, 6th earl (grandson of the 1st Earl of Dalhousie, through his 2nd son, John, by his wife, Miss Sinclair). This nobleman m. Jane, dau. of Lord Ross, by whom he had, George, Lord Ramsay, who d. in his (Lord Dalhousie's) lifetime, leaving issue (by Jane, 2nd dau. of the Hon. Harry Maule, of Kelly, and niece of James, 4th Earl of Panmure), Charles and George. The earl d. 8 Dec. 1739, and was s. by his grandson,

CHARLES, 7th earl, d. unm. 1764; s. by his brother,

GEORGE, 8th earl. This nobleman was high commissioner to the general assembly of the church of Scotland, from the year 1777 to 1782, and was a representative peer in 1774, 1780, and 1784. His lordship m. 30 July, 1767, Elizabeth, dau. of Andrew Glen, Esq., and niece and heir of James Glen, Esq. of Longcroft, co. Linlithgow, by whom (who d. 16 March, 1807) he had issue,

I. GEORGE, 9th earl.

II. WILLIAM, created BARON PANMURE, whose son FOX, 2nd BARON PANMURE, was the 11th EARL OF DALHOUSIE.

Charles, b. in 1807; d. 8 July, 1817.
JAMES-ANDREW, 10th earl, created a Marquess.

His lordship d. 21 March, 1838, and was s. by his only surviving son,

JAMES-ANDREW, 10th earl, who was b. 22 April, 1812, and m. 21 Jan. 1836, Susan-Georgiana, dau. of George, Marquess of Tweeddale, and by her (who d. on her passage home from India, 6 May, 1853) had,

i. Susan-Georgiana, C.I., m. 21 Nov. 1863, to the Hon. Robert Bourke, M.P., 3rd son of Robert, 5th Earl of Mayo.
ii. Edith-Christian, m. 9 Aug. 1859, to Sir James Fergusson, Bart. of Kilkerran, and d. 28 Oct. 1871.

His lordship was created MARQUESS OF DALHOUSIE, of Dalhousie Castle, co. Edinburgh, and of the Punjaub, in the peerage of the United Kingdom, 25 Aug. 1849. He was constable of Dover Castle, and lord warden of the Cinque Ports, lord register of Scotland, and major-gen. of the royal archers, the Queen's body guard of Scotland. The Marquess of Dalhousie was governor-gen. of India from 1847 to 1856. He d. 19 Dec. 1860, when the marquessate and barony of Dalhousie, of the United Kingdom, became extinct, while his Scottish honours devolved on his cousin FOX, 2nd BARON PANMURE, late EARL OF DALHOUSIE.

Family Seat—Dalhousie Castle, Mid-Lothian.

Family of Maule.

The ancient family of MAULE was of French extraction, their surname having been assumed from the town and lordship of Maule, in the Vexin François, eight leagues from Paris, a lordship which belonged to the lords of that name for four centuries. Roger, last lord of Maule, was slain at the battle of Nicopolis, in Hungary, fighting against the Turks, anno 1398, and his coat of arms was set up in the Parisian cathedral of Notre Dame. His only dau. and heir m. Simon de Morainviliers, Lord of Flaccourt.

GUARIN DE MAULE, a younger son of Ansold, Lord of Maule, accompanied the CONQUEROR into England, and acquired, as his portion of the spoil, the lordship of Hatton, in Yorkshire, with other extensive estates. He d. about the year 1100, leaving two sons, one of whom,

ROBERT DE MAULE, attaching himself to David, Earl of Huntingdon, afterwards DAVID II., removed into Scotland with that monarch, and obtained broad lands in Lothian, by grants from the crown. From this Roger we pass to his descendant,

SIR PETER DE MAULE, who m. about the year 1224, Christian, only dau. and heir of William de Valoniis, of Panmure, with whom he got the baronies of Panmure and Benvie, with other lands, both in England and Scotland, and by whom he had two sons, viz.,

WILLIAM, his successor.
Thomas (Sir), who was governor in 1303, of the castle of Brechin, the only fortress that interrupted the course of the conquests of EDWARD I. He fell mortally wounded, and the garrison of Brechin capitulated the day after.

The elder son,

SIR WILLIAM DE MAULE, of Panmure, held the office of sheriff of Forfarshire at the death of ALEXANDER III., and swore fealty to EDWARD I. at St. Andrews, 10 July, 1292. He m. Ethama, dau. of John Vaux, Lord of Dirletoun; the great-grandson of this marriage,

SIR WILLIAM MAULE, of Panmure, m. Marion, only child of David Fleming, of Biggur, and granddau., maternally of SIR DAVID BARCLAY, of Brechin. From this Sir William we pass to his descendant,

PATRICK MAULE, of Panmure, who s. his father in 1600; and dying in five years afterwards, was s. by his only son,

PATRICK MAULE, of Panmure, who accompanied King JAMES VI. into England, in 1603, and was appointed one of the gentlemen of the bedchamber to that monarch, an office which he afterwards held under CHARLES I., who constituted him keeper of the palace and park of Eltham, and sheriff of the co. Forfar. He subsequently adhered with great fidelity to the king in his troubles, and was engaged in all the battles fought by his majesty; for which services he was elevated to the peerage of Scotland, 3 Aug. 1646, as Baron Maule, of Brechin and Navar, and EARL OF PANMURE. His lordship m. thrice; but had issue by his 1st wife, Frances, dau. of Sir Edward Stanhope, of Grimston, co. York, only. He d. 22 Dec. 1661, and was s. by his elder son,

GEORGE, 2nd Earl of Panmure, who m. Lady Jessie Campbell, eldest dau. of John, Earl of Loudoun, HIGH CHANCELLOR OF SCOTLAND, by whom he had issue,

I. GEORGE, his successor.
II. JAMES, who s. his brother.
III. Harry, of Kelly. This gentleman was a member of the Convention of Estates in 1689, but retired from the assembly when he discovered the determination to dethrone JAMES II. He subsequently joined the banner of the CHEVALIER in 1715, and d. at Edinburgh in 1734. He m. 1st, in 1695, Lady Mary Fleming, only dau. of William, 1st Earl of Wigton, and had surviving issue,

1 WILLIAM, his successor.
1 JEAN, m. 1st, to George, Lord Ramsey, eldest son of William, 6th Earl of Dalhousie, and was mother of CHARLES RAMSAY, 7th Earl, and his successor,

GEORGE RAMSAY, 8th Earl of Dalhousie, whose 2nd son, WILLIAM RAMSAY, assumed, as hereafter stated, the surname and arms of MAULE, and was created LORD PANMURE.

Mr. Maule, of Kelly, m. 2ndly, Anne, dau. of the Hon. Patrick-Lindsay Crawford, of Kilbirney, and had, with other issue,

1 John, of Inverkeilor, one of the barons of the Court of Exchequer in Scotland; who d. unm. in 1781.

He was s. by his eldest son,

2 WILLIAM MAULE, of Kelly, who was created a peer of Ireland, in 1743, as Viscount Maule, of Whitechurch, and EARL OF PANMURE, of Forth. His lordship purchased the forfeited Panmure estates from the York-buildings Company, in 1764, for £49,157 18*s.* 4*d.* He was a military officer of high reputation, and attained the rank of general in 1770. He d. unm. in 1782, when his honours became extinct, and his estates devolved, by a decree of the court of Session, upon his nephew, GEORGE, Earl of Dalhousie.

* Have obtained a patent of precedence as the younger children of an earl.

DALLAS.

DALLAS, SIR GEORGE-EDWARD, of Petsal, co. Stafford, b. 9 Oct. 1842; s. his father as 3rd bart., 1 Aug. 1874.

Lineage.

The family of Dallas is of great antiquity in the counties of Elgin and Nairn, and derives its name from the locality which was the original settlement of the clan. Dallas is a parish of Elginshire, in the presbytery of Forres, and synod of Moray. The name is composed of two Gaelic words—dale, a valley or plain, and uis, contracted from uisge, water; (vide Statistical Account of Elginshire, p. 195. Blackwood and Sons, 1842). The barony of Dallas, containing the remains of the castle of Dallas or Torcastle, has long been the property of the Cummings of Altyre. The branch of the family of Dallas, from which the present Baronet is descended, removed to Cantray, in the parish of Cawdor, presbytery of Mairn, and synod of Moray, in the 2nd year of King ROBERT III. (1400), and remained in possession of that barony for nearly 400 years, until the estate was alienated by sale to the family of Davidson. For an account of the family of Dallas see BURKE's Landed Gentry, 5th edition (DALLAS-YORKE).

JAMES DALLAS, Laird of Cantray, was killed at Culloden; and soon after that event, some of his clan emigrated to the West Indies and the United States of America, where they formed establishments, to which, in memory of their Highland home and ancestry, they gave the same territorial designation. Dallas Castle is an estate of considerable importance in the island of Jamaica, and the county of Dallas is an extensive district in the state of Alabama. The American branch of this family attained great distinction in the United States. Alexander Dallas, whose father had settled in Jamaica, was an eminent advocate at the bar of Philadelphia, and filled high office in the Cabinet of two successive Presidents. His eldest son, GEORGE MIFFLIN DALLAS, was also a leading member of the Bar, senator of Pennsylvania, and vice-president of the United States. He was also minister plenipotentiary of the United States at St. Petersburg in 1835, and at the Court of St. James in 1856.

GEORGE DALLAS, of St. Martin's, N.B., was a lawyer of great eminence at Edinburgh in the 16th century, and Keeper of the Great Seal of Scotland. He was the ancestor of the late General Sir Thomas Dallas, G.C.B., of the E.I.C.'s army. The exploits of this renowned cavalry officer are fully recorded in the 2nd vol. of Colonel Wilkes's "Sketches of Southern India."

The great-grandfather of the 3rd bart.,

ROBERT DALLAS, of Kensington, was eldest son of Alexander Dallas, of Murray, Forfarshire, of the Cantray branch of the family. He m. Elizabeth, dau. of the Rev. James Smith, minister of Killirney, granddau. of Hugh Barclay Esq., and great-granddau. of Sir Robert Barclay, Bart. of Pierstown, whose grandfather, William Barclay, m. Jean, dau. and heiress of John Boyle, of Kilburn, 5th Baron Glasgow. DALYELL.

I DARE.

DALYELL, SIR ROBERT-ALEXANDER-OSBORNE, of Binns, co. Linlithgow, M.A., barrister-at-law, and D.L. for Linlithgowshire; late British consul at Rustchuk, b. 1821; s. at the decease of his father, 16 Feb. 1865. Sir Robert is the 8th bart., and 20th in lineal descent from Walter, Earl of Menteth.

Lineage

The origin of the family of Stewart, after having been by Scottish genealogists deduced from a fabulous antiquity, seems to have been more satisfactorily ascertained by Chalmers. According to that learned antiquary, the Stewarts are descended from Flaald, or Flathard, a Norman who followed the CONQUEROR to England, and obtained in gift the castle of Oswestry, in Shropshire. Alan m. the dau. and heiress of Warine, sheriff of Shropshire, temp. the CONQUEROR, and had in her right the barony of the same Warine. They had three sons, I. WILLIAM, from whom deduce the noble family of Norfolk; II. WALTER, High Steward of Scotland; and III. SIMON, the progenitor of the Earls of Erroll. Walter (grandson of the said WALTER), 3rd high steward, died 1246, leaving by his wife, Beatrix, dau. of Gilchrist, commonly designated Earl of Angus, ALEXANDER, his successor; John, killed at the siege of Damietta, in the second crusade (1249); WALTER, of whom hereafter, and other issue. The last-named WALTER m. the 2nd dau. of Mauritius, Earl of Menteth, and after a protracted suit with Walter Cumyn and his son William, was awarded the earldom, by a decree of a parliament held at Scone, 1285.

Walter, Earl of Menteth, by his countess had two sons (who assumed the surname of MENTETH, but the family retained the paternal coat of STEWART, altering the fesse chequy to a bend, for difference),

ALEXANDER, Earl of Menteth.
Sir John Menteth.

The elder son, Alexander, had two sons,

I. ALAN, 7th Earl of Menteth (living 1296), whose dau. and heiress m. Sir John Graham (beheaded 1346), and had a dau., Margaret, who m. ROBERT STEWART, Duke of Albany.
II. John.

From John lineally descended

SIR WILLIAM MENTETH, of West Kerse, who m. and had issue,

I. William.
II. Alexander, of Lochend.

By the extinction of the elder branch, the representation devolved, through John Menteth (who m. Marjory, dau. and heiress of John de Striveling, sheriff of Clackmannan, Lord of Carse, of Stirling, and Alveth, with whom he acquired those lands and that heritable office), on the MENTETHS of Lochend. Alexander had a son, Alexander, who had a son, William, who had two sons, Alexander and James. Alexander's representatives failed in his grandson, James Menteth, of Milnhall. JAMES MENTETH, the brother of Alexander, had a son, JAMES, who was father of JAMES MENTETH, of Auldcathie, whose eldest son,

JAMES MENTETH, m. MAGDALEN DALYELL, heiress of Binns, commonly called The Lady Binns. Magdalen was eldest dau. and heiress-of-entail of Sir Thomas Dalyell, Bart., and Katharine Drummond, of Riccartoun. He was son of the celebrated cavalier general.

I. THOMAS DALYELL, DALZELL, or DALZIELL, who was a major-general at Worcester, and commander-in-chief of the forces in Scotland after the Restoration. He raised the Scots Greys and another regiment; and during the Commonwealth his estate of Binns was forfeited, and he and General Gordon served the Czar against the Turks. Sir Thomas was created a Baronet, with limitations to his heirs-of-entail. Sir Thomas was s. at his decease by his son,

II. SIR THOMAS, at whose decease, unm., the baronetcy and fortune devolved upon the son of his sister, Magdalene, which son then became,

III. SIR JAMES DALYELL, or MENTETH-DALYELL, of Binns. He m. Helen Campbell, of Netherplace, co. Ayr, and had,

ROBERT, his heir.
James, capt. 1st regt. of foot, killed in America, 1763.
Thomas, R.N., killed in 1765.
Magdalen, m. to Robert Stewart, Esq. of Binny.

Sir James dying 28 Feb. 1747, was s. by his eldest son,

IV. SIR ROBERT, who m. 22 Sept. 1773, Elizabeth, eldest dau. of Nicol Graham, Esq. of Gartmore, by the Lady Margaret his wife, eldest dau. of Wm. Cunningham, 12th Earl of Glencairn, by his wife, Lady Henrietta Stewart, 2nd dau. of Alexander, 3rd Earl of Galloway, by whom he had eleven children, of whom survived,

JAMES, his heir.
JOHN-GRAHAM (Sir), Knt., 6th baronet.
Robert, general in the army, d. in 1848.

Lineage.

JOHN BLIGH (son of William Bligh, of Plymouth), citizen of London, was employed as agent of the Adventurers for the Forfeited Estates by the rebellion of 1641, and in that capacity arrived in Ireland during the usurpation of CROMWELL, when he became an adventurer himself to a large extent. He was returned for Athboy, in the first parliament after the Restoration. He m. Catherine, sister of William Fuller, Bishop of Lincoln; and dying in 1666, was s. by his only son,

THOMAS BLIGH, Esq. of Rathmore, co. Meath, M.P. for that shire, and of the privy council to Queen ANNE. He m. Elizabeth, dau. of Col. James Naper, of Loughcrew, in the same co.; and dying 28 Aug. 1710, was s. by his eldest son,

JOHN BLIGH, Esq., M.P., who m. 24 Aug. 1713, Lady Theodosia Hyde, then only dau. and heir of Edward, 3rd Earl of Clarendon, by Catharine his wife, only dau. and heir of Henry O'Brien, Lord of Ibrickan, by the Lady Catherine Stewart, his wife, sister and heir of Charles, 6th Duke of Lennox,* and 3rd Duke of Richmond, Lord of Aubigny in France, and granddau. of Esme Stewart, 3rd Duke of Lennox, by Catharine Clifton his wife, only dau. and heir of SIR GERVASE CLIFTON, Knt. of Leighton Bromswold, and who was summoned to parliament as a baron from 9 July, 1608, to 5 April, 1614. Mr. Bligh was elevated to the peerage of Ireland, 14 Sept. 1721, in the dignity of Baron Clifton, of Rathmore. His lordship was advanced, 7 March, 1722-3, to the Viscounty of Darnley. and created, 29 June 1725, EARL OF DARNLEY. He d. 12 Sept. 1728, leaving issue,

JOHN, 3rd earl.
Mary, m. in March, 1736, to William Tighe, Esq. of Rosanna, co. Wicklow, M.P (See BURKE'S Landed Gentry.)

Lineage.

THOMAS LEGGE served the office of Sheriff for the city of London in 1343, and was Lord Mayor in the years 1346 and 1353. In 1338, this opulent citizen lent EDWARD III. £300 towards carrying on the war with France, which was a very considerable sum in those days, and more than any other citizen advanced, except the lord-mayor and Simon de Frauncis, who lent each £800 in the ensuing year. Alderman Legge is stated to have m. Lady Elizabeth Beauchamp, dau. of Thomas, Earl of Warwick; he had two sons, SIMON, his heir, and John, knt. of the shire for Surrey, 1379, beheaded by Wat Tyler's rebels. The elder son,

SIMON LEGGE, m. Joan, dau. of John Clavering, and was father of,

THOMAS LEGGE, who m. Margaret, dau. of Sir John Blount; and his eldest surviving son,

WILLIAM LEGGE, going into Ireland, m. Anne, only dau. of John, son of Miles, Lord Bermingham. He d. at the advanced age of 90, and was s. by his son,

EDWARD LEGGE, vice-president of Munster during the lieutenancy of his kinsman, Sir Charles Blount, Lord Mountjoy. This gentleman m. Mary, dau. of Percy Walsh, Esq. of Moyvalley, and had six sons and seven daus. The eldest son,

WILLIAM LEGGE, was brought out of Ireland by his godfather, Henry Danvers, Earl of Danby, and sent by him to serve as a volunteer under Gustavus-Adolphus of Sweden; and he fought afterwards under Prince Maurice of Orange, in the Low Countries. On his return to England, he was first constituted keeper of the king's wardrobe, during life; and made, soon after, groom of the bedchamber. Col. Legge, during the civil wars, became eminently distinguished by his faithful attachment to CHARLES I., and his persevering exertions in the royal cause, before and after the murder of the king. At the battle of Worcester he was wounded and taken prisoner, and had been executed, if his wife had not contrived his escape from Coventry gaol in her own clothes. He was high in favour after the Restoration, and enjoyed several lucrative and honourable offices. He m. Elizabeth, eldest dau. of Sir William Washington, of Packington, co. Leicester, and granddau., maternally, of Sir George Villiers, of Brooksby, in the same co.; and dying in 1672, was s. by his eldest son,

GEORGE LEGGE, Esq., a naval and military officer of eminence. From 1667 to 1672, he commanded line-of-battle ships, and was appointed in the latter year lieut.-governor of Portsmouth; in 1673, advanced to the governorship, and appointed master of the horse and gentleman of the bedchamber to James, Duke of York. In 1677, Governor Legge was constituted col. of a regt. of foot, and nominated lieut.-general of the ordnance, of which he was soon afterwards made master. He was subsequently sworn of the privy council, and elevated to the peerage, 2 Dec. 1682, as Baron of Dartmouth, co. Devon, with remainder, after his own male heirs, to his brother William, and the heirs male of his body. His lordship soon afterwards was sent as admiral of the whole English fleet to demolish Tangier, and, on his return, obtained a grant of £10,000, in reward of his services. During the reign of JAMES II., Lord Dartmouth enjoyed the confidence of that monarch, and filled some of the most important offices. In 1687, he was appointed admiral of the fleet to intercept the Prince of Orange; but falling with his party at the Revolution, he was deprived of his employments and sent to the Tower, where he d. 25 Oct. 1691. His lordship m. Barbara, dau. and sole heir of Sir Henry Archbold, of Abbot's Bromley, and had, with Mary (who m. 1st, Philip Musgrave, Esq., and 2ndly, John Crawford, Esq.), and four other daus., an only son, his successor in 1671,

WILLIAM, 2nd baron. This nobleman enjoyed the confidence of Queen ANNE, was sworn one of her principal secretaries of state in 1710, and advanced to the dignities of Viscount Lewisham and EARL OF DARTMOUTH, 5 Sept. 1711. In 1713, his lordship was appointed lord-privy-seal, and on the demise of his royal mistress, was one of the lords-justices of Great Britain. He m. in 1700, Anne, dau. of Heneage, Earl of Aylesford, and had issue,

Sir Henry assumed the name and arms of Davie, and was created a Baronet, Dec. 1846.

Lineage.

This is an old Devon family, recorded in the Visitation of that county, 1620. The immediate ancestor of the Baronets' line was

John Davie, the younger (4th son of Robert Davie, Esq. of Crediton, by the dau. and heir of John Bardolph, Esq. of Tichfield). He had the honour to be three times mayor of the city of Exeter, and was celebrated for his hospitality. During the first mayoralty, in 1584, Don Antonio, King of Portugal having been driven from his kingdom by Philip, King of Spain, landed at Plymouth, and thence removing to Exeter was received, with his whole suite, by the mayor, and sumptuously lodged and entertained for a considerable time while he sojourned there, at the magistrate's expense, and in his own house. Mr. Davie was s. at his decease by an only son,

I. John Davie, Esq. of Creedy, created a Bart., 9 Sept. 1641; m. 1st, Julian, dau. of William Strode, Esq., and had,

III. Humphrey, a merchant in London, m. and had, John, 5th baronet.
I. Mary, m. to John Willoughby, Esq.
II. Elizabeth, m. to Arthur Coplestone, Esq.
III. Julian. IV. Margaret, m. to Thomas Bear, Esq.

Sir John m. 2ndly, Isabel Hele, by whom he had another dau., Isabel, the wife of Sir Walter Yonge, Bart. He was s. by his eldest son,

II. Sir John Davie, high-sheriff of the co. Devon, in 1671. This gentleman m. thrice, and left by his second wife, Trippœna, dau. and co-heir of Richard Reynell, Esq. of Lower Creedy (with whom he obtained that estate), an only surviving child, his successor.

III. Sir John, high-sheriff of Devon in 1669, at whose decease, unm., the title and fortune devolved upon his cousin,

IV. Sir William. This gentleman m. 1st, Mary Steadman, an heiress, by whom he had Mary, m. to Nicholas Hooper, Esq. He m. 2ndly, Abigail, dau. of John Pollexfen, Esq., and by her had, Margaret, m. to Stephen Northleigh, Esq; and Frances, m. to Sir George Chudleigh, Bart. Sir William dying without male issue, the title and estates passed to his cousin,

V. Sir John, a merchant of London, who emigrated in 1662, to New England in America. His great-grandson,

VIII Sir John, 8th baronet, m. in 1796, Anne, eldest dau. of Sir William Lemon, Bart., by whom he had issue, John, his successor, b. 8 March, 1798; Anne-Jane, deceased; and Frances-Juliana, the wife of Col. Sir Henry-Robert Ferguson-Davie, created a Baronet in 1846. He d. in 1803, and was s. by his son,

IX. Sir John, who d. unm., 18 Sept. 1824, and was s. by his uncle, Col. Sir Humphrey-Phineas Davie, who d. unm. 12 Jan. 1846, when the title became extinct. A second baronetcy, however, was conferred in the Dec. following, on Major-Gen. H.-R. Ferguson-Davie, the husband of Frances-Juliana, sister and heiress of Sir John Davie, the 9th bart.; and that gentleman is the present Sir Henry-Robert Ferguson-Davie, of Creedy.

Creation—Dec. 1846.
Arms—Quarterly, 1st and 4th, arg., a chevron, between three mullets, pierced, gu.; 2nd and 3rd, az., three cinquefoils, two and one, or, upon a chief of the last, a lion passant, gu. Crests—1st, A paschal lamb, reguardant, gu.; 2nd, A halcyon, or kingfisher, wings elevated, ppr., holding in the beak a branch of olive, vert. Motto—Auspice Christo.

DE CLIFFORD.

DE CLIFFORD, BARON (Edward-Southwell Russell), b. 5 April, 1855; s. his father, 6 Aug. 1877; m. 16 April, 1879, Hilda, youngest dau. of Charles Balfour, Esq. of Easthampstead, Berks.

Lineage.

WALTER, son of RICHARD FITZ-PONZ, temp. HENRY II., m. Margaret, dau. and heir of Ralph de Toeni, by whom he acquired Clifford Castle, and assumed the surname of CLIFFORD. From this Walter descended the Cliffords, EARLS OF CUMBERLAND, of whom full particulars will be found in BURKE'S Extinct Peerage.

GEORGE, 3rd Earl of Cumberland, and 13th Baron de Clifford (which Barony was created by Writ of Summons, 29 Dec. 1299); who m. Lady Margaret Russell, youngest child of Francis, 2nd Earl of Bedford, by whom he had an only dau.,

I. Anne, who m. 1st, 25 Feb. 1608-9, Richard Sackville, Lord Buckhurst, afterwards Earl of Dorset, and had surviving issue,

1 Margaret, m. to John Tufton, 5th Earl of Thanet, and left a son, THOMAS, 6th EARL OF THANET, of whom presently, as BARON CLIFFORD.

2 Isabella, m. in 1647, to James Compton, Earl of Northampton.

The Earl of Dorset d. 28 March, 1624, and his widow m. in 1630, Philip Herbert, Earl of Pembroke and Montgomery, whom she also outlived.

His lordship d. 29 Oct. 1605, when the earldom of Cumberland devolved upon his brother,

FRANCIS, as 4th earl; who d. in 1640, and was s. by his only son,

Henry, 5th Earl of Cumberland; who m. Lady Frances Cecil, only dau. of Robert, Earl of Salisbury, and had an only dau. and heir, Elizabeth, m. to Richard Boyle, 2nd Earl of Cork. Henry, Earl of Cumberland, d. in 1643, when that dignity EXPIRED.

Upon the decease of her father, George, 3rd Earl of Cumberland, a great contest arose between the Countess of Dorset and her uncle Francis, 4th earl, regarding the Barony of Skypton, which endured for no less a period than thirty-eight years, and finally terminated in the lady's favour, by her outliving both the Earls of Cumberland. In 1617, the king undertook to adjust this acrimonious family contest, and made an award; but her ladyship, although urged by her then husband, the Earl of Dorset, refused to abide by it. Her ladyship claimed the BARONY OF CLIFTON, in 1628, but accomplished nothing therein; she d. in 1675, and the barony remained dormant until 12 Dec. 1691, when the House of Lords allowed it to her grandson,

THOMAS TUFTON, 6th Earl of Thanet, as 15th baron. His lordship m. Lady Catherine Cavendish, dau. of Henry, Duke of Newcastle, by whom he had surviving issue,

II. A son, b. 19 Sept. 1878.
I. Cicely. II. Cérise, b. 9 May, 1877.
III. Crystal.

Lineage.

This family is of ancient and noble French descent.

MAHEAS CHAMPION, Chevalier, of Lower Normandy, m. Madlle. Busnel, dau and heir of Jean Busnel, Escuier, Sieur and Baron de Frénes; and dying in 1350, left a son,

RICHARD CHAMPION, Viscompte de Vire, in consequence of his father having obtained the Domaine du Roi. By his wife, who was dau. of Hector Mensaut, Escuier, Sieur de Lensentière, he had two sons,

I JEAN, who took up his residence in Brittany, and from whom derived Les Sieurs de Chartres de Cicé, and other CHAMPIONS in that province, as well as CHAMPION DE CICE, ci-devant archbishop of Aix, living in 1830, who came over to England with other royalists, in the suite of the Duc de Bourbon, and was hospitably received by the late Sir William Champion de Crespigny, Bart., at Champion Lodge.
II. MICHAEL.

The 2nd son,

MICHAEL CHAMPION, Escuier, died in Normandy, leaving, by Jeanne his wife, dau. of Le Sieur de la Rivière, four sons, of whom the eldest,

HERBERT CHAMPION, Escuier, Sieur de la Fleurière, in the parish of St. Quentin, near Tinchebrais, Lower Normandy, which estate he purchased of Jean l'Anglois, 4 May, 1463, m. Jeanne, dau. of Jean Abot, Escuier, Sieur de Melley, and had three sons (Antoine, Martin, and Jean, a priest) and one dau., Madelaine, wife of Guillaume Vaillant, Escuier. The eldest son

ANTOINE CHAMPION, Escuier, Sieur de la Fleurière, was father, by Catherine Marye, his wife, of

RAUL CHAMPION, Escuier, Sieur de la Fleurière, who m. 10 March, 1550, Jeanne, dau. of Sebastian le Forestier. Escuier, and heiress of her brother, Guillaume le Forestier, Seigneur of St. Opportune and Magny, and was s. by his son,

He m. 6 Dec. 1617, Marguerite dau. of Adrian Richard, Escuier, Sieur de Crespigny, near Aunay, Lower Normandy, and by her (who d. at St. Lo, 23 Jan. 1682, age 90) had a son, CLAUDE. Richard Champion (whose services to the king were twice noticed by the Comte de Maulière) sold the estate of Fleurière to Henri du Gué, in 1641, and removed from that place, which had been for nearly two centuries the family residence, to the lands of Crespigny. In Dec. 1617, he was remarried, in the reformed religion, at Condé, and on the 6 June following, he took an oath of fealty to the king that he would not adhere to the Rochellois Protestants. He was s. at his decease by his son,

CLAUDE CHAMPION DE CRESPIGNY, Escuier, Sieur de Crespigny, in the parish of Vierville, b. at Crespigny, and baptized in the reformed religion, at Condé, 17 May, 1620, was an officer of high rank in the French service, but at the revocation of the Edict of Nantes he quitted France, with the whole of his family, and came to England, where he was received by the Pierpoints, being allied by marriage to that noble house. He obtained a colonel's commission in the British army. He m. Marie, dau. and co-heir of Pierre de Vierville, Esq. of the Château de Vierville, near Bayeux, in Lower Normandy, and by her (who became Comtesse de Vierville in her own right, and d. 21 June, 1708) had (with five daus., the youngest of whom, Jane, m. Geronimus de Lamberty, Baron of the Holy Roman Empire, and ambassador of the King of Sweden at Geneva) three sons (who were made free denizens of England by act of parliament, passed 5 March, 1690), viz.,

PIERRE, who was deputed by the Protestants of Normandy to intercede with the king in behalf of their religion; and on coming to England, was appointed one of the committee of French churches in London. He d. unm. in 1739.

Lineage.

The family of French is stated to have been originally De Freigne, or De Fraxinis.

Sir Humphrey de Freynge, who accompanied Strongbow in his expedition against Ireland, acquired large possessions in the province of Leinster, and settled at Ballymacuoge, co. Wexford. He had two sons, Patrick and Nicholas, whose descendants early gained distinction, and ranked amongst the most powerful of the Anglo-Norman barons. Fulk de Freigne, the descendant of Sir Humphrey de Freigne, settled his manor of Ballymacuoge, with remainder to his heirs, with various other remainders, 20 Nov. 1329 (4th Edward III). He was s. by his eldest son, Sir Patrick, who d. without male issue, leaving two daus.; the eldest, Ellen, with whom the moiety of the said manor went out of the family to her husband, Richard le Camelford. The other estates, it is asserted, went by another settlement to a 2nd son, Oliver de Freyne, who was seneschal of Kilkenny, in 1336 (Ulster's Office, pedigree registered by Betham, Ulster).

John French, Esq. of Galway, b. in 1489 (4 Henry VII.), a man of great wealth and unbounded liberality, and a munificent benefactor to the church, had a son and successor,

Peter French, Esq., mayor of Galway in 1576 (18 Eliz.), m. Mary, sister of William Martin, Esq., and had five sons, Peter (who had a son, John); Francis, of whom presently; Robert, of Galway; Nicholas; and Jasper. Peter French, whose will, dated 24 Sept. 1584, was proved in Dublin, was interred at Galway, and a sum of £5000 was expended on his monument, which adorned the church there until destroyed in Cromwell's time, by Colonel Stubber, then governor of the town. This monument was executed in Italy, and is described in the Annals of Galway to have been of "rayre sculpture and guilded with golde." His son,

Francis French, Esq. of Gortrassy and Seesueman Castle, co. Sligo, m. Una O'Conor, of the ancient race of O'Conor Sligo; and dying 20 Oct. 1624, left a son,

Stephen French, Esq., living in 1609, who m. Marian Lynch, of the family of Le Petit, barons palatine of Mullingar, and was s. by his son,

Patrick French, Esq. of Dungar, otherwise French Park, co. Roscommon, whose great estates in Sligo were seized on by the Earl of Strafford, and partitioned amongst Sir Thomas Radcliffe, Sir Philip Perceval, &c. They were, however, subsequently restored, by order of the British parliament,

Ffolliott, Esq. of the co. of Sligo; Sarah; Anne. Dominick French, whose will bears date 3 May, 1670 (CHARLES II.), was buried in the cathedral of Elphin, where his monument is still to be seen. He was s. by his son,

JOHN FRENCH, Esq. of French Park, called "The Tierna More," a colonel in the army, who commanded a troop in the Enniskillen dragoons at the battle of Aughrim, and was attainted on account of his Whig principles by the parliament held by JAMES II. at Dublin, in 1690. He represented Carrick-on-Shannon in Parliament in 1695, (WILLIAM III.), became knight of the shire for Galway in 1703, and again in 1710, and was elected for Tulsk, of which borough he was patron, in 1715 and 1722. He m. Anne, dau. of Sir Arthur Gore, Bart.* of Newtown, ancestor of the Earls of Arran, and by her, whose will, dated 8 May, 1734, was proved 22 June, 1756 (GEORGE II.), had issue,

His lordship, who is High-Steward of Stratford-upon-Avon, s. his mother as Baron Buckhurst, 9 Jan. 1870, and his brother as 7th Earl Delawarr April, 1873.

Lineage.

The founder of this family,

SIR THOMAS WEST, Knt., lived in the reign of EDWARD II., and was in high favour with that monarch and his successor. He m. Alianore, dau. and heir of Sir John Cantalupe, of Hempston Cantalupe, co. Devon, and thus acquired the manor of Sniterfield, in Warwickshire. Sir Thomas was subsequently summoned to parliament as BARON WEST, 25 Feb. 1342, and participated in the wars of EDWARD III.; in the 17th year of which monarch he d., and was s. by his elder son,

THOMAS WEST, 2nd baron, but never summoned to parliament. This nobleman was in France in 1346, and shared in the glory of Crecy. His lordship m. Alice, dau. and eventual heir of Reginald Fitz-Herbert, of Midsomer Norton, co. Somerset, and was s. by his son,

SIR THOMAS WEST, Knt., summoned to parliament, as 3rd Lord West, in 1402. He m. Joan, dau. of Roger de la Warr (by Eleanor, his 2nd wife, dau. of John, Lord Mowbray), and heir of her brothers, John and Thomas, Barons de la Warr; and dying in 1405, was s. by his eldest son,

SIR THOMAS WEST, 4th baron. This nobleman took a distinguished part in the French wars of HENRY V. He m. Ida, dau. and co-heir of Almaric, Baron St. Amand; and dying in 1415, without issue, was s. by his brother,

REGINALD WEST, 5th Baron West; who, in the 5th of HENRY VI., on the death of Thomas, Lord la Warr, his uncle, had livery of the lands of his mother's inheritance, and was summoned to parliament, as LORD DELAWARR, 5 July, 1427. He performed a pilgrimage to the Holy Land in the 19th of HENRY VI. He d. in 1451, and was s. by his elder son,

SIR RICHARD WEST, who was summoned to parliament as 7th LORD DELAWARR, from 23 Jan. 1456, to 16 Jan. 1497, and in that dignity the Barony of West merged henceforward. He was a staunch supporter of the house of Lancaster in the war of the Roses. His lordship m. Catherine dau. of Robert Hungerford, Lord Hungerford, by whom he had five sons and two daus. Of those, Richard, the youngest son, was a Franciscan friar, at Greenwich; and Margery, the youngest dau., a nun at Syon, in Middlesex. His lordship d. in 1497, and was s. by his eldest son,

THOMAS WEST, 8th Lord Delawarr, who, in requital of military service, was installed a knight of the Garter, in the 2nd of HENRY VIII. SIR GEORGE, whose son, WILLIAM, we shall presently mention.
LEONARD, ancestor of the family of West, of Alscot Park, co. Gloucester, now represented by James-Robert West, Esq., of that place (see BURKE'S Landed Gentry).

Lord Delawarr d. in 1525, and was s. by his eldest son,

SIR THOMAS WEST, 9th baron, knight-banneret, and knight of the Garter. His lordship m. Elizabeth, dau. and co-heir of Sir John Bonville, Knt. It is recorded in the rolls of parliament, 2nd of EDWARD VI., that his lordship, having no issue adopted his nephew, WILLIAM, son of his half-brother, Sir George West, and that the said William, impatient to inherit, had prepared poison to dispatch his uncle, which so highly incensed his lordship that he complained to parliament, and William was in consequence disabled to succeed to his uncle's honours or estates, but had an allowance of £350 per annum. His lordship d. in 1554, when the Baronies of Delawarr and West fell into abeyance between the daus. and co-heirs of his brother, Sir Owen West, and finally amongst the descendants of MARY, the eventual sole heir. In a few years, after the decease of this nobleman, his disinherited nephew,

WILLIAM WEST, having served in the English army at the siege of St. Quintin in Picardy, was knighted at Hampton Court, 5 Feb. 1568, and created, at the same time, Lord Delawarr. He had also, by act of parliament, in March following, a full restitution in blood. His lordship m. Elizabeth, dau. of Thomas Strange, Esq. of Chesterton, co. Gloucester; and dying 30 Dec. 1595, was s. by his only son,*

House of La Warr.

The first of this family upon record,

JOHN LA WARR, had a ratification, in the 8th of JOHN, of a grant which that king had made, prior to his coming to the throne, of the lordship of Bristolton (a member of the honour of Gloucester), to hold by the service of half a knight's fee. He d. in six years afterwards, and was s. by his son,

JORDAN LA WARR, who then paid two hundred pounds for livery of his lands. This feudal lord was in arms against King JOHN, but on paying a fine, with two palfreys, was re-admitted into favour. Nevertheless, we find him again fighting under the baronial standard, and again making his peace after the battle of Evesham. He was s. by

JOHN LA WARR, who was sheriff of Herefordshire in the 3rd EDWARD I., and was s. by

ROGER LA WARR, who in the reigns of EDWARD I. and EDWARD II., having had military summonses to attend the king in the wars of France, and being actively engaged in those as well as the Scottish wars, was summoned to parliament, as a BARON, from 6 Feb. 1299, to 16 June, 1311. His lordship m. Clarice, dau. and co-heir of John de Tregoz, Baron Tregoz; and dying in 1329, was s. by his son,

JOHN LA WARR, 2nd baron, summoned to parliament from 26 Aug. 1307, to 26 Feb. 1347. This nobleman, in the 25 EDWARD I., his father still living, was in the expedition then made into Flanders, and the next year he was in the wars of Scotland. In the 29th of the same reign, on the decease of his mother, Clarice, he inherited a moiety of the property of his grandfather, Lord Tregoz (to which barony he was co-heir, and for an account of which see BURKE'S Dormant and Extinct Peerage); viz., Ewyas-Harold, co. Hereford; Alyngton, Wilts; and other lands in the cos. of Somerset, Salop, and Northampton. After this, during the remainder of the reign of EDWARD I., he was constantly engaged in the wars of Scotland, and was made a knight of the Bath. In the 14th EDWARD III., his lordship was in the great sea-fight off Sluy; in the 16th, he was in the expedition to France, assisting at the siege of Nantes; and in the 20th, he was in the van of the BLACK PRINCE at the glorious battle of CRECY. His lordship m. Joan, sister and heir of Thomas de Gresley, Baron Gresley, whose chief seat was at Manchester, co. Lancaster; by which lady he acquired the great possessions of the Gresleys, and had a son,

I. John, who predeceased his father, leaving by his wife Margaret, dau. of Sir John de Holland,

1 ROGER, who s. his grandfather, as 3rd baron.
2 John (Sir), of Bokampton, in Berks, which he held by sergeantry, in keeping the king's dogs, called harriers, when he should come into those parts. Sir John was in the wars of Brittany; and dying in the 34th EDWARD III. s. p. left his estates to his brother.

I Catherine, m. to Sir Warine Latimer, Lord Latimer of Braybrooke, and had issue,

John Latimer,
Sir Thomas Latimer, } successively barons.
Edward Latimer,

CATHERINE LATIMER, m. to Thomas Griffin, and had a son, JOHN GRIFFIN, whose descendant, EDWARD GRIFFIN, was created BARON GRIFFIN of Braybrooke.

His lordship d. in 1347, and was s. by his grandson,

SIR ROGER LA WARR, 3rd baron; summoned to parliament from 14 Aug. 1362, to 1 June, 1363. This nobleman, in the 30th EDWARD III., shared in the glory of Poictiers, wherein the French King with the Dauphin were made prisoners. Touching the capture of the King of France, it is recorded that much contention took place, as he defended himself with great valour; and the pressure upon him becoming great, such as knew him cried out "Sir, surrender, or you are dead;" whereupon he yielded, according to Froissart, to Sir Dennis Morbeck, a knight of Artois, in the English service; but being forced from that captain, more than ten knights and esquires claimed the honour of taking the royal prisoner. Amongst these, the pretensions of Sir Roger La Warr and Sir John Pelham (ancestor of the Pelhams, Dukes of Newcastle, and of the Lord Yarborough and Pelham) having been acknowledged the strongest, Lord Delawarr had, in commemoration of so valiant an exploit, the crampet, or chape, of the captive prince's sword; and Sir John Pelham had the buckle of a belt as a memento of the same achievement. His lordship continued for several years after Poictiers in the French wars, and acquired greater renown in every subsequent campaign. He m. 1st, Elizabeth, dau. of Adam, Lord Welles, and had issue, JOHN and THOMAS, successively Barons Delawarr. His lordship m. 2ndly, Alianore, dau. of John, Lord Mowbray, and had an only dau., JOANNA, who m. Sir Thomas West, 3rd Baron West, and had issue, THOMAS, Lord West, who d. s. p.; and REGINALD (Sir), summoned to parliament, jure matris, as Baron Delawarr. Lord Delawarr d. in 1370, and was s. by his eldest son,

JOHN LA WARR, 4th baron, summoned to parliament from 8 Jan. 1370, to 5 Nov. 1397. This nobleman, before and after his father's decease, was in the wars of Gascony with Prince EDWARD. In the 22nd of RICHARD II., his lordship obtained a special dispensation exempting him from attending any future parliaments, or serving the king in his wars, or otherwise, against his own good will. Shortly after which he departed this life, anno 1398, and dying unm., was s by his brother,

THOMAS LA WARR, 5th baron, who being a priest, and rector of the church of Manchester, was summoned to parliament from 10 Aug. 1399, to 7 Jan. 1426, as "Magistro Thomæ de la Warre." In the 9th HENRY V., his lordship obtained license for making the parish church of Manchester collegiate; to consist of a warden and a certain number of priests, to celebrate divine service continually, for the good estate of HENRY V., and of him, the said Thomas, during this life, and afterwards for the health of their souls. He d. in 1426, when the Barony of Delawarr devolved upon his half-sister's son, Sir REGINALD WEST, Lord West, as in the above account of the Wests.

DE L'ISLE AND DUDLEY.

DE L'ISLE AND DUDLEY, BARON (Sir Philip Sidney), of Penshurst, co. Kent, and a Baronet, late an officer royal horse-guards, b. 29 Jan. 1828; s. his father, as 3rd baron, 4 March, 1851; m. 23 April, 1850, Mary, only child of the late Sir William Foulis, Bart., and has issue,

I. PHILIP, lieut. rifle brigade, b. 14 May, 1853.
II. Algernon, lieut. R.A., b. 11 June, 1854.
III. Henry, b. 17 Jan. 1858.
IV. William, b. 19 Aug. 1859.
I Mary-Sophia.

Lineage.

SIR BYSSHE SHELLEY, 1st baronet of Castle Goring, m. for his 2nd wife, Elizabeth-Jane-Sidney, only dau. and heir of William Perry, Esq. of Turvill Park, Bucks; of Wormington, co. Gloucester; and of Penshurst Place, Kent; granddau. (maternally) of Col. Sidney, and great-niece of the last Earl of Leicester (see BURKE'S Extinct and Dormant Peerage) of the Sidney family, by whom he had (with junior issue),

JOHN, who assumed the additional surname and arms of SIDNEY upon inheriting the Penshurst estates, and being created a Baronet as above, was the late,

SIR JOHN SHELLEY-SIDNEY, heir and representative, by maternal descent, of the Beaumonts and Beauchamps, ancient Earls of Warwick; the Dudleys and Sidneys, Earls of Leicester; and claimant of the Baronies of De L'Isle and Izes. The Sidneys, who are of Norman extraction, lineally descended from Sir William Sidney, Knt., chamberlain to King HENRY II. Sir William Sidney, to whom Penshurst Place was granted by King EDWARD VI., was chamberlain and steward of the household to King HENRY VIII., and was one of the commanders at the battle of Flodden, in 1515. His son, Sir Henry Sidney, was honoured with the confidence and friendship of EDWARD VI., and was lord-president of Wales and lord-deputy of Ireland in the reign of ELIZABETH. "A more exalted character than that of Sir Henry Sidney," observes Dr. Zouch, "is scarcely to be found in the volume of history. It deserves to be better known. In him we behold the brave soldier; the consummate general, the able counsellor, the wise legislator; while in the recesses of private life he was no less estimable as a husband, a father, and a friend: firmly attached to the church of England, and adorning his christian profession by his temperance and exemplary piety." He was father of the all-accomplished Sir Philip Sidney, whom Camden describes as "the great glory of his family, the great hope of mankind, the most lively pattern of virtue, and the glory of the world." Sir Henry Sidney's 2nd son,

ROBERT SIDNEY, was created successively, by JAMES I., Baron Sidney of Penshurst, Viscount L'Isle and EARL OF LEICESTER, and was s. by his son,

ROBERT, 2nd Earl of Leicester This nobleman was father (he had four other sons) of the celebrated Algernon Sidney, and of Henry Sidney, created Earl of Romney, and of Dorothy, Countess of Sunderland, the poet Waller's Sacharissa, who, after her husband, Henry Spencer, 1st Earl of Sunderland, was slain at the battle of Newberry, 1643, m. 2ndly, Robt. Smythe, of Bounds, Kent, and d. 1683. Robert, 2nd Earl of Leicester, d. 1677, and was s. by his eldest son,

PHILIP, 3rd Earl of Leicester; who d. in 1697, and was s. by his son,

ROBERT, 4th Earl of Leicester. This nobleman d. in 1702, leaving four sons, three of whom enjoyed the earldom primogeniturely, viz.,

I. PHILIP, 5th earl.
II. JOHN, 6th earl.
III. JOCELYN, 7th earl, who m. Elizabeth Thomas, of Glamorganshire, with whom he had long pending disputes on account of her misconduct, but from whom he was not divorced. At the earl's decease, without issue,* in 1743, the peerage expired.

The 4th son of Robert, 4th Earl of Leicester,

The Hon. Thomas Sidney, d. 1728, and left two daus., one of whom m. William Perry, Esq. of Turvill Park, by whom she had a dau., Elizabeth-Jane-Sidney, the 2nd wife of Sir Byssshe Shelley, Bart., by whom she was mother of

I. SIR JOHN SHELLEY-SIDNEY, of Penshurst Place, co. Kent, created a Baronet, 12 Dec. 1818. He was b. 18 Dec. 1771; and m. 29 April, 1799, Henrietta, dau. of Sir Henry Hunloke, 4th Bart., of Wingerworth Hall, co Derby (a baronetcy now extinct), by whom (who d. 5 Feb. 1811) he had issue,

* By a trial at bar on a writ of right, at Westminster, 11 Feb. 1782, for Penshurst Place, park, and premises, in the county of Kent, it appears that this Jocelyne, Earl of Leicester, never was divorced from his wife, the said Elizabeth Thomas, and that she had a child, a son, John Sydney, the demandant at the trial aforesaid, which John, therefore, in the eye of the law, was to be considered a legitimate person, and, as such, well entitled to the inheritance of the honours of the family, but in respect to the inheritance of the estates demanded by him, he failed to establish a better right than the tenant in possession. This (according to the statement at the trial) arose from his averment that his father, Earl Jocelyne, possessed thereof in fee, and not as tenant for life, which was the fact, as opened by the tenant; and further contended that, even had he possessed thereof in fee, then by his will the earl had given them away to a third party. The event of this trial going to admit the legitimacy of the demandant, embraces an important question as to the absolute extinction of the honours.—BANKS.

SIR GEFFERY, served HENRY III. in his wars in England, and assumed the surname of Fieldeng, or Filding, from his father's pretensions to the dominions of Lauffenbourg and RINFILDING; and it also appears that the English monarch, compassionating the said Geffery, gave him considerable support in rents and fees, lying in divers places (Dugdale's Baronage). His son,

GEFFERY FEILDING, m. Agnes, dau. and heir of John de Napton, by whom he acquired the lordship of Misterton, co. Leicester, and was father of

WILLIAM FEILDING, who acquired, by marriage with Joan, dau. of William Prudhome, and granddau. and heir of Robert de Newnham, the manor of Newnham Paddox, co. Warwick, which has ever since continued the chief seat of the family.* The grandson of this William,

SIR WILLIAM FEILDING, a stanch adherent of the house of Lancaster, fell at the battle of Tewkesbury, 4 May, 1471. Sir William m. Agnes, dau. and heir of John St. Liz, a branch of the noble house of St. Liz, Earls of Northampton and Huntingdon, with whom he had the lordship of Martinsthorpe, co. DENNY.

DENNY, SIR EDWARD, of Tralee, co. Kerry; b. 2 Oct. 1796; s. as 4t hbaronet, at the decease of his father, in Aug. 1831.

Lineage.

SIR EDMOND DENNY, Knt., one of the Barons of the court of Exchequer in England in the beginning of the 16th century, was great-grandson of John Denny, Esq., who fell in the French wars of HENRY V., and was interred at St. Denys. The judge d. in 1520, and there is a monument to his memory in the church of St. Bennett, Paul's Wharf, London. By his last will he directed his body to be laid in that church, and that twenty trentals of masses should be said for his soul, and for the souls of his wives deceased, and those of William and Agnes, his father and mother. The 4th son of this learned person,

SIR ANTHONY DENNY, Knt., b. in 1500, was groom of the stole in 1518, and one of the privy council to HEN. VIII. This gentleman was the only individual amongst the courtiers who dared to apprize his royal master of his approaching dissolution. HENRY had, however, so high an esteem for Sir Anthony, that he could perform that sad office with impunity, and the monarch presented him with a magnificent pair of gloves worked in pearls, which still remain in the possession of the family. Sir Anthony was appointed one of the King's executors and one of the guardians of EDWARD VI. He m. Joan, dau. of Sir Philip Champernoune, of Modbury. Their grandson (the son of the eldest son, Sir Henry),

SIR EDWARD DENNY, Knt., was summoned to parliament, in 1604, as Baron Denny, and created, in 1626, EARL OF NORWICH. The latter dignity became extinct at his decease, without male issue, in 1630, while the barony devolved upon his only dau. and heir, Honoria, wife of James, Earl of Carlisle, at the decease of whose son, James Hay, Earl of Carlisle, in 1660, without issue, it expired.

SIR EDWARD DENNY, Knt.-Banneret (uncle to the deceased Earl of Norwich, and son of the Right Hon. Sir Anthony Denny, HENRY VIII.'s privy-councillor), m. Margaret, dau. of Peter Edgecumbe, Esq., M.P. for Cornwall, by Margaret his wife, dau. of Sir Andrew Luttrell, of Dunster, and had, with other issue,

I. EDWARD (Sir), his heir.

II. Anthony, of Bishop's Stortford, Herts, who m. Mary, dau. of Thomas Aldrich, Esq. of Swadeston, Norfolk; and d. about 1662, leaving a son,

EDWARD, of Bishop's Stortford, who d. 14 March, 1720, in the 90th year of his age, leaving, by Cordelia his wife, dau. of Adam Hill, Esq. of Spaldwick, Hunts, two daus., his co-heirs,

ELIZABETH DENNY.

ANNE DENNY, who m. John Sandford, Esq.; and d. 10 Sept. 1747, leaving a dau. and co-heir,

CORDELIA SANDFORD, who m. JOHN BROME, Esq.

Sir Edward Denny was buried at Waltham, and the following epitaph placed upon his tomb:

"Learn, curious reader ere you pass,
What Sir Edward Denny was:
A courtier in the chamber, a soldier in the field;
Whose tongue could never flatter,
Whose heart could never yield."

The eldest son,

SIR EDWARD DENNY, Knt., a military person, went over to Ireland, in the reign of ELIZABETH, as an undertaker in the plantation of Munster, and settled at Tralee, co. Kerry. He m. Elizabeth, sister of Sir Anthony Forest, Knt., and was s. by his only son,

SIR EDWARD DENNY, Knt., of Tralee Castle, who represented the co. of Kerry in parliament in 1639. He m. Ruth, eldest dau. of Sir Thomas Roper, Viscount Baltinglass, and had six sons and four daus., of whom,

I ARTHUR, his heir, succeeded.

II. Edward, of Castle Lyons, in the co. of Cork, m. Lady Catherine Barry, dau. of David, 1st Earl of Barrymore, and had a son,

Barry, M.P. for Tralee, who m. Catherine, dau. of Sir Boyle Maynard, Knt. of Curryglass, and had, Edward, M.P., who d. s. p.; and two daus., Angell, m. Mr. Foulkes of Youghal, and Anne, wife of the Ven. Maurice O'Connor, Archdeacon of Ardfert.

Lineage.

ADAM DE ALDITHLEY attended Duke WILLIAM to England, and was accompanied from Aldithley, in Normandy, by his sons, Lydulph and Adam de Aldithley, and had large possessions conferred upon him by the CONQUEROR.

LYDULPH, eldest son, was father of Adam de Aldithley, which Adam was possessed, by right of his wife, Mabella, dau. and heir of Henry Stanley de Stoneley, of the manor of Stoneley and Balterley, co. Stafford (Dugdale's Baronage), and was ancestor of the Barons Audley, of Healey Castle, co. Stafford; and

ADAM DE ALDITHLEY, second son, was father of WILLIAM DE ALDITHLEY, to whom Thomas Stanley, of Stafford, kinsman of Henry Stanley, of Stoneley, gave his only dau. and heir, Joan, and with her, as a marriage portion, the manor of Thalk, co. Stafford: he having exchanged Thalk for Stoneley, and half the manor of Balterley, with his cousin Adam, made choice of Stoneley for his seat, and in honour of his lady, and the great antiquity of her family (of noble Saxon descent), who flourished in England many years before the Conquest, assumed the surname of STANLEY, and became the immediate founder of the Stanleys. This William was s. by his son and heir,

WILLIAM STANLEY DE STONELEY, who was s. by his son,

SIR WILLIAM STANLEY, who had two sons, John Stanley, who d. s. p.; and

SIR ADAM STANLEY, 2nd son, but heir, who was s. by his son and heir,

SIR WILLIAM STANLEY, who m. Joan, eldest dau. and co-heir of Sir Philip de Bamvile (by Agnes, his wife, one of the daus. and co-heirs of Alexander de Stourton, by his wife, Amabilla, dau, and heir of Ranulph de Silvester, son of Allan Silvester, Lord of Stourton), by which alliance he became possessed of the manor and bailiwick of Wyrall Forest, and thereupon assumed the armorial bearings since used by his descendants, viz., arg. three stags' heads, or, on a bend, az., in place of those borne by his ancestors, by whom he had issue, beside one dau., two sons, JOHN and Adam. The elder son,

JOHN STANLEY, Lord of Stourton, &c., m. Mabella, dau of Sir James Hausket, Knt. of Stourton Parva, by whom he had,

WILLIAM (Sir), his heir.

John of Greswithin, co. Cumberland, M.P. for Carlisle, 20 EDW. III., from whom descends the present EDWARD STANLEY, Esq. of Ponsonby Hall, M.P. for Cumberland.

The eldest son,

SIR WILLIAM STANLEY, Lord of Stourton, &c., m. Alice, dau. of Hugh Massey, of Timperley, and sister of Sir Hamon Massey, of Dunham Massey, and d. in the 21st RICHARD II., by whom he had, beside one dau., three sons,

I. WILLIAM (Sir), eldest son, who s. his father, and was also of Hooton, in Cheshire, by right of his wife, Margery, dau. and heir of William de Hooton. From this Sir William descend the Baronets STANLEY, now ERRINGTON, of Hooton.
II. JOHN (Sir), K.G., of whom presently. III. Henry.

The 2nd son,

SIR JOHN STANLEY, K.G., m. Isabel, dau. and heir of Sir Thomas Lathom, Knt., of Latham and Knowsley, co. Lancaster (descended from Robert-Fitz-Henry, whose son, Robert, took the name of LATHAM, from his place of residence), and thus acquired those estates. In 1385, Sir John Stanley was lord-deputy of Ireland, and had a grant of the manor of Blake Castle, in that kingdom. In 1405, he had a commission, in conjunction with Roger Leke, to seize on the city of York and its liberties, and also upon the Isle of Man, on the forfeiture of Henry Percy, Earl of Northumberland; and in the 7th HENRY IV., being then treasurer of the household to the king, obtained licence to fortify a house at Liverpool, which he had newly built, with embattled walls. In the same year, having taken possession of the Isle of Man, he obtained a grant in fee of the said isle, castle, and pile, anciently called Holm Town, and all the isles adjacent, as also all the regalities, franchises, &c., to be holden of the said king, his heirs, and successors, by homage, and the service of two falcons, payable on the days of their coronation. On the accession of HENRY V., he was made a knight of the Garter, and constituted lord-lieut. of Ireland for six years, in which government he d. in 1414, having had (beside two daus.) four sons,

I. JOHN (Sir), of whom presently. II. Henry.
III. Thomas (Sir), of Elford, co. Stafford, jure uxoris whence come the STANLEYS of Elford, Pipe, &c.
IV. Ralph (Sir).

The eldest son and heir,

SIR JOHN STANLEY, knight of the shire, 2 HENRY V., constable of Carnarvon, and justice of Chester, 5 HENRY VI. and sheriff of Anglesey, m. Isabel (or Elizabeth), dau. of Sir Robert, and sister and heir of Sir William Harrington, Knt. of Hornby, co. Lancaster, and had, beside two daus.,

THOMAS (Sir), 1st Baron Stanley, of whom presently.
Richard, } successively archdeacons of Chester.
Edward, }

The eldest son and heir,

SIR THOMAS STANLEY, lord-lieutenant of Ireland for six years, (1432,) comptroller of the household, and chamberlain to HENRY VI.; K.G., 1456; knight of the shire; summoned as Baron Stanley, 20 Jan. 1456 (34th HENRY VI.). His lordship m. Jean, dau. and co heir of Sir Robert Goushill, Knt. of Heveringham, co. Notts, by Elizabeth his wife, (widow of Thomas Mowbray, Duke of Norfolk, and dau. and co-heir of Richard Fitzalan, Earl of Arundel, by Elizabeth, his wife, dau. of William Bohun, Earl of Northampton, son of Humphrey de Bohun, Earl of Hereford and Essex, by his wife, the Princess Elizabeth Plantagenet, dau. of King EDWARD I.,) by whom he had, beside three daus.,

THOMAS, his successor.

William (Sir), of Holt, who was beheaded as a participator in the conspiracy for placing Perkin Warbeck upon the throne. Sir William was the richest subject in the kingdom, having no less than 40,000 marks in ready money, and £3,000 a-year; to which circumstance considering the rapacious disposition of HENRY VII., may be attributed his destruction more than to his political principles.

John (Sir), who m. Elizabeth, dau. and heir of Sir Thomas Weever, Knt. of Weever, co. Chester, and by her acquired that estate. From this Sir John Stanley descends the present JOHN-THOMAS, LORD STANLEY OF ALDERLEY.

James, Archdeacon of Carlisle.

His lordship d. in 1458-9, and was s. by his eldest son,

THOMAS, 2nd Lord Stanley; summoned to parliament from 38th of HENRY VI. to 1st of RICHARD III. This nobleman m. 1st, Eleanor, dau. of Richard Nevil, Earl of Salisbury, and sister of Richard Nevil (The King-Maker), the stout EARL OF WARWICK, by whom he had issue,

I. GEORGE, Lord Strange, K.G., who m. Joan, dau. and heir of John, Lord Strange, of Knockyn, co-heir of the Barony of Mohun, by Jacquetta, his wife, dau. and co-heir of Richard Wydvile, Earl Rivers, and Jacqueline, his wife, widow of John Plantagenet, Duke of Bedford, and was summoned to parliament as LORD STRANGE, in the 22nd of EDWARD IV. His lordship d. 5 Dec. 1497, (his father still living,) and left, (with two daus.,)

1 THOMAS, successor to his grandfather. 2 John, d. young.
3 James (Sir), who was seated at Crosshall, co. Lancaster, and was marshal of Ireland. He m. Anne, widow of Edmund Talbot de Bashall, Esq., co. York, ancestor, by her, of the Talbots de Bashall, (see Shrewsbury,) sister of Sir Perceval Hart, of Lullingstone, and dau. of John Hart, Esq., by Elizabeth, his wife, sister and heir of Sir John Peache, of Lullingstone castle, co. Kent, and was s. by his elder son.

This gallant person commanded the rear of the English army at Flodden Field, 9 Sept. 1513; and forcing the Scots, by the power of his archers, to descend the hill, thus broke their line, and insured the triumph of the English arms, for which good service, HENRY VIII., keeping his Whitsuntide at Eltham the next ensuing year, 1514, commanded that Sir Edward Stanley, for those valiant acts against the Scots, where he won the hill, and vanquished all that opposed him, as also that his ancestors bore the eagle in their crest, should be there proclaimed Lord of Monteagle, and he had subsequently summons to parliament in that dignity. He was also elected a knight of the Garter. His lordship's grandson WILLIAM STANLEY, 3rd Lord of Monteagle, d. in 1581, leaving by Ellen, his wife, dau. of SirThomas Preston, of Preston Patrick and Levens, in Westmorland, an only dau., ELIZABETH, who became his heir, and marrying Edward Parker, Lord Morley, conveyed the Barony of Monteagle into that family. The dignity is now in ABEYANCE. (See BURKE'S Extinct Peerage.)

III. James, in holy orders, bishop of Ely.

Lord Stanley m. 2ndly, Margaret, dau. and heir of John, Duke of Somerset, widow of Edmund Tudor, Earl of Richmond, and mother of Henry, Earl of Richmond. How far his lordship contributed to the victory of Bosworth is recorded in history; and his placing the crown of RICHARD upon the head of the victorious Richmond in the field, is also a matter of historic record. In consideration of those eminent services, the new monarch advanced Lord Stanley, 27 Oct. 1485, to the dignity of EARL OF DERBY, and constituted him one of the commissioners for executing the office of lord-high-steward of England on the day of his coronation. His lordship, in the March following, had a grant of the great office of CONSTABLE OF ENGLAND for life. He had no children by his second marriage; and dying in 1504, was s. by his grandson,

THOMAS, 2nd earl; who m. Anne, dau. of Edward, Lord Hastings of Hungerford, and was s. at his decease, in 1522 (when it appears he bore the titles of Earl of Derby, Viscount Kynton, Lord Stanley and Strange, Lord of Knokyn, Mohun, Basset, Burnal, and Lacy, Lord of Man and the Isles), by his son,

EDWARD, 3rd earl, K.G., lord-high-steward at the coronation of Queen MARY, and chamberlain of Chester in the reign of ELIZABETH; so celebrated for magnificence and liberality, that Camden says, "that with Edward, Earl of Derby's death, the glory of hospitality seemed to fall asleep." His lordship d.

24 Oct. 1572, and was s. by his eldest* son (by his 1st wife, Dorothy, dau. of Thomas, 2nd Duke of Norfolk),

HENRY, 4th earl, K.G.; one of the peers who sat upon the trial of MARY, Queen of Scots. His lordship m. Margaret, only child of Henry Clifford, Earl of Cumberland (by his 1st wife, Alianore, dau. and co-heir of Charles Brandon, Duke of Suffolk, and Mary, Dowager Queen of France, the sister of HENRY VIII.), and dying in 1593, was s. by his eldest son,

FERDINANDO, 5th earl. This nobleman having been tampered with by one Hesketh, to assume the title of king in right of his grandmother, and rejecting the proposition indignantly, is supposed to have been poisoned in consequence by the conspirators. His lordship m. Alice, dau. of Sir John Spencer, of Althorp, and had three daus., his co-heirs, viz.,

ANNE, m. 1st, to Grey, 5th Lord Chandos; and 2ndly, to Mervyn, Earl of Castlehaven.
FRANCES, m. to John, Earl of Bridgewater.
ELIZABETH, m. to Henry, 5th Earl of Huntingdon.

His death occurred 16 April, 1594, when the BARONIES OF STANLEY AND STRANGE fell into abeyance amongst his daus., and the earldom devolved upon his brother,

WILLIAM, 6th earl, K.G. This nobleman bought from his nieces their claims on the Isle of Man. His lordship m. 26 June, 1594, Elizabeth, eldest dau. of Edward Vere, 17th Earl of Oxford, and had, with four daus., two sons, JAMES, his heir; and Robert (Sir), Knt., who m. Elizabeth, dau. of Sir Arthur Gorges, Knt., and had, with a dau., three sons, CHARLES (Sir), of Chelsea, whose issue became extinct; James, whose sons both d. young; and Ferdinand, who d. in infancy. The earl dying in 1642, was s. by his son,

JAMES, 7th earl, K.G., b. 31 Jan. 1606; who had been summoned to parliament, in 1627, as Baron Strange, under an impression that such a barony was enjoyed by his father; that, however, not being the case, the summons amounted to the creation of a new peerage, which eventually devolved upon the ducal house of Atholl. His lordship, distinguished by his devoted and heroic attachment to royalty during the civil war, fell into the hands of the enemy, after the battle of Worcester, and suffered decapitation, at Bolton, 15 Oct. 1651. He m. Charlotte, dau. of Claude de la Trémouille, Duke of Thouars (this high-born and high-minded lady became famous for her gallant defence of Latham House, in 1644, when it was besieged by 2000 parliamentarians, and for her energetic protection of the Isle of Man, in 1651; see her pedigree infra†) and left issue,

CHARLES, 8th earl.
Charlotte, d. in infancy.
Henrietta-Maria, m. 1st, to Richard, Viscount Molyneux; and 2ndly, to William, 2nd Earl of Strafford, but d. s. p.
Catherine, m. to William Pierrepoint, Marquess of Dorchester, but d. s. p.
Amelia-Anna-Sophia, m. to John Murray, Marquess of Atholl.†

The earl was s. by his only son,

CHARLES, 8th earl, b. 19 Jan. 1627; m. Dorothea Helena dau. of John Kirkhoven, Baron de Rupa, in Holland, maid of honour to the Queen of Bohemia; d. in 1672, and was s. by his son,

WILLIAM-GEORGE-RICHARD, 9th earl, b. 18 March, 1656; who m. in July, 1673, Lady Elizabeth Butler, dau. of Thomas, Earl of Ossory, and d. without male issue, in 1702, when the honours devolved upon his brother,

JAMES, 10th earl; who m. Mary, dau. and sole heir of Sir William Morley, K.B., of Halnaker, but d. without issue, in 1735-6, when the Isle of Man, with the BARONY OF STRANGE, created in 1627, devolved upon the Duke of Atholl, (all the other baronies fell into abeyance between the co-heirs of Ferdinando, the 5th earl,) and the Earldom of Derby reverted to

SIR EDWARD STANLEY, Bart., as 11th earl (refer to George, Lord Strange, son of Thomas, 1st Earl of Derby). This nobleman, b. 11 Sept. 1689, m. in 1714, Elizabeth, only dau. and heir of Robert Hesketh, Esq. of Rufford, co. Lancaster, by Elizabeth, his wife, dau. of the Hon. William Spencer, and had,

I. James, Lord Strange, who m. 17 March, 1747, Lucy, 2nd dau. and co-heir of Hugh Smith, Esq. of Weald Hall, co. Essex, of the ancient family of Smith or Herriz, of Edmonthorpe, co. Leicester, and assumed, in consequence, the additional surname of SMITH. His lordship d. in June, 1771, having had issue,
  1 EDWARD, who s. his grandfather.
  2 Thomas, a major in the army; b. in 1753; d. in 1779.
  1 Elizabeth, m. 28 July, 1778, to the Rev. Sir Thomas Horton, Bart.; and d. 13 April, 1796, leaving a dau., Charlotte m. in 1805, to George Pollard, Esq. of Halifax.
  2 Lucy, m. 25 April, 1772, to the Rev. Geoffrey Hornby, rector of Winwick, and d. his widow in 1833, leaving a numerous family. (See BURKE's Landed Gentry.)
  3 Henrietta, m. 3 June, 1778, to the late Sir Watts Horton, Bart.; and d. in 1830, leaving an only child,
    Harriet-Susannah Horton, m. 22 July, 1813, to Capt. Charles Rhys, R.N., of Bath.
I. Elizabeth, m. to Sir Peter Warburton, Bart. of Arley Hall; and d. 2 Sept. 1780.
II. Mary, d. unm. in 1795.
III. Isabella, d. 15 July, 1787.
IV. Margaret, d. 9 March, 1767.
V. Jane, d. at Knutsford.
VI. Charlotte, m. to Lieut.-Gen. John Burgoyne; and d. s. p. 7 June, 1776.

His lordship d. 24 Feb. 1776, and was s. by his grandson,

EDWARD, 12th earl, lord-lieut. and custos rotulorum of the co. of Lancaster; b 12 Sept. 1752; m. 1st, 23 June, 1774, Elizabeth, only dau. of James, 6th Duke of Hamilton and Brandon, and by that lady (who d. 14 March, 1797) had issue,

EDWARD-SMITH, Lord Stanley, 13th earl.
Charlotte, m. 22 Aug. 1796, to her cousin, Edmund Hornby, Esq. of Dalton Hall, in Westmorland, who d. 18 Nov. 1857, leaving by her (who d. 25 Nov. 1805) a son, Edmund-George Hornby, Esq. of Dalton Hall, who m. Sarah, dau. of Thomas Yates, Esq. of Irwell House, and d. 26 Feb. 1865, leaving issue.
Elizabeth-Henrietta, m. 15 Jan. 1795, to Stephen-Thomas Cole, Esq. of Twickenham, and by him (who d. in 1835) had issue. She d. Nov. 1857. (See BURKE's Landed Gentry.)

His lordship m. 2ndly, 1 May, 1797, Miss Eliza Farren, the celebrated actress, dau. of Mr. George Farren, of Cork, by whom (who d. 23 April, 1829) he had,

James-Smith, b. 9 March, 1800; d. 3 April, 1817.
Lucy-Elizabeth, d. 25 April, 1809.
Mary-Margaret, m. 29 Nov. 1821, to Thomas, 2nd Earl of Wilton, and d. 16 Dec. 1858.

The earl d. 21 Oct. 1834, and was s. by his son,

EDWARD-SMITH, 13th earl, K.G., F.L.S., lord-lieut. and custos rotulorum of the co. of Lancaster, col. of the Lancashire militia, vice-admiral of the coast of Lancashire, and president of the Linnæan and Zoological Societies; b. 21 April, 1775; m. 30 June, 1798, his cousin, Charlotte-Margaret, 2nd dau. of the Rev. Geoffrey Hornby, and by her (who d. 16 June, 1817) had issue,

I. EDWARD-GEOFFREY, 14th earl.

* His lordship's 2nd son, by his 1st wife, SIR THOMAS STANLEY, Knt. of Winwick, m. Margaret, dau. and co-heir of Sir George Vernon, of the Peak; and d. in 1576, leaving a son,

SIR EDWARD STANLEY, K.B. of Tong Castle, Salop; who m. Lady Lucy Percy, dau. and co-heir of Thomas, 7th Earl of Northumberland, and had two daus., his co-heirs,

FRANCES, m. to Sir John Fortescue, Knt. and Bart. of Salden.
VENETIA, m. to Sir Kenelm Digby, of Gothurst, Knt.

The 14th Earl of Derby, scholar, orator, statesman, and minister, was educated at Eton, and at Christ Church, Oxford, where, in 1819, he gained, by his poem "Syracuse," the Chancellor's prize for Latin verse. In 1821, during the lifetime of his grandfather, he entered the House of Commons, as member for Stockbridge, and sat subsequently for Preston, Windsor, and North Lancashire. In 1844 he was summoned to the House of Lords in his father's barony, and in 1859 was made a K.G. His lordship was under secretary for the Colonies under Lord Goderich, chief secretary for Ireland from 1830 to 1833, secretary of state for the Colonies from 1833 to 1834, and again from 1841 to 1845, and first lord of the Treasury in 1852, 1858, and 1866. The earl d. 23 Oct. 1869, when he was s. by his elder son, EDWARD-HENRY, 15th and present Earl of Derby.

Creations—Earl of Derby, 27 Oct. 1485. Baron Stanley, of Bickerstaffe, 22 Oct. 1832. Baronet, 26 Jan. 1627.

Arms—Arg., on a bend, az., three stags' heads, caboshed, or. Crest—On a chapeau, gu., turned up erm., an eagle, wings extended, or, preying on an infant* in its cradle, ppr., swaddled, gu., the cradle laced, gold. Supporters—Dexter, a griffin, wings elevated; sinister, a stag; each or, and ducally collared, with line reflexed over the back, az. Motto—Sans changer.

Seats—Knowsley Hall, Prescot, Lancashire. Town House—23, St. James's Square.

* The crest is derived from the family of Latham, of Latham, in Lancashire, now represented by the Stanleys.

In an old visitation of Lancashire, in the College of Arms, it is stated, that a child was found in an eagle's nest upon the estate, and adopted by one of the Lathams; and this, it is assumed, was the origin of the crest.

Lineage.

This is one of the very few houses still existing in England of undoubted Saxon origin; an origin confirmed not only by tradition, but by authentic family documents. Wotton in his Baronetage, A.D. 1741, narrates that

DIERING MILES (from the Saxon word Diering, signifying Terror), appears as witness to a deed, by which King ETHELUFF granted certain lands in Cucolnstone to the church of Rochester in 880. To pass, however, to more recent progenitors, we find

SIR RICHARD DERING, Knt. of Heyden, lieut. of Dover Castle in the reign of RICHARD II. His grandson,

RICHARD DERING, Esq. of Surrenden, d. in 1481, and was s. by his son,

JOHN DERING, Esq. of Surrenden-Dering. The 5th direct descendant from this gentleman,

I. SIR EDWARD DERING, Knt. of Surrenden-Dering, was created a Baronet, 1 Feb. 1626. This gentleman, who was lieutenant of Dover Castle, was a man of talents and learning; but he adopted, upon one occasion, a very eccentric mode of evincing his erudition, that of presenting a bill from the gallery of the House of Commons, "for the extirpation of bishops, deans, and chapters," and prefacing his motion with two verses of Ovid, the classical application of which was said to have been his sole motive for the proceeding:—

"Cuncta prius tentanda; sed irremedicabile vulnus
Ense recidendum est, ne pars sincera trahatur."

He m. 1st, Elizabeth, dau. of Sir Nicholas Tufton, afterwards Earl of Thanet, but by her (who d. in 1622) had no surviving issue; 2ndly, Anne, 3rd dau. of Sir John Ashburnham, Knt., and by that lady (who d. in 1628) he had,

EDWARD, his successor.
Elizabeth, m. to Sir John Darell, Knt. of Calehill, in Kent

He m 3rdly, Unton, dau. of Sir Ralph Gibbes, Knt., and had,

Henry, of Pevington, co. Kent, who left issue.
Dorothy, m. to Thomas English, Esq. of Buckland, Kent.

Sir Edward d. 22 June, 1644, and was s. by his eldest son,

II. SIR EDWARD, M.P. for Kent, who m. Mary, dau. of Daniel Harvey, Esq. of Combe, by whom (who d. in 1704) he had issue, de Ros, Baron (Dudley-Charles Fitzgerald-de Ros), of Hamlake, co. Leicester, in the peerage of England; s. his father as 21st baron, 6 Jan. 1874, major-gen. in the army, late col. 1st life-guards, and equerry to H.R.H. the late Prince Consort, now a lord-in-waiting to the Queen, b. 11 March, 1827; m. in Oct. 1853, Lady Elizabeth Egerton, dau. of the Earl of Wilton, and has an only child,

Mary-Frances, heiress presumptive to the Barony, b. 31 July, 1854; m. 2 Oct. 1878, to the Hon. Anthony-Lucius Dawson, youngest son of the Earl of Dartrey.

Lineage.

"That Peter, the ancestor of this great and noble family," says Dugdale, "did originally assume his surname in the time of Henry I., from that lordship in Holderness, called Ros, where he then had his residence, needeth not to be doubted." This Peter m. Adeline, one of the sisters and co-heirs of the famous Walter Espec, and was s. by his son,

Robert de Ros, who was s. by his son,

Everard de Ros. This feudal lord m. Roysia, dau. of William Trusbut, of Wartre, in Holderness, and at the decease of her brothers without issue, co-heir to her father's estate; which estate was eventually inherited by her descendants, the Lords Ros, her sisters and co-heirs leaving no posterity. Everard de Ros died about the year 1186, and was s. by his son,

Robert de Ros, surnamed Furfan. This feudal lord, in the time of Richard I., was imprisoned in Normandy, and forced to pay a considerable sum for his deliverance. But, under King JOHN he regained the whole barony of his great-grandfather, Walter Espec, and was soon after employed as one of the commissioners to conduct WILLIAM, King of Scotland, into England. Robert de Ros was the founder of Hamlake Castle, in Yorkshire, and of Werke Castle, in Northumberland. During the troubles in King JOHN's reign, he espoused the baronial interests and was a leader in the baronial army. He m. Isabel, dau. of WILLIAM the Lion, King of Scotland, and had issue,

WILLIAM, of Helmsley, of whom presently.
Robert, of Werke, whose lineal descendant, and the eventual heir of the family, ELIZABETH DE ROS, m. Sir William Parr, Knt., from whom sprang the PARRS of Kendal.
William, of Agmanthorpe, from whom descended the Ros's of that place.

Having assumed the habit of the order of Knights Templars, Robert de Ros d. in 1227, and was buried at London, in the Temple Church. His eldest son's eldest son,

ROBERT DE ROS, taking an active part against the king, was one of the chief barons, who, after the battle of Lewes, in 1264, where HENRY III., and his son, Prince Edward, became prisoners, was summoned to the parliament, which was called by the barons in the king's name, as Baron de Ros, 24 Dec. 1264. His lordship m. Lady Isabel, the great heiress of William de Albini, Lord of Belvoir, in Leicestershire; and dying in 1285, was s. by his eldest son,

WILLIAM, 2nd Baron de Ros. This nobleman was an unsuccessful competitor for the crown of Scotland in 1292, and in 1296, he obtained from EDWARD I. a grant of Werke Castle, upon its forfeiture by the treason of his kinsman, Robert de Ros. His lordship m. Matilda, dau. and co-heir of John de Vaux, and was s. in 1316, by his elder son,

WILLIAM, 3rd baron, who m. Margery, eldest sister and co-heir of Giles, Lord Badlesmere, of Ledes Castle, in Kent; and dying in 1343, was s. by his older son,

WILLIAM, 4th baron. This nobleman had the glory of leading the second division of the English army at the celebrated battle of Crecy. He m. Margaret, dau. of Ralph Nevil; and dying s. p. in 1362, was s. by his brother,

THOMAS, 5th baron, who m. Beatrice, widow of Maurice Fitzmaurice, Earl of Desmond, and dau. of Ralph Stafford, 1st Earl of Stafford; and dying 1384, was s. by his eldest son,

JOHN, 6th baron. This nobleman having undertaken a pilgrimage to Jerusalem, d. at Paphos, in 1394, and leaving no issue, was s. by his brother,

WILLIAM, 7th baron, who was constituted, 4th HENRY IV., LORD TREASURER OF ENGLAND. His lordship m. Margaret, dau. of Sir John Arundel; and dying 1 Sept. 1414, was s. by his eldest son.

JOHN, 8th baron. This nobleman m. Margaret, dau. and heir of Sir Philip Despenser, but had no issue. He was killed in France, where he served under the Duke of Clarence, in 1421, and was s. by his brother,

SIR THOMAS DE ROS, as 9th baron. His lordship m. Eleanor, dau. of Richard Beauchamp, Earl of Warwick; and dying 18 Aug. 1431, was s. by his eldest son,

THOMAS, 10th baron, who was summoned to parliament from 2 Jan. (27th HENRY VI.) 1449, to 30 July, 1460. His lordship being attainted, 4 Nov. 1461, his honours became forfeited; but his son (by Philippa, sister of John Tiptoft, Earl of Worcester),

EDMUND, 11th baron, obtained a reversal of the attainder in 1485: he was not, however, summoned to parliament. Upon the decease of this nobleman, without issue, in 1508, the barony fell into abeyance between his three sisters and co-heirs, which terminated in favour of

GEORGE MANNERS, as 12th baron, the son and heir of Eleanor, the eldest sister, by her husband, Sir Robert Manners, Knt. (the two younger sisters having d. without issue). This nobleman was never summoned to parliament. His lordship m. Ann, only dau. and heir of Sir Thomas St. Leger, Knt., by Ann Plantagenet, sister of EDWARD IV. He d. in 1513, and was s. by his son,

THOMAS, 13th baron, who was summoned to parliament 12 Nov. 1515, and created EARL OF RUTLAND, 18 June, 1525, being also installed a knight of the Garter. His lordship d. in 1543, and was s. by his son (by Eleanor, dau. of Sir William Paston),

HENRY, 2nd earl* and 14th baron, who d. in 1563, and was s. by his eldest son,

EDWARD, 3rd earl and 15th baron. This nobleman d. without male issue, in 1587, when the earldom of Rutland reverted to his brother, and the barony of Ros descended to his only dau. and heir (by Isabel, only dau. and heir of Sir Thomas Hodcroft, of Vale Royal, Cheshire),

ELIZABETH MANNERS, who m. William Cecil, 2nd Earl of Exeter. Her ladyship d. in 1591, and the barony of Ros was confirmed to her son and heir,

WILLIAM CECIL, as 16th baron, 22 July, 1616. His lordship d. however, in two years afterwards, without male issue (his father, the Earl of Exeter, being still living), when the barony reverted to his cousin,

FRANCIS MANNERS, 6th Earl of Rutland, as 17th baron. This nobleman had previously contested it, as heir-general, and obtained, on the same day that it was confirmed to his cousin, 22 July, 1616, a patent, creating himself and his heirs male, Baron Ros, of Hamlake; he d. however, in 1632, without male issue, when the new barony expired, but the old one devolved upon his only dau. and heir,

KATHERINE, as Baroness de Ros. This lady m. George Villiers, 1st Duke of Buckingham; and dying in 1666, was s. in the barony by her eldest son,

GEORGE, 2nd Duke of Buckingham and 18th baron, who d. in 1687, without male issue, when the barony fell into abeyance between the heirs of Bridget, wife of Sir Robert Tyrwhitt, Bart., and Frances, wife of William, Lord Willoughby of Parham, sisters of Francis, 6th Earl of Rutland, and so continued until terminated in favour of the only daughter and heir of the Hon. Robert-Boyle Walsingham, youngest son of Henry, 1st Earl of Shannon, by Charlotte, dau. of Sir Charles-Hanbury Williams, Bart., the descendant of the before-mentioned Frances, Lady Willoughby, of Parham,

CHARLOTTE BOYLE, wife of Lord Henry Fitzgerald, son of James, 1st Duke of Leinster, as 3rd Baroness de Ros. Her ladyship had issue (by Lord Henry, who d. 8 July, 1829),

Lineage.

The family of Saumarez, originally De Sausmarez, is of Norman extraction, and of great antiquity in the island of Guernsey. Their remote ancestor received from Henry, 10th Duke of Normandy (Henry II. of England) the fief of Jerbourg, and was appointed hereditary captain (or chatelain) of the castle of that name, which was situated within the limits of the fief. In the twenty-seventh year of Edward I., at a court of chief pleas held at Guernsey in the presence of the judges, Matthew de Sausmarez did homage for this fief, and in the fourth of Edward III. the grant was renewed and confirmed to his son, whose descendant,

Matthew de Sausmaurez, of Guernsey, b. 4 June, 1685, was col. of militia in the island of Guernsey. He m. Anne, dau. of John Durell, lt. bailiff of the island of Jersey, and had issue,

I. John (who alone retained the original surname of De Sausmarez, which is preserved by his descendants to the present day), b. 12 Jan. 1706; d. 4 April, 1773. He was seigneur of the fief Sausmarez, and chatelain of Juburg, and for many years attorney-general of the island of Guernsey; he m. and had, with other issue, Matthew, b. 1749, d. s. p., and Thomas, attorney-general of the island of Guernsey, who d. 1 April, 1837, leaving, with other issue, John-Thomas De Sausmarez, Esq., jurat of the royal court of Guernsey, the present representative of the eldest branch of the family of De Sausmarez.
II. A son, d. an infant.
III. Philip, b. 17 Nov. 1710. He was first lieut. with Commodore Anson in his voyage round the world and expedition to the South Seas, and was made captain of the galleon then captured; he fell gloriously commanding the "Nottingham," 60, when that ship captured the French "Mars," 64, at Lord Hawke's memorable action off Brest, 14 Oct. 1747.
IV. Matthew.
V. Thomas, capt. R.N., b. 20 April, 1720. He was also with Lord Anson in his expedition, and subsequently, when commander of the "Antelope," of 50 guns, captured the "Belliqueux," of 64 guns, in the British Channel. He d. 1764.

The 4th son,

Matthew Saumarez, was b. 10 Oct. 1718, and was drowned in his passage to England in March, 1778. He m. 1st, Susannah, dau. of Thomas Dumaresq, Esq. of Jersey, and had a dau., Susannah, the wife of Henry Brock, Esq. of Jersey. He m. 2ndly, Carteret, dau. of James le Marchant, likewise of an eminent Guernsey family, and had issue,

Philip, lieut. R.N., d. unm.
John, b. in 1755; m. Judith, dau. of William Brock, Esq., and d. 2 Feb. 1832.

He served throughout the American war of independence, and he was, in 1790, equerry and groom of the chamber to the late Duke of Kent. He was, in 1813, commander-in-chief of New Brunswick. He d. 4 March, 1845. His widow d. 18 Feb. 1858.
Richard, of Newington, Surrey, a surgeon, F.R.S. and F.S.A., m. and left with other issue at his decease, 27 Jan. 1835, an eldest son, Admiral Richard Saumarez, who m., and d. 1864, and whose son, Rear-Adm. Thomas Saumarez, R.N., C.B., behaved recently with great gallantry in China.
Nicholas, late collector-general of the revenue in Ceylon, m. and had issue.
Anne, m. to Isaac Dobree, Esq.
Charlotte, m. to the Rev. Nicholas Dobree, M.A., rector of St. Mary-de-Castro, in Guernsey.
Mary, d. 8 Jan. 1865, aged 97.
Carteret, m. to Peter Lihou, Esq.

The 3rd son,

Sir James Saumarez, Bart., G.C.B., b. 11 March, 1757, whose high professional reputation was established in the most brilliant epoch of our naval history, and whose name is to be found in the same historic roll with those of Rodney, Howe, Hood, Jervis, and Nelson, was created a Baronet in 1801, and elevated to the peerage, by letters patent, dated 15 Sept. 1831. Lord de Saumarez m. in 1788, Martha, dau. and heir of Thomas Le Marchant, Esq. of Guernsey, and by her (who d. 17 April, 1849) had issue,

I. James, 2nd baron.
II. Thomas-Le Marchant, b. 30 Oct. 1803; m. 1 Oct. 1829, Catherine-Spencer-A. Beresford, dau. of the late Lieut.-Col. Spencer Vassall, who gallantly fell at Monte Video and d. 4 July, 1834. His widow m. 2ndly, 8 Feb. 1841, the Rev. Eardley-Wilmot Marshall, of Bury, Sussex.
III. John-St. Vincent, present peer.
I. Mary Dobree, d. unm. in 1812. II. Carteret, d. in 1814.

Lineage.

President de Bacquencourt, of the parliament of Rouen, had two sons; the 2nd of whom,

Anthony Vinchon de Bacquencourt, assumed the surname of Des Vœux, and took up his abode in Ireland, having incurred the displeasure of his family by abandoning their religious faith—that of the church of Rome. He was a man of great learning, and known by his polemical writings, particularly those on miracles, and against the Jansenists. His translation and commentary on the book of Ecclesiastes, was considered of so much importance, as to induce the University of Dublin to confer upon him the honorary degree of master of arts. M. Des Vœux m. the Viscountess de Seden; and dying in 1792, left (with a younger son and a dau.),

I. Charles des Vœux, Esq. of Indiville, Queen's Co., who held for several years distinguished offices in the government of India, having been governor of Masulipatam, and second in council at Madras; and on his return had a seat in the parliament of Ireland. Mr. Des Vœux m. in 1778, Mary-Anne, 3rd dau. of the Very Rev. Arthur Champagné, dean of Clanmacnoise (sister of Jane, Countess of Uxbridge, and Harriett, Lady Burrowes, and granddau., maternally, of George, Earl of Granard; this lady was also collaterally descended from William of Wykeham), and had,

I. Charles, 2nd baronet.
II. Arthur, b. in 1782; deceased.

Lord de Tabley, who has been a lord-in-waiting on the Queen, and is lieut.-col. commandant Earl of Chester's yeomanry cavalry, assumed, by sign-manual, in 1832, instead of his patronymic, the surname of WARREN only, with the arms of that family.

Lineage.

The LEICESTERS (or LEYCESTERS, as formerly written) are of very great antiquity in the co. Chester, and were possessed of land there in the time of King JOHN. The village of Nether Tabley, manor, and mansion, came to them with Margaret Dutton, dau. of Jeffrey Dutton, of Dutton, co. Chester, A.D. 1272, as appears in the History and Antiquities of Cheshire, by Sir Peter Leicester, Bart. "Jeffrey Dutton (says Sir Peter), son of Adam Dutton de Dutton, gave Nether Tabley to his dau. Margaret, and her heirs, about the end of the reign of HENRY III. This Margaret first married Robert de Denbigh, and had no issue; afterwards she married Nicholas de Leycester, by whom she had issue, and to whose succeeding progeny the manor of Nether Tabley still belongeth. He was afterwards Sir Nicholas Leycester, Knt., so styled in 1292, and was seneschal to Henry Lacy, Earl of Lincoln, constable of Cheshire. He was s. by his son, Roger, who was s. by his son,

NICHOLAS LEYCESTER, who d. in 1349, leaving two sons,

The eldest son of Nicholas,

JOHN LEYCESTER, who served in the wars of France under John of Gaunt, in 1373 and 1380, built the old manor-hall of Nether Tabley. He was father of

WILLIAM LEYCESTER, Esq. of Nether Tabley, the first that we find styled De Tabley; but this may be in consequence of the statute of additions passed in the 1st of HENRY V.; for previously to the enactment of that law, few were written either of the place, or within the title of esquire. Certain it is, that this William lived at his manor-house of Nether Tabley, which his father, John, had recently erected, and which continues the seat of the family to the present period. He m. twice, but had issue by his wife, Agnes, sister of Sir John-Piers Dutton, Knt., only. He d. in 1428, and was s. by his eldest son,

JOHN LEYCESTER, Esq. of Nether Tabley, who d. 1462, and was s. by his eldest son,

JOHN LEYCESTER, Esq., of Nether Tabley, who had a numerous family, and who d. in 1496, and was s. by his eldest son,

THOMAS LEYCESTER, Esq. of Nether Tabley. He m. Margaret, dau. and co-heir of Robert Grosvenor, of Hulton. He was s. by his eldest son,

JOHN LEYCESTER, Esq. of Nether Tabley, whose son,

WILLIAM LEYCESTER, Esq. d. s. p., and was s. by his brother,

JOHN LEYCESTER, Esq. of Nether Tabley, who d. 1543; his son and successor,

PETER LEYCESTER, Esq. of Nether Tabley, left (with other issue) two sons, PETER, his successor, and ADAM; and on the elder son Peter's son dying s. p., the estates reverted to the son of Adam,

PETER LEYCESTER, Esq. of Nether Tabley, who m. Elizabeth, dau. of Sir Randal Mainwaring, the elder, of Over Peover, and, dying 1647, was s. by his eldest son,

PETER LEICESTER, Esq., the celebrated antiquarian and historian of Cheshire, who, b. 3 March, 1613, was created a Baronet 10 Aug. 1660. Sir Peter m. Elizabeth, youngest dau. of Gilbert, Lord Gerard, of Gerard's Bromley, co. Stafford; and dying in 1678, was s. by his eldest son,

Family of Byrne or O'Byrne.

From the earliest era of Irish history to the invasion of Cromwell, the family of O'Broin, O'Birne, or O'Byrne, was amongst the most powerful and distinguished. It traces its descent from Hermon the son of Milesius, through Ugane More and Cathire More, two of the most powerful warriors that swayed an Irish sceptre. Charles O'Byrne, representative of this great house, was deprived by Cromwell of his extensive domains. DANIEL BYRNE, a descendant of the historic sept, m. Anne, dau. of Richard Taylor, Esq. of Swords, and had (with other children),

I. GREGORY.

Lineage.

The COURTENAYS are one of the most illustrious races amongst the English nobility, and have had a brilliant historian in Gibbon. In the time of HENRY II.

SIR REGINALD DE COURTENAY, m. HAWISE, dau. or granddau. of Robert de Abrincis, and was s. by his eldest son,

ROBERT DE COURTENAY, as feudal Baron of Oakhampton, Viscount of Devonshire, and governor of the castle of Exeter. This Robert, in 1214, was made governor of Bridgnorth, in Shropshire, and the following year, sheriff of Oxfordshire, and governor of the castle of Oxford, when the king (JOHN) committed to him the coinage of tin in Devonshire and Cornwall. He m. Mary, youngest dau. of William de Redvers, surnamed VERNON, 6th Earl of Devon; and dying 26 July, 1242, was s. by his elder son,

JOHN DE COURTENAY, as feudal Baron of Oakhampton; who m. Isabel, dau. of Hugh de Vere, Earl of Oxford, lord-high chamberlain of England; and dying in 1273, was s. by his only son,

HUGH DE COURTENAY, Baron of Oakhampton. This feudal lord m. Eleanor, dau. of Hugh de Spencer, the elder, Earl of Winchester, and was s. by his elder son,

HUGH DE COURTENAY, Baron of Oakhampton. This nobleman having distinguished himself in the Scottish wars of EDWARD I., was one of the three hundred persons of eminence knighted by that monarch at Westminster. In the reign of EDWARD II., he was created a Knight-Banneret; and was fifteen times summoned to especial treaties in parliament, as a baron, within the first eight years of EDWARD III., and twice in the 9th of the same monarch, by the name of Hugh de Courtenay, EARL OF DEVONSHIRE, being the last earl in order, as having been that year only restored to the dignity, in right of his great-grandmother, Mary, dau. of William de Redvers, Earl of Devon. His lordship m. Agnes, sister of the Lord St. John of Basing, and was s. at his decease, in 1340, by his eldest son,

HUGH DE COURTENAY, 2nd Earl of Devon, who had m. in 1325, Margaret, dau. of Humphrey Bohun, Earl of Hereford and Essex (lord-high-constable of England), and his wife, the Lady Elizabeth Plantagenet, dau. of EDWARD I., by whom he had (with nine daus.) eight sons, viz.,

I. Hugh, commonly called Hugh Courtenay le Fitz, one of the gallant soldiers of the martial reign of EDWARD III., a participator in the glories of Crecy, and an original knight of the Garter. He was summoned to parliament, as BARON COURTENAY, 8 Jan. 1371. His lordship m. Elizabeth, dau. of Guy Brian, Lord of Tor-Brian, in Devonshire, and sister of the famous Guy, Lord Brian, K.G., standard-bearer to the king at Crecy; and dying in the lifetime of his father, left an only son,

Hugh, who m. Matilda, dau. of Thomas Holland, Earl of Kent, by Joan Plantagenet his wife, the celebrated FAIR MAID OF KENT, granddau. of EDWARD I. (and mother, by the Black Prince, of RICHARD II). Hugh Courtenay d. in 1377, a few years after his father, and before his grandfather, leaving no issue. His widow m. Waleran, Earl of St. Pol.

II. Thomas, M.P. for Devonshire, d. before his father.

III. EDWARD, of Godlington (who d. also before his father), m. Emeline, dau. and heir of Sir John D'Auney, Knt., and had issue,

1 EDWARD, successor to his grandfather, as 3rd earl.

2 Hugh (Sir), of Haccomb, m. 1st, Elizabeth, dau. of Sir William Cogan, and widow of Sir Fulk Fitzwarine, but by her had no issue. He m. 2ndly, Philippa, dau. and co-heir of Sir William Arcedekene, and had an only dau.,

Joane, m. 1st, to Nicholas, Lord Carew; and 2ndly, to Sir Robert Vere.

Sir Hugh Courtenay m. 3rdly, Maud, dau. of Sir John Beaumont, of Sherwell, in Dorsetshire, by whom he had (with a dau., Margaret, m. to Sir Theobald Grenvill, Knt.) a son and heir,

HUGH (Sir), of Boconnock, who m. Margaret, dau. and co-heir of Thomas Carminow, of Carminow, and fell at Tewkesbury, leaving two sons and four daus.,

EDWARD, created in 1485, EARL OF DEVON.

Walter (Sir), who d. unm.

Maud, m. Sir John Arundell, of Tolverne, of which marriage, Elizabeth-Lydia, wife of W.-H. Shippard, Esq., was senior co-heir. (See ARUNDEL OF WARDOUR.)

Elizabeth, m. John Trethurffe, Esq.

Isabella, m William Mohun, Esq. of Hall, Lanteglos, Cornwall.

Florence, m. John Trelawny, Esq.

IV. William, archbishop of Canterbury in 1381; d. in 1396.

V. John, M.P. for Devonshire, temp. RICHARD II.

VI. PHILIP (Sir), of Powderham Castle, of whom hereafter as ancestor of the present Earl of Devon.

VII. Peter (Sir), K.G., standard-bearer to EDWARD III., constable of Windsor Castle, governor of Calais, and chamberlain to RICHARD II.; d. unm. in 1409.

VIII. Humphry.

Hugh, 2nd Earl of Devon, d. in 1377, and was s. by his grandson,

EDWARD, 3rd Earl of Devon, commonly called The Blind Earl. This nobleman served to the beginning of the reign of RICHARD II. as a naval officer, under JOHN of Gaunt, and THOMAS of Woodstock, respectively; and was appointed, in the 7th of the same monarch, admiral of all the king's fleet, from the mouth of the Thames westward. In the next year, being then EARL MARSHAL, his lordship was retained to serve the king in his Scottish wars. He m. Maud, dau. of Thomas, Lord Camoys; and dying 4 Dec. 1419, was s. by his only surviving son,

HUGH, 4th Earl of Devon, K.B., who m. Anne, dau. of Richard, Lord Talbot, and sister of the renowned Earl of Shrewsbury; and dying in 1422, was s. by his son,

THOMAS, 5th Earl of Devon. This nobleman commenced his military career at the age of sixteen, and was engaged for several years in the French wars of HENRY VI., with whom he sided on the breaking out of the unhappy conflict between the houses of York and Lancaster; and the Courtenays ever after adhered, with desperate fidelity, to the RED ROSE. In 1448, a dispute regarding precedency arose between the Earls of Devon and Arundel, which was decided by parliament in favour of the latter lord, owing to his feudal possession of Arundel Castle. The Earl of Devon d. 3 Feb. 1458, in the Abbey of Abingdon, upon his route to London, as a mediator, with other noblemen, between the king and the Duke of York. He m. Lady Margaret Beaufort, 2nd dau. of John, Marquess of Somerset, and was s. by his eldest son,

THOMAS, 6th Earl of Devon. This nobleman inheriting the political principles, with the honours, of his deceased father, was a strenuous upholder of the Lancastrian interests, and falling into the hands of the Yorkists, at Towton Field, he was beheaded at York, by order of EDWARD IV., in April, 1462. His lordship was subsequently attainted, and the honours of the house thus became eclipsed; but his next brother,

HUGH COURTENAY (7th earl, but for the attainder), finding favour with the new king, had restoration of some part of the estates. Engaging, however, in the Lancastrian quarrel, with the zeal of his predecessors, he was himself attainted, 4 May, 1466, before the king and justices at Sarum, and beheaded, with the Lord Hungerford, on the same day.

(The greater part of the Courtenay estates having been conferred upon Humphrey Stafford, Baron Stafford of Southwicke, that nobleman was created EARL OF DEVON in 1469; but falling under the axe as a traitor, in the August following, the dignity expired.)

Upon the demise of Hugh Courtenay, his only surviving brother,

JOHN COURTENAY, assumed the EARLDOM OF DEVON, and the Lancastrian interest prevailing in 1470, by the expulsion of King EDWARD, his lordship was restored to the honours and possessions of his family by the parliament that replaced the crown upon the head of HENRY VI. The subsequent defeat, however, of Richard Nevill, the stout Earl of Warwick, at Barnet Field, 14 April, 1471, again placed the fortunes of the house of Devon in jeopardy, and the earl, joining MARGARET OF ANJOU, fell sword in hand, at Tewkesbury, 14 May following, at the head of MARGARET's rear-guard. Thus the three brothers sealed with their blood their bond of fidelity to the house of Lancaster, and with them expired the senior branch of the ancient and illustrious house of Courtenay. The last earl was buried at Tewkesbury, and being attainted, the honours and estates of DEVON became again forfeited.

The branch being thus extinguished, we proceed to that founded by

SIR HUGH COURTENAY, of Haccomb, brother of EDWARD, 3rd earl (revert to issue of Hugh, 2nd earl). This gentleman's only son,

SIR HUGH COURTENAY, Knt., was of Boconnock, in Cornwall, and M.P. for that shire. He m. Margaret, dau. and co-heir of Thomas Carminow (the last heir male of that ancient family, whose other dau. and co-heir was m. to Sir Thomas Carew, of Mohun's Ottery), and had issue,

I. EDWARD (Sir), his successor.
II. Walter (Sir), d. unm.
I. Maud, m. Sir John Arundell, of Tolverne
II. Elizabeth, m. to John Trethurffe, and had a son,

THOMAS TRETHURFFE, who left two daus.,
Elizabeth, m. to John Vivian.
Margaret, m. to Edward Courtenay, Esq. of Larrock.

III. Isabel, m. to William Mohun.
IV. Florence, m. to John Trelawny.

Sir Hugh, faithful to the Red Rose, fell, with his noble kinsman, the Earl of Devon, at Tewkesbury; and his eldest son,

SIR EDWARD COURTENAY, being involved with his brother, in the conspiracy of Henry Stafford, Duke of Buckingham, in favour of Henry, Earl of Richmond, was forced to fly into Brittany upon the failure of the plot and the decapitation of the duke. Participating, subsequently, in the victory of Bosworth, he was elevated to the peerage by HENRY VII. (26 Oct. 1485), as EARL OF DEVON, and he obtained grants, at the same time, of the greater part of the estates, manors, &c., which had belonged to the late Thomas Courtenay, Earl of Devon. His lordship m. Elizabeth, dau. of Sir Philip Courtenay, of Molland, and had an only son,

William (Sir), K.B., who m. the Lady Katherine Plantagenet, dau. of EDWARD IV. In the year 1502, Sir William was arrested, with Lord William de la Pole, Sir James Tyrrell, and Sir John Wyndham, and accused of holding a traitorous correspondence with Edmund de la Pole, Earl of Suffolk, then a refugee at the court of his aunt, Margaret, Duchess of Burgundy; and he was attainted in 1504. Tyrrell and Wyndham were beheaded on Tower-hill, while Courtenay was doomed to incarceration during the king's reign.

The earl d. in 1509, and HENRY VIII. ascending the throne in the same year, that monarch immediately released

SIR WILLIAM COURTENAY, and took him into favour; but he died in three years afterwards, before he had either letters patent or a formal restoration of the earldom. He was buried, however, "with the honours of an earl," at the especial command of the king. By the Lady Catherine Plantagenet he left an only son,

EDWARD COURTENAY, who having been restored in blood and honours, became 2nd Earl of Devon of the new creation. In 1522, his lordship obtained a grant of Caleland, in Cornwall, and of a "fair mansion," situate in the parish of St. Lawrence Poultry, in the city of London, forfeited by the attainder of Edward Stafford, Duke of Buckingham; and was advanced by letters patent, dated 18 June, 1525, to the dignity of Marquess of Exeter. For some years this nobleman enjoyed the favour of the fickle HENRY, but he fell at length a victim to that monarch's jealousy of the house of Pole. He was committed to the Tower with Henry Pole, Lord Montacute, and Sir Edward Nevill, for conspiring to place Reginald Pole, dean of Exeter upon the throne, and was beheaded with Sir Edward Nevill, 9 Jan. 1539. On the subsequent attainder of the marquess all his honours expired, and the king annexed to the Duchy of Cornwall the lands in that county, which thus came to the crown. His lordship m. 1st, Elizabeth Grey, dau. and heir of John, Viscount Lisle, but by that lady had no issue. He m. 2ndly, Gertrude, dau. of William Blount, Lord Mountjoy, by whom he left an only child,

EDWARD COURTENAY, who, though but twelve years of age at the death of his father, was committed prisoner to the Tower, and detained there during the remainder of King HENRY's reign, and that of EDWARD VI.; but upon the accession of Queen MARY he was released, and a patent, dated at Richmond, 3 Sept. 1553, was issued, creating him EARL OF DEVON. On the 10th October following, he was fully restored in blood; but as the attainder of his father was never reversed, he did not succeed to the Earldom of Devon, created in the 1st HENRY VII., nor to the earldom created in the 3rd HENRY VIII., neither did he to the Marquessate of Exeter. His lordship had some command in suppressing Wyatt's rebellion, and yet was afterwards, with the Princess ELIZABETH, accused of being accessory thereto, and sent with her highness to the Tower. He was subsequently confined in Fotheringay Castle, but released, through the interposition of PHILIP of Spain, upon that monarch's marriage with the queen; the Lady ELIZABETH being liberated through the same influence. His lordship after this, obtained the queen's permission to go abroad, and d. at Padua, not without suspicion of poison 4 Oct. 1556. He d. unm., and his estates reverted to the issue of his great-aunts, and the four daus. of Sir Hugh Courtenay, of Boconnock, and sisters of Edward, 1st earl. At his lordship's decease, the earldom of Devon was considered to have become extinct, and it remained dormant for no less than two hundred and sixty-five years. It was, however, re-established in another branch of the family, as heirs male of the deceased lord (to which we shall now proceed), by the decision of parliament, 15 March, 1831. It is clear, however, that the Courtenays themselves never once previously, thought of the earldom's being in existence, or they would not have accepted a baronetcy and a viscounty.

The existing branch of the Courtenays was founded by

SIR PHILIP COURTENAY, of Powderham Castle (refer to issue of Hugh de Courtenay, 2nd of the original Earls of Devon), who received the honour of knighthood from Edward, the Black Prince, with his brothers, Hugh and Peter, the day before the battle of Navaret, in Spain, and was constituted in 1383, lord-lieutenant of Ireland for ten years. Lineage.

The noble family of Cavendish, of which, in the last century, two branches attained dukedoms, laid the foundations of its greatness originally on the share of Abbey lands, obtained, at the dissolution of the monasteries, by Sir William Cavendish, who had been gentleman-usher to Cardinal Wolsey, and d. in 1557; and subsequently, by the abilities and the good fortune of Elizabeth, his widow, who remarried George, Earl of Shrewsbury, and d. in 1607, aged eighty-seven. (See BURKE'S Rise of Great Families). But though thence arose the exalted rank and extensive possessions enjoyed at present by the Cavendishes, be it not supposed that their remote ancestors were obscure. Whether the first of the name who enjoyed the lordship of Cavendish, in Suffolk, was or was not the son of a member of the baronial family of Gernon, whom genealogists have stated to have owned that estate, it is clearly ascertained that

SIR JOHN CAVENDISH, who acquired the lordship of Cavendish-Overhall, by his marriage with Alice, dau. and heiress of John de Odyngseles, was chief-justice of the Court of King's Bench in 1366, 1373, and 1377. In the 4th RICHARD II., his lordship was elected chancellor of the University of Cambridge, and was next year commissioned, with Robert de Hales, treasurer of England, to suppress the insurrection raised in the city of York; in which year the mob, having risen to the number of 50,000, made it a point, particularly in the co. of Suffolk, to plunder and murder the lawyers; and being incensed in a more than ordinary degree against the Chief-Justice Cavendish, his son, John, having killed the notorious Wat Tyler, they seized upon, and dragged him, with Sir John of Cambridge, prior of Bury, into the market-place of that town, and there caused both to be beheaded. The younger son of the judge,

SIR JOHN CAVENDISH, esquire of the body to King RICHARD II., is said to be the person who actually slew Wat Tyler. "For William Walworth, mayor of London, having arrested him, he furiously struck the mayor with his dagger, but being armed, hurt him not; whereupon, the mayor, drawing his baselard, grievously wounded Wat in the neck; in which conflict, an esquire of the king's house, called John Cavendish, drew his sword, and wounded him twice or thrice even unto death. For which service, Cavendish was knighted in Smithfield, and had a grant of £40 per annum from the king."

The great-great grandsons of this Sir John Cavendish were the brothers,

WILLIAM CAVENDISH and George Cavendish; the latter was the faithful attendant of Cardinal Wolsey, through all fortunes; so faithful, indeed, that after the death of the Cardinal, King HENRY retained him in his own service, especially upon the grounds of his attachment to his late fallen master. The elder brother, WILLIAM CAVENDISH, was, in 1530, appointed one of the commissioners for visiting and taking the surrenders of divers religious houses, and in that year the prior and convent of Sheen surrendered their monastery to him. He had, subsequently, grants from the crown, received the honour of knighthood, and was appointed treasurer of the chamber to the king; an office which he filled in the ensuing reigns of EDWARD VI. and Queen MARY, when he was sworn of the privy-council. III. Mary-Theresa.

His lordship s. as 9th lord, 12 May, 1856.

Lineage.

The original surname of this ancient family is said to have been TILTON, assumed from their residence at Tilton, co. Leicester; and the alteration is supposed to have taken place in 1256, when that abode was abandoned for Digby, co. Lincoln.

In nearly two centuries afterwards, A.D. 1434, we find

EVERARD DIGBY, Esq., filling the office of high-sheriff of the co. of Rutland, and representing that shire in parliament. He fell at the battle of Towton, in 1440, fighting under the banner of the unfortunate HENRY VI. He m. Jaqueta, dau. and co-heir of Sir John Ellys, of Devonshire, and left (with one dau.) seven sons, of whom the three eldest were,

I. EVERARD (Sir), Lord of Tilton and Drystoke, ancestor of the celebrated SIR KENELM DIGBY, Knt., one of the most faithful adherents of the royal cause in the civil war, and an exile, in consequence, during CROMWELL's usurpation. This Ornament of England, as he has been styled, wrote several learned books; was a great benefactor to the Bodleian library, by presenting it, in 1633, with a large collection of MSS.; recovered the reputation of his family, and rendered it famous throughout the Christian world. He returned to England in 1661; was appointed one of the council on the first settlement of the Royal Society; and d. at his house in Covent Garden, 11 June, 1665. He m. the renowned beauty, Venetia, dau. and co-heir of Sir Edward Stanley, K.B. of Tonge Castle, co. Salop, by Lady Lucy Percy, his wife, dau. and co-heir of Thomas, 7th Earl of Northumberland, and left two sons and a dau. The only surviving son, JOHN DIGBY, Esq. of Gothurst, Bucks, left two daus., his co-heirs, viz., Margaretta-Maria, m. to Sir John Conway, Bart. of Bodrythan, and Charlotte-Theophila, wife of Richard Mostyn, Esq. of Penbeddus.
II. SIMON, of Coleshill.
III. JOHN (Sir), of Eye-Kettleby, ancestor of the DIGBYS of North Luffenham, whose descendant, Simon Digby, Esq. of North Luffenham, d. in 1729, leaving by Margaret Saunderson, his wife, two sons, viz., I. KENELM, of North Luffenham, whose present representative is JOHN RICHARD DIGBY BESTE, Esq. of Botleigh Grange, Hants, J.P. and D.L.; and II. JAMES, of Red Hall, in Lincolnshire, d. s. p. in 1811, leaving his sisters (Mary, m. to John Fowell, Esq. of Blackhall, in Devon, and Henrietta,* m. to George Pauncefort, Esq.) his co-heirs. John-Digby Fowell, of Blackhall and Crabaton Court, in Devon, son and heir of Mr. Digby's eldest sister, Mary Digby, by her husband, John Fowell, Esq. of Blackhall and Crabaton, d. 17 May, 1828, leaving issue, by his wife, Sarah, dau. and co-heir of Peter Knowling, Esq. of Washbourne House, in Devon, three sons and three daus., of whom were,

1 John-Digby Fowell, Esq., eldest son and heir, m. 12 Aug. 1819, Frances, only dau. of Samuel Cumming, Esq. of Totnes, Devon, and had issue,
John-Digby Fowell; Francis-Newton Fowell; Samuel Cumming Fowell; Frederick-Charles Fowell; and George-Kirkham Fowell.
1 Henrietta-Digby Fowell, eldest dau. m. Richard Samuel Sprye, Esq., son of the late Rev. John Sprye, vicar of Ugborough, in Devon and had with other issue,
Henrietta-Anne-Fowell Sprye, m. 2 Nov. 1844, to John Welch, Esq. of the Inner Temple, and has Edward-John-Cowling, Arthur-Wilmot, Reginald-Courtenay, Francis-Bernard, Walter-Samuel, Amy-Henrietta, Beatrice-Annie-Rosa, Ada-Dorcas, and Alice-Maud-Jane.

The second son,

SIR SIMON DIGBY, Knt. of Coleshill, co. Warwick, having contributed mainly, with his six valiant brothers, to the Earl of Richmond's success at Bosworth, was rewarded, after the accession of HENRY VII., with large grants of lands, and lucrative public employments. Sir Simon m. Alice, dau. and heir of John Walleys, Esq. of East Haddon, co. Devon; and dying in 1519, left two sons, the younger, Thomas Digby, of Mansfield-Woodehouse, Notts., was ancestor of John Digby, Esq., M.P. for East Retford, temp. GEORGE I.; the elder,

REGINALD DIGBY, Esq. of Coleshill, co. Warwick, m. Anne, dau. and co-heir of John Danvers, Esq. of Calthorpe, co. Oxford, and was s. by his son,

JOHN DIGBY, Esq. This gentleman m. Anne, eldest dau. of Sir George Throgmorton, and was s. by his son,

SIR GEORGE DIGBY, who m. Abigail, dau. of Sir Arthur Heveningham, of Kettering, in Norfolk, knight-banneret, and had, with other issue,

ROBERT, his successor.
George, who was elevated to the peerage, in 1618, as Baron Digby of Sherborne, and created, in 1662, Earl of Bristol. His lordship was an eminent statesman, temp. JAMES I., and a staunch adherent of King CHARLES I., whom he attended at Edge Hill; at the termination of the contest, the earl was obliged to withdraw into France, having had his estates confiscated, where he d. in 1652. His lordship's honours expired with his grandson, John, 3rd earl, 1698. (See BURKE's Extinct and Dormant Peerage.)

The son and heir,

SIR ROBERT DIGBY, Knt., who received that honour from Robert, Earl of Essex, at Dublin, in 1596, represented the borough of Athy in parliament in 1613; and was called to the privy-council. He m. Lettice, dau. and heir of Gerald, Lord Offaley, and granddau. of Gerald, 11th Earl of Kildare, by whom he had, with several other sons, whose male descendants are extinct,

I. ROBERT, his heir.
II. Essex, bishop of Dromore, whose son,
Simon, was bishop of Elphin. He m. Elizabeth dau. of Warner Westenra, Esq. of Dublin, and (with five other sons and two other daus.) had issue,
1 JOHN, of Landenstown, M.P., whose son, the Very Rev. W. Digby, of Geashill, Dean of Clonfert, was father, with other issue, of KENELM-HENRY DIGBY, Esq. of Shaftesbury House, Kensington, who m. Jane-Mary, 2nd dau. of Thomas Dillon, Esq. of Mount Dillon, co. Dublin, and has Kenelm-Thomas, M.P. for the Queen's County, m. 27 Jan. 1870, Elizabeth-Burnet, dau. of the Hon. London Irish volunteers, &c.

Lineage.

The surname of the house of Donegal was anciently written Cirencester, and the family appears to have been one of eminence in the co. Devon; quartering, according to Sir William Pole, in his MS. Survey of Devonshire, the arms of the Raleighs, the Beaumonts, the Willingtons, &c. The first who settled in Ireland was,

Sir Arthur Chichester, Knt., 2nd son of Sir John Chichester, Knt., high-sheriff of Devonshire in 1552 and 1578, and M.P. for the same co. in 1553 and 1562, by Gertrude, dau. of Sir William Courtenay, Knt. of Powderham Castle, co. Devon (grandson of Edward Chichester, and great-grandson of John Chichester, Esq., by Margaret, his wife, dau. and heir of Hugh Beaumont, Esq. of Youlston, co. Devon, great-grandson of Sir William Beaumont and Isabel, his wife, dau. and co-heir of Sir John Willington, of Umberleigh and Willington Court). In 1603, he was sworn of the privy-council; and in 1604, appointed lord-deputy of Ireland, in which year he established two new circuits, sending the first justices of assize into Connaught, and reviving the circuit of Munster, which had been discontinued for more than two hundred years, so that the circuits, which had previously been confined to the English pale, thenceforward included the whole kingdom; and with such effect that, in a very short time, there were not found in all the Irish counties so many capital offenders as in the six shires of the western circuit in England. Sir Arthur, in consideration of his services, military and civil, obtained considerable grants of land in the province of Ulster, and was created Baron Chichester, of Belfast, in the peerage of Ireland, 23 Feb. 1612. His lordship continued in the government of Ireland for ten years successively, and was re-appointed in July, 1613; in which year the harp of Ireland was first marshalled with the arms of England, and has since continued to be impressed upon the coin of the realm. In Nov. 1615, he retired from his high office, and was appointed, in 1616, lord-high-treasurer of Ireland. Lord Chichester chiefly resided at Carrickfergus, where he erected, in 1618, a magnificent mansion called Joymount. In 1622, he went ambassador to the palatinate, and thence to treat of a peace with the emperor. During his residence at the imperial court, being besieged in the city of Mainchina, or Manheim, by Count Tilly, he remonstrated against the violation of the law of nations in besieging an ambassador; to which Tilly replying that he noticed not his being an ambassador; his lordship thus answered the messenger:—"Had my master sent me with as many hundred men as he hath sent me on fruitless messages, your general should have known that I had been a soldier as well as an ambassador." His lordship m. Letitia, dau. of Sir John Perrott, sometime lord-deputy of Ireland, widow of Vaughan Blackham, Esq.; and d. in London, 19 Feb. 1624, when, leaving no issue, the barony expired, while his large estates passed to his brother,

Sir Edward Chichester, in whose favour the peerage was revived, with the additional honour of Viscount Chichester of Carrickfergus, 1 April, 1625. His lordship m. 1st, in 1605, Anne, dau. and heir of John Coplestone, Esq. of Eggesford, co. Devon, by whom he acquired a large estate, and had, with two daus., two sons, Arthur, his heir, and John, M.P., m. Hon. Mary Jones, dau. of Roger, Viscount Ranelagh, and had two sons, Arthur, 2nd earl, and John, ancestor of Lord O'Neill (see O'Neill, B.). He m. 2ndly, Mary Denham, of Wortham, who d. s. p. He d. 1648, and was s. by his elder son,

Arthur, M.P., co. Antrim, 1639; who, in consideration of his services against the rebels when Col. Chichester, and at the express solicitation of the Marquess of Ormonde, had been elevated to the peerage of Ireland, 30 March, 1647, as Earl of Donegal, with limitation to the male descendants of his father. His lordship was one of the four hostages sent by the Marquess of Ormonde, in 1647, to the English Parliament, as surety for the delivery of Dublin and other garrisons to their commissioners. After the restoration, he was governor of Carrickfergus; and in 1668, his lordship established a mathematical lecture in the University of Dublin. He m. 1st, Dorcas, dau. of John Hill, Esq. of Honiley, co. Warwick, by whom he had an only dau., Mary, who m. John St.

DOWNSHIRE, MARQUESS OF (Arthur-Wills-John-Wellington-Blundell-Trumbull-Sandys-Roden Hill), Earl and Viscount of Hillsborough, Viscount Kilwarlin, and Baron Hill of Kilwarlin, in the peerage of Ireland; Earl of Hillsborough, Viscount Fairford, and Baron Harwich, in the peerage of Great Britain; hereditary constable of Hillsborough Fort; b. 2 July, 1871; s. his father as 6th marquess, 31 March, 1874.

Lineage.

SIR MOYSES HILL, Knt., went over to Ireland as a military officer, with the Earl of Essex, in 1573, to suppress O'Neil's rebellion; and was subsequently appointed governor of Olderficet Castle, an important fortress at the period, as it protected the harbour of Larne from the Scots. Sir Moyses was constituted first provost-marshal of the forces in Carrickfergus, and of the province of Ulster. He represented the co. of Antrim in parliament in 1613, was constituted 1st Provost Mareschal of the forces in Carrickfergus, and Provost Mareschal of the Province of Ulster, and distinguished himself during a long life, both as a soldier and a magistrate. He m. 1st, Alice, sister of Sorley Boye-Macdonnel, and 2ndly, Anne Grogan; and d. in Feb. 1629-30, and was s. by his eldest son, PETER HILL, Esq.; but we pass to his younger son, ARTHUR, who eventually inherited the estates, upon the demise of Peter's only son, Francis Hill, Esq. of Hill Hall, without male issue. The said

ARTHUR HILL, Esq. of Hillsborough, created constable of Hillsborough Fort, 21 Dec. 1660, was colonel of a regiment in the service of CHARLES I., and he sat in parliament under the usurpation of CROMWELL, as well as after the Restoration, when he was sworn of the privy-council. DRAKE.

Fuller - Eliott - Drake, Sir Francis - George - Augustus, of Nutwell Court, co. Devon, late capt. royal horse guards; b. 24 Dec. 1837; s. his uncle as 2nd bart., 6 June, 1870; m. 1861, Elizabeth, dau. of the late Sir Robert Douglas, Bart. of Glenbervie, and has issue,

i. Elizabeth-Beatrice.

Sir Francis was authorized by royal licence, 3 Oct. 1870, to take the additional surnames and arms of Eliott and Drake.

Lineage.

This family of Drake was founded by the celebrated

Sir Francis Drake, one of the most eminent of the naval heroes who immortalized the reign of Elizabeth. Born near Tavistock, in 1545, Drake attained the height he eventually achieved by his own enterprising spirit and transcendant merit alone. He had the good fortune of being allied to Sir John Hawkins, and was brought up at the expense and under the care of that gallant seaman. When eighteen years of age, he appears to have held the situation of purser of a ship trading to Biscay, and at twenty he made a voyage to Guinea. The next year he had the honour of being appointed captain of the "Judith," and in that capacity was in the harbour of St. Juan de Ulloa, in the Gulf of Mexico, where he behaved most gallantly in the glorious actions under Sir John Hawkins, and returned to England rich in reputation, but in nothing else. At this period, he announced his intention of making reprisals upon the King of Spain; and no sooner proclaimed the project, than hundreds volunteered to embark in it. In 1570, he made his first expedition, with two ships, the "Dragon" and the "Swan;" and the next year in the "Swan" alone, wherein he returned safe, if not rich. And having now means sufficient to perform greater matters, he laid before the public the plan of a more important design against his enemies. This he put into execution, 24 March, 1572, on which day he sailed from Plymouth, himself in the "Pascha," of seventy tons burden, and his brother, John Drake, in the "Swan," of twenty five tons, their whole strength consisting of no more than seventy-three men and boys. With this inconsiderable force, he attacked, on the 22nd July, the town of Nombre de Dios, and took it in a few hours by storm. Here, however, he obtained but little plunder, and was obliged, eventually, to retire to his ships, having been severely wounded in the action. His next attempt was upon Vera Cruz, which he carried and pillaged, and in returning to his vessels fortunately fell in with a string of mules laden with plate, of which he took possession. From this successful expedition he came back to England in Aug. 1573. He subsequently served as a volunteer in Ireland, under Walter, Earl of Essex; and upon his return, was introduced by Sir Christopher Hatton to Queen Elizabeth, when her majesty immediately took him under her protection; and he was enabled, by her royal favour, to undertake and accomplish, within three years, his celebrated voyage round the world. This famous expedition, consisting of the "Pelican," commanded by Drake himself; the "Elizabeth," Capt. John Winter; the "Marygold," a bark of thirty tons, Capt. John Thomas; the "Swan," a fly-boat of fifty tons, Capt. John Chester; and the "Christopher," a pinnace of fifteen tons, Capt. Thomas Moon, sailed from Plymouth, 15 Nov. 1577, and returned to the same port, 3 Nov. 1580. In a few months after leaving England, Drake committed what has been termed in gentle language, "the least commendable action of his life," but to which a much more severe description might with justice be applied. Having arrived at Port St. Julian, 18 June, he took up his abode there for two months, while he made the necessary provision for passing the Straits of Magellan. In 1588, when the Spanish armada menaced the shores of England, Sir Francis Drake was appointed vice-admiral, under Charles, Lord Howard of Effingham, and had the good fortune to capture the great galleon, commanded by Don Pedro de Valdez, the reputed projector of the enterprise, by which himself and his crew divided 55,000 ducats. Sir Francis Drake m. Elizabeth (settlement after marriage dated 25 Aug. 1595), only dau. and heir of Sir George Sydenham, of Combe Sydenham, co. Devon, but had no issue. He d. of a fever, occasioned by disappointment and anxiety (in consequence of the failure of an expedition which he had projected in conjunction with Sir John Hawkins), 28 Jan. 1596, on board his own ship, near the town of Nombre de Dios. DRUMMOND.

DRUMMOND, SIR JAMES-HAMLYN-WILLIAMS, WILLIAMS-, of Hawthornden, Mid-Lothian, b. 13 Jan. 1857; lieut. gren. guards; s. his father as 4th bart. 10 May, 1866.

Lineage.

MAURICE DRUMMOND, a native of Hungary, accompanied Edgar Atheling, and his two sisters to Scotland, in the year 1068. One of these ladies,

MARGARET, the elder, m. MALCOLM CANMORE, and under her auspices Drummond acquired large possessions in Scotland, and was the progenitor of the noble family of Drummond of Perth, of which Drummond of Hawthornden is a cadet. Late in the fourteenth century, William Drummond, a younger son of the family, and brother to Annabella, the Queen of ROBERT III. of Scotland, m. Elizabeth, dau. and one of the co-heiresses of Sir William Airth, of Airth, and by this marriage acquired the barony of Carnock, in Stirlingshire. The elder branch of the line of Carnock is reputed to have terminated in the person of Sir John Drummond, who sold the Carnock estate to Sir Thomas Nicolson, and afterwards fell in the battle of Alford, in 1645, fighting under the banner of the celebrated Marquess of Montrose. John Drummond (afterwards Sir John), 2nd son of Sir Robert, of Carnock, purchased the barony, and founded the family of Hawthornden.

It appears from a charter in the possession of the family in favour of Eleana de Abernethy, "filia natu maxima de Laurentii Abernethy, militis, de Hawthornden," that the barony of Hawthornden belonged, in the year 1338, to the Abernethys, by whom it was sold to the family of Douglas, and by them sold to Drummond of Carnock, with whom it has since remained. The families of Abernethy and Drummond became united by the marriage of Bishop Abernethy and Barbara Drummond.

The most remarkable member of this family was William Drummond, b. in 1585, (son of Sir John Drummond, of Hawthornden,) and unquestionably the most celebrated poet of his day. His History of the five Jameses, Kings of Scotland, is also well known; though perhaps it is as a poet, rather than an historian, that he is indebted for his literary fame. It is an historical fact, that the famous Ben Jonson travelled from London to Scotland on foot, solely for the purpose of visiting Drummond at his beautiful and romantic seat at Hawthornden. An account of this visit is recorded in Jonson's, as well as Drummond's, works.

ROBERT FORBES, Esq. of Corse, in the co. of Banff, son of John Forbes, of Corse, and a cadet of the Pitsligo family, m. Anne, dau. of John Abernethy, Esq. of Cosbie, and sister of Bishop William Abernethy-Drummond, heir male of the Abernethys of Saltoun, and was father of,

I. JOHN FORBES, Esq., captain R.N.; who m. Mary, dau. of Dr. Ogilvie, M.D. of Murtle, a lineal descendant of Sir John Drummond, 1st of Hawthornden, and heiress, by special settlement of her cousin, Mrs. Barbara Drummond (who d. s. p. in 1789, wife of the above-mentioned Dr. William Abernethy-Drummond, and only dau. and heir of William Drummond, Esq., of Hawthornden), upon which occasion Mr. Forbes assumed the additional surname and arms of DRUMMOND; by this lady he had an only surviving dau.,

MARGARET-ANNE FORBES-DRUMMOND, who m. Francis, eldest son of the late James Walker,* Esq. of Dalry, Mid-Lothian (a descendant of the ancient family of Walker, of St. Fort, Fifeshire), by Jane Hay, his wife, dau. of Richard Hay-Newton, Esq. of Newton, grandson of John, Marquess of Tweeddale, and the Lady Jane Maitland, his wife, only child of John, Duke of Lauderdale. On his marriage, Francis assumed the surname and arms of DRUMMOND.

Capt. Forbes-Drummond was created a baronet 27 Feb. 1826, for distinguished naval service, with remainder to his son-in-law above-mentioned, and dying 28 May, 1829, was s. according to the limitation, by,

II. SIR FRANCIS-WALKER DRUMMOND, b. in 1781; m. 4 Jan. 1810, Margaret-Anne, only surviving child and heiress of Sir John-Forbes Drummond, Bart., and by her (who d. 14 May, 1876), had issue,

JAMES, 3rd baronet.
Francis, lieut.-col. in the Bengal cavalry; m. 26 July, 1839, Pauline-Jemima-Catherine, dau. of Charles Mackenzie, Esq., late Bengal civil service.
John-Forbes, m. 11 Sept. 1866, Emma-Louisa, youngest dau. of the late Butler-Edmund Thornton, Esq.
Richard-Hay.
Mary-Drummond, m. in 1842, to M. Franz Thiergärtner, of Baden-Baden, and d. in 1859.
Jane-Hay, m. 14 July, 1840, to William-Douglas Dick, Esq. of Pitkerro, co. Forfar, and Montrave, co. Fife.

DUCKETT.

DUCKETT, SIR GEORGE-FLOYD, Bart. of Hartham House, Wilts, b. 27 March, 1811; late major in the army; s. his father 15 June, 1856; m. 21 June, 1845, Isabella-Curwen, dau. of the late Lieut.-General Sir Lionel Smith, Bart., G.C.B. and G.C.H.

Lineage.

The ancient family of DUKET (or DUCKETT), derives descent from LE SIRE DUKET, who came to England at the Conquest; from whom descended

RICHARD DUKET (styled also later Sir Richard Duket) who was a judge in the 9th of HENRY III. A.D. 1224, and acted as such for the counties of Cambridge, Huntingdon, Bedford, Buckingham, Norfolk, Suffolk, Northampton, and Rutland. He held the manors of Fillingham, Haydore, Aisby, and others in the co. of Lincoln, and was private secretary to King John, and by him styled "Clericus noster." In 1225, he went, bearing the title of "Nuncius Regis," on a special embassy to Rome. (See DUGDALE'S Origines Judiciales, Chronica Series, p. 8; BURN'S History of Westmorland and Cumberland, vol. i. p. III 114; and FOSS'S Judges of England, p. 193, vol. ii). His descendant,

RICHARD DUKET, of Grayrigg, Eversham, and Morland, in Westmorland (son and heir of John Duket and Margery his wife, sister and co-heiress of WILLIAM DE WINDESORE, BARON DE WINDESORE), m. a dau. of Sir Richard Redman, of Over Levins, Knt., and by her had issue,

SIR RICHARD DUKET, of Grayrigg, Eversham, and Morland, Knt., who m. Mabel, dau. of Sir Roger Bellingham, of Burneshead, Knt., and in the 5th year of the reign of HENRY IV (A.D. 1403) represented the co. of Westmorland in parliament. He had issue, Thomas, of whom hereafter; Alice, who m. Wm. Stanley, Esq. of Dalegarth, co. Cumberland (see BURKE'S Landed Gentry); and Andrew Duket, at whose intercession Margaret of Anjou, wife of HENRY VI, obtained licence of the same king to build Queen's College, Cambridge, in 1448; dedicating the same to the honour of St. Margaret, and St. Bernard, but she died and left it unperfected. The same Andrew Duket was rector of St. Botolph's in Cambridge, sometime principal of St. Bernard's Hostell, and the first president of Queen's College Cambridge. He was formerly a friar, and had gathered of divers persons so much money as bought a piece of ground called Goose Green, whereon the college stands. Afterwards he purchased, and gave unto this college, the same St. Bernard's Hostell, and by his own money, and help of others, bought certain other tenements, and (as Stow saith) built the college: he gave much in lands and moneys, procuring gifts from divers great personages.* The elder son, THOMAS DUKET, killed at Edgecote, was father of

RICHARD DUKET (or DUCKETT), Esq., who m. Eleanor, dau. of William Harrington, who had considerable possessions both in Lancashire and the barony of Kendal. He had issue,† Richard; William; Robert; Anne, wife of Thomas Wessinton, of Hallhead, Westmorland; and Mabel, wife of John Whittington, of Barwick. The 2nd son,

Lineage.

The family of Ward is of great antiquity, and has been seated for many centuries in the county of Norfolk.

WILLIAM WARD, 6th son of Edward Ward, Esq. of Bixley, in that shire, was a wealthy goldsmith in London, and jeweller to the Queen of King CHARLES I. Having a very ample fortune, he resided at Heal, in Staffordshire; and in his lifetime, Edward Sutton, Lord Dudley, bestowed Frances, his granddau. and heiress, upon

HUMBLE WARD, Esq., the said William Ward's son and heir; which Frances, upon the demise of her grandfather, Lord Dudley, in 1643, succeeded to that barony (created by writ of summons, 25 Feb 1342, 16th EDWARD III.), and became

FRANCES, BARONESS DUDLEY; when her husband, Humble Ward, above mentioned, was knighted, and subsequently, 28 March, 1644, elevated to the peerage, as

HUMBLE, BARON WARD, of Birmingham. His lordship had,

I. EDWARD, his successor.
II. William, who m. Anne, dau. and sole heir of Thomas Parkes, Esq. of Willingsworth, co. Stafford (by Rebecca his wife, who was heir to the Bodleys). Mr. Ward thus acquiring the seat of Willingsworth, took up his abode there, and was s. by his only son,

WILLIAM, M.P. for the county of Stafford in the reigns of Queen ANNE and GEORGE I.; m. Mary, dau. of the Hon. John Grey, of Enfield; and dying in 1720, left (besides daus.) two sons, viz.,

1 JOHN, of whom hereafter, as 1st Visct. Dudley and Ward.
2 William, in holy orders, rector of Himley; m. Elizabeth, dau. of John Hawkes; and d. in 1758, leaving issue,

Humble, who m. in 1779, Susannah Beecroft; and d. in 1785, leaving a son,

WILLIAM-HUMBLE, who s. as 10th Baron Ward.

Frances, m. to Washington, Earl Ferrers; and d. 4 March, 1812.

Lord Ward d. 4 Oct. 1670, and was s. by his eldest son,

EDWARD, 2nd Baron Ward; who, at the demise of his mother, in 1701, succeeded also to the Barony of Dudley, as 11th baron, and became LORD DUDLEY AND WARD. His lordship m. Frances, dau. of Sir William Brereton, Bart. of Handford, co. Chester, and sole heiress of her brother, Sir Thomas, and had, with other issue,

I. WILLIAM, who m. Frances, dau of William Dilke, Esq. of Maxstoke Castle, co. Warwick, and had issue,

1 EDWARD, who s. his grandfather.
2 WILLIAM, who inherited at the decease of his nephew.
1 Frances, m. to William Lea, Esq. of Hales-Owen Grange, Salop, and had issue,

FERDINANDO-DUDLEY LEA, who s. to the Barony of Dudley.
Anne, m. William Smith, Esq. of Ridgacre, and had a son and heir, the late FERDINANDO-DUDLEY SMITH, Esq. of Hales-Owen Grange. (See BURKE's Landed Gentry.)

Lineage.

The BLACKWOODS, represented by the noble house of Dufferin, are of Scotch extraction, and can be traced in the public records of Scotland to a very early period. One branch migrated to France, of which was the celebrated ADAM BLACKWOOD, privy councillor to MARY Queen of Scots, (whose marriage with the Dauphin of France he had negotiated) and senator of the Presidial Court of Poitiers. He d. there in 1613, leaving ample proofs of his talents as a Civilian, a Poet, and a Divine; and was there interred with great pomp under a marble monument, inscribed with a long epitaph, styling him "Nobilis Scotus, inclytorum majorum, in Caledonia notus." The male line of the French Blackwoods became extinct at the death of SIMON XAVIER DE BLACVOD, Chevalier, Seigneur des Frozes in Poitou, whose eldest daughter and co-heiress, MARIE-Thérèse-Blacvod, m. in 1776, Jean Philippe Bellin de la Bontadière Chevalier, Seigneur des Cotes. A scion of the Fifeshire family (from which Fifeshire family also derived the Poitou branch), was

I. UTHRED-JAMES-HAY, barrister-at-law, b. 26 Feb. 1843.
II. William-Cospatrick, b. 20 July, 1844; m. 30 July, 1878, Nina-Susannah, elder surviving dau. of Alfred-Douglas Hamilton, Esq. of The Firs, Romford, Essex.

Lineage.

The Scots' charters preserved in Durham, and the registers of Kelso, leave us no room to doubt that the Earls of Dunbar and March were descended of Cospatrick, Earl of Northumberland. After Northumberland (one of the seven Saxon kingdoms) became a province, the earls thereof were only official and provincial, and not hereditary, and they were often changed at the pleasure of the sovereign.

THE HON. GEORGE DUNBAR, 2nd son of Patrick, Earl of Dunbar and March, and his countess, the only dau. and heir of Thomas Randolph, Earl of Moray, was created, in 1372, Earl of Moray. From him descended,

I. JAMES DUNBAR, Esq., who had a charter, under the great seal, of the lands and barony of Mochrum, and was created a Baronet of Nova Scotia, 20 March, 1694. Sir James m. 1st, Isabella, dau. and co-heir of Sir Thomas Nicholson, of Carnock, and granddau. (maternally) of Alexander, 2nd Earl of Linlithgow, with whom he got the lands of Plean, co. Stirling, and by whom he had two sons and three daus. He m. 2ndly, Jane, dau. of Kennedy of Minunchen, and had another dau. Sir James, d. in 1718, and was s. by his eldest son,

II. SIR GEORGE. This gentleman was a captain in the royal regiment of Scots dragoons, and served in Queen ANNE's wars, with great reputation, under the Duke of Marlborough. He m. Janet, dau. of Sir John Young, of Lennie, and left three sons and two daus.

I. JAMES, his heir.
II. Thomas, m. Tryphena, dau. of J. Pincock, Esq. of the city of London, by whom he left two sons,
1 GEORGE, who s. as 5th baronet.
2 Thomas, who d. a captain in the army.
III. William, a major in the army, highly distinguished in the American war of independence; m. the dau. of the Count de Chambaud, in Canada, and had two daus., viz.,
1 Maria, m. to George Selby, Esq., M.D. of Montreal, and had issue.
2 Jessy, m. to Ralph-Henry Bruyères, Esq., of the royal engineers, and had issue.

1. Maria, d. unm. II. Isabella, d. unm.

Sir George, who became chief of the Dunbars of Westfield at the decease of Ludovick Dunbar, of Westfield, in 1744, d. in 1747, and was s. by his eldest son,

III. SIR JAMES, who studied law, and was appointed judge-advocate for Scotland. He m. Jacobina, youngest dau. of a younger son of Hamilton of Wishaw (whose descendant eventually inherited the Barony of Belhaven), and had issue,

GEORGE, his heir.
Helen, m. to William Copland, Esq. of Colliston, co. Dumfries, and had an only dau., Jacobina-Anne, m. to the late Sir William-Rowe Dunbar, Bart.
Janet, m. to Dr. William Tennent, of Poole Castle, and Carnwath, co. Lanark, and Stanmore, co. Middlesex, who d. s. p.: she d. 10 Jan. 1822, at an advanced age, and Dr. Tennent's property went to her nephew, Hamilton Tovey, Esq., who assumed, in consequence, by royal licence, the additional surname and arms of Tennent.
Hamilton, m. 12 March, 1778, to John Tovey, Esq. of Woodside, co. Stirling, capt. 70th regt., and d. 19 Sept. 1823, leaving issue, 1 HAMILTON-TOVEY-TENNENT, Esq. of Stanmore, and of Overton, co. Salop (See BURKE'S Landed Gentry), b. 1782, m. 1836, Helen-Howarth, only dau. of General Samuel Graham, Dep. Governor of Stirling Castle; 2 James Tovey, lieut.-col. 62nd regt., b. 1783, d. s. p. 1852; 3 George Tovey, a col. in the army, late 20th, 5th, and 60th regts., b. 1787, m. Caroline, dau. and co-heir of Robert Kirby, Esq., and d. 1858, leaving an only dau., HAMILTON DUNBAR.
Mary, m. to the Rev. John Shaw, of Kendal.

Sir James was s. in 1781, by his only son,

IV. SIR GEORGE, who m. Maria, dau. of the Rev. Gustavus Hamilton, great-granddau. of Viscount Boyne, but had no issue. Sir George, lieut.-col. of the 14th light dragoons, d. 15 Oct. 1799, when the title devolved upon his cousin,

V. SIR GEORGE (grandson of Sir George, the 2nd baronet, and son of Thomas Dunbar, Esq.). This gentleman m. in 1775, Jane, dau. and co-heir of William Rowe, Esq. of Liverpool, by whom (who d. 28 Dec. 1830) he had a numerous issue, of which there survived him,

I. WILLIAM-ROWE, 6th baronet.
II. Thomas, d. in 1831, s. p.
III. James, for some time an officer in the 21st light dragoons; m. Anna-Catharina, dau. of Baron de Reede d'Oudtshoorn, in Holland, and d. 31 Jan. 1840 (his widow d. 3 Nov. 1860), leaving issue,
1 WILLIAM, present baronet.

His lordship was elected a representative peer for Ireland in 1868, and is 23rd lord in descent from Thomas, Lord of Dunboyne, summoned as a peer to Parliament in 1324.

Lineage.

Amongst the most eminent of the Anglo-Norman families in Ireland is that of BUTLER; at its head stands the illustrious house of ORMONDE—the great rival of the Geraldines, and their equal in historic importance and renown. At various periods the English Earldoms of Wiltshire and Brecknock, and the Irish Earldoms of Arran, Gowran, and Kilkenny, have been held by the family, in addition to their existing Peerage dignities; and in all times the name of Butler is most prominently and honourably associated with the annals of Ireland. THE BARONY OF DUNBOYNE was conferred by Patent, bearing date in 1541, on Sir Edmund Butler, Knt., Lord of Dunboyne, but his direct ancestor, Sir Thomas Butler or Le Botiler, had summons to Parliament as a peer, under the title of "Lord of Dunboyne," so far back as the reign of King EDWARD II. This

SIR THOMAS BUTLER or LE BOTILER, who was thus summoned as a peer, and took his seat in 1324, was next younger brother of SIR EDMOND LE BOTILLER, Lord Butler of Arklow, and EARL OF CARRICK, lord justice of Ireland (father of JAMES, 1st EARL OF ORMONDE), and third son of Theobald Le Botiler, Great Butler of Ireland, Baron of Arklow, by Joan his wife, dau. and co-heir of John-FitzPeter FitzGeffery, Baron of Berkhampstead.

Sir Thomas m. SINOLDA LE PETIT, Lady of Dunboyne and Molyngar, only child and heiress of WILLIAM LE PETIT, Lord of Dunboyne and Molyngar, and thus acquired those lordships. In the 3rd of RICHARD I., William Le Petyt succeeded Hugh de Lacy, Earl of Hereford, as lord justice of Ireland, and obtained large grants of lands, consisting of many knights' fees in the counties of Westmeath and Meath; in the 8th of King JOHN, William Le Petyt was summoned to Parliament by writ, and took his seat accordingly; and in the 13th HENRY III. Nicholas Le Petit, Lord of Dunboyne and Molyngar, was summoned to attend the King, with twenty-two others, the great barons of Ireland, 1239. Sir Thomas Botiler, Lord of Dunboyne, was slain, to the great loss of the kingdom, in 1329, leaving a son,

WARDEN DE COCHRANE, in the reign of ALEXANDER III., was witness to the grant made by Dungal, the son of Swaine, to Walter Cumming, Earl of Monteith, of sundry lands in the co. of Argyll; and his successor,

WILLIAM DE COCHRANE, performed homage to EDWARD I. From this person descended,

WILLIAM DE COCHRANE, who erected, from the foundation, the ancient seat of Cochrane, and ornamented it with extensive plantations. This gentleman left by his wife, Margaret, dau. of Sir Robert Montgomery, of Skelmorly, co. Ayr, an only dau.,

ELIZABETH COCHRANE, who m. Alexander, younger son of John Blair, of that ilk (for pedigree of BLAIR of Blair, see BURKE'S Landed Gentry), which

ALEXANDER BLAIR assumed the surname and arms of COCHRANE. Of this marriage there were seven sons and three daus. The eldest son,

SIR JOHN COCHRANE, a col. in the army of CHARLES I., dying without issue, was s. by his brother,

SIR WILLIAM COCHRANE, Knt. of Cowdon, who was elevated to the peerage, 27 Dec. 1647, as Baron Cochrane, of Dundonald; and advanced, 12 May, 1669, to the dignity of EARL OF DUNDONALD; being at the same time created Lord Cochrane, of Paisley and Ochiltree, with remainder, in default of male issue, to the eldest of his heirs female, without division, who should bear or assume the name and arms of Cochrane, and in failure, to his heirs-general. His lordship m. Eupheme, dau. of Sir William Scott, of Ardross, co. Fife, by whom he had (with a dau., Grizel, m. to George, 10th Lord Ross),

I. WILLIAM, Lord Cochrane, who m. Lady Catherine Kennedy, 2nd dau. of John, 6th Earl of Cassilis; and dying before his father, left,

1 JOHN, successor to his grandfather.
2 William of Kilmarnock, m. Lady Grizel Graham, 3rd dau. of James, Marquess of Montrose; and dying in 1717, left, with five daus., one son,
THOMAS, who inherited as 6th earl.
3 Thomas, of Rolskelly, m. Diana, dau. and heir of Sir David Cunynghame, Bart. of Robertland; and d.s.p. 1694.
4 Alexander, of Bolinshaw, the male line of whom ceased in 1710.
1 Margaret, m. to Alexander, 9th Earl of Eglinton.
2 Helen, m. to John, 15th Earl of Sutherland.
3 Jane, m. 1st, to John, 1st Viscount Dundee; and 2ndly, to William, 3rd Viscount Kilsyth.

II. John (Sir), of Ochiltree. This gentleman having been concerned in the Rye-house plot, was compelled to seek an asylum in Holland during the remainder of the reign of CHARLES II., but afterwards invading Scotland (1685) under Argyll, his estates were confiscated; and being made prisoner with his son John, he was ignominiously conducted by the hangman, bound and bareheaded, to the Tolbooth of Edinburgh. His life was, however, spared, and his lands were restored to him after the Revolution. Sir John m. Margaret, dau. of Sir William Strickland, of Boynton, co. York (one of CROMWELL'S lords of parliament), and was s. by his elder son,

1 WILLIAM COCHRANE, of Ochiltree, who m. Lady Mary Bruce,* eldest dau. of Alexander, 2nd Earl of Kincardine, and heir to her brother, Alexander, 3rd earl, by whom he had nine sons and four daus.; of the former, Gen. James Cochrane, the 6th son, left two daus., Marianne, wife of Robert Sibthorpe, Esq., and mother of Margaret, m. to Thomas O'Reilly, Esq. of Baltrasna: and Marianne-Margaret, m. 1st, to Henry-Carey Hamilton, Esq.; and 2ndly, to Lieut.-Col. Gould. William Cochrane, of Ochiltree, was s. at his decease by his 2nd, but eldest surviving son,

CHARLES COCHRANE, of Ochiltree, and after the decease of his mother, of Culross. This gentleman d. unm. in 1752, and was s. by his brother,

JAMES COCHRANE, who m. Miss Margaret Hankison; and dying in 1758, left two daus., when the estates passed to his brother,

THOMAS COCHRANE, of whom hereafter, as 8th EARL OF DUNDONALD.

The earl d. in 1683, and was s. by his grandson,

JOHN, 2nd earl; who m. in 1684, Susannah,† 2nd dau. of William and Anne, Duke and Duchess of Hamilton; and dying in 1690, was s. by his elder son,

WILLIAM, 3rd earl. This nobleman d. unm. 19 Nov. 1705, when the honours devolved upon his brother,

JOHN, 4th earl, one of the representative peers in 1713, and col. 4th regt. of horse-guards; who m. 1st, Anne, 2nd dau. of Charles, 1st Earl of Dunmore, by whom (who d. 1711) he had,

WILLIAM, his successor.
Anne, m. 14 Feb. 1723, to James, 5th Duke of Hamilton; and d. in 1724.
Susan, m. 1st, 25 July, 1725, to Charles, 6th Earl of Strathmore; and 2ndly, in 1745, to George Forbes, her factor; and d. 24 June, 1754.
Catherine, m. in 1729, to Alexander, 6th Earl of Galloway.

His lordship m. 2ndly, Mary, Duchess-Dowager of Beaufort (widow of Henry, the 2nd duke), and dau. of Peregrine, 2nd Duke of Leeds, but had no other issue. He d. 5 June, 1720, and was s. by his son,

WILLIAM, 5th earl. This nobleman d. unm. 27 Jan. 1725, when his unentailed property descended to his nephew, James, Duke of Hamilton, and the peerage and entailed estates devolved upon his cousin (refer to issue of William, Lord Cochrane, elder son of the 1st earl),

THOMAS COCHRANE, Esq. of Kilmarnock, as 6th earl. His lordship m. Catherine, 2nd dau. of Lord Basil Hamilton, of Baldoon (6th son of William and Anne, Duke and Duchess of Hamilton), by whom he had,

Basil, R.N.; d. in 1748.
Katharine, m. to William Wood, Esq. of Nether Gallowhill, and d. 4 Oct. 1776.

The earl d. 28 May, 1737, and was s. by his elder son,

WILLIAM, 7th earl, a military officer, who fell at the siege of Louisburg, in America, in 1758, and dying unm., the honours reverted to

THOMAS COCHRANE, Esq. of Culross and Ochiltree, as 8th earl (refer to Sir John Cochrane, of Ochiltree, 2nd son of the 1st lord). This nobleman m. 1st, Elizabeth, dau. of James Ker, Esq. of Morristoun, Berwick, by whom he had two children, William and Grizel, who both d. unm., and in early life; he m. 2ndly, 6 Sept. 1744, Jane, eldest dau. of Archibald Stuart, Esq. of Torrence, co. I. Elizabeth-Katharine, m. 27 Feb. 1840, to John-Willis Fleming, Esq. of Stoneham Park, Hants; and d. at Florence, 25 Aug. 1868.

His lordship, best known as Lord Cochrane, has left a name of high distinction in our naval annals. His career was one of brilliant exploit and daring. In 1809, his destruction of the enemy's ships in the Basque Roads dealt a crushing blow to Napoleon's maritime efforts. In 1818 he served under the government of Chili and Peru, which had revolted against Spain, and his naval assistance mainly contributed to those provinces achieving their independence. His great feats in that war were his capture of Valdivia, and his cutting out the Spanish frigate "Esmeralda" from under the fortifications of Callao—a splendid act of seamanlike skill. Lord Dundonald was afterwards employed by the empire of Brazil, and there also was completely successful. He was created Marquess of Maranham, in Brazil. He d. 31 Oct 1860, and was s by his eldest son, THOMAS-BARNES, present earl.

Lineage.

This is one of the few families of Celtic origin in the Irish peerage. Its ancestors, Chiefs of the Clan of Hy-Ifearnan, were seated at a very early period in a barony of the co. of Clare, which derived its name of Inchiquin from them. They were of the same stock as the O'Briens, and descended from CORMAC CAS, son of OLLIOLL OLUM, Monarch of Ireland at the opening of the 3rd century. O'Ferrall's Linea Antiqua gives a detailed pedigree of the O'Quins of Munster, deducing from three sons of DEADHA, viz., CONN MOR, MOROGH, and FLAHERTY, the three families of O'QUIN, O'DEA, and O'ROAN. A very curious and interesting letter from THADY QUIN, Esq., of Adare, J.P. temp. JAMES II., still in the possession of the Earl of Dunraven, refers to this Celtic descent, and carries up the pedigree to DONOGH QUIN, son of James Quin, of Kilmallock, and nephew of Dr. John Coyn, or Quin, Bishop of Limerick, who was, according to Ware, preferred temp. HENRY VIII. to that see, but being blind and infirm, resigned 9 April, 1551. Donogh Quin's grandson,

DONOUGH QUIN, m. Judith, heiress of the family of O'Riordan, which family had been settled for more than five centuries in co. Limerick; and d. 1671, leaving a son,

THADY QUIN, Esq. of Adare, co. Limerick, b. in 1645; who m. 1st, Bridget, dau. and heir of Andrew Rice, Esq. of Dingle, co. Kerry; 2ndly, Frances, dau. of Major Boyle Hull, son of Sir William Hull, Knt., of Leamcon, co. Cork; and 3rdly, Catharine, dau. of Piers Morony, Esq. By his last wife he had issue,

I. VALENTINE, his heir.
II. John, of Rosbrien, b. in 1692; m. in 1714, Mary, dau. of Sir Walter Blake, Bart.; and d. in 1729, leaving issue, Valentine; Constantine; Thomas; Thady. The eldest son, VALENTINE QUIN, Esq. of Rosbrien, m. Susanna Stamer, of the Carnelly family, and by her (who m. 2ndly, Taylor Croker, Esq.) had a son, JOHN, of Rosbrien (who m. Mary, dau. of Sir Edward O'Brien, Bart. of Dromoland, and left an only child, Mary, who m. Matthew O'Brien, Esq., and d. s. p.), and a dau., Mary, who m. John Goold, Esq., and had, with other issue, a son, THOMAS GOOLD, Esq. of Merrion Square, Dublin, a master in chancery, who m. Elizabeth, dau. of the Rev. Brinsley Nixon, rector of Painstown, co. Meath, and d. 16 July, 1846, leaving issue, 1 Francis, accidentally drowned 31 Aug. 1848; 2 FREDERIC-FALKINER, Archdeacon of Raphoe, who m. Caroline Newcomen, sister of the late Countess of Eglinton, and d. 1876, leaving issue; 3 Wyndham, M.P., d. unm. 27 Nov. 1854; 1 Emily-Mary, m. to Rev. John Wynne; 2 Caroline-Susan, m. Sir Robert-Gore Booth, Bart., and d 1855; and 3 Augusta-Charlotte, m. to Edwin-Richard-Windham, 3rd Earl of Dunraven.

DUNSANDLE.

DUNSANDLE, AND CLAN CONAL, BARON (Denis-St. George Daly), of Dunsandle, co. Galway, in the peerage of Ireland; one of the representative peers; b. 10 July, 1810; s. his father as 2nd baron, 7 Aug. 1847; m. Mary, dau. of Mr. Broderick, and by her (who d. 6 Dec. 1868) has issue,

Anne, b. 1865.

Lineage.

The family of DALY, or O'DALY, is of very ancient origin, deducing its descent from Nial Naoigialach (Nial of the nine hostages), monarch of Ireland in the 4th century, who was also common ancestor of the O'NEILS of Tyrone, and O'DONELLS of Tyrconnel, from whom the pedigree of this family is lineally traced in the Heralds' office. Dalagh was 10th in descent from Nial, whence the name Daly, and from him also the O'Donells are sometimes styled by the old Irish annalists, "Siol na Dalagh," or the clan of Daly. Of his descendants, there were several kings of Meath, and from thence a branch removed into Thomond, and afterwards into Connaught.

In 1578, DERMOT O'DALY, of Killimur, co. Galway, obtained from Queen ELIZABETH a grant of the manor or lordship of Larha, in that county, and dying, left issue, two sons, Tiegue, who d. without issue male; and Donogh, who left two sons, I. Dermot, commander of the castle of Clare-Galway, anno 1642; and II. JAMES DALY, who m. Anastasia D'Arcy, grand-dau. of James Riveagh D'Arcy, vice-president of Connaught in the reign of Queen ELIZABETH, and direct descendant of Sir John D'Arcy, justice of Ireland, in 1323, by his wife, Jane, dau. of Richard de Burgo, the Red Earl of Ulster. He left issue,

I. DENIS, of Carrownakelly, co. Galway (of whom hereafter).
II. Charles, of Harwood, or Callow, m. Anne, dau. of Hyacinth D'Arcy, of Kiltullagh, and left one son, Anthony, m. Mary, only dau. and heiress of John Burke, Esq. of Lismore, and widow of James, 3rd son of John, 9th Earl of Clanricarde.
III. James, of Raford, whose son, Denis, had issue two sons, Denis, who m. Anne, dau. of Michael, Earl of Clanricarde, and Hyacinth, of Dalystown, who m. the sister and heiress of Thomas Coghlan, usually styled The Maw, chief of the ancient sept of the McCoghlans, Dynasts of Lower Delvin, otherwise McCoghlan's country, and by her he left issue, one son and one dau., 1 The Right Hon. Denis Bowes Daly, who m. Mary-Charlotte, dau of the Right Hon. John Ponsonby, by his wife Elizabeth, dau. of William, 3rd Duke of Devonshire; 2 Margaret, m. to the Right Hon. Sir Skeffington Smyth, Bart.

DENIS DALY, of Carrownakelly, was justice of the Court of Common Pleas, and privy-councillor in the reign of JAMES II., which situations he continued to fill at the time of the Revolution, and with such impartiality and integrity in those arduous times as added lustre to his judicial character. He m. Mary, dau. and heir of Thomas Power, of Pask, in the co. Limerick (descended from the Lords Le Poer), and left issue by her, four sons and two daus.,

I. James, who predeceased his father, leaving issue by his wife, Honora, dau. of Sir Stephen Rice, of Limerick, a son, Denis, who m. Catherine, dau. of Sir Walter Blake, of Cullagh, but d. without issue; and a dau., Mary, m. to Thomas Nugent, Esq. of Donouer.
II. Thomas-Power, who left a dau., m. to Malachy Donellan, Esq. of Ballydonellan.
III. DENIS, of whom hereafter.
IV. Peter, of Quansbury, m. Elizabeth, dau. of Richard Blake, Esq. of Ardfry, and left one son, who d. unm., and three daus.,
1 Honora, m. to Henry Benedict, 4th Viscount Kingsland.
2 Anastatia, m. 1st, to Charles Daly, of Callow; and 2ndly, to Francis-Thomas, Earl of Kerry.
3 Mary, m. to Thomas, 22nd Baron Athenry, afterwards Earl of Louth, by whom she had issue,

Lineage.

This and the noble house of FINGALL claim a common ancestor in

SIR CHRISTOPHER PLUNKETT, Knt., who was deputy-governor of Ireland, under Sir Thomas Stanley, lord-deputy in 1432, and subsequently under Richard, Duke of York. He m. Joan, dau. and sole heir of Sir Lucas Cusack, Knt., Lord of Killeen, by whom he had, with other children, JOHN, ancestor of the Earl of Fingall, who inherited the lordship of Killeen; and

CHRISTOPHER, of Dunsany, who was created Baron, by writ, 17th HENRY VI. He m. Anne, dau. and heir of Richard Fitzgerald, of Ballysonan, co. Kildare, younger son of Maurice, 3rd Earl of Kildare, by whom he had four sons, and was s. by the eldest,

RICHARD, 2nd baron, who m. Joan, dau. of Sir Rowland Fitz-Eustace, lord-treasurer of Ireland in 1471, and lord-high-chancellor in 1474; and was s. by his only son,

JOHN, 3rd baron, K.G. His lordship m. Catherine, dau. of Hussey, feudal baron of Galtrim, and was s. by his eldest son,

EDWARD, 4th baron. This nobleman was slain by the rebel O'Connor, in 1521, and was s. by his son (by Anne, dau. and heir of Philip Birmingham),

ROBERT, 5th baron, who was one of the peers of the parliament held at Dublin in 1541, when he was ranked immediately after his kinsman, Lord Killeen. His lordship m. 1st, Eleanor, youngest dau. of Sir William Darcy, Knt., of Platten, vice-treasurer of Ireland, by whom he had four sons and nine daus. He m. 2ndly, Genet, dau. of William Sarsfield, alderman of Dublin, and widow of Mr. Alderman Shillengford, by whom he had two other sons. He was s. by his eldest surviving son,

CHRISTOPHER, 6th baron. This nobleman m. Elizabeth, dau. of Sir Christopher Barnewell, Knt. of Crickstown, and was s. by his eldest son,

PATRICK, 7th baron, who m. Mary, 11th dau. of Sir Christopher Barnewall, Knt. of Turvey, and was s. by his only son,

CHRISTOPHER, 8th baron. This nobleman m. Maud, dau. of Henry Babington, Esq. of Dethic, co. Derby, and dying in 1603, was s. by his only son,

PATRICK, 9th baron, who received a patent of confirmation from JAMES I. of the several castles of Dunsany, Corbally, &c. His lordship was subsequently summoned to parliament 1st CHARLES I., and suffered considerably in the cause of that unfortunate prince. A short time before the year 1641, the lords-justices had supplied the Lords of the Pale with arms, but suddenly recalled them, which occasioned much discontent among the catholic lords, who, having assembled, appointed Lord Dunsany to assure the justices of their attachment and loyalty, and of their readiness to co-operate in every measure that could be conducive to the peace of the country. The lords-justices, however, took no further notice of this proferred service than by confining his lordship in the castle of Dublin, where he remained for several years; but on the restoration of CHARLES II. he again took his seat in the House of Lords, and continued to sit until 1666 His lordship m. Jane, dau. of Sir Thomas Henage, of Haynton, co. Lincoln, and was s. at his decease by his grandson,

CHRISTOPHER, 10th baron (son of the Hon. Edward Plunket, by Catherine, 4th dau. of Randal, 1st Earl of Antrim), at whose decease unm. the barony devolved upon his brother,

RANDALL, 11th baron. This nobleman, adhering to the falling fortunes of JAMES II., was outlawed in 1691; but being included in the treaty of Limerick, his estates were restored; neglecting, however, the forms necessary to re-establish himself in the privileges of the peerage, neither his lordship nor his immediate descendants had a seat in the House of Lords. He m. 1st, Anne, relict of Theobald, 1st Earl of Carlingford, and dau. of Sir William Pershall, but by that lady had no issue. He m. 2ndly, 1711, Bridget, only dau. of Richard Fleming, Esq. of Stahalmock, co. Meath (by his 1st wife); and dying 16 March, 1735, left an only son,

EDWARD, 12th baron. This nobleman conformed to the established church, but took no step to confirm the barony and his right to a seat in the House of Peers. His lordship m. Mary, eldest dau. of Francis Alen, Esq. of St. Wolstan's, co. Kildare, M.P. for that shire (see BURKE'S Commoners), and had (with two daus., Bridget, wife of Hugh McGuire, Esq. of Kelston; and Rose, of the Marquess de Carondelet) an only son, his successor, in 1781,

RANDALL, 13th baron, b. in March, 1738-9, who claimed, in 1791, and was allowed, his seat in parliament. His lordship m. 1st, 12 Aug. 1771, Margaret, widow of Edward Mandeville, of Ballydine, co. Tipperary, and dau. of Edward Archdekin, Esq., co. Kilkenny, by whom (who d. 13 Sept. 1791) he had issue,

EDWARD-WADDING, 14th peer.
Randall, b. 1 Oct. 1778; d. 30 Oct. 1835.
Margaret, m. 1809, to Thomas, 11th Lord Louth; and d. 1831.
Rosetta, d. unm 1842. Maria-Victoria.
Anna-Maria, m. 1st, Philip Roche, Esq. of Donore, in the co. of Kildare, by whom she had issue, one son, Major-Gen. John Roche, late 2nd life-guards; and two daus., Margaret-Randalina, m. in 1838, to Thomas, 16th Lord Trimlestown, and d. 4 Sept. 1872; and Anna-Maria, m. 20 Nov. 1830, to Thomas-Oliver, 12th Lord Louth. The Hon. Mrs. Roche m. 2ndly, 22 July, 1822, Admiral Ryder Burton, R.N., K.H., and by him (who d. 2 Aug. 1876) had, Francis-Augustus-Plunkett Burton, col. Coldstream-guards, who d. 3 Sept. 1865, having m. 14 Sept. 1853, Sarah-Francis-Elizabeth, dau. of J.-S.-W. Sawbridge-Erle-Drax, Esq. M.P., and co-heiress of her mother, Mrs. Erle-Drax, of Charborough Park, Dorset, and Ellerton Abbey, co. York, whose father, Richard Grosvenor, Esq., was nephew of the 1st Earl Grosvenor. The Hon. Mrs. Ryder Burton d. 26 April, 1856.

The baron m. 2ndly, 7 Aug. 1800, Emma-Mary, niece of Sir Drummond Smith, Bart., by whom (who d. in June, 1828) he had no child. He d. 4 April, 1821, and was s. by his son,

EDWARD-WADDING, 14th baron, b. 5 April, 1773, who m. 1st, 1803, Charlotte-Louisa, dau. of Nicholas, 1st Lord Cloncurry, and by her (who d. 10 June, 1819) had,

RANDALL-EDWARD, late peer. EDWARD, present peer.
Emily-Valentina, m. 18 Oct. 1839, to George Price, Esq., son of Sir Rose Price, 1st bart., and d. at Ellerslie, Jamaica, 30 Sept. 1864.

Lord Dunsany m. 2ndly, 23 March, 1823, Eliza, eldest dau. of George, 7th Lord Kinnaird, which lady d. 30 April, 1864. His lordship d. 11 Dec., 1848, and was s. by his eldest son.

RANDALL-EDWARD, 15th baron, b. 4 Sept. 1804, who m. 29 Dec. 1838, Elizabeth, only dau. and heir of Lyndon Evelyn, Esq. of Keynsham Court, co. Hereford (which lady 2 April, 1874), and dying s. p. 7 April, 1852, was s. by his brother, EDWARD, the 16th and present baron.

DYSART.

Dysart, Earl of (Sir William-John-Manners Tollemache), co. Fife, Baron Huntingtower, co. Perth, in the peerage of Scotland, and a Baronet of Great Britain, b. 2 March, 1859; s. his grandfather, 23 Sept. 1878.

Lineage.

The very ancient family of Tollemache claims Saxon descent.

Hugh de Tollemache subscribed the charter sans date (about the reign of King Stephen), made by John de St. John to Edith, the first Abbess of Godstow, in Oxfordshire. This Hugh, in his old age, assumed the cowl at Gloucester, and bestowed upon that monastery a moiety of the town of Hampton, which his son, Peter, confirmed, in the time of the Abbot Hamblin. The descendant of Peter,

Sir Hugh de Tollemache, in the 25th of Edward I., held of the crown the manor of Bentley, and the fourth part of the village of Aketon, by knight's service. In the 29th of the same monarch,

William and John Tollemache had summons to attend the king at Berwick-upon-Tweed, previous to his expedition into Scotland. This John took the black cross, and his arms are now remaining in the minster at York.

Sir Lionel Tollemache, of Bentley, flourished in the reigns of Henry VI. and Edward IV., and was a personage of great influence and authority. He m. the heir of Helmingham, in Suffolk, and by that alliance acquired the inheritance. His son, John, was father of

Lionel Tollemache, who was sheriff of Norfolk and Suffolk in 1512; and in 1546, obtained from Henry VIII. grants of the manor of Wansden, with the rectory thereof; the manor and rectory of Le Church Hey; the manors of Bury-Hall Willows and Overhall, to hold of the crown by knight's service. This gentleman was s. by his son,

Sir Lionel Tollemache, of Helmingham, high-sheriff of Norfolk and Suffolk in 1567. In 1561, Queen Elizabeth honoured Helmingham with her presence, and remained there from the 14th to the 18th Aug. inclusive, being most hospitably and sumptuously entertained. During her majesty's visit she stood sponsor to Sir Lionel's son, and presented the child's mother with her lute, which is still preserved at Helmingham Hall, co. Suffolk, the seat of John Tollemache, Esq., M.P. Lady Tollemache was dau. of Sir Richard Wentworth, of Nettlested. Sir Lionel was s. by his son,

Sir Lionel Tollemache, Knt., high-sheriff of Norfolk and Suffolk in 1593, who m. Susan, dau. of Sir Ambrose Jermyn, of Rushbrook, and was s. by his son,

I. Sir Lionel Tollemache, Knt., high-sheriff of Norfolk and Suffolk in 1609, who was created a Baronet on the institution of the order, 22 May, 1611. Sir Lionel served the office of sheriff of Suffolk a second time, in 1617. He m. Katherine, dau. of Henry, 2nd Lord Cromwell, and granddau., maternally, of John, Marquess of Winchester, and was s. by his son,

II. Sir Lionel. This gentleman had previously received the honour of knighthood. He was one of the burgesses of Orford, in the reigns of James I. and Charles I. Sir Lionel m. Elizabeth, dau. of John, Lord Stanhope of Harrington, and had issue, besides Lionel, his heir, six daus.,

Elizabeth, m. to William, Lord Allington.
Catherine, m. to Sir Charles Mordaunt, Bart.
Susannah, m. to Sir Henry Felton, Bart.
Anne, m. to Sir Robert Broke, Bart. of Nacton.
Jane, m. to Thomas Cholmondeley, Esq. of Vale Royal.
Bridget, m. to Sir Nicholas Bacon, Knt., of Shrubland.

Sir Lionel was s. by his son,

III. Sir Lionel, who m. Lady Elizabeth Murray, elder dau. and heir of William Murray, 1st Earl of Dysart and Lord Huntingtower,* upon the decease of which nobleman she became

Elizabeth, Countess of Dysart; and obtained, 5 Dec. 1670, from Charles II., a confirmation of her honours, with a clause in the charter, allowing her ladyship to nominate any of her issue she pleased as her heir. The countess, after the decease of Sir Lionel Tollemache, of Helmingham Hall, co. Suffolk (who d. in 1668), m. 17 Feb. 1671-2, John, Duke of Lauderdale, K.G., his majesty's commissioner for Scotland: by this marriage her grace had no issue; but by her 1st, she had three surviving sons and two daus., viz.,

Thomas, a military officer of eminence, who distinguished himself in the wars between James and William, in Ireland; and d. of a wound received, as commander-in-chief of the expedition against Brest, in 1694.
